Level 2 – Pricing inputs are other than quoted prices in active markets included in Level 1. Prices in Level 2 are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date. Level 2 valuations are based on inputs, including quoted forward prices for commodities, time value and volatility factors, which can be substantially observed or corroborated in the marketplace.

Level 3 – Valuations in this level are those with inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data.

Bonterra's investments and investments in related party have been assessed on the fair value hierarchy described above and are all considered Level 1.

o) Risk Management Contracts

The Company is exposed to market risks resulting from fluctuations in commodity prices, foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates in the normal course of its business. The Company may use a variety of instruments to manage these exposures. For transactions where hedge accounting is not applied, the Company accounts for such instruments using the fair value method by initially recording an asset or liability and recognizing changes in the fair value of the instruments in earnings as unrealized gains or losses on risk management contracts. Fair values of financial instruments are based on third party quotes or valuations provided by independent third parties. Any realized gains or losses on risk management contracts are recognized in net earnings in the period they occur. Bonterra's risk management contracts have been assessed on the fair value hierarchy described above and are all considered Level 2.

p) Net Earnings and Comprehensive Income Per Share

Per share amounts are calculated by dividing the net earnings or comprehensive income (loss) attributable to common shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the reporting period.

Diluted per share amounts are calculated similar to basic per share amounts except that the weighted average common shares outstanding are increased to include additional common shares from the assumed exercise of dilutive share-options. The number of additional outstanding common shares is calculated by assuming that the outstanding in-the-money share-options were exercised and that the proceeds from such exercises were used to acquire common shares at the average market price during the reporting period.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGMENTS

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the year in which the estimates are revised and in any future years affected. The following are the estimates and judgments applied by management that most significantly affect the Company's financial statements.

Exploration and Evaluation Expenditures

E&E costs are initially capitalized with the intent to establish commercially viable reserves. E&E assets include undeveloped land and costs related to exploratory wells. The Company is required to make estimates and judgments about future events and circumstances regarding the future economic viability of extracting the underlying resources. Changes to project economics, resource quantities, expected production techniques, unsuccessful drilling, expired mineral leases, production costs and required capital expenditures are important factors when making this determination. To the extent a judgment is made that the underlying reserves are not viable, the E&E costs will be impaired and charged to net earnings.

Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

PP&E and goodwill are aggregated into CGUs based on their ability to generate largely independent cash flows and are assessed for impairment. CGUs have been determined based on similar geological structure, shared infrastructure, geographical proximity, commodity type, and similar market risks. Oil and gas prices and other assumptions will change in the future, which may impact the Company's recoverable amounts and may therefore require a material adjustment to the carrying value of PP&E. The determination of the Company's CGUs is subject to management's judgment. The Company has a core CGU composed of its Alberta properties and secondary CGUs for its BC and Saskatchewan properties.

The recoverable amount of E&E, PP&E, and goodwill is determined based on the fair value less costs of disposal using a discounted cash flow model and is assessed at the CGU level. The period the Company used to project cash flows is approximately 50 years or the CGUs reserve life. Growth in cash flow from a single well would be determined based on the extent of total reserves assigned, which is produced at declining rates over the estimated reserve life. The fair value measurement of the Company's E&E, PP&E, and goodwill is designated Level 3 on the fair value hierarchy.

The Company performs an impairment test on all of its CGUs for any potential impairment or related recovery at least annually or when impairment or recovery indicators arise. For the year ended December 31, 2019 the Company also performed an impairment test due to a decrease in market capitalization for Bonterra and other Canadian Oil and Gas producers. In making these evaluations, the Company uses the following information:

- 1) The net present value of the pre-tax cash flows from oil and gas reserves of each CGU based on reserves estimated by the Company's independent reserve evaluator; and

Key input estimates used in the determination of cash flows from oil and gas reserves include the following:

- a) Reserves – Assumptions that are valid at the time of reserve estimation may change significantly when new information becomes available. Changes in forward price estimates, production costs or recovery rates may change the economic status of reserves and may ultimately result in reserves being revised.
- b) Crude oil and natural gas prices – Forward price estimates of the crude oil and natural gas prices are used in the discounted cash flow model. These prices are adjusted for quality differentials, heat content and distance to market. Commodity prices have fluctuated widely in recent years due to global and regional factors including supply and demand fundamentals, inventory levels, exchange rates, weather, economic and geopolitical factors.

Exchange rate US$/ $Cdn	0.76	0.77	0.80	0.80	0.80	0.80	0.80	0.80	0.80	0.80	0.80

- (1) The forecast benchmark commodity prices listed above are adjusted for quality differentials, heat content, transportation and marketing costs and other factors specific to the Company's operations in performing the Company's impairment tests.
- (2) Forecast benchmarks commodity prices are assumed to increase by 2.0% in each year after 2030 to end of the reserve life.
- c) Discount rate – The Company uses a pre-tax discount rate of ten percent that reflects risks specific to the assets for which the future cash flow estimates have not been adjusted. The discount rate was determined based on the Company's assessment of risk based on past experience. Changes in the general economic environment could result in material changes to this estimate.

With the current key assumptions listed above, the Company performed impairment tests for each CGU and concluded that no reasonable change in the key assumptions, such as a five percent change in commodity prices or a two percent change in the discount rate, would result in an impairment being recorded.

Reserves Estimation

The capitalized costs of oil and gas properties and deferred consideration are depleted on a unit-of-production basis at a rate calculated by reference to proved plus probable developed reserves determined in accordance with National Instrument 51-101 and the Canadian Oil and Gas Evaluation handbook. Commercial reserves are determined using best estimates of oil and gas in place, recovery factors and future oil and gas prices. Amounts used for impairment calculations are also based on estimates of crude oil and natural gas reserves and future costs required to develop those reserves.

Risk Management Contract

The Company accounts for such instruments using the fair value method by initially recording an asset or liability, and recognizing changes in the fair value of the instruments in net earnings as unrealized gains or losses on risk management contracts. Fair values of financial instruments are based on third party futures quotes for commodities. Any realized or unrealized gains or losses on risk management contracts are recognized in net earnings in the period they occur.

Share-option Compensation

The Company measures the cost of equity-settled transactions with employees by reference to the fair value of the equity instruments at the date they are granted. Estimating the fair value requires the determination of the most appropriate valuation model for a grant, which is dependent on the terms and conditions of the grant. This also requires the determination of the most appropriate inputs to the valuation model including the expected life of the option, risk-free interest rates, volatility and dividend yield.

Deferred Consideration

Deferred consideration is incurred when the sale of a royalty interest occurs that has contractual terms or implicit obligations that requires future performance such future development costs and operating costs. Management uses judgments in determining those cash flows such as cost, inflation and the discount rate to determine the portion of proceeds that is deferred.

Decommissioning and Restoration Costs

Decommissioning and restoration costs will be incurred by the Company at the end of the operating lives of the Company's oil and gas properties. Provisions for decommissioning liabilities are based on cost estimates which can vary in response to many factors including timing of abandonment, inflation, changes in legal requirements, new restoration techniques and interest rates.

Income Taxes

The Company recognizes the net deferred tax benefit or expense related to deferred income tax assets or liabilities to the extent that it is probable that the deductible temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future. Assessing the recoverability of investment tax credit receivable requires the Company to make significant estimates related to expectations of future taxable income. The provision for income taxes is based on judgments in applying income tax law and estimates of the timing, likelihood and reversal of temporary differences between the accounting and tax basis of assets and liabilities. The ability to realize on the deferred tax assets and investment tax credit receivable that are recorded on the balance sheet may be compromised to the extent that any interpretation of tax law is challenged or taxable income differs significantly from estimates.

Further details regarding accounting estimates and judgments are disclosed in Note 3.

On December 1, 2019, the loan's interest rate increased from the Canadian charged bank prime less 5/8th of one percent to five and a half percent and has no set repayment terms but is payable on demand. Security under the debenture is over all of the Company's assets and is subordinated to any and all claims in favour of the syndicate of senior lenders providing credit facilities to the Company. The Company's bank agreement requires that the above loan can only be repaid should the Company have sufficient available borrowing limits under the Company's credit facility. Interest paid on this loan during 2019 was $421,000 (December 31, 2018 – $362,000).

The Company provides executive and marketing services for Pine Cliff Energy Ltd. (Pine Cliff). All services performed were charged at estimated fair value. As at December 31, 2019, the Company had an account receivable from Pine Cliff of $47,000 (December 31, 2018 – $71,000).

As at December 31, 2019, Bonterra had $7,500,000 (December 31, 2018 – $10,000,000) outstanding on a subordinated note to a private investor. On December 1, 2019, the loan's interest rate increased from five percent to five and a half percent. The subordinated promissory note is not callable until after June 30, 2020 and is then repayable after thirty days' written notice by either party. Security consists of a floating demand debenture over all of the Company's assets and is subordinated to any and all claims in favor of the syndicate of senior lenders providing credit facilities to the Company. Interest paid on the subordinated promissory note during 2019 was $378,000 (December 31, 2018-$514,000).

The Company's bank agreement requires that the above loan can only be repaid should the Company have sufficient available borrowing limits under the Company's credit facility.

13. BANK DEBT

As at December 31, 2019, the Company has a total bank facility of $325,000,000 (December 31, 2018 – $380,000,000), comprised of a $286,765,000 syndicated revolving credit facility and a $38,235,000 non-syndicated revolving credit facility. The amount drawn under the total bank facility at December 31, 2019 was $273,065,000 (December 31, 2018 – $298,660,000). The amounts borrowed under the bank facility bear interest at a floating rate based on the applicable Canadian prime rate or Banker's Acceptance rate, plus between 0.50 percent and 3.50 percent, depending on the type of borrowing and the Company's consolidated debt to EBITDA ratio. EBITDA is defined as net income for the period excluding finance costs, provision for current and deferred taxes, depletion and depreciation, share-option compensation, gain or loss on sale of assets and impairment of assets. The terms of the bank facility provide that the loan is revolving to April 28, 2020, with a maturity date of April 29, 2021, subject to annual review. The credit facilities have no fixed terms of repayment. The Company has an accordion feature which allows it to obtain future funding of up to $40,000,000 for opportunities outside of normal operations, such as acquisitions, subject to unanimous lender approval.

The available lending limit of the bank facility is reviewed semi-annually on or before April 30 and October 31 and is based on the lender's assessment of the Company's reserves, future commodity prices and costs. The amount available for borrowing under the bank facility is reduced by outstanding letters of credit. Letters of credit totaling $900,000 were issued as at December 31, 2019 (December 31, 2018-$900,000). Security for the bank facility consists of various floating demand debentures totaling $750,000,000 (December 31, 2018-$750,000,000) over all of the Company's assets and a general security agreement with first ranking over all personal and real property.

The following is a list of the material financial covenants on the bank facility:

- The Company cannot exceed $325,000,000 in consolidated debt (comprised of due to related party, subordinated promissory note and long-term bank debt). As at December 31, 2019 consolidated debt totaled $292,565,000.
- Dividends paid in the current quarter shall not exceed 80 percent of the available cash flow for the preceding four fiscal quarters divided by four, which is calculated as four percent for the current quarter.

Available cash flow is defined to be cash provided by operating activities excluding the change in non-cash working capital and decommissioning liabilities settled and including investment income received and all net proceeds of dispositions included in cash used in investing activities. As at December 31, 2019, the Company is in compliance with all covenants.

14. DECOMMISSIONING LIABILITIES

At December 31, 2019, the Company used a 2.0 percent inflation rate (December 31, 2018 – 2.0 percent inflation rate) and a risk-free nominal rate of 2.3 percent (December 31, 2018 – 2.32 percent) to calculate the present value of the decommissioning provision. In 2019, due to forces currently influencing global capital markets, long-term risk-free nominal rates in Canada declined below target inflation rates, implying a negative real rate of return. The Company determined that applying these rates to current cost estimates would not provide an accurate measurement of the decommissioning liability as observable stand-alone risk-free real rates of return continue to be positive. To provide a more accurate measurement of the liability, the Company applied a risk-free real return rate of 0.3 percent to estimate the present value of the decommissioning provision at December 31, 2019, resulting in a change in estimate. The risk-free real return rate represents an observable, market based risk-free rate of return after adjusting for inflation. Changes in the measurement of the decommissioning provision are added to, or deducted from, the cost of the related asset in property, plant and equipment. When a re-measurement of the decommissioning provision relates to a retired asset, the amount is recorded in the statement of comprehensive income (loss).

At December 31, 2019, the estimated total uninflated and undiscounted amount required to settle the decommissioning liabilities was $155,614,000 (December 31, 2018- $150,602,000). These obligations will be settled at the end of the useful lives of the underlying assets, which extend up to 50 years into the future.

The Company records compensation expense over the vesting period, which ranges between one and three years, based on the fair value of options granted to directors, officers and employees. In 2019, the Company granted 60,000 options with an estimated fair value of $86,000 or $1.43 per option using the Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following key assumptions:

Weighted-average risk free interest rate (%) ⁽¹⁾	1.62	1.93
Weighted-average expected life (years)	2.0	1.2
Weighted-average volatility (%) ⁽²⁾	49.06	46.45
Forfeiture rate (%)	7.37	7.55
Weighted average dividend yield (%)	2.05	2.22

- (1) Risk-free interest rate is based on the weighted average Government of Canada benchmark bond yields for one, two, and three year terms to match corresponding vesting periods.
- (2) The expected volatility is measured as the standard deviation of expected share price returns based on statistical analysis of historical weekly share prices for a representative period.

19. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

Financial Risk Factors

The Company undertakes transactions in a range of financial instruments including:

- Accounts receivable
- Accounts payable and accrued liabilities
- Common share investments
- Due to related party
- Bank debt
- Subordinated promissory note

The Company's activities result in exposure to a number of financial risks including market risk (commodity price risk, interest rate risk, and foreign exchange risk), credit risk, liquidity risk and equity price risk.

The Company's overall risk management program seeks to mitigate these risks and reduce the volatility on the Company's financial performance. Financial risk is managed by senior management under the direction of the Board of Directors.

The Company may enter into various risk management contracts to manage the Company's exposure to commodity price fluctuations. The Company does not speculatively trade in risk management contracts. The Company's risk management contracts are entered into to manage the risks relating to commodity prices from its business activities.

Capital Risk Management

The Company's objectives when managing capital, which the Company defines to include shareholders' equity, debt and working capital balances, are to safeguard the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can continue to provide returns to its shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders and to maintain a capital structure that provides a low cost of capital. In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may adjust the amount of dividends, debt facilities or issue new shares.

The Company monitors capital on the basis of the ratio of net debt (total debt adjusted for working capital) to cash flow from operating activities. This ratio is calculated using each quarter end net debt divided by the preceding twelve months' cash flow. Management believes that a net debt level as high as one and a half year's cash flow is still an appropriate level to allow it to take advantage in the future of either acquisition opportunities or to provide flexibility to develop its undeveloped resources by horizontal or vertical drill programs. During the current year the Company had a net debt to cash flow level of 3.6:1 compared to 2.8:1 in 2018. The increase in net debt to cash flow ratio is primarily due to a $34,831,000 decrease in cash flow due to a decrease in production volumes, which was partially offset by reducing net debt by $36,131,000 using excess cash flow from operations.

Section (a) of this note provides the Company's debt to cash flow from operations.

Section (b) addresses in more detail the key financial risk factors that arise from the Company's activities including its policies for managing these risks.

a) Net debt to cash flow ratio

The net debt and cash flow amounts are as follows:

($ 000s)	December 31, 2019	December 31, 2018
Bank debt	273,065	298,660
Current liabilities	46,220	41,990
Current assets	(26,475)	(11,709)
Net debt	292,810	328,941
Cash flow from operations	81,132	115,963
Net debt to cash flow ratio	3.6	2.8

b) Risks and mitigation

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flow of the Company's financial instruments will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Components of market risk to which the Company is exposed are discussed below.

Commodity price risk

The Company's principal operation is the production and sale of crude oil, natural gas and natural gas liquids. Fluctuations in prices of these commodities directly impact the Company's performance and ability to continue with its dividends.

The Company has used various risk management contracts to set price parameters for a portion of its production. The Company has assumed the risk in respect of commodity prices, except for a small portion of physical delivery sales and risk management contracts to manage commodity risk on the Company's higher operating cost areas.

The Company is exposed to credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk as part of its normal course of business. The Company's overall risk management program seeks to mitigate these risks and reduce the volatility on the Company's financial performance. Financial risk is managed by senior management under the direction of the Board of Directors.

Physical Delivery Sales Contracts

Bonterra enters into physical delivery sales contracts to manage commodity price risk. These contracts are considered normal executory sales contracts and are not recorded at fair value in the financial statements. As of December 31, 2019, the Company has the following physical delivery sales contracts in place.

Product	Type of contract	Volume	Term	Contract price
Oil	Fixed price – MSW Stream index ⁽¹⁾	1,000 BBL/day	Jan 1 to Mar 31, 2020	$64.46 CAD/BBL
Gas	Fixed Price – AECO ⁽²⁾	2,500 GJ/day	Apr 1 to Oct 31, 2020	$1.55 CAD/GJ
Gas	Fixed Price – AECO ⁽²⁾	2,500 GJ/day	Apr 1 to Oct 31, 2020	$1.64 CAD/GJ

(1) "MSW Stream index" or "Edmonton Par" refers to the mixed sweet blend that is the benchmark price for conventionally produced light sweet crude oil in Western Canada.

(2) "AECO" refers to Alberta Energy Company; a grade or heating content of natural gas used as benchmark pricing in Alberta, Canada.

Subsequent to December 31, 2019, the Company entered into the following physical delivery sales contracts.

Oil	Fixed price – MSW Stream index	500 BBL/day	Apr 1 to Jun 30, 2020	$70.25 CAD/BBL

Oil	Fixed price – MSW Stream index	500 BBL/day	Apr 1 to Jun 30, 2020	$62.91 CAD/BBL

The Company also enters into financial derivative instruments or risk management contracts to manage commodity price risk. These contracts are not considered normal executory sales contracts and are recorded at fair value in the financial statements. The Company has entered into the following risk management contracts during the year ended December 31, 2019.

Oil	Fixed price – MSW Stream index	500 BBL/day	Oct 1 to Dec 31, 2019	$65.00 CAD/BBL

Oil	Fixed price – MSW Stream index	500 BBL/day	Jan 1 to Mar 31, 2020	$67.75 CAD/BBL
Oil	Fixed price – MSW Stream index	500 BBL/day	Jan 1 to Mar 31, 2020	$69.60 CAD/BBL

On March 4, 2020, the Company also entered into a financial derivative for the period of April 1, 2020 to June 30, 2020 for a total of 45,500 barrels of oil (approximately 500 barrels of oil per day) at a fixed MSW stream index price of $59.50 CAD per barrel.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk refers to the risk that the value of a financial instrument or cash flows associated with the instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates. Interest rate risk arises from interest bearing financial assets and liabilities that the Company uses. The principal exposure of the Company is on its borrowings which have a variable interest rate which gives rise to a cash flow interest rate risk.

The Company's debt facilities consist of a $286,765,000 syndicated revolving operating line, $38,235,000 non-syndicated operating line, $12,000,000 due to a related party and a $7,500,000 subordinated promissory note. The borrowings under these facilities, except for the subordinated promissory note, are at bank prime plus or minus various percentages as well as by means of banker's acceptances (BAs) within the Company's credit facility. The subordinated promissory note is at a fixed interest rate of five percent. The Company manages its exposure to interest rate risk on its floating interest rate debt through entering into various term lengths on its BAs but in no circumstances do the terms exceed six months.

Sensitivity Analysis

Based on historic movements and volatilities in the interest rate markets and management's current assessment of the financial markets, the Company believes that a one percent variation in the Canadian prime interest rate is reasonably possible over a 12-month period.

A one percent increase (decrease) in the Canadian prime rate would decrease (increase) both annual net earnings and comprehensive income by $2,007,000.

Equity price risk

Equity price risk refers to the risk that the fair value of the investments and investment in related party will fluctuate due to changes in equity markets. Equity price risk arises from the realizable value of the investments that the Company holds which are subject to variable equity market prices which on disposition gives rise to a cash flow equity price risk. The Company will assume full risk in respect of equity price fluctuations.

Foreign exchange risk

The Company has no foreign operations and currently sells all of its product sales in Canadian currency. The Company however is exposed to currency risk in that crude oil is priced in US currency, then converted to Canadian currency. The Company currently has no outstanding risk management agreements. The Company will assume full risk in respect of foreign exchange fluctuations.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that a contracting party will not complete its obligations under a financial instrument and cause the Company to incur a financial loss. The Company is exposed to credit risk on all financial assets included on the statement of financial position. To help mitigate this risk:

- The Company only enters into material agreements with credit worthy counterparties. These include major oil and gas companies or major Canadian chartered banks; and
- Agreements for product sales are primarily on 30-day renewal terms.

Of the $21,764,000 accounts receivable balance at December 31, 2019 (December 31, 2018 – $7,797,000) over 75 percent (2018 – 74 percent) relates to product sales with national and international oil and gas companies.

On a quarterly basis, the Company assesses if there has been any impairment of the financial assets of the Company. During the year ended December 31, 2019, there was no material impairment provision required on any of the financial assets of the Company. The Company does have a credit risk exposure as the majority of the Company's accounts receivable are with counterparties having similar characteristics. However, payments from the Company's largest accounts receivable counterparties have consistently been received within 30 days and the sales agreements with these parties are cancellable with 30 days' notice if payments are not received.

At December 31, 2019, approximately $276,000 or one percent of the Company's total accounts receivable are aged over 90 days and considered past due (December 31, 2018 – $397,000 or five percent). The majority of these accounts are due from various joint venture partners. The Company actively monitors past due accounts and takes the necessary actions to expedite collection, which can include withholding production or netting payables when the accounts are with joint venture partners. Should the Company determine that the ultimate collection of a receivable is in doubt, it will provide the necessary provision in its allowance for doubtful accounts with a corresponding charge to earnings. If the Company subsequently determines an account is uncollectable, the account is written off with a corresponding charge to the allowance account. The Company's allowance for doubtful accounts balance at December 31, 2019 is $1,232,000 (December 31, 2018 – $1,402,000) with the expense being included in general and administrative expenses. There were no material accounts written off during the period.

The maximum exposure to credit risk is represented by the carrying amounts of accounts receivable. There are no material financial assets that the Company considers past due.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk includes the risk that, as a result of the Company's operational liquidity requirements:

- The Company will not have sufficient funds to settle a transaction on the due date;
- The Company will not have sufficient funds to continue with its dividends;
- The Company will be forced to sell assets at a value which is less than what they are worth; or
- The Company may be unable to settle or recover a financial asset at all.

To help reduce these risks the Company maintains bank facilities determined by a portfolio of high-quality, long reserve life oil and gas assets.

20. COMMITMENTS AND FINANCIAL LIABILITIES

The Company has the following maturity schedule for its financial liabilities and commitments:

($ 000s)	Recognized on Financial Statements	Less than 1 year	Over 1 year to 3 years	Over 3 years to 5 years	Over 5 years to 7 years
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	Yes – Liability	25,423	—	—	—
Due to related parties	Yes – Liability	12,000	—	—	—
Subordinated promissory note	Yes – Liability	7,500	—	—	—
Bank Debt	Yes – Liability	—	273,065	—	—
Firm service commitments	No	194	269	234	35
Office lease commitments	No	571	1,000	487	—
Total		45,688	274,334	721	35

The Company has entered into firm service gas transportation agreements in which the Company guarantees certain minimum volumes of natural gas will be shipped on various gas transportation systems. The terms of the various agreements expire in one to seven years. The future minimum payment amounts for the firm service gas transportation agreements are calculated using current tariff rates.

The Company also has non-cancellable office lease commitments for building and office equipment. The building and office equipment leases have an average remaining life of 3.9 years.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Bonterra Energy Corp. (the "Company"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2018 and 2017, and the statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flow for the years then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies (collectively referred to as the "financial statements").

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2018 and 2017, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS").

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards ("Canadian GAAS"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises:

- Management's Discussion and Analysis
- The information, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon, in the Annual Report.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not and will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon. In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

We obtained Management's Discussion and Analysis prior to the date of this auditor's report. If, based on the work we have performed on this other information, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact in this auditor's report. We have nothing to report in this regard. The Annual Report is expected to be made available to us after the date of the auditor's report. If, based on the work we will perform on this other information, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact to those charged with governance.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with IFRS, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian GAAS, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in this independent auditor's report is David Langlois.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

As at and the year ended December 31, 2018 and 2017.

1. NATURE OF BUSINESS AND SEGMENT INFORMATION

Bonterra Energy Corp. (“Bonterra” or the “Company”) is a public company listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange (the “TSX”) and incorporated under the Business Corporations Act (Alberta). The address of the Company’s registered office is Suite 901, 1015-4th Street SW, Calgary, Alberta, Canada, T2R 1J4.

Bonterra operates in one industry and has only one reportable segment being the development and production of oil and natural gas in the western Canadian Sedimentary Basin.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION

a) Statement of Compliance

These financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS).

The financial statements were authorized for issue by the Company’s Board of Directors on March 12, 2019.

b) Basis of Measurement

These financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for certain financial instruments and share-based payment transactions which are measured at fair value.

c) Functional and Presentation Currency

The Company’s functional and presentation currency is the Canadian dollar.

Foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities are translated into Canadian dollars at the rates prevailing on the reporting date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated into Canadian dollars at the rates prevailing on the transaction dates. Exchange gains and losses are recorded as income or expense in the period in which they occur.

d) Significant Accounting Estimates and Judgments

The timely preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as at the date of the statement of financial position as well as the reported amounts of revenues, expenses and cash flows during the periods presented. Such estimates relate primarily to unsettled transactions and events as of the date of the financial statements. Actual results could differ materially from estimated amounts. See Note 4 for more information.

e) Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

As of January 1, 2018, the Company adopted IFRS 15 “Revenue from contracts with customers”. IFRS 15 replaces the sections IAS 11 “Construction contracts”, IAS 18 “Revenue” and related interpretations. IFRS 15 provides a single, principled-based five-step model to be applied to all contracts with customers. The standard requires an entity to recognize revenue to reflect the transfer of goods and services for the amount it expects to receive when control is transferred to the purchaser. This standard also requires expanded disclosure requirements. The standard is required to be adopted either retrospectively or using a modified retrospective approach.

Bonterra used the modified retrospective approach to adopt the standard. Under this transitional provision, the cumulative effect of initially applying IFRS 15 is recognized on the date of initial application as an adjustment to retained earnings. No adjustment to retained earnings was required upon adoption of IFRS 15. The Company has reviewed its various revenue streams and underlying contracts with customers, and as result of this review, the adoptions of IFRS 15 did not have a material impact on the Company's statements of comprehensive income and financial position. However, the Company has expanded the disclosures in the notes to its financial statements as prescribed by IFRS 15, including disclosing the Company's disaggregated revenue streams by product type in Note 18. In addition, as a result of this adoption, the Company has revised the description of its accounting policy for revenue recognition.

f) Future Accounting Pronouncements

In January 2016, the IASB issued IFRS 16 "Leases", which replaces IAS 17 "Leases". IFRS 16 requires the recognition of lease assets and liabilities on the balance sheet for most leases, where the entity is acting as a lessee. For lessees applying IFRS 16, the dual classification model of leases as either operating leases or finance leases no longer exists, effectively treating all leases as finance leases. Certain short-term leases (less than 12 months) and leases of low-value assets are exempt from the balance sheet recognition requirements and may continue to be treated as operating leases. Lessors will continue with the dual classification model for leases and the accounting for lessors remains virtually unchanged.

The standard will come into effect for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019. IFRS 16 is required to be adopted either retrospectively or using a modified retrospective approach. The modified retrospective approach does not require restatement of prior period financial information as it recognizes the cumulative effect as an adjustment to opening retained earnings and applies the standard prospectively.

IFRS 16 will be adopted by Bonterra on January 1, 2019. The Company is currently engaging and educating stakeholders and is reviewing corporate processes to ensure contract completeness when identifying leases. Identifying, gathering and analyzing contracts impacted by the adoption of the new standard is in progress. The Company anticipates that the adoption of IFRS 16 will not have a material impact on Bonterra's financial statements.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) Revenue Recognition

Revenue associated with the sale of crude oil, natural gas and natural gas liquids is measured based on the consideration specified in contracts with customers. Revenue from contracts with customers is recognized when or as Bonterra satisfies a performance obligation by transferring a promised good or service to a customer. A good or service is transferred when the customer obtains control of that good or service. The transfer of control of oil, natural gas, and natural gas liquids usually coincides with title passing to the customer and the customer taking physical possession. The Company principally satisfies its performance obligations at a point in time and the amounts of revenue recognized relating to performance obligations satisfied over time are not significant. Collection of revenue associated with the sale of crude oil, natural gas and natural gas liquids occurs on or about the 25th of the month following production. Items such as royalties for crown, freehold, gross overriding (GORR) and Saskatchewan surcharge are netted against revenue. These items are netted to reflect the deduction for other parties' proportionate share of the revenue. Administration fee income is recorded when services are provided.

b) Joint Arrangements

Certain exploration, development and production activities are conducted jointly with others. These financial statements reflect only the Company's interests in such activities. A jointly controlled operation involves the use of assets and other resources of the Company and those of other venturers through contractual arrangements rather than through the establishment of a corporation, partnership or other entity. The Company has no interests in jointly controlled entities. The Company recognizes in its financial statements its interest in assets that it owns, the liabilities and expenses that it incurs and its share of income earned by the joint arrangement.

c) Inventories

Inventories consist of crude oil. Crude oil stored in the Company's tanks is valued on a first in first out basis at the lower of cost or net realizable value. Inventory cost for crude oil is determined based on combined average per barrel operating costs, depletion and depreciation for the period and net realizable value is determined based on estimated sales price less transportation costs.

d) Investments and Investment in Related Party

Investments and investment in related party consist of equity securities. The Company's investments are measured as fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI), with gains or losses arising from changes in fair value recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the fair value instrument. The cumulative gain or loss will not be reclassified to profit or loss on disposal of the investments. Fair value is determined by multiplying the period end trading price of the investments by the number of common shares held as at period end.

e) Exploration and Evaluation Assets

General exploration and evaluation (E&E) expenditures incurred prior to acquiring the legal right to explore are charged to expense as incurred.

E&E expenditures represent undeveloped land costs, licenses and exploration well costs.

Undeveloped land costs, licenses and exploration well costs are initially capitalized and, if subsequently determined to have not found sufficient reserves to justify commercial production, are charged to expense. E&E assets continue to be capitalized as long as sufficient progress is being made to assess the reserves and economic viability of the asset. Once technical feasibility and commercial viability has been established, E&E assets are transferred to property, plant and equipment (PP&E). E&E assets are assessed for impairment annually, upon transfer to PP&E assets or whenever indications of impairment exist to ensure they are not at amounts above their recoverable amounts.

f) Property, Plant and Equipment

PP&E assets include transferred-in E&E costs, development drilling and other subsurface expenditures. PP&E assets are carried at cost less depletion and depreciation of all development expenditures and include all other expenditures associated with PP&E assets.

Oil and Gas Properties

The initial cost of an asset is comprised of its purchase price or construction cost; including expenditures such as drilling costs; the present value of the initial and changes in the estimate of any decommissioning obligation associated with the asset; and finance charges on qualifying assets that are directly attributable to bringing the asset into operation and to its present location.

Production Facilities

Production facilities are comprised of costs related to petroleum and natural gas plant and production equipment.

Depletion and Depreciation

Depletion and depreciation is recognized in the statement of comprehensive income (loss).

PP&E properties, excluding surface costs are depleted using the unit-of-production method over their proved plus probable developed reserve life, when commercial production in an area has commenced. Proved plus probable developed reserves are determined annually by qualified independent reserve engineers. Changes in factors such as estimates of proved plus probable developed reserves that affect unit-of-production calculations are accounted for on a prospective basis. Surface costs such as production facilities and furniture, fixtures and other equipment are depreciated over their estimated useful lives.

Production facilities, furniture, fixtures and other equipment are depreciated over the individual assets' estimated economic lives, less estimated salvage value of the assets at the end of their useful lives.

These assets are depreciated on a declining balance method as follows:

Production facilities	10 percent per year
Furniture, fixtures and other equipment	10 percent to 20 percent per year

g) Business Combinations and Goodwill

The purchase price used in a business combination is based on the fair value at the date of acquisition. The business combination is accounted for based on the fair value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed. All acquisition costs are expensed as incurred. Contingent liabilities are recognized at fair value at the date of the acquisition, and subsequently re-measured at each reporting period until settled. The excess of cost over fair value of the net assets and liabilities acquired is recorded as goodwill.

h) Impairment of Assets

Impairment of Financial Assets

A financial asset is considered to be impaired if objective evidence indicates that one or more events have had a negative effect on the estimated future cash flow of that asset. An impairment loss in respect of a financial asset measured at amortized cost is calculated as the difference between its carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flow discounted at the original effective interest rate. Significant financial assets are tested for impairment on an individual basis. The remaining financial assets are assessed collectively in groups that share similar credit risk characteristics

All impairment losses are recognized in net earnings. An impairment loss is reversed if there is an indicator that the impairment reversal can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognized. Any subsequent recovery of an impairment loss in respect of an investment in an equity instrument classified as fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI) is reversed through other comprehensive income instead of net earnings. For financial assets measured at amortized cost, the reversal is recognized in net earnings.

Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

The carrying amounts of the Company's non-financial assets are reviewed at the end of each reporting period to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If such indication exists, then the assets' carrying amounts are assessed for impairment.

For the purpose of impairment testing, assets (which include E&E, PP&E and Goodwill) are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that generates cash flows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash flow of other assets or groups of assets (the cash-generating unit or CGU). Goodwill is allocated to the CGU expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination. The recoverable amount of an asset or a CGU is the greater of its value-in-use (VIU) and its fair value less costs to sell (FVLCS). The Company has a core CGU composed of its Alberta properties and secondary CGUs for its British Columbia (BC) and Saskatchewan properties.

An impairment loss is recognized if the carrying amount of an asset or its CGU exceeds its recoverable amount. Impairment losses are recognized in the statement of comprehensive income (loss). Impairment losses recognized in respect of a CGU are allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the CGU and then to reduce the carrying amount of the other assets of the CGU on a pro-rata basis.

In respect of assets other than goodwill, impairment losses recognized in prior periods are assessed at each reporting date for any indications that the impairment loss has reversed. If the amount of the impairment loss reverses in a subsequent period and the reversal can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment was recognized, the impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depletion and depreciation, if no impairment loss had been recognized and recorded in the statement of comprehensive income (loss). An impairment loss in respect of Goodwill cannot be reversed.

i) Deferred Consideration

Deferred consideration is generated when a sale of a royalty interest linked to production at a specific property occurs. Consideration is given to the specific terms of each arrangement to determine whether a disposal of an interest in the reserves of the respective property has occurred and whether the counterparty is entitled to the associated risks and rewards attributable to the property over its estimated life including the contractual terms and implicit obligations related to production, such as the holder of the royalty having the option of either being paid in cash or in kind and the associated commitments, if any, to develop future expansions or projects at the property.

Proceeds for sale of a royalty interest on petroleum properties are then attributed to two components: a payment for partial disposal of an interest in property, plant and equipment; and an upfront payment received for future extraction services that will generate future royalties. Discounted future cash flows of future development and operating costs multiplied by the royalty rate are used to derive the upfront payment received for future extraction services, which is accounted for as deferred consideration and recognized as revenue over the reserve life of the encumbered properties (as this represents the efforts incurred towards the extraction performance obligation). Upon commencement of the royalty interest the deferred consideration is depleted (recognized into revenue) using the same unit-of-production method as the depletion of the encumbered PP&E asset's carrying value.

j) Decommissioning Liabilities

The fair value of the statutory, contractual, constructive or legal liabilities associated with the retirement and reclamation of oil and gas properties is recorded when incurred, with a corresponding increase to the carrying amount of the related PP&E. The amount recognized is the estimated cost of decommissioning, discounted to its present value using the Company's risk-free rate. Changes in the estimated timing of decommissioning or decommissioning cost estimates and changes to the risk-free rates are dealt with prospectively by recording an adjustment to the decommissioning liabilities, and a corresponding adjustment to property, plant and equipment. The unwinding of the discount on the decommissioning provision is charged to net earnings as a finance cost.

The Company recognizes a decommissioning liability in the period in which it is incurred when a reasonable estimate of the liability can be made. On a periodic basis, management will review these estimates and changes and if there are any, they will be applied prospectively. The fair value of the estimated provision is recorded as a long-term liability, with a corresponding increase in the carrying amount of the related asset. The capitalized amount is depleted on a unit-of-production basis over the life of the proved plus probable developed reserves. The liability amount is increased each reporting period due to the passage of time and this amount is charged to earnings in the period. Actual costs incurred upon settlement of the obligations are charged against the provision to the extent of the liability recorded and any remaining balance of actual costs is recorded in the statement of comprehensive income (loss).

k) Income Taxes

Tax expense comprises current and deferred taxes. Tax is recognized in the statement of comprehensive income (loss) or directly in equity.

Current tax expense is based on the results for the period as adjusted for items that are not taxable or not deductible. Current tax is calculated using tax rates and laws that are substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. Provisions are established where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred tax is recognized using the liability method, providing for unused tax losses, unused tax credits and temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax is not recognized for the following temporary differences: the initial recognition of assets and liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit, and differences relating to investments in subsidiaries to the extent that they are unlikely to be reversed in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to be applied to the temporary differences when they reverse, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date.

A deferred tax asset is recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which unused tax losses, unused tax credits and temporary differences can be utilized. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each period end and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized.

The amount and timing of reversals of temporary differences will also depend on the Company's future operating results, and acquisitions and dispositions of assets and liabilities. A significant change in any of the preceding assumptions could materially affect the Company's estimate of the deferred income tax asset or liability.

l) Share-option Compensation

The Company accounts for share-option compensation using the fair-value method of accounting for stock options granted to directors, officers, employees and other service providers using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. Share-option payments are recognized through the statement of comprehensive income (loss) over the vesting period with a corresponding amount reflected in contributed surplus in equity. For awards issued in tranches that vest at different times, the fair value of each tranche is recognized over its respective vesting period.

At the grant date and at the end of each reporting period, the Company assesses and re-assesses for subsequent periods its estimates of the number of awards that are expected to vest and recognizes the impact of the revisions in the statement of comprehensive income (loss). Upon exercise of share-based options, the proceeds received net of any transaction costs and the fair value of the exercised share-based options is credited to share capital.

Employees may elect to have the Company settle any or all options vested and exercisable using a cashless equity settlement. In connection with any such exercise, an employee shall be entitled to receive, without any cash payment (other than the taxes required to be paid in connection with the exercise), whole shares of the Company. The number of shares under option multiplied by the difference of the fair value at the time of exercise less the option exercise price, divided by the fair value at the time of exercise, determines the number of whole shares issued.

m) Financial Instruments

The Company classifies its financial instruments into one of the following categories: financial assets at amortized cost, financial liabilities at amortized costs; and fair value through profit or loss. All financial instruments are measured at fair value on initial recognition. Measurement in subsequent periods is dependent on the classification of the respective financial instrument.

Fair value through profit or loss financial instruments are subsequently measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in net earnings. All other categories of financial instruments are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate method.

Cash, account receivables and certain other long-term assets are classified as financial assets at amortized cost since it is the Company's intention to hold these assets to maturity and the related cash flows are mainly payments of principle and interest. The Company's investments are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI), with gains or losses arising from changes in fair value recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the fair value instrument. The cumulative gain or loss will not be reclassified to profit or loss on disposal of the investments. Accounts payable, accrued liabilities, and certain other long-term liabilities and long-term debt are classified as financial liabilities at amortized cost. Risk management assets and liabilities are classified as fair value through profit or loss.

n) Fair value Measurement

Financial instruments consisting of accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, due to related party, subordinated promissory note and bank debt on the statement of financial position are carried at amortized cost. Investments and investments in related party are carried at fair value. All of the investments are transacted in active markets. Bonterra determines the fair value of these transactions according to the following hierarchy based on the amount of observable inputs used to value the instrument.

Level 1 – Quoted prices are available in active markets for identical assets or liabilities as of the reporting date. Active markets are those in which transactions occur in sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.

Level 2 – Pricing inputs are other than quoted prices in active markets included in Level 1. Prices in Level 2 are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date. Level 2 valuations are based on inputs, including quoted forward prices for commodities, time value and volatility factors, which can be substantially observed or corroborated in the marketplace.

Level 3 – Valuations in this level are those with inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data.

Bonterra's investments and investments in related party have been assessed on the fair value hierarchy described above and are all considered Level 1.

o) Risk Management Contracts

The Company is exposed to market risks resulting from fluctuations in commodity prices, foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates in the normal course of its business. The Company may use a variety of instruments to manage these exposures. For transactions where hedge accounting is not applied, the Company accounts for such instruments using the fair value method by initially recording an asset or liability, and recognizing changes in the fair value of the instruments in earnings as unrealized gains or losses on risk management contracts. Fair values of financial instruments are based on third party quotes or valuations provided by independent third parties. Any realized gains or losses on risk management contracts are recognized in net earnings in the period they occur.

p) Net Earnings and Comprehensive Income Per Share

Per share amounts are calculated by dividing the net earnings or comprehensive income (loss) attributable to common shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the reporting period.

Diluted per share amounts are calculated similar to basic per share amounts except that the weighted average common shares outstanding are increased to include additional common shares from the assumed exercise of dilutive share-options. The number of additional outstanding common shares is calculated by assuming that the outstanding in-the-money share-options were exercised and that the proceeds from such exercises were used to acquire common shares at the average market price during the reporting period.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the year in which the estimates are revised and in any future years affected. The following are the estimates and judgments applied by management that most significantly affect the Company's financial statements.

Exploration and Evaluation Expenditures

Exploration and evaluation costs are initially capitalized with the intent to establish commercially viable reserves. Exploration and evaluation assets include undeveloped land and costs related to exploratory wells. The Company is required to make estimates and judgments about future events and circumstances regarding the future economic viability of extracting the underlying resources. Changes to project economics, resource quantities, expected production techniques, unsuccessful drilling, expired mineral leases, production costs and required capital expenditures are important factors when making this determination. To the extent a judgment is made, that the underlying reserves are not viable, the exploration and evaluation costs will be impaired and charged to net earnings.

Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

Property, plant and equipment (PP&E) and goodwill are aggregated into cash generating units (CGUs) based on their ability to generate largely independent cash flows and are assessed for impairment. CGUs have been determined based on similar geological structure, shared infrastructure, geographical proximity, commodity type, and similar market risks. Oil and gas prices and other assumptions will change in the future, which may impact the Company's recoverable amounts and may therefore require a material adjustment to the carrying value of PP&E. The determination of the Company's CGUs is subject to management's judgment. The Company has a core CGU composed of its Alberta properties and secondary CGUs for its BC and Saskatchewan properties.

The recoverable amount of E&E, PP&E, and goodwill is determined based on the fair value less costs of disposal using a discounted cash flow model and is assessed at the cash generating unit ("CGU") level. The period the Company used to project cash flows is approximately 50 years or the CGUs reserve life. Growth in cash flow from a single well would be determined based on the extent of total reserves assigned, which is produced at declining rates over the estimated reserve life. The fair value measurement of the Company's E&E, PP&E, and goodwill is designated Level 2 on the fair value hierarchy.

The Company performs an impairment test on all of its CGUs for any potential impairment or related recovery at least annually or when impairment or recovery indicators arise. For the year ended December 31, 2018 the Company also performed an impairment test due to a decrease in market capitalization for Bonterra and other Canadian Oil and Gas producers. In making these evaluations, the Company uses the following information:

- 1) The net present value of the pre-tax cash flows from oil and gas reserves of each CGU based on reserves estimated by the Company's independent reserve evaluator; and

Key input estimates used in the determination of cash flows from oil and gas reserves include the following:

- a) Reserves – Assumptions that are valid at the time of reserve estimation may change significantly when new information becomes available. Changes in forward price estimates, production costs or recovery rates may change the economic status of reserves and may ultimately result in reserves being restated.
- b) Crude oil and natural gas prices – Forward price estimates of the crude oil and natural gas prices are used in the cash flow model. Commodity prices used tend to be stable because short-term increases or decreases in prices are not considered indicative of long-term price levels, but nonetheless subject to change and the change could be material.
- c) Discount rate – The Company uses a pre-tax discount rate of 10 percent that reflects risks specific to the assets for which the future cash flow estimates have not been adjusted. The discount rate was determined based on the Company's assessment of risk based on past experience. Changes in the general economic environment could result in material changes to this estimate.

Bonterra 's Key Assumptions for Impairment

	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2027	2028	2029⁽²⁾
WTI Crude oil $US/Bbl ⁽¹⁾	63.00	67.00	70.00	71.40	72.83	74.28	75.77	77.29	78.83	80.41	82.02
AECO C-Spot $Mmbtu ⁽¹⁾	1.95	2.44	3.00	3.21	3.30	3.39	3.49	3.58	3.68	3.78	3.88
Exchange rate US$/Cdn	0.77	0.80	0.80	0.80	0.80	0.80	0.80	0.80	0.80	0.80	0.80

- (1) The forecast benchmark commodity prices listed above are adjusted for quality differentials, heat content, transportation and marketing costs and other factors specific to the Company's operations in performing the Company's impairment tests.
- (2) Forecast benchmarks commodity prices are assumed to increase by 2.0% in each year after 2027 to end of the reserve life.

With the current key assumptions listed above, the Company performed impairment tests for each CGU and concluded that no reasonable change in the key assumptions, such as a five percent change in commodity prices or a one percent change in the discount rate, would result in an impairment being recorded.

Reserves Estimation

The capitalized costs of oil and gas properties and deferred consideration are depleted on a unit-of-production basis at a rate calculated by reference to proved plus probable developed reserves determined in accordance with National Instrument 51-101 and the Canadian Oil and Gas Evaluation handbook. Commercial reserves are determined using best estimates of oil and gas in place, recovery factors and future oil and gas prices. Amounts used for impairment calculations are also based on estimates of crude oil and natural gas reserves and future costs required to develop those reserves.

Risk Management Contract

The Company accounts for such instruments using the fair value method by initially recording an asset or liability, and recognizing changes in the fair value of the instruments in net earnings as unrealized gains or losses on risk management contracts. Fair values of financial instruments are based on third party futures quotes for commodities. Any realized gains or losses on risk management contracts are recognized in net earnings in the period they occur.

Share-option Compensation

The Company measures the cost of equity-settled transactions with employees by reference to the fair value of the equity instruments at the date they are granted. Estimating the fair value requires the determination of the most appropriate valuation model for a grant, which is dependent on the terms and conditions of the grant. This also requires the determination of the most appropriate inputs to the valuation model including the expected life of the option, risk-free interest rates, volatility and dividend yield.

Deferred Consideration

Deferred consideration is incurred when the sale of a royalty interest occurs that has contractual terms or implicit obligations that requires future performance such future development costs and operating costs. Management uses judgements in determining those cash flows such as cost, inflation and the discount rate to determine the portion of proceeds that is deferred.

Decommissioning and Restoration Costs

Decommissioning and restoration costs will be incurred by the Company at the end of the operating lives of the Company's oil and gas properties. Provisions for decommissioning liabilities are based on cost estimates which can vary in response to many factors including timing of abandonment, inflation, changes in legal requirements, new restoration techniques and interest rates.

Income Taxes

The Company recognizes the net deferred tax benefit or expense related to deferred income tax assets or liabilities to the extent that it is probable that the deductible temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future. Assessing the recoverability of investment tax credit receivable requires the Company to make significant estimates related to expectations of future taxable income. The provision for income taxes is based on judgments in applying income tax law and estimates of the timing, likelihood and reversal of temporary differences between the accounting and tax basis of assets and liabilities. The ability to realize on the deferred tax assets and investment tax credit receivable recorded on the balance sheet may be compromised to the extent that any interpretation of tax law is challenged or taxable income differs significantly from estimates.

Further details regarding accounting estimates and judgments are disclosed in Note 3.

5. FINANCE COSTS

20. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

Financial Risk Factors

The Company undertakes transactions in a range of financial instruments including:

- Accounts receivable
- Accounts payable and accrued liabilities

- Common share investments
- Due to related party
- Bank debt
- Subordinated promissory note

The Company's activities result in exposure to a number of financial risks including market risk (commodity price risk, interest rate risk, and foreign exchange risk), credit risk, liquidity risk and equity price risk.

The Company's overall risk management program seeks to mitigate these risks and reduce the volatility on the Company's financial performance. Financial risk is managed by senior management under the direction of the Board of Directors.

The Company may enter into various risk management contracts to manage the Company's exposure to commodity price fluctuations. Currently no risk management agreements are in place. The Company does not speculatively trade in risk management contracts. The Company's risk management contracts are entered into to manage the risks relating to commodity prices from its business activities.

Capital Risk Management

The Company's objectives when managing capital, which the Company defines to include shareholders' equity, debt and working capital balances, are to safeguard the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can continue to provide returns to its shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders and to maintain a capital structure that provides a low cost of capital. In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may adjust the amount of dividends, debt facilities or issue new shares.

The Company monitors capital on the basis of the ratio of net debt (total debt adjusted for working capital) to cash flow from operating activities. This ratio is calculated using each quarter end net debt divided by the preceding twelve months' cash flow. Management believes that a net debt level as high as one and a half year's cash flow is still an appropriate level to allow it to take advantage in the future of either acquisition opportunities or to provide flexibility to develop its undeveloped resources by horizontal or vertical drill programs. During the current year the Company had a net debt to cash flow level of 2.8:1 compared to 3.1:1 in 2017. The decrease in net debt to cash flow ratio is primarily due to $52,000,000 received on December 20, 2017 for the sale of a royalty interest in the Pembina Cardium properties (see disposition Note 21) and improved commodity prices realized in 2018. However, in the fourth quarter of 2018, Canadian oil experienced large differentials compared to world prices due to a lack of takeaway capacity. To manage its bank debt during a period of low commodity prices the Company reduced planned capital expenditures for the 2017 and 2018 fiscal years. Additionally, in December of 2018, the Company reduced the monthly dividend from $0.10 to $0.01 per common share.

Section (a) of this note provides the Company's debt to cash flow from operations.

Section (b) addresses in more detail the key financial risk factors that arise from the Company's activities including its policies for managing these risks.

a) Net debt ratio

The net debt and cash flow amounts as of December 31, 2018 are as follows:

($ 000s)
Bank debt	298,660
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	18,743
Due to related party	12,000
Subordinated promissory note	10,000
Current assets	(11,709)
Net debt	327,694
Cash flow from operations	115,963
Net debt ratio	2.8

b) Risks and mitigation

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flow of the Company's financial instruments will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Components of market risk to which the Company is exposed are discussed below.

Commodity price risk

The Company's principal operation is the production and sale of crude oil, natural gas and natural gas liquids. Fluctuations in prices of these commodities directly impact the Company's performance and ability to continue with its dividends.

The Company has used various risk management contracts to set price parameters for a portion of its production. The Company has assumed the risk in respect of commodity prices, except for a small portion of physical delivery sales contracts to manage commodity risk on the Company's higher operating cost areas. These contracts are considered normal sales contracts and are not recorded at fair value in the financial statements.

At December 31, 2018, the Company had the following physical natural gas sales contract in place:

Product	Type of contract	Volume	Term	Contract price
Oil	Costless physical oil collar – WTI	500 BBL/day	November 1 to December 31, 2018	Floor price $70.00 US/BBL Ceiling price $79.50 US/BBL

- (1) WTI refers to West Texas Intermediate, a grade of light sweet crude oil used as benchmark pricing in the United States
- (2) Basis differential is the difference between WTI and MSW stream index

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk refers to the risk that the value of a financial instrument or cash flows associated with the instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates. Interest rate risk arises from interest bearing financial assets and liabilities that the Company uses. The principal exposure of the Company is on its borrowings which have a variable interest rate which gives rise to a cash flow interest rate risk.

The Company's debt facilities consist of a $330,000,000 syndicated revolving operating line, $50,000,000 non-syndicated operating line, $12,000,000 due to a related party and a $10,000,000 subordinated promissory note. The borrowings under these facilities, except for the subordinated promissory note, are at bank prime plus or minus various percentages as well as by means of banker's acceptances (BAs) within the Company's credit facility. The subordinated promissory note is at a fixed interest rate of five percent. The Company manages its exposure to interest rate risk on its floating interest rate debt through entering into various term lengths on its BAs but in no circumstances do the terms exceed six months.

Sensitivity Analysis

Based on historic movements and volatilities in the interest rate markets and management's current assessment of the financial markets, the Company believes that a one percent variation in the Canadian prime interest rate is reasonably possible over a 12-month period.

A one percent increase (decrease) in the Canadian prime rate would decrease (increase) both annual net earnings and comprehensive income by $2,268,000.

Equity price risk

Equity price risk refers to the risk that the fair value of the investments and investment in related party will fluctuate due to changes in equity markets. Equity price risk arises from the realizable value of the investments that the Company holds which are subject to variable equity market prices which on disposition gives rise to a cash flow equity price risk. The Company will assume full risk in respect of equity price fluctuations.

Foreign exchange risk

The Company has no foreign operations and currently sells all of its product sales in Canadian currency. The Company however is exposed to currency risk in that crude oil is priced in US currency, then converted to Canadian currency. The Company currently has no outstanding risk management agreements. The Company will assume full risk in respect of foreign exchange fluctuations.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that a contracting party will not complete its obligations under a financial instrument and cause the Company to incur a financial loss. The Company is exposed to credit risk on all financial assets included on the statement of financial position. To help mitigate this risk:

- The Company only enters into material agreements with credit worthy counterparties. These include major oil and gas companies or major Canadian chartered banks; and
- Agreements for product sales are primarily on 30 day renewal terms.

Of the $7,797,000 accounts receivable balance at December 31, 2018 (December 31, 2017 – $20,536,000) over 74 percent (2017 – 84 percent) relates to product sales with national and international oil and gas companies.

On a quarterly basis, the Company assesses if there has been any impairment of the financial assets of the Company. During the year ended December 31, 2018, there was no material impairment provision required on any of the financial assets of the Company. The Company does have a credit risk exposure as the majority of the Company's accounts receivable are with counterparties having similar characteristics. However, payments from the Company's largest accounts receivable counterparties have consistently been received within 30 days and the sales agreements with these parties are cancellable with 30 days' notice if payments are not received.

At December 31, 2018, approximately $397,000 or 5 percent of the Company's total accounts receivable are aged over 90 days and considered past due (December 31, 2017 – $1,434,000 or 7 percent). The majority of these accounts are due from various joint venture partners. The Company actively monitors past due accounts and takes the necessary actions to expedite collection, which can include withholding production or netting payables when the accounts are with joint venture partners. Should the Company determine that the ultimate collection of a receivable is in doubt, it will provide the necessary provision in its allowance for doubtful accounts with a corresponding charge to earnings. If the Company subsequently determines an account is uncollectable, the account is written off with a corresponding charge to the allowance account. The Company's allowance for doubtful accounts balance at December 31, 2018 is $1,402,000 (December 31, 2017 – $1,146,000) with the expense being included in general and administrative expenses. There were no material accounts written off during the period.

The maximum exposure to credit risk is represented by the carrying amounts of accounts receivable. There are no material financial assets that the Company considers past due.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk includes the risk that, as a result of the Company's operational liquidity requirements:

- The Company will not have sufficient funds to settle a transaction on the due date;
- The Company will not have sufficient funds to continue with its dividends;
- The Company will be forced to sell assets at a value which is less than what they are worth; or
- The Company may be unable to settle or recover a financial asset at all.

To help reduce these risks the Company maintains bank facilities determined by a portfolio of high-quality, long reserve life oil and gas assets.

The Company has the following maturity schedule for its financial liabilities and commitments:

($ 000s)	Recognized on Financial Statements	Less than 1 year	Over 1 year to 9 years
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	Yes – Liability	18,743	—

21. DISPOSITION

On December 20, 2017, the Company sold a two percent gross overriding royalty (GORR) on the total production from the Company's Pembina Cardium pool effective January 1, 2018. The royalty owner has the option of either being paid in cash or in kind. Consideration received on disposition was $56,747,000, comprised of $52,000,000 in cash and property, plant and equipment valued at $4,747,000.

Upon evaluating this transaction, it was determined that the proceeds for the sale of the GORR were comprised of a disposal of a portion of the Pembina Cardium properties, plant and equipment and an upfront payment received for the implicit obligation of future extraction services that will generate future royalties.

The Company used discounted future cash flows of future development and operating costs multiplied by the two percent royalty rate to derive the upfront payment received for future extraction services of $16,064,000, which is being accounted for as deferred consideration and recognized as revenue over the reserve life of the Pembina Cardium properties. The remaining proceeds of $40,683,000 were compared to the carrying value attributable to the partial disposal of property, plant and equipment of $36,457,000, resulting in a gain on disposal of $4,226,000.

22. COMMITMENTS

The Company has entered into firm service gas transportation agreements in which the Company guarantees certain minimum volumes of natural gas will be shipped on various gas transportation systems. The terms of the various agreements expire in one to eight years.

The Company has office lease commitments for building and office equipment. The building and office equipment leases have an average remaining life of 4.9 years. There are no restrictions placed upon the lessee by entering into these leases.

Future minimum payments for the firm service gas transportation agreements using current tariff rates and the non-cancellable building and office equipment leases as at December 31, 2018 are as follows:

($ 000s)	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Thereafter	Total

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The following report dated March 10, 2020 is a review of the operations and current financial position for the year ended December 31, 2019 for Bonterra Energy Corp. ("Bonterra" or "the Company") and should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements presented under International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), including the notes related thereto.

Use of Non-IFRS Financial Measures

Throughout this Management's Discussion and Analysis (MD&A) the Company uses the terms "payout ratio", "cash netback" and "net debt" to analyze operating performance, which are not standardized measures recognized under IFRS and do not have a standardized meaning prescribed by IFRS. These measures are commonly used in the oil and gas industry and are considered informative by management, shareholders and analysts. These measures may differ from those made by other companies and accordingly may not be comparable to such measures as reported by other companies.

The Company calculates payout ratio percentage by dividing cash dividends paid to shareholders by cash flow from operating activities, both of which are measures prescribed by IFRS which appear on our statement of cash flows. We calculate cash netback by dividing various financial statement items as determined by IFRS by total production for the period on a barrel of oil equivalent basis. The Company calculates net debt as long-term debt plus working capital deficiency (current liabilities less current assets).

Frequently Recurring Terms

Bonterra uses the following frequently recurring terms in this MD&A: "WTI" refers to West Texas Intermediate, a grade of light sweet crude oil used as benchmark pricing in the United States; "MSW Stream Index" or "Edmonton Par" refers to the mixed sweet blend that is the benchmark price for conventionally produced light sweet crude oil in Western Canada; "AECO" refers to Alberta Energy Company, a grade or heating content of natural gas used as benchmark pricing in Alberta, Canada; "bbl" refers to barrel; "NGL" refers to Natural gas liquids; "MCF" refers to thousand cubic feet; "MMBTU" refers to million British Thermal Units; "GJ" refers to gigajoule; and "BOE" refers to barrels of oil equivalent. Disclosure provided herein in respect of a BOE may be misleading, particularly if used in isolation. A BOE conversion ratio of 6 MCF: 1 bbl is based on an energy conversion method primarily applicable at the burner tip and does not represent a value equivalency at the wellhead.

Business Environment and Sensitivities

Bonterra's financial results are significantly influenced by fluctuations in commodity prices, including price differentials, as well as production volumes and foreign exchange rates. The following table depicts selective market benchmark commodity prices, differentials and foreign exchange rates in the last eight quarters to assist in understanding how past volatility has impacted Bonterra's financial and operating performance. The increases or decreases in Bonterra's realized average price for oil and natural gas for each of the eight quarters is also outlined in detail in the following table.

The overall volatility in Bonterra's average realized commodity prices can be impacted by numerous events or factors, including but not limited to:

- Worldwide (particularly North American) crude oil supply and demand imbalance;
- Geo-political events that affect worldwide crude oil supply and demand;
- The value of the Canadian dollar compared to the US dollar;
- Access to infrastructure and markets;
- Crude oil curtailments;
- Weather; and
- Timing and duration of plant, refinery and pipeline maintenance.

Volatility in WTI benchmark pricing continued through the fourth quarter of 2019 as uncertainties around global supply and demand persist, along with heightened geopolitical concerns that began earlier in the year with an attack on Saudi Arabia's largest crude processing facility. Concern regarding global demand imbalances in the second half of 2019 and into 2020 comes from a variety of factors, including but not limited to global trade disputes between the US and China and the impact of the Coronavirus epidemic. There is further uncertainty around crude oil supply growth, including continued shale oil development in the US, the impact of which was exacerbated in early March 2020 due to Russia's departure from OPEC+ and Saudi Arabia's stated objective to ramp up production and cause an oil price war. The impact of such competition for market share could have a significant, sustained negative effect on global commodity prices. In Canada, volatility subsided somewhat through 2019 as crude curtailments mandated by the Alberta Government, along with incremental rail and seasonal factors, resulted in a decrease in crude inventories and a narrowing of the differential for all grades of Canadian crude. While the curtailment program has reduced Canadian crude price volatility, it has not negated the need for incremental pipeline capacity out of the country. Looking forward, completion of any proposed pipeline expansion projects or increasing Canada's export capabilities by expanding capacity on existing lines will have a positive effect on the movement and pricing of Canadian barrels.

The AECO benchmark price for natural gas improved into the fourth quarter of 2019 with the onset of winter and the associated increase in heating demand. Looking forward, the implementation of a Temporary Service Protocol to manage supply during maintenance periods on TC Energy's NGTL pipeline system is expected to result in more stable pricing through 2020. Beyond 2020, planned facility additions for the NGTL gas transmission system and a positive final investment decision by LNG Canada may improve sentiment towards western Canadian-based natural gas producers. While these projects do not impact near-term supply and demand imbalances, they do have positive implications for the longer term.

The following chart shows the Company's sensitivity to key commodity price variables. The sensitivity calculations are performed independently and show the effect of changing one variable while holding all other variables constant.

Business Overview, Strategy and Key Performance Drivers

Bonterra is an upstream oil and gas company that is primarily focused on the development of its Cardium land within the Pembina and Willesden Green areas located in central Alberta. The Pembina Cardium reservoir is the largest conventional oil reservoir in western Canada that features large original oil in place with very low recoveries to date. Bonterra operates approximately 90 percent of its production and operates the majority of its related oil and gas processing facilities, which require minimal additional capital to support an increase of production. At December 31, 2019, Bonterra has identified a horizontal drilling inventory of approximately 700 net locations (for more information and advisories regarding drilling locations, please refer to Drilling Locations within the Forward Looking Information section). Bonterra has also identified additional drilling locations in other formations within Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

Bonterra continues to remain focused on long-term sustainability and improving its balance sheet through debt reduction. During 2019, Bonterra generated cash flow in excess of capital and dividends and reduced net debt by $36.1 million, having closed the year with net debt of $292.8 million, an 11 percent decrease from $328.9 million at December 31, 2018. The Company managed this net debt reduction with reduced capital spending offset by increased production costs from an increased number of required multi-year facility turnarounds in 2019 compared to prior years. With the expected decrease in facility maintenance costs, Bonterra will continue to pursue balance sheet strength and enhanced financial flexibility through 2020. Cash flow after capital and dividend outlays continues to be prioritized for the enhancement of debt ratios.

During 2019, Bonterra invested $53.6 million in capital, directing approximately $44.5 million to drill 30 gross (23.7 net) wells, complete and tie-in 27 gross (20.7 net) wells, with the remaining three wells brought on production in Q1 2020. In addition, approximately $9.1 million was directed to infrastructure investments, and Bonterra maintained average annual daily production of 12,305 BOE per day. Production was two percent lower than the low end of 2019 guidance disclosed at Q3 2019 of 12,600 BOE per day to 13,200 BOE per day, reflecting approximately 350 BOE per day of production being shut-in through the year related to facility maintenance and low natural gas prices. The Company returned approximately $4 million to shareholders in the form of dividends. Bonterra's all-in payout ratio was 71 percent in 2019, calculated by combining the total dividend amount with capital expenditures and dividing by cash flow from operations.

In response to severe market volatility, and as part of Bonterra's ongoing efforts to diversify crude oil pricing and to protect future cash flow, the Company entered into physical delivery sales and risk management contracts for the first half of 2020. During 2020, the Company will receive fixed Edmonton Par prices on 2,000 bbls per day of crude oil in Q1 2020 between $64.46 CAD to $69.60 CAD per bbl and on 2,000 bbls per day of crude oil in Q2 2020 between $59.50 CAD to $70.25 CAD per bbl, with an additional 500 bbls per day of crude oil for the month of March 2020 at $59.08 CAD per bbl. The Company also diversified its natural gas pricing for the warmer months of 2020 by entering into a physical delivery sales contracts for 5,000 GJs per day from April 1, 2020 to October 31, 2020 ranging between $1.55 CAD to $1.64 CAD per GJ.

As a result of unprecedented volatility in global commodity markets, the Company will continue to prioritize balance sheet strength, preserve the inherent value of assets, and retain flexibility with its capital program to rapidly respond to fluctuations in the broader commodity price environment. Consistent with this strategy, the Company has taken several steps to ensure strength and resiliency during this period. While the previously announced 2020 capital budget of $70 million is under review, approximately $25 million of spending is committed to date. Bonterra will defer any additional drilling or completions capital investment until economic conditions are more supportive. Further, the Company is actively assessing areas and infrastructure that are uneconomic in the current environment and has shut-in production volumes to protect corporate returns. Lastly, the Company's Board of Directors has elected to suspend its monthly dividend, commencing in April, until the economic environment can support a sustained dividend payment. Bonterra may elect to adjust the amount and timing of capital spending to ensure optimal returns while seeking to further reduce its debt levels. A commitment to sustainability and debt reduction will remain intact through 2020.

Bonterra's successful operations are dependent upon several factors including, but not limited to: commodity prices, efficient management of capital spending, the payment of monthly dividends, the ability to maintain desired levels of production, control over infrastructure, efficiency in developing and operating properties, and the ability to control costs. The Company's key measures of performance with respect to these drivers include but are not limited to: average daily production volumes, average realized prices, and average operating costs per unit of production. Disclosure of these key performance measures can be found in this MD&A and/or previous interim or annual MD&A disclosures.

(1) "Gross" wells are the number of wells in which Bonterra has a working interest.

(2) "Net" wells are the aggregate number of wells obtained by multiplying each gross well by Bonterra's percentage of working interest.

During 2019, the Company drilled 23 gross (23.0 net) operated wells and completed 20 gross (20.0 net) operated wells, of which 20 gross (20.0 net) wells were tied-in and placed on production. The remaining three gross (3.0 net) wells commenced production in early Q1 2020.

In addition, seven gross (0.7 net) non-operated wells were drilled, completed, equipped and placed on production in 2019.

Average BOE per day	12,387	12,136	12,789	12,305	13,206

Annual production averaged 12,305 BOE per day in 2019, compared to 13,206 BOE per day for the same period in 2018, reflecting significantly lower capital spending in 2019 compared to 2018, which led to fewer new wells coming on production. In addition, during 2019 an average of approximately 350 BOE per day of production was shut-in primarily due to facility turnarounds being undertaken on a large number of gas plants and batteries, as well as the voluntary shut-in of British Columbia (“BC”) natural gas wells due to low realized natural gas prices. The BC natural gas wells were placed back on production as gas prices increased in the fourth quarter.

Fourth quarter 2019 production was higher than the previous quarter due to the timing of new wells being brought onto production and the reactivation of the BC natural gas wells in November of 2019.

Cash netback	20.62	19.90	8.07	21.55	22.24

Cash netbacks decreased in 2019 compared to 2018 primarily due to lower realized commodity prices and increased production costs per BOE, which were partially offset by a decrease in royalties per BOE.

Cash netbacks for Q4 2019 increased compared to Q3 2019 due to higher realized commodity prices and an adjustment on past crown royalties paid, which were partially offset by higher production costs per BOE.

Revenue from oil and gas sales in 2019 decreased by $20,639,000, or nine percent, compared to the same period in 2018. The decrease in oil and gas sales was primarily driven by a seven percent decrease in production volumes and a decrease in commodity prices for oil and NGLs. The quarter-over-quarter increase in oil and gas sales was primarily due to an increase in both production volumes and natural gas prices compared to Q3 2019.

The Company's product split on a revenue basis is weighted approximately 92 percent to crude oil and NGLs for 2019.

Royalties

Royalties $ per BOE	2.24	3.76	3.17	3.18	4.94

Royalties paid by the Company consist of both crown royalties to the Provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia and other royalties. Total royalties for the year ended December 31, 2019 decreased by $1.76 per BOE compared to 2018. The decrease is primarily the result of a crown royalty refund of $2.1 million and lower commodity prices in 2019 than the prior year. The crown royalty refund recorded in the fourth quarter of 2019 was due to a reassessment on past royalties paid.

Production Costs

($ 000s except $ per BOE)	December 31, 2019	Three months ended September 30, 2019	December 31, 2018	December 31, 2019	Year ended December 31, 2018

$ per BOE	16.94	14.32	14.23	15.51	14.49

Production costs for 2019 did not substantially change from 2018 despite a decrease in production. The increase in costs on a per BOE basis was primarily due to increased trucking as flush production from new wells exceeded facility capacity, increased chemical costs for pipeline integrity and maintenance prevention programs, increased facility turnarounds and shut-in production. Facility turnarounds are not required every year and may not be required again for an additional five years; as such, a disproportionate number of turnarounds were required in 2019 versus prior periods.

Production costs for Q4 2019 increased by $3,315,000 compared to Q3 2019 primarily due to increased well and facility maintenance costs, chemical and power costs due to increased power rates and consumption.

Deferred consideration relates to a deferred gain on the sale of a two percent overriding royalty interest, which is recognized into revenue using the same unit-of-production method as the encumbered property, plant and equipment assets.

The market value and carrying value of the investments held by the Company at December 31, 2019 was $286,000 (December 31, 2018—$374,000). There were no dispositions for the years ended December 31, 2019 or 2018. Dispositions that result in a gain or loss on sale are recorded as an equity transfer between accumulated other comprehensive income and retained earnings.

The Company receives administrative income for various oil and gas administrative services provided and production equipment rentals.

During the third quarter of 2019, Bonterra entered into financial derivatives to minimize commodity price risk on crude oil sales. The financial derivatives outstanding are for the period from October 1, 2019 to December 31, 2019 on a total of 153,000 barrels of crude oil (approximately 1,000 barrels of oil per day for the month of October and 2,000 barrels of oil per day for the months of November and December) at fixed Edmonton Par prices ranging from $62.90 to $65.00 CAD per barrel. For the first half of 2020, Bonterra also entered into further financial derivatives to minimize commodity price risk on future crude oil sales. The financial derivatives outstanding are for a total of 136,500 barrels of crude oil (approximately 1,000 barrels of oil per day for Q1 2020 and 500 barrels of oil per day for Q2 2020) at fixed Edmonton Par prices ranging from $67.75 to $69.60 CAD per barrel for Q1 2020 and $59.50 CAD per barrel for Q2 2020. These contracts are not considered normal sales contracts and are recorded at fair value.

Employee compensation expense for 2019 compared to 2018 remained primarily unchanged due to slightly lower earnings before income taxes. The Company has a bonus plan in which the bonus pool consists of a range between 2.5 percent to 3.5 percent of earnings before income taxes.

Office and administrative expenses for 2019 decreased by $341,000 compared to 2018 primarily due to a decrease in bank charges, professional consulting fees and the allowance for doubtful accounts expense, which was partially offset by an increase in software and consulting services. The increase in Q4 2019 over Q3 2019 was primarily due to increased bank charges and professional consulting fees.

Interest on long-term debt remained relatively unchanged for 2019 compared to 2018 due to increased interest rates as a result of a higher net debt to earnings before income taxes, depletion and amortization (or “EBITDA” as defined by the Company’s bank facility) ratio for 2019 due to decreased EBITDA from reduced production. Interest costs for 2019 were partially offset by lower average long-term debt outstanding of approximately $7,828,000. Quarter-over-quarter interest on long-term debt decreased as a result of a lower net debt to EBITDA ratio in effect for the current quarter and reduced average long-term debt of $7,740,000. Interest rates for the current quarter are determined based on the trailing quarter and calculated by taking the ratio of total debt (excluding accounts payable and accrued liabilities) to EBITDA (defined as net income excluding finance costs, provision for current and deferred taxes, depletion and depreciation, share-option compensation, gain or loss on sale of assets and impairment of assets) multiplied by four.

Other interest relates primarily to amounts paid to a related party (see related party transactions) and a $7,500,000 subordinated promissory note from a private investor. For more information about the subordinated promissory note, refer to Note 12 of the December 31, 2019 audited annual financial statements.

A one percent increase (decrease) in the Canadian prime rate would decrease (increase) both annual net earnings and comprehensive income by approximately $2,007,000.

Share-Option Compensation

($ 000s)	Three months ended			Year ended
	December 31, 2019	September 30, 2019	December 31, 2018	December 31, 2019	December 31, 2018
Share-option compensation	319	649	449	2,147	2,710

Share-option compensation is a statistically calculated value representing the estimated expense of issuing employee stock options. The Company records a compensation expense over the vesting period based on the fair value of options granted to directors, officers and employees.

Share-option compensation decreased by $563,000 in 2019 compared to 2018. This decline is primarily due to the higher share price volatility on most of the options issued in 2017 (which were fully amortized in 2018) relative to the options issued in the fourth quarter of 2018 (which will be fully amortized in 2019). In addition, no options were issued in Q4 2019 compared to 1,031,000 options being issued in Q4 2018.

Based on the outstanding options as of December 31, 2019, the Company has an unamortized expense of $172,000, of which $126,000 will be recorded for 2020 and $46,000 thereafter. For more information about options issued and outstanding, refer to Note 16 of the December 31, 2019 audited annual financial statements.

Depletion and Depreciation, Exploration and Evaluation (E&E) and Goodwill

($ 000s)	Three months ended			Year ended
	December 31, 2019	September 30, 2019	December 31, 2018	December 31, 2019	December 31, 2018
Depletion and depreciation	23,718	22,973	23,189	89,861	91,453
Exploration and evaluation	—	—	—	—	291

The provision for depletion and depreciation increased in 2019 compared to 2018 primarily due to decreased production volumes. The increase in the provision for depletion and depreciation in Q4 2019 compared to Q3 2019 is due to increased production volumes and a decrease in the December 31, 2019 proved plus probable developed reserves.

The E&E expenses relate to expired leases.

There were no impairment provisions recorded for the year ended December 31, 2019 or 2018.

Taxes

The Company recorded a deferred income tax recovery of $19,475,000 (2018 – $3,921,000 expense). The deferred income tax recovery is due to a decrease in the Alberta corporate income tax rate from 12 percent to 8 percent by January 1, 2022.

For additional information regarding income taxes, see Note 15 of the December 31, 2019 annual audited financial statements.

Net Earnings (Loss)

Net earnings for 2019 increased by $14,756,000 compared to 2018. The increase in net earnings was attributed to the deferred income tax recovery as a result of a decrease in the Alberta corporate income tax rate. In addition, royalties and depletion and depreciation were lower given the decrease in realized commodity prices and production, respectively. The increase in net earnings for 2019 was partially offset by a decrease in oil and gas sales.

Other Comprehensive Income (Loss)

Other comprehensive income for 2019 consists of an unrealized loss before tax on investments (including investment in a related party) of $88,000 relating to a decrease in the investments' fair value (December 31, 2018 – unrealized loss of $376,000). Realized gains decrease accumulated other comprehensive income as these gains are transferred to retained earnings. Other comprehensive income varies from net earnings by unrealized changes in the fair value of Bonterra's holdings of investments, including the investment in a related party, net of tax.

Cash Flow from Operations

($ 000s except $ per share)	December 31, 2019	Three months ended September 30, 2019	December 31, 2018	Year ended December 31, 2019	December 31, 2018

$ per share—basic	0.62	0.59	0.61	2.43	3.48
$ per share—diluted	0.62	0.59	0.61	2.43	3.48

In 2019, cash flow from operations decreased by $34,831,000 compared to 2018. This was primarily due to a decrease in revenue from oil and gas sales, non-cash working capital and additional decommissioning liabilities settled.

The quarter-over-quarter increase in cash flow of $993,000 was also primarily due to an increase in revenue from oil and gas sales, non-cash working capital and a crown royalty reassessment partially offset by an increase in production costs.

Related Party Transactions

Bonterra holds 1,034,523 (December 31, 2018 – 1,034,523) common shares in Pine Cliff Energy Ltd. ("Pine Cliff") which represents less than one percent ownership in Pine Cliff's outstanding common shares. Pine Cliff's common shares had a fair market value as of December 31, 2019 of $155,000 (December 31, 2018 – $258,000). The Company provides marketing services for Pine Cliff. All services performed were charged at estimated fair value. As at December 31, 2019, the Company had an account receivable from Pine Cliff of $47,000 (December 31, 2018 – $71,000).

As at December 31, 2019, a loan to Bonterra provided by the Company's CEO, Chairman of the Board and major shareholder totaled $12,000,000 (December 31, 2018 - $12,000,000). On December 1, 2019, the loan's interest rate increased from the Canadian charged bank prime less 5/8th of one percent to five and a half percent and has no set repayment terms but is payable on demand. Security under the debenture is over all the Company's assets and is subordinated to any and all claims in favour of the syndicate of senior lenders providing credit facilities to the Company. The Company's bank agreement requires that the above loan can only be repaid should the Company have sufficient available borrowing limits under the Company's credit facility. Interest paid on this loan in 2019 was $421,000 (December 31, 2018 - $362,000).

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Net Debt to Cash Flow from Operations

Bonterra continues to focus on monitoring overall debt while managing its cash flow, capital expenditures and dividend payments. The Company's net debt to twelve-month trailing cash flow ratio as of December 31, 2019 was 3.6 to 1 times (versus 2.8 to 1 times at December 31, 2018). The higher net debt to cash flow ratio stems from a decrease in the Company's twelve-month trailing cash flow. Compared to year end 2018, net debt decreased by $36,131,000 in 2019 due to a stronger focus on debt reduction, a lower capital spending program and reduced dividend payments compared to the prior year. The Company's primary focus remains on managing its bank debt during a period of highly volatile commodity prices. Bonterra will continue to assess its dividend and capital expenditures compared to cash flow from operations on a quarterly basis.

Working Capital Deficiency and Net debt

($ 000s)	December 31, 2019	December 31, 2018
Working capital deficiency	19,745	30,281
Long-term bank debt	273,065	298,660
Net Debt	292,810	328,941

The Company has sufficient availability on its credit facility to repay both the related party loan and the subordinated promissory note, if required. During each quarter, the Company manages net debt by monitoring capital spending and dividends paid relative to cash flow from operations.

Net debt is a combination of long-term bank debt and working capital. Net debt for December 31, 2019 decreased by $36,131,000 compared to December 31, 2018 primarily due to a stronger focus on debt reduction, a lower capital spending program and reduced dividend payments compared to the prior year.

Working capital is calculated as current liabilities less current assets. The Company finances its working capital deficiency using cash flow from operations, its long-term bank facility, share issuances, option exercises and adjustments of dividend payments. Included in the working capital deficiency as at December 31, 2019 is $19,500,000 of debt relating to the subordinated promissory note and the amount due to a related party.

Financial Risk Management

The Company has entered into physical delivery sales contracts to manage commodity risk. These contracts are considered normal sales contracts and are not recorded at fair value in the financial statements. The Company also entered into risk management contracts to manage commodity risk. These contracts are not considered normal sales contracts and are recorded at fair value. For more information on physical delivery and risk management contracts in place see Note 19 of the December 31, 2019 audited annual financial statements.

Capital Expenditures

During the year ended December 31, 2019, the Company incurred capital expenditures of $53,627,000 (December 31, 2018 - $78,737,000). Of the total capital invested, $44,551,000 was directed to the drilling and completion of 30 gross (23.7 net) wells and the tie-in of 27 gross (20.7 net) wells, with the remaining three wells brought on production in Q1 2020. An additional $9,076,000 was spent on related infrastructure costs, recompletions and other capital expenditures.

Liability Management Ratio ("LMR") Update

In 2019, 97 percent of the Company's production was in the province of Alberta. The Company currently has an LMR rating of 1.86 in Alberta, which has remained relatively unchanged from 2018 as lower drilling activity led to lower production volumes and a lower three-year average for crude oil pricing. Bonterra has instituted an abandonment program in 2020 to reclaim 150 to 170 inactive well bores over two years in order to increase its LMR ratio. Bonterra does not anticipate any regulatory impediments given its current LMR.

Long-term Debt

Long-term debt represents the outstanding amounts drawn on the Company's bank facility as described in the notes to the Company's audited annual financial statements. As of December 31, 2019, the Company has a bank facility with a limit of $325,000,000 (December 31, 2018—$380,000,000) that is comprised of a $286,765,000 syndicated revolving credit facility and a $38,235,000 non-syndicated revolving credit facility which has an accordion feature allowing the Company to obtain future funding of up to $40,000,000 for opportunities outside of normal operations, such as acquisitions, subject to unanimous lender approval. Amounts drawn under the bank facility of $325,000,000 at December 31, 2019 totaled $273,065,000 (December 31, 2018—$298,660,000), nine percent lower than year-end 2018. The interest rates for the year ended December 31, 2019 on the Company's Canadian prime rate loan and Banker's Acceptances range between four to six percent. The loan is revolving to April 28, 2020 with a maturity date of April 29, 2021, subject to annual review. The credit facilities have no fixed terms of repayment.

The available lending limits of the credit facilities are reviewed semi-annually on or before April 30 and October 31 each year based mainly on the lender's assessment of the Company's reserves, future commodity prices and costs. Effective October 31, 2019, the total credit facility was revised to $325,000,000, comprised of a $286,765,000 syndicated revolving credit facility and a $38,235,000 non-syndicated revolving credit facility. All other terms and conditions remain the same.

Advances drawn under the bank facility are secured by a fixed and floating charge debenture over the assets of the Company. In the event the bank facility is not extended or renewed, amounts drawn under the facility would be due and payable on the maturity date. The size of the committed credit facilities is based primarily on the value of the Company's producing petroleum and natural gas assets and related tangible assets as determined by the Lenders. For more information see Note 13 of the December 31, 2019 audited annual financial statements.

Shareholders' Equity

The Company is authorized to issue an unlimited number of common shares without nominal or par value.

The Company is also authorized to issue an unlimited number of Class "A" redeemable Preferred Shares and an unlimited number of Class "B" Preferred Shares. There are currently no outstanding Class "A" redeemable Preferred Shares or Class "B" Preferred Shares.

The exercise price of each option granted will not be lower than the market price of the common shares on the date of grant and the option's maximum term is five years. For additional information regarding options outstanding, see Note 16 of the December 31, 2019 audited annual financial statements.

Commitments

The Company has entered into firm service gas transportation agreements in which the Company guarantees that certain minimum volumes of natural gas will be shipped on various gas transportation systems. Bonterra uses firm service delivery with TransCanada Pipeline on approximately 90 percent of its natural gas production. Given that substantially all of Bonterra's current natural gas production is from the solution gas in oil wells, this will reduce transportation curtailments associated with interruptible service, therefore decreasing restrictions on oil production. The terms of the various agreements expire in one to seven years.

The Company has office lease commitments for building and office equipment. The building and office equipment leases have an average remaining life of 3.9 years.

Future minimum payments for the firm service gas transportation agreements using current tariff rates and the non-cancellable building and office equipment leases as at December 31, 2019 are as follows:

($ 000s)	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	Thereafter	Total

Dividend Policy

For the year ended December 31, 2019, the Company declared and paid dividends of $4,007,000 ($0.12 per share) (December 31, 2018 – $36,985,000) ($1.11 per share). Bonterra's dividend policy is regularly monitored and is dependent upon production, commodity prices, broad market conditions, cash flow from operations, debt levels and capital expenditures.

Bonterra's capital spending and dividends to its shareholders are funded by cash flow from operating activities with the remaining free cash flow directed to debt repayment. To the extent that the excess cash flow from operations after dividends and capital spending is not sufficient, the shortfall may be funded by drawdowns on Bonterra's bank facility. Bonterra intends to provide dividends to shareholders that are sustainable by the Company while giving consideration to its liquidity and long-term operational strategy. The level of dividends is highly dependent upon cash flow generated from operations, which may fluctuate significantly due to changes in financial and operational performance, commodity prices, interest and exchange rates and many other factors. As such, future dividends cannot be assured.

On March 10, 2020, the Company's Board of Directors elected to suspend its monthly dividend, commencing in April, in response to significant volatility in commodity markets. The dividend is expected to be reestablished when the economic environment can support a sustained dividend payment.

The fluctuations in the Company's revenue and net earnings from quarter-to-quarter are caused by variations in production volumes, realized commodity pricing and the related impact on royalties, production, G&A and finance costs. In the fourth quarter of 2018, the Canadian oil and gas industry experienced a significant decrease in the realized price for Canadian crude oil due to extremely wide differentials, which negatively impacted Bonterra's Q4 2018 net earnings and cash flow, as well as its Q1 2019 cash flow. Net earnings for Q2 2019 increased due to a deferred tax recovery from a decrease in the Alberta corporate income tax rate.

Critical Accounting Estimates

There have been no changes to the Company's critical accounting policies and estimates as of the period ended in the financial statements.

Certain statements contained in this MD&A include statements which contain words such as "anticipate", "could", "should", "expect", "seek", "may", "intend", "likely", "will", "believe" and similar expressions, relating to matters that are not historical facts, and such statements of our beliefs, intentions and expectations about development, results and events which will or may occur in the future, constitute "forward-looking information" within the meaning of applicable Canadian securities legislation and are based on certain assumptions and analysis made by us derived from our experience and perceptions. Forward-looking information in this MD&A includes, but is not limited to: expected cash provided by continuing operations; cash dividends; future capital expenditures, including the amount and nature thereof; oil and natural gas prices and demand; expansion and other development trends of the oil and gas industry; business strategy and outlook; expansion and growth of our business and operations; and maintenance of existing customer, supplier and partner relationships; supply channels; accounting policies; credit risks; and other such matters.

All such forward-looking information is based on certain assumptions and analyses made by us in light of our experience and perception of historical trends, current conditions and expected future developments, as well as other factors we believe are appropriate in the circumstances. The risks, uncertainties, and assumptions are difficult to predict and may affect operations, and may include, without limitation: foreign exchange fluctuations; equipment and labour shortages and inflationary costs; general economic conditions; industry conditions; changes in applicable environmental, taxation and other laws and regulations as well as how such laws and regulations are interpreted and enforced; the ability of oil and natural gas companies to raise capital; the effect of weather conditions on operations and facilities; the existence of operating risks; volatility of oil and natural gas prices; oil and gas product supply and demand; risks inherent in the ability to generate sufficient cash flow from operations to meet current and future obligations; increased competition; stock market volatility; opportunities available to or pursued by us; and other factors, many of which are beyond our control. The foregoing factors are not exhaustive.

Actual results, performance or achievements could differ materially from those expressed in, or implied by, this forward-looking information and, accordingly, no assurance can be given that any of the events anticipated by the forward-looking information will transpire or occur, or if any of them do, what benefits will be derived therefrom. Drilling Locations

This MD&A discloses drilling locations in three categories: (i) proved locations; (ii) probable locations; and (iii) unbooked locations. Proved locations and probable locations, which are sometimes collectively referred to as “booked locations”, are derived from the independent reserves evaluation prepared by Sproule Associates Ltd. as of December 31, 2019 and account for drilling locations that have associated proved and/or probable reserves, as applicable. Unbooked locations are internal estimates based on Bonterra’s prospective acreage and an assumption as to the number of wells that can be drilled per section based on industry practice and internal review. Unbooked locations do not have attributed reserves. Of the 700 net drilling locations identified herein, 305 are proved locations, 6 are probable locations and 389 are unbooked locations. Unbooked locations have been identified by management as an estimation based on industry practice and internal review of our multi-year drilling activities, which include an evaluation of applicable geologic, seismic, engineering, production and reserves information. There is no certainty that Bonterra will drill all unbooked drilling locations and, if drilled, there is no certainty that such locations will result in additional oil and gas reserves or production. The drilling locations on which we actually drill wells will ultimately depend upon the availability of capital, regulatory approvals, seasonal restrictions, oil and natural gas prices, costs, actual drilling results, additional reservoir information that is obtained and other factors. While certain of the unbooked drilling locations have been derisked by drilling existing wells in relative close proximity to such unbooked drilling locations, some of other unbooked drilling locations are farther away from existing wells where management has less information about the characteristics of the reservoir and therefore there is more uncertainty whether wells will be drilled in such locations and, if drilled, there is more uncertainty that such wells will result in additional oil and gas reserves or production. No locations have been assigned resources other than reserves (“ROTR”). All drilling counts cited herein are net.

Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Disclosure controls and procedures (“DC&P”), as defined in National Instrument 52-109 Certification of Disclosure in Issuers’ Annual and Interim Filings, are designed to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed in the Company’s annual filings, interim filings or other reports filed, or submitted by the Company under securities legislation is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified under securities legislation and include controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed is accumulated and communicated to management, including the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. The Chief Executive Officer and Chief financial Officer of Bonterra evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company’s DC&P. Based on that evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer concluded that Bonterra’s DC&P were effective at December 31, 2019.

Internal Controls Over Financial Reporting

Internal control over financial reporting (“ICFR”), as defined in National Instrument 52-109, includes those policies and procedures that:

1. Pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect transactions and dispositions of Bonterra;
2. Are designed to provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and that receipts and expenditures of Bonterra are being made in accordance with authorizations of management and Directors of Bonterra; and
3. Are designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of authorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company’s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

The CEO and CFO have designed, or caused to be designed under their supervision, ICFR as defined in National Instrument 52-109 of the Canadian Securities Administrators, in order to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with IFRS. The control framework the Company used to design its ICFR was in accordance with the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO 2013).

The Company’s CEO and CFO have evaluated, or caused to be evaluated under their supervision, the effectiveness of the Company’s internal controls over financial reporting at the financial period end of the Company and concluded that such internal controls over financial reporting are effective as of December 31, 2019.

It should be noted that while Bonterra’s CEO and CFO believe that the Company’s internal controls and procedures provide a reasonable level of assurance and are effective; they do not expect that these controls will prevent all errors and fraud.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The following report dated March 12, 2019 is a review of the operations and current financial position for the year ended December 31, 2018 for Bonterra Energy Corp. ("Bonterra" or "the Company") and should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements presented under International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), including the notes related thereto.

Use of Non-IFRS Financial Measures

Throughout this Management's Discussion and Analysis (MD&A) the Company uses the terms "payout ratio", "cash netback" and "net debt" to analyze operating performance, which are not standardized measures recognized under IFRS and do not have a standardized meaning prescribed by IFRS. These measures are commonly used in the oil and gas industry and are considered informative by management, shareholders and analysts. These measures may differ from those made by other companies and accordingly may not be comparable to such measures as reported by other companies.

The Company calculates payout ratio percentage by dividing cash dividends paid to shareholders by cash flow from operating activities, both of which are measures prescribed by IFRS which appear on our statement of cash flows. We calculate cash netback by dividing various financial statement items as determined by IFRS by total production for the period on a barrel of oil equivalent basis. The Company calculates net debt as long-term debt plus working capital deficiency (current liabilities less current assets).

Frequently Recurring Terms

Bonterra uses the following frequently recurring terms in this MD&A: "WTI" refers to West Texas Intermediate, a grade of light sweet crude oil used as benchmark pricing in the United States; "MSW Stream Index" or "Edmonton Par" refers to the mixed sweet blend that is the benchmark price for conventionally produced light sweet crude oil in Western Canada; "AECO" refers to Alberta Energy Company, a grade or heating content of natural gas used as benchmark pricing in Alberta, Canada; "bbl" refers to barrel; "NGL" refers to Natural gas liquids; "MCF" refers to thousand cubic feet; "MMBTU" refers to million British Thermal Units; "GJ" refers to gigajoule; and "BOE" refers to barrels of oil equivalent. Disclosure provided herein in respect of a BOE may be misleading, particularly if used in isolation. A BOE conversion ratio of 6 MCF: 1 bbl is based on an energy conversion method primarily applicable at the burner tip and does not represent a value equivalency at the wellhead.

Business Environment and Sensitivities

Bonterra's financial results are significantly influenced by fluctuations in commodity prices, including price differentials, production volumes and foreign exchange. The following table depicts selective market benchmark prices, differentials and foreign exchange rates in the last eight quarters to assist in understanding volatility in prices and foreign exchange rates that have impacted Bonterra's financial and operating performance. The increases or decreases for Bonterra's realized price for oil and natural gas for each of the eight quarters is also outlined in detail in the following table.

(1) This differential accounts for the majority of the difference between WTI and Bonterra's average realized price (before quality adjustments and foreign exchange).

The overall volatility in Bonterra's average realized commodity prices can be impacted by numerous events or factors, including but not limited to:

- Worldwide crude oil supply and demand imbalance;
- Geo-political events that affect worldwide crude oil supply and demand;
- The value of the Canadian dollar compared to the US dollar;
- Access to infrastructure and markets;
- Weather; and
- Timing and duration of plant, refinery and pipeline maintenance.

WTI benchmark pricing which had been steadily increasing from the low of US$30.62 per bbl in February of 2016, decreased in the fourth quarter of 2018, and is currently trading around US$55.00 per barrel. Uncertainties around both global supply and global demand have resulted in a volatile pricing environment for crude. Global trade issues, in particular between US and China, have created concern that global demand growth may weaken in 2019. Regarding supply, there is uncertainty whether crude from shale oil growth in the US, will outpace cuts that were recently agreed to by OPEC and several non-OPEC nations. In Canada, the volatility is even greater as a shortage of pipeline capacity and recent refinery maintenance has led to material apportionment on feeder and export pipelines. In Q4 2018, this has led to incremental price weakness for Canadian light oil, making Canadian oil much cheaper relative to US and global benchmarks.

There is some relief in sight for Canadian crude grades. Presently, the Alberta Governments mandatory crude curtailments have resulted in a significant narrowing of the differentials for all grades of Canadian crude. This has brought Canadian prices more in line with global markets. Completion of any of the pipeline expansion projects or increasing the country's export capabilities by expanding capacity on existing lines may have a positive effect on the movement and pricing of Canadian barrels. In addition to pipelines, industry can utilize rail to ship crude, which has grown substantially to reach record highs through late 2018 and into 2019. An additional 100,000 barrels per day of crude by rail is expected to commence during Q1 2019. While it is believed rail will help alleviate some backlog of oil and narrow the gap between Canadian and US prices, it is still insufficient to permanently offset the transportation restrictions caused by a lack of pipeline capacity.

The AECO benchmark price for natural gas increased in the fourth quarter of 2018 and has further strengthened in the first quarter of 2019 due to extreme cold winter weather. With storage levels below the five-year average, there is the potential to see price appreciation over 2018. However, it is expected that prices will remain volatile for the remainder of 2019. The final investment decision by LNG Canada may provide positive torque to the negative sentiment towards western Canadian-based natural gas producers. While the project does not impact near-term supply/demand imbalances, it does have positive implications for the longer term.

Business Overview, Strategy and Key Performance Drivers

Bonterra is an upstream oil and gas company that is primarily focused on the development of its Cardium land within the Pembina and Willesden Green areas located in central Alberta. The Pembina Cardium reservoir is the largest conventional oil reservoir in western Canada that features large original oil in place with very low recoveries to date. Bonterra operates 90 percent of its production with an average working interest of 76 percent and operates the majority of its related oil and gas processing facilities, which require minimal additional capital to increase production. At December 31, 2018, Bonterra has identified a horizontal drilling inventory of approximately 700 net Cardium locations (for more information and advisories regarding drilling locations, please refer to Drilling Locations within the Forward Looking Information section). Bonterra has also identified additional drilling locations in other formations within Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

The Company averaged 13,206 BOE per day for 2018, which was a corporate production record and fell within its annual production guidance and was a three percent increase from 2017 of 12,827 BOE per day. The Company also experienced a 12 percent increase in cash flow from operations primarily due to a seven percent increase in realized commodity prices, combined with higher production volumes. Higher production volumes can be attributed to the Company's first quarter capital program and well reactivation program which targeted previously non-producing wells.

The Company averaged 12,789 BOE per day for the fourth quarter of 2018, compared to 13,043 BOE per day for the third quarter of 2018. Decrease in production quarter-over-quarter was the result of fewer new wells coming on production in the current quarter and Bonterra's decision to perform less well maintenance work on wells due to extremely high differentials for Canadian crude oil.

Differentials on Canadian sweet crude oil averaged US$26.30 per bbl in the fourth quarter of 2018 with December reaching US$34.80 per bbl due to a lack of pipeline capacity. In order to combat the glut of Canadian crude oil inventory and the restricted pipeline capacity, both of which caused large discounts on Canadian crude, the provincial government of Alberta has implemented mandatory production cuts per operator, which led to a drop in the Canadian sweet crude oil differential down to US$4.85 per bbl in Q1 2019. Under this mandated curtailment, the first 10,000 bbls per day of crude oil are exempt. Since Bonterra operates most of its production and the Company's oil production is below the exemption, the required cuts are expected to have a minimal impact on Bonterra's overall production levels. The Company has set its 2019 annual production guidance to be between 12,600 to 13,200 BOE per day (of which approximately 62 percent would be sweet crude oil), as production volumes will vary depending on the level of capital invested, which will be determined based on commodity prices.

In 2018, the Company invested a total of $78.7 million, less than the $80 million annual capital budget projected in Bonterra's Q3 2018 report. Of the total amount, $3.7 million was directed to acquire exploration and evaluation (E&E) assets as well as incremental Cardium oil and gas assets. The capital program was weighted towards the first five months of 2018 to maximize production prior to spring breakup when lease accessibility declines. Approximately $65 million was allocated to drill, complete, equip and tie-in 34 gross (28.0 net) wells. The remaining $10 million was spent on infrastructure, recompletions and other capital expenditures. The annual capital budget for 2019 has been set within a range of $57 to $77 million, which will be dependent on Canadian realized pricing per BOE.

On October 30, 2018, following the semi-annual review of its bank facility, the Company's borrowing base was successfully renewed at $380 million. The bank facility is comprised of a $330 million syndicated revolving credit facility, and a $50 million non-syndicated revolving credit facility. The revolving period on the bank facility expires on April 29, 2019, with a maturity date of April 30, 2020, subject to an annual review. As at December 31, 2018, Bonterra had $299 million drawn on the $380 million bank facility. These credit facilities provide the Company with sufficient liquidity and financial flexibility to execute its business plan and Bonterra remains committed to debt repayment in the interests of maintaining a strong balance sheet.

Bonterra's successful operations are dependent upon several factors including, but not limited to: commodity prices, efficient management of capital spending, monthly dividends, ability to maintain desired levels of production, control over infrastructure, efficiency in developing and operating properties, and the ability to control costs. The Company's key measures of performance with respect to these drivers include but are not limited to: average daily production volumes, average realized prices, and average operating costs per unit of production. Disclosure of these key performance measures can be found in this MD&A and/or previous interim or annual MD&A disclosures.

Annual production increased in 2018 compared to 2017, primarily due to a successful drilling program during the first five months which led to higher second quarter production volumes. With increased crude oil prices, Bonterra placed a strong focus on bringing new wells on production earlier in the year. As a result, 67 percent of the Company's 27 (26.9 net) wells placed on production during the year were brought on by the end of April. This is a substantial increase relative to the prior year, during which 45 percent of the 33 (29.6 net) wells that were placed on production in that year were brought on before the end of April, 2017.

In Q4 2018, production volumes decreased by 254 BOE per day to 12,789 BOE per day compared to Q3 2018. This was primarily due to a planned reduction in capital spending related to the severe decline in realized oil prices, which resulted in fewer new wells being placed on production and a reduction in maintenance spending on wells that were off-line.

Cash Netback

The following table illustrates the calculation of the Company's cash netback from operations for the periods ended:

$ per BOE	December 31, 2018	Three months ended September 30, 2018	December 31, 2017	Year ended December 31, 2018	December 31, 2017
Production volumes (BOE)	1,176,545	1,199,929	1,178,212	4,820,186	4,681,773
Gross production revenue	29.74	53.18	46.09	46.34	43.29
Royalties	(3.17)	(6.17)	(3.37)	(4.94)	(3.03)
Production costs	(14.23)	(16.31)	(14.79)	(14.49)	(13.26)
Field netback	12.34	30.70	27.93	26.91	27.00
General and administrative	(1.19)	(1.45)	(1.37)	(1.51)	(1.66)
Interest and other	(3.08)	(2.94)	(3.58)	(3.16)	(3.49)
Cash netback	8.07	26.31	22.98	22.24	21.85

Cash netbacks increased in 2018 compared to 2017 primarily due to increased commodity prices. This increase was partially offset by an increase in royalty rates for the two percent gross overriding royalty (GORR) on the Pembina Cardium pool assets that was effective January 1, 2018 and an increase in production costs.

Quarter-over-quarter, cash netbacks decreased due to extremely high differentials on sweet crude oil of $26.30 per bbl for the quarter, which significantly reduced Bonterra's realized prices for crude oil. This was partially offset by lower royalty costs from decreased commodity prices and decreased production costs from reduced maintenance compared to Q3 2018. The Company also successfully reduced its all-in costs (royalties, production costs, general and administrative and interest) to $21.67 per BOE in Q4 compared to $26.87 per BOE in Q3.

Oil and Gas Sales

Average BOE per day	12,789	13,043	12,807	13,206	12,827

Revenue from oil and gas sales increased by $20,822,000, or 10 percent, compared to the same period a year ago. The increase in oil and gas sales was primarily driven by higher production and commodity prices for oil and NGLs in the first ten months of the year. The quarter-over-quarter decrease in oil and gas sales was primarily due to a decrease in realized crude oil prices stemming from extremely high differentials on Canadian crude oil in November (US$26.70 per bbl) and December (US$34.80 per bbl), a lower WTI price for crude oil and reduced production volumes.

The Company's product split on a revenue basis for 2018 year is weighted approximately 94 percent crude oil and NGLs.

Royalties

($ 000s)	December 31, 2018	Three months ended September 30, 2018	December 31, 2017	Year ended December 31, 2018	Year ended December 31, 2017

Royalties $ per BOE	3.17	6.17	3.37	4.94	3.03

Royalties paid by the Company consist of crown royalties to the Provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia and other royalties. Total royalties on a per BOE basis increased by $1.91 per BOE for 2018 compared to 2017. The increase in royalties is primarily due to the two percent GORR transaction on the Pembina Cardium pool assets along with an overall increase in commodity prices. The quarter-over-quarter decrease in royalties of $3.00 per BOE was due to a decrease in crude oil prices.

Production Costs

($ 000s except $ per BOE)	Three months ended			Year ended

$ per BOE	14.23	16.31	14.79	14.49	13.26

Production costs for 2018 increased by $1.23 per BOE compared to 2017. Higher costs are attributable to the deployment of additional service rigs during the first quarter of 2018 in order to reactivate non-producing down wells and take advantage of higher commodity prices as well as avoid pending road bans that typically occur due to wet weather during spring break-up. Year-over-year, during 2018 Bonterra experienced an increase in road and lease maintenance and equipment repair programs compared to the previous year. In addition, the Company experienced higher power costs following the retirement of coal-fired power generation facilities in Alberta effective April 1, 2018.

Production costs for Q4 2018 decreased by $2.08 per BOE compared to the previous quarter. The decrease was primarily due to a reduction on road and lease maintenance and service rig operations due to extremely low commodity prices.

Other Income

In the fourth quarter of 2017, Bonterra sold a two percent overriding royalty interest on the total production from the Company's Pembina Cardium pool with an effective date of January 1, 2018. Consideration received on disposition was $56,747,000, comprised of $52,000,000 in cash plus property, plant and equipment valued at $4,747,000. The result of this disposition was a gain on disposal of $4,226,000 and deferred consideration of $16,064,000, of which $1,362,000 was recognized in 2018.

The market value of the investments held by the Company at December 31, 2018 was $374,000 (December 31, 2017 – $750,000). The carrying value decreased due to a reduction in the investments' carrying value. There were no dispositions for the year ended December 31, 2018 or 2017. Dispositions that result in a gain or loss on sale are recorded as an equity transfer between accumulated other comprehensive income and retained earnings.

The Company receives administrative income for various oil and gas administrative services and production equipment rentals.

General and Administration (G&A) Expense

($ 000s except $ per BOE)	Three months ended			Year ended

$ per BOE	1.19	1.45	1.37	1.51	1.66

The increase of $98,000 in employee compensation expense for 2018 compared to 2017 is primarily due to a higher bonus accrual from increased earnings before income taxes. Quarter-over-quarter, employee compensation decreased due to a reduction in the bonus accrual from decreased earnings before income taxes in Q4 2018. The Company has a bonus plan in which the bonus pool consists of a range between 2.5 percent to 3.5 percent of earnings before income taxes. The Company firmly believes that tying employee compensation (including the use of stock options) to corporate performance clearly aligns the interests of the employees with those of shareholders.

Office and administrative expenses for 2018 decreased by $569,000 compared to 2017 primarily due to a reduction in consulting fees and a decrease in the allowance for doubtful accounts expense.

Finance Costs

($ 000s except $ per BOE)	Three months ended			Year ended

Total finance costs	4,445	4,371	5,125	18,534	19,719

Interest on long-term debt decreased in 2018 compared to 2017 due to the Company carrying average long-term debt that was lower by $38,500,000 due to the proceeds received for the two percent GORR transaction on the Pembina Cardium pool assets in December 2017. Interest rates for the current quarter are determined based on the trailing quarter and calculated by taking the ratio of total debt (excluding accounts payable and accrued liabilities) to EBITDA (defined as net income excluding finance costs, provision for current and deferred taxes, depletion and depreciation, share-option compensation, gain or loss on sale of assets and impairment of assets) multiplied by four.

Other interest relates primarily to amounts paid to a related party (see related party transactions) and a $10,000,000 subordinated promissory note from a private investor. On January 2, 2019 the Company repaid $2,500,000 of the subordinated promissory note. For more information about the subordinated promissory note, refer to Note 12 of the December 31, 2018 audited annual financial statements.

A one percent increase (decrease) in the Canadian prime rate would decrease (increase) both annual net earnings and comprehensive income by approximately $2,268,000.

Share-Option Compensation

($ 000s)	Three months ended			Year ended
	December 31, 2018	September 30, 2018	December 31, 2017	December 31, 2018	December 31, 2017
Share-option compensation	449	753	604	2,710	4,511

Share-option compensation is a statistically calculated value representing the estimated expense of issuing employee stock options. The Company records a compensation expense over the vesting period based on the fair value of options granted to employees, directors and consultants.

Share-option compensation decreased by $1,801,000 from a year ago. This decline is due to most of the options issued in 2016 (that were fully amortized in 2017) having a higher share price volatility than the options issued in the fourth quarter of 2017 (which are amortized in 2018). Quarter-over-quarter share-option compensation decreased due to the majority of the 2017 share-options being fully amortized at the end of the third quarter of 2018 and the majority of the current year options being issued in December.

Based on the outstanding options as of December 31, 2018, the Company has an unamortized expense of $2,086,000, of which $1,967,000 will be recorded for 2019; $90,000 for 2020; and $29,000 thereafter. For more information about options issued and outstanding, refer to Note 17 of the December 31, 2018 audited annual financial statements.

Depletion and Depreciation, Exploration and Evaluation (E&E) and Goodwill

($ 000s)	Three months ended			Year ended
	December 31, 2018	September 30, 2018	December 31, 2017	December 31, 2018	December 31, 2017
Depletion and depreciation	23,189	22,288	22,912	91,453	89,339
Exploration and evaluation	—	—	1,566	291	1,566

The provision for depletion and depreciation increased in 2018 compared to 2017 due to increased production volumes and higher capital spending. The quarter-over-quarter decrease in depletion and depreciation is due to a decrease in the December 31, 2018 proved plus probable developed reserves, which was partially offset by lower production volumes in Q4 2018.

The E&E expense related to expired leases.

Taxes

The Company recorded income tax expense of $3,875,000 (2017 – $5,510,000). The decrease in income tax expense is due to a decrease in the change in unrecorded benefits on successored resource related tax pools.

For additional information regarding income taxes, see Note 16 of the December 31, 2018 audited annual financial statements.

Net Earnings (Loss)

($ 000s except $ per share)	Three months ended			Year ended

Net earnings for 2018 increased by $4,661,000 compared to 2017. The increase in net earnings was mainly due to increased commodity prices for oil and NGLs and production volumes. The increase in net earnings was partially offset by an increase in royalties and production costs.

The quarter-over-quarter decrease in net earnings was mainly due to a decrease in realized crude oil prices.

Other Comprehensive Income (Loss)

Other comprehensive income for 2018 consists of an unrealized loss before tax on investments (including investment in a related party) of $376,000 relating to a decrease in the investments' fair value (December 31, 2017 – unrealized loss of $871,000). Realized gains decrease accumulated other comprehensive income as these gains are transferred to retained earnings. Other comprehensive income varies from net earnings by unrealized changes in the fair value of Bonterra's holdings of investments, including the investment in a related party, net of tax.

Cash Flow from Operations

($ 000s except $ per share)	Three months ended			Year ended
	December 31, 2018	September 30, 2018	December 31, 2017	December 31, 2018	December 31, 2017

$ per share - basic	0.61	1.01	0.79	3.48	3.12
$ per share - diluted	0.61	1.01	0.79	3.48	3.12

In 2018, cash flow from operations increased by $12,090,000 compared to the same period a year ago. This was primarily due to an increase in revenue from oil and gas sales, which was partially offset by an increase in royalties and production costs.

The quarter-over-quarter decrease in cash flow of $13,160,000 is primarily due to a decrease in oil and gas sales, which was partially offset by an increase in non-cash working capital and a decrease in royalties and production costs.

Related Party Transactions

Bonterra holds 1,034,523 (December 31, 2017 – 1,034,523) common shares in Pine Cliff Energy Ltd. ("Pine Cliff") which represents less than one percent ownership in Pine Cliff's outstanding common shares. Pine Cliff's common shares had a fair market value as of December 31, 2018 of $258,000 (December 31, 2017 of $476,000). The Company provides marketing services for Pine Cliff. All services that were performed were charged at estimated fair value. As at December 31, 2018, the Company had an account receivable from Pine Cliff of $71,000 (December 31, 2017 – $36,000).

As at December 31, 2018, the Company's CEO, Chairman of the Board and major shareholder has loaned the Company $12,000,000 (December 31, 2017 – $12,000,000). The loan bears interest at Canadian chartered bank prime less 5/8th of a percent and has no set repayment terms but is payable on demand. Security under the debenture is over all of the Company's assets and is subordinated to any and all claims in favour of the syndicate of senior lenders providing credit facilities to the Company. The Company's bank agreement requires that the above loan can only be repaid should the Company have sufficient available borrowing limits under the Company's credit facility. Interest paid on this loan in 2018 was $362,000 (December 31, 2017 – $274,000). This loan results in a benefit to Bonterra as the interest paid to the CEO by Bonterra is lower than bank interest.

Net Debt to Cash Flow from Operations

Bonterra continues to focus on monitoring overall debt while managing its cash flow, capital expenditures and dividend payments. The Company's net debt to twelve-month trailing cash flow ratio as of December 31, 2018 was 2.8 to 1 times (versus 3.1 to 1 times at December 31, 2017). The reduction in net debt to cash flow ratio is due to an increase in cash flow and $52 million received on December 20, 2017 for the sale of a royalty interest in the Pembina Cardium properties. Net debt increased by $8,939,000 in 2018 due to significantly decreased cash flow in the fourth quarter largely caused by depressed realized Canadian crude oil prices related to differentials from WTI of over US$34 per bbl on light sweet crude. This increase in net debt was partially offset by increased production and commodity prices realized in the first ten months of 2018 and a reduction in Bonterra's monthly dividend from $0.10 per share to $0.01 per share starting with the December 2018 dividend. The Company's primary focus is to manage its bank debt during a period of volatile commodity prices. Bonterra will continue to assess its dividend and capital expenditures compared to cash flow from operations on a quarterly basis.

Working Capital Deficiency and Net debt

($ 000s)	December 31, 2018	December 31, 2017
Working capital deficiency	30,281	27,790
Long-term bank debt	298,660	292,212
Net Debt	328,941	320,002

The Company has sufficient availability on its credit facility to repay both the related party loan and the subordinated promissory note, if required. During each quarter, the Company manages net debt by monitoring capital spending and dividends paid relative to cash flow from operations.

Net debt is a combination of long-term bank debt and working capital. Net debt for December 31, 2018 increased by $8,939,000 from December 31, 2017 primarily due to low realized oil prices in the fourth quarter compared to the first nine months of 2018.

Working capital is calculated as current liabilities less current assets. The Company finances its working capital deficiency using cash flow from operations, its long-term bank facility, share issuances, option exercises and adjustments of dividend payments. Included in the working capital deficiency as at December 31, 2018 is $22,000,000 million of debt relating to the subordinated promissory note and the amount due to a related party.

Financial Risk Management

The Company has entered into physical delivery sales contracts to manage commodity risk. These contracts are considered normal sales contracts and are not recorded at fair value in the financial statements. For more information on physical delivery contracts in place see Note 20 of the December 31, 2018 audited annual financial statements.

Capital Expenditures

During the year ended December 31, 2018, the Company incurred capital expenditures of $78,737,000 (December 31, 2017 – $77,694,000). The costs primarily relate to $65,030,000 for the drilling, completing, equipping and tying-in 34 gross (28.0 net) wells. An additional $10,047,000 was spent on related infrastructure costs, recompletions and other capital expenditures. In addition, $3,660,000 was incurred in 2018 related to E&E assets and incremental Cardium assets.

Liability Management Ratio (“LMR”) Update

In 2018, 95 percent of the Company’s production was in the province of Alberta. The Company currently has an LMR rating of 2.06 in Alberta and does not expect that with its current LMR there will be any regulatory impediments to completing future potential acquisitions.

Long-term Debt

Long-term debt represents the outstanding draws on the Company’s bank facility as described in the notes to the Company’s audited annual financial statements. As of December 31, 2018, the Company has a bank facility with a limit of $380,000,000 (December 31, 2017 – $380,000,000) that is comprised of a $330,000,000 syndicated revolving credit facility and a $50,000,000 non-syndicated revolving credit facility. Amounts drawn under this bank facility at December 31, 2018 totaled $298,660,000 (December 31, 2017 – $292,212,000). The interest rates for the year ended December 31, 2018 on the Company’s Canadian prime rate loan and Banker’s Acceptances are between four to six percent. The loan is revolving to April 29, 2019 with a maturity date of April 30, 2020, subject to annual review. The credit facilities have no fixed terms of repayment.

The available lending limits of the credit facilities are reviewed semi-annually on or before April 30 and October 31 each year based mainly on the lender’s assessment of the Company’s reserves, future commodity prices and costs.

On October 30, 2018, the Company successfully renewed its available lending limit at $380,000,000.

Advances drawn under the bank facility are secured by a fixed and floating charge debenture over the assets of the Company. In the event the bank facility is not extended or renewed, amounts drawn under the facility would be due and payable on the maturity date. The size of the committed credit facilities is based primarily on the value of the Company’s producing petroleum and natural gas assets and related tangible assets as determined by the lenders. For more information see Note 13 of the December 31, 2018 audited annual financial statements.

Shareholders’ Equity

The Company is authorized to issue an unlimited number of common shares without nominal or par value.

The Company is authorized to issue an unlimited number of Class “A” redeemable Preferred Shares and an unlimited number of Class “B” Preferred Shares. There are currently no outstanding Class “A” redeemable Preferred Shares or Class “B” Preferred Shares.

The Company provides a stock option plan for its directors, officers, employees and consultants. Under the plan, the Company may grant options for up to 3,338,880 (December 31, 2017 – 3,331,080) common shares. The exercise price of each option granted will not be lower than the market price of the common shares on the date of grant and the option's maximum term is five years. For additional information regarding options outstanding, see Note 17 of the December 31, 2018 audited annual financial statements.

Commitments

The Company has entered into firm service gas transportation agreements in which the Company guarantees that certain minimum volumes of natural gas will be shipped on various gas transportation systems. The Company uses firm service delivery with Transcanada Pipeline on approximately 90 percent of its natural gas production. Considering substantially all of Bonterra's current natural gas production is from the solution gas in oil wells, this will reduce transportation curtailments associated with interruptible service, therefore decreasing restrictions on oil production. The terms of the various agreements expire in one to eight years.

The Company has office lease commitments for building and office equipment. The building and office equipment leases have an average remaining life of 4.9 years. There are no restrictions placed upon the lessee by entering into these leases.

Future minimum payments for the firm service gas transportation agreements using current tariff rates and the non-cancellable building and office equipment leases as at December 31, 2018 are as follows;

($ 000s)	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Thereafter	Total

Dividend Policy

For the year ended December 31, 2018, the Company declared and paid dividends of $36,985,000 ($1.11 per share) (December 31, 2017 – $39,971,000) ($1.20 per share). Bonterra's dividend policy is regularly monitored and is dependent upon production, commodity prices, cash flow from operations, debt levels and capital expenditures. With its large inventory of undrilled locations, Bonterra continues to be well positioned to provide shareholders with a combination of sustainable growth and meaningful dividend income. Bonterra's dividend payout ratio based on cash flow from operations was 32 percent for the year ended December 31, 2018 (38 percent for the year ended December 31, 2017).

Bonterra's capital spending and dividends to its shareholders are funded by cash flow from operating activities with the remaining free cash flow directed to debt repayment. To the extent that the excess cash flow from operations after dividends and capital spending is not sufficient, the shortfall may be funded by drawdowns on Bonterra's bank facility. Bonterra intends to provide dividends to shareholders that are sustainable by the Company with consideration to its liquidity and long-term operational strategy. The level of dividends is highly dependent upon cash flow generated from operations, which may fluctuate significantly due to changes in financial and operational performance, commodity prices, interest and exchange rates and many other factors. As such future dividends cannot be assured.

The fluctuations in the Company's revenue and net earnings from quarter-to-quarter are caused by variations in production volumes, realized commodity pricing and the related impact on royalties, production, G&A and finance costs. In the fourth quarter of 2018, net earnings and cash flow were lower than other periods due to a significant decrease in commodity prices.

Critical Accounting Estimates

There have been no changes to the Company's critical accounting policies and estimates as of the period ended in the financial statements.

Forward-Looking Information

Certain statements contained in this MD&A include statements which contain words such as "anticipate", "could", "should", "expect", "seek", "may", "intend", "likely", "will", "believe" and similar expressions, relating to matters that are not historical facts, and such statements of our beliefs, intentions and expectations about development, results and events which will or may occur in the future, constitute "forward-looking information" within the meaning of applicable Canadian securities legislation and are based on certain assumptions and analysis made by us derived from our experience and perceptions. Forward-looking information in this MD&A includes, but is not limited to: expected cash provided by continuing operations; cash dividends; future capital expenditures, including the amount and nature thereof; oil and natural gas prices and demand; expansion and other development trends of the oil and gas industry; business strategy and outlook; expansion and growth of our business and operations; and maintenance of existing customer, supplier and partner relationships; supply channels; accounting policies; credit risks; and other such matters.

All such forward-looking information is based on certain assumptions and analyses made by us in light of our experience and perception of historical trends, current conditions and expected future developments, as well as other factors we believe are appropriate in the circumstances. The risks, uncertainties, and assumptions are difficult to predict and may affect operations, and may include, without limitation: foreign exchange fluctuations; equipment and labour shortages and inflationary costs; general economic conditions; industry conditions; changes in applicable environmental, taxation and other laws and regulations as well as how such laws and regulations are interpreted and enforced; the ability of oil and natural gas companies to raise capital; the effect of weather conditions on operations and facilities; the existence of operating risks; volatility of oil and natural gas prices; oil and gas product supply and demand; risks inherent in the ability to generate sufficient cash flow from operations to meet current and future obligations; increased competition; stock market volatility; opportunities available to or pursued by us; and other factors, many of which are beyond our control. The foregoing factors are not exhaustive.

Actual results, performance or achievements could differ materially from those expressed in, or implied by, this forward-looking information and, accordingly, no assurance can be given that any of the events anticipated by the forward-looking information will transpire or occur, or if any of them do, what benefits will be derived therefrom. Except as required by law, Bonterra disclaims any intention or obligation to update or revise any forward-looking information, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

The forward-looking information contained herein is expressly qualified by this cautionary statement.

Drilling Locations

This MD&A discloses drilling locations in three categories: (i) proved locations; (ii) probable locations; and (iii) unbooked locations. Proved locations and probable locations, which are sometimes collectively referred to as “booked locations”, are derived from the independent reserves evaluation prepared by Sproule Associates Ltd. as of December 31, 2018 and account for drilling locations that have associated proved and/or probable reserves, as applicable. Unbooked locations are internal estimates based on Bonterra’s prospective acreage and an assumption as to the number of wells that can be drilled per section based on industry practice and internal review. Unbooked locations do not have attributed reserves. Of the 700 net drilling locations identified herein, 294 are proved locations, 4 are probable locations and 402 are unbooked locations. Unbooked locations have been identified by management as an estimation based on industry practice and internal review of our multi-year drilling activities, which include an evaluation of applicable geologic, seismic, engineering, production and reserves information. There is no certainty that Bonterra will drill all unbooked drilling locations and, if drilled, there is no certainty that such locations will result in additional oil and gas reserves or production. The drilling locations on which we actually drill wells will ultimately depend upon the availability of capital, regulatory approvals, seasonal restrictions, oil and natural gas prices, costs, actual drilling results, additional reservoir information that is obtained and other factors. While certain of the unbooked drilling locations have been derisked by drilling existing wells in relative close proximity to such unbooked drilling locations, some of other unbooked drilling locations are farther away from existing wells where management has less information about the characteristics of the reservoir and therefore there is more uncertainty whether wells will be drilled in such locations and, if drilled, there is more uncertainty that such wells will result in additional oil and gas reserves or production. No locations have been assigned resources other than reserves (“ROTR”). All drilling counts cited herein are net.

Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Disclosure controls and procedures (“DC&P”), as defined in National Instrument 52-109 Certification of Disclosure in Issuers’ Annual and Interim Filings, are designed to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed in the Company’s annual filings, interim filings or other reports filed, or submitted by the Company under securities legislation is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified under securities legislation and include controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed is accumulated and communicated to management, including the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. The Chief Executive Officer and Chief financial Officer of Bonterra evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company’s DC&P. Based on that evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer concluded that Bonterra’s DC&P were effective at December 31, 2018.

Internal Controls Over Financial Reporting

Internal control over financial reporting (“ICFR”), as defined in National Instrument 52-109, includes those policies and procedures that:

1. Pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect transactions and dispositions of Bonterra;
2. Are designed to provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and that receipts and expenditures of Bonterra are being made in accordance with authorizations of management and Directors of Bonterra; and
3. Are designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of authorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company’s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

The CEO and CFO have designed, or caused to be designed under their supervision, ICFR as defined in National Instrument 52-109 of the Canadian Securities Administrators, in order to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with IFRS. The control framework the Company used to design its ICFR was in accordance with the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO 2013).

The Company’s CEO and CFO have evaluated, or caused to be evaluated under their supervision, the effectiveness of the Company’s internal controls over financial reporting at the financial period end of the Company and concluded that such internal controls over financial reporting are effective.

It should be noted that while Bonterra’s CEO and CFO believe that the Company’s internal controls and procedures provide a reasonable level of assurance and are effective; they do not expect that these controls will prevent all errors and fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived or operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that its objectives are met.

Future Accounting Pronouncements

In January 2016, the IASB issued IFRS 16 “Leases,” which replaces IAS 17 “Leases” and International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee (IFRIC) 4 “Determining Whether an Arrangement Contains a Lease.” IFRS 16 requires the recognition of lease assets and liabilities on the statement of financial position for most leases, where the entity is acting as a lessee. For lessees applying IFRS 16, the dual classification model of leases as either operating leases or finance leases no longer exists, effectively treating all leases as finance leases. Leases less than 12 months and leases of low-value assets are exempt from the balance sheet recognition requirements, and may continue to be treated as operating leases. Lessors will continue with the dual classification model for leases and the accounting for lessors remains virtually unchanged.

The standard will come into effect for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019. IFRS 16 is required to be adopted either retrospectively or using a modified retrospective approach. The modified retrospective approach does not require restatement of prior period financial information as it recognizes the cumulative effect as an adjustment to opening retained earnings and applies the standard prospectively.

The Company will adopt this standard using the modified retrospective approach on January 1, 2019. The Company has completed reviewing its various lease contracts. It has been concluded that the adoption of IFRS 16 will not have a material impact on Bonterra’s comprehensive income, cash flow and financial position. However, Bonterra will expand the disclosures in the notes to its financial statements as prescribed by IFRS 16.

Accordingly, actual results may differ from estimated amounts as future confirming events occur. Management believes such estimates have been based on careful judgments and have been properly reflected in the accompanying financial statements.

Impairment

As at March 31, 2020, the decrease in the forecast benchmark commodity prices were indicators of impairment. As a result, impairment and recovery testing were required and the Company prepared estimates of future cash flows to determine the recoverable amount of the respective assets.

The following table outlines the forecasted benchmark commodity prices and the exchange rates used in the impairment calculation of property, plant and equipment (“PP&E”) at March 31, 2020.

	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2027	2028	2029	2030⁽²⁾

- (1) The forecast benchmark commodity prices listed above are adjusted for quality differentials, heat content, transportation and marketing costs and other factors specific to the Company’s operations in performing the Company’s impairment tests.
- (2) Forecast benchmarks commodity prices are assumed to increase by 2.0% in each year after 2030 to end of the reserve life.

Discount rate—The Company used a pre-tax discount rate of 15 percent that reflects risks specific to the assets for which the future cash flow estimates have not been adjusted. The discount rate was determined based on the Company’s assessment of risk based on experience. Changes in the general economic environment could result in material changes to this estimate.

At March 31, 2020 the Company determined that the carrying value of the Company’s Alberta CGU exceeded its recoverable amount. A total impairment loss of $331,678,000 was recognized, with $234,302,000 recognized on the Company’s PP&E, $92,810,000 was applied to the Company’s goodwill and an additional $4,566,000 was applied to the Company’s exploration and evaluation assets (“E&E”). The impairment loss was the result of the decline for the forward commodity benchmark prices used in impairment testing at March 31, 2020.

In future periods, the impairment can be reversed for PP&E up to the original carrying value less any associated depletion and depreciation, if the recoverable amounts of the Alberta CGU exceed the carrying value. Goodwill impairment cannot be reversed.

The following table summarizes the impairment expense for the period ended March 31, 2020:

CGU ($000s, except %)	Recoverable amount	Discount rate	Impairment
Alberta	580,621	15.00%	331,678

Changes in any of the key judgments, such as a revision in reserves, changes in forecast benchmark commodity prices, discount rates, foreign exchange rates, capital or operating costs would impact the recoverable amounts of assets and any recoveries or impairment changes would affect net earnings. The most sensitive assumptions to the calculation are the discount rate and forecast benchmark commodity price estimates at March 31, 2020. The following sensitivities show the resulting impact on income before tax of the changes with all other variables held constant:

CGU ($000s)	Discount rate		Commodity prices
	Increase 1%	Decrease 1%	Increase 5%	Decrease 5%
Alberta	(34,176)	37,407	71,563	(72,032)

No further indicators of impairment were identified as of June 30, 2020.

On July 14, 2020, subsequent to quarter end, the Company's credit facility was confirmed at $300,000,000 (December 31, 2019 - $325,000,000), comprised of a $125,000,000 syndicated revolving credit facility, a $25,000,000 non-syndicated revolving credit facility and a term loan of $150,000,000. The amount drawn under the total bank facility at June 30, 2020 was $277,823,000 (December 31, 2019 - $273,065,000). The amounts borrowed under the renewed bank facility bear interest at a floating rate based on the applicable Canadian prime rate or Banker's Acceptance rate, plus between 2.00 percent and 10.00 percent, depending on the type of borrowing and the Company's consolidated debt to EBITDA ratio. EBITDA is defined as net income for the period excluding finance costs, provision for current and deferred taxes, depletion and depreciation, share-option compensation, gain or loss on sale of assets and impairment of assets. The terms of the total revolving bank facility provide that the loan facility is revolving to August 31, 2020, with a maturity date of April 28, 2021.

The available lending limit of the bank facility is reviewed semi-annually on or before April 30 and October 31 or at the request of any one syndicate member during the year.

The amount available for borrowing under the bank facility is reduced by outstanding letters of credit. Letters of credit totaling $900,000 were issued as at June 30, 2020 (June 30, 2019 - $900,000). Security for the bank facility consists of various floating demand debentures totaling $750,000,000 (December 31, 2019 - $750,000,000) over all of the Company's assets and a general security agreement with first ranking over all personal and real property.

10. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

Financial Risk Factors

The Company is exposed to credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk as part of its normal course of business. The Company's overall risk management program seeks to mitigate these risks and reduce the volatility on the Company's financial performance. Financial risk is managed by senior management under the direction of the Board of Directors. Certain financial risks have been increased due to the coronavirus ("COVID-19") outbreak that has created abnormal volatility in spot prices and decreased demand for oil.

Liquidity Risk Management

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with its financial liabilities. While the decrease in commodity prices as a result of the impacts of COVID-19 pandemic and the recent actions from OPEC+ on commodity pricing will negatively impact the Company's financial performance and position, the Company continues to retain available committed borrowing capacity that provides the Company with financial flexibility and the ability to meet ongoing obligations as they become due.

Bonterra's total bank facility revolves to August 31, 2020. If the facility is not renewed the bank debt could become due by the maturity date of April 28, 2021. If the borrowing base at redetermination is reduced below the amount drawn, Bonterra would have 30 days to eliminate the borrowing base shortfall by repaying the amount drawn in excess of the adjusted borrowing base. If this occurs, alternative external sources of funding will be necessary.

After examining the economic factors that are causing the liquidity risk facing the Company, the judgment applied to these factors, and the various initiatives that the Company has and will undertake to strengthen its financial position, the Company believes it will have sufficient liquidity to support its ongoing operations and meet its financial obligations as they come due for at least twelve months. There can be no assurance that the borrowing base review will not result in a material reduction in the borrowing base, and that the necessary funds will be available to meet its obligations as they become due, subject to other alternative sources of financing.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that a contracting party will not complete its obligations under a financial instrument and cause the Company to incur a financial loss. The Company is exposed to credit risk on all financial assets included on the statement of financial position. To help mitigate this risk:

- The Company only enters into material agreements with credit worthy counterparties. These include major oil and gas companies or major Canadian chartered banks; and
- Agreements for product sales are primarily on 30-day renewal terms. Of the $10,339,000 accounts receivable balance at June 30, 2020 (December 31, 2019 - $21,764,000) over 90 percent (2019 - 75 percent) relates to product sales or risk management contracts with national and international banks and oil and gas companies.

On a quarterly basis, the Company assesses if there has been any impairment of the financial assets of the Company. During the six months ended June 30, 2020, there was no material impairment provision required on any of the financial assets of the Company. The Company does have a credit risk exposure as the majority of the Company's accounts receivable are with counterparties having similar characteristics. However, payments from the Company's largest accounts receivable counterparties have consistently been received within 30 days and the sales agreements with these parties are cancellable with 30 days' notice if payments are not received. At June 30, 2020, approximately $98,000 or one percent of the Company's total accounts receivable are aged over 90 days and considered past due (December 31, 2019 - $276,000 or one percent). The majority of these accounts are due from various joint venture partners. The Company actively monitors past due accounts and takes the necessary actions to expedite collection, which can include withholding production or netting payables when the accounts are with joint venture partners. Should the Company determine that the ultimate collection of a receivable is in doubt, it will provide the necessary provision in its allowance for doubtful accounts with a corresponding charge to earnings. If the Company subsequently determines an account is uncollectable, the account is written off with a corresponding charge to the allowance account. The Company's allowance for doubtful accounts balance at June 30, 2020 is $1,229,000 (December 31, 2019 - $1,232,000) with the expense being included in general and administrative expenses. There were no material accounts written off during the period. The maximum exposure to credit risk is represented by the carrying amounts of accounts receivable. There are no material financial assets that the Company considers past due.

Capital Risk Management

The Company's objectives when managing capital, which the Company defines to include shareholders' equity, debt and working capital balances, are to safeguard the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can continue to provide returns to its shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders and to maintain a capital structure that provides a low cost of capital. In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may adjust the current debt structure and/or issue common shares.

The Company monitors capital based on the ratio of net debt (total debt adjusted for working capital) to cash flow from operating activities. This ratio is calculated using each quarter end net debt divided by the preceding twelve months' cash flow. Management believes that a net debt level as high as one and a half year's cash flow is still an appropriate level to allow it to take advantage in the future of either acquisition opportunities or to provide flexibility to develop its undeveloped resources by horizontal or vertical drill programs. During the current six-month period the Company had a net debt to cash flow level of 4.4:1 compared to 3.2:1 as at June 30, 2019. The increase in net debt to cash flow ratio is primarily due to a $13,689,000 decrease in cash flow due to a decrease in commodity prices. In order to further reduce net debt or minimize the effects of decreased cash flows due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Company suspended capital spending in Q2 2020 along with its monthly dividend of $0.01 per share starting with the April 2020 dividend. Bonterra has also optimized production costs primarily by voluntarily shutting-in its low economic wells during this period of repressed commodity prices and applying for government assistance programs where applicable.

Section (a) of this note provides the Company's debt to cash flow from operations.

Section (b) addresses in more detail the key financial risk factors that arise from the Company's activities including its policies for managing these risks.

a) Net debt to cash flow ratio

The net debt and cash flow amounts are as follows:

($ 000s)	June 30, 2020	December 31, 2019
Bank debt ⁽¹⁾	277,823	273,065
Current liabilities	36,546	46,220
Current assets	(14,924)	(26,475)
Net debt	299,445	292,810
Cash flow from operations	67,443	81,132
Net debt to cash flow ratio	4.4	3.6

⁽¹⁾ Bank debt is classified as a current liability as at June 30, 2020.

b) Risks and mitigation

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flow of the Company's financial instruments will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Components of market risk to which the Company is exposed are discussed below.

Physical Delivery Sales Contracts

Bonterra enters into physical delivery sales contracts to manage commodity price risk. These contracts are considered normal executory sales contracts and are not recorded at fair value in the financial statements. As of June 30, 2020, the Company has the following physical delivery sales contracts in place.

- (1) Funds flow is not a recognized measure under IFRS. For these purposes, the Company defines funds flow as funds provided by operations including proceeds from sale of investments and investment income received excluding the effects of changes in non-cash working capital items and decommissioning expenditures settled.
- (2) In the first quarter of 2020 the Company recorded a $331,678,000 impairment provision less a $54,107,000 deferred income tax recovery related to its Alberta CGU's oil and gas assets for the COVID-19 effect on the forward benchmark prices for crude oil.
- (3) Net debt is comprised of current liabilities less current assets plus long-term bank debt.
- (4) BOE may be misleading, particularly if used in isolation. A BOE conversion ratio of 6 MCF: 1 bbl is based on an energy conversion method primarily applicable at the burner tip and does not represent a value equivalency at the wellhead.

REPORT TO SHAREHOLDERS

Bonterra Energy Corp. (“Bonterra” or the “Company”) continued to navigate extremely challenging conditions through the second quarter of 2020, caused by ongoing economic impacts related to the COVID-19 pandemic and weak crude oil prices due to the deterioration of demand.

Q2 2020 Highlights

- Averaged 10,181 BOE per day of production, a decline of 1,853 BOE per day relative to Q1 2020, reflecting the Company’s prudent decision to suspend its capital program and voluntarily shut-in 1,800 BOE per day that was uneconomic in the severely weakened crude oil price environment.
- Generated funds flow of $4.2 million in the quarter ($0.13 per share) and $18.9 million ($0.57 per share) in the first half of 2020.
- Elected to suspend both the capital program and dividend payments in April 2020 in light of a challenging operating environment stemming from extremely weak commodity prices.
- Field netbacks averaged $9.40 per BOE in Q2 2020 and $14.22 per BOE in the six months ended June 30, 2020, and were impacted by lower per unit revenue, offset by reduced royalty expenses, lower production costs per BOE and a realized gain on risk management contracts.
- Period end net debt decreased by $11.3 million over June 30, 2019 reflecting the Company’s more modest capital expenditure programs and its success with debt reduction over the past 12 months, with net debt slightly lower than at March 31, 2020 due to the suspension of the capital program and dividend payments in Q2 2020.
- Continued to actively implement key cost saving initiatives across the organization which included:
 - Monthly operating cost reductions totaling approximately $1.5 million related to shutting-in higher-cost production volumes;
 - Monthly general and administrative cost savings of approximately $0.2 million (or 40 percent) related to compensation reductions and shorter work weeks;
 - Applying for, and receiving, the Canada Emergency Wage Subsidy (“CEWS”);
 - Working with suppliers and vendors to streamline costs across all areas of operations and administration;
 - Submitted applications to Alberta’s Site Rehabilitation Program (“SRP”) to alleviate abandonment obligations, for which Bonterra received approval of approximately $6.6 million of abandonment obligation relief, with further applications subsequently submitted; and
 - Applied for federal economic relief and liquidity stimulus programs through the Export Development Bank of Canada (“EDC”) and the Business Development Bank of Canada (“BDC”).

Prudently Managing Through Uncertainty

In the face of the COVID-19 pandemic, Bonterra has continued to prioritize the health and safety of its employees, partners and other stakeholders, and has maintained a remote working environment with ongoing safety measures in the field. Although crude oil prices started to improve during the latter part of Q2 2020, the Company continued to shut-in volumes for value preservation. The inherent flexibility of Bonterra’s operations enabled the Company to rapidly respond to a changing commodity price environment by shutting-in production at minimal cost without risking long-term reservoir impairment.

Bonterra accessed the CEWS during the second quarter and received wage subsidies from March 15, 2020 to August 1, 2020. The federal government recently announced an extension of the program to December 2020. To preserve capital through the uncertainty caused by the pandemic, and as a result of road bans in place during Q2 spring breakup, the Company also suspended its abandonment program after successfully abandoning 45 inactive well bores and associated pipelines during the first quarter. The Company has submitted applications under the Government of Alberta's SRP to abandon over 600 well bores, pipelines and well sites and has applied to similar programs in Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

The Government of Alberta will administer the SRP in various phases to provide grant funding through service providers for the abandonment or remediation of oil and gas sites. As a result of these programs, the Company currently expects to receive approximately $6.6 million of abandonment obligation relief. The Company will continue its efforts to utilize these programs for its asset retirement obligations as more information is provided.

As a result of the cost saving initiatives implemented thus far in 2020, Bonterra realized monthly operating cost savings of approximately $1.5 million in Q2 2020 and expects to capture savings of approximately 40 percent in general and administration costs for the balance of the year, allowing funds flow to be directed to debt repayment and potentially, modest capital expenditures in Q3 2020.

For fiscal 2020, the Company has executed physical delivery sales and risk management contracts designed to diversify crude oil pricing, protect future cash flows and support financial stability amid severe market volatility. On 2,676 barrels per day during the second quarter of 2020, the Company realized Edmonton Par crude oil prices that averaged $52.47 per barrel, compared to the average Edmonton Par benchmark price of $29.85 per barrel for the period.

On July 14, 2020 Bonterra's bank facility was confirmed at $300 million, including a $125 million syndicated revolving credit facility, a $25 million non-syndicated revolving credit facility and a term loan of $150 million. Exiting the second quarter, $277.8 million was drawn under the total bank facility, with the loan revolving to August 31, 2020, and a maturity date of April 28, 2021. As such, the entire facility draw was moved from a long-term to a short-term liability. In the interests of securing financial flexibility, Bonterra has submitted applications to EDC and BDC for liquidity guarantees and backstop funding related to the facility, and could potentially see an increase in the reserves-based lending value with rising commodity prices. However, Bonterra is currently assessing opportunities for short-term or longer-term financing alternatives in order to meet its future obligations. As liquidity developments occur, management will continue to keep shareholders apprised.

Outlook

For the balance of 2020, Bonterra has taken steps to protect economics and preserve value by securing the following pricing for its crude oil and natural gas sales:

- On 2,495 barrels per day in Q3 2020, Bonterra will realize an average Edmonton Par price of $40.72 per barrel;
- On 1,500 barrels per day in Q4 2020, Bonterra will realize an average Edmonton Par price of $46.33 per barrel; and
- On a physical delivery sales contract for 5,000 GJs per day of natural gas from July 1, 2020 to October 31, 2020, Bonterra will realize between $1.55 to $1.64 per GJ.

Depending on whether commodity prices are supportive, the Company may resume a modest capital program in the third quarter. Bonterra will also continue monitoring prices and economics to determine whether shut-in production can be brought back on stream to facilitate a rapid ramp-up of volumes. The Company remains committed to being a positive and meaningful contributor to the economic success of the communities where it operates in central Alberta, to employing local services and to upholding stringent safety measures to ensure the health and well-being of its employees, contractors and partners during the continued pandemic.

Bonterra's board of directors and management would like to thank all shareholders and stakeholders for their continued support through exceptionally difficult financial and operating conditions, and a special thanks to all employees and consultants for their unwavering commitment and contributions.

MANAGEMENT’S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The following report dated August 11, 2020 is a review of the operations and current financial position for the three and six months ended June 30, 2020 for Bonterra Energy Corp. (“Bonterra” or “the Company”) and should be read in conjunction with the unaudited condensed financial statements and the audited financial statements including the notes related thereto for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2019 presented under International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS).

Use of Non-IFRS Financial Measures

Throughout this Management’s Discussion and Analysis (MD&A) the Company uses the terms “payout ratio”, “cash netback” and “net debt” to analyze operating performance, which are not standardized measures recognized under IFRS and do not have a standardized meaning prescribed by IFRS. These measures are commonly used in the oil and gas industry and are considered informative by management, shareholders and analysts. These measures may differ from those made by other companies and accordingly may not be comparable to such measures as reported by other companies.

The Company calculates payout ratio percentage by dividing cash dividends paid to shareholders by cash flow from operating activities, both of which are measures prescribed by IFRS which appear on its statement of cash flows. Bonterra calculates cash netback by dividing various financial statement items as determined by IFRS by total production for the period on a barrel of oil equivalent basis. The Company calculates net debt as long-term debt plus working capital deficiency (current liabilities less current assets).

Frequently Recurring Terms

Bonterra uses the following frequently recurring terms in this MD&A: “WTI” refers to West Texas Intermediate, a grade of light sweet crude oil used as benchmark pricing in the United States; “MSW Stream Index” or “Edmonton Par” refers to the mixed sweet blend that is the benchmark price for conventionally produced light sweet crude oil in Western Canada; “AECO” refers to Alberta Energy Company, a grade or heating content of natural gas used as benchmark pricing in Alberta, Canada; “bbl” refers to barrel; “NGL” refers to Natural gas liquids; “MCF” refers to thousand cubic feet; “MMBTU” refers to million British Thermal Units; “GJ” refers to gigajoule; and “BOE” refers to barrels of oil equivalent. Disclosure provided herein in respect of a BOE may be misleading, particularly if used in isolation. A BOE conversion ratio of 6 MCF: 1 bbl is based on an energy conversion method primarily applicable at the burner tip and does not represent a value equivalency at the wellhead.

Business Environment and Sensitivities

Bonterra's financial results are significantly influenced by fluctuations in commodity prices, including price differentials, as well as production volumes and foreign exchange rates. The following table depicts selective market benchmark commodity prices, differentials and foreign exchange rates in the last eight quarters to assist in understanding how past volatility has impacted Bonterra's financial and operating performance. The increases or decreases in Bonterra's realized average price for oil and natural gas for each of the eight quarters is also outlined in detail in the following table.

(1) This differential accounts for the majority of the difference between WTI and Bonterra's average realized price (before quality adjustments and foreign exchange).

The overall volatility in Bonterra's average realized commodity prices can be impacted by numerous events or factors, however none has been as impactful as the negative effects of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Volatility in WTI benchmark pricing continued through the second quarter of 2020. The average WTI price decreased to US$27.85 in the quarter, as a result of the negative impact to demand caused by COVID-19, with the month of April 2020 having an average WTI price of US$16.70. At the height of the volatility, the WTI contract settled at a negative price. Prices dropped so low, and so quickly, that OPEC+ reverted to a policy of supply restriction resulting in supply cuts of 9.7 million barrels per day beginning in May. In addition, many non-OPEC nations saw companies cut output in response to the supply and demand imbalance. In Canada, it is estimated that up to 1.5 million barrels of crude may have been shut-in at the height of the price volatility. Exiting the second quarter demand has begun to return and is providing improved and more stabilized pricing as countries around the world start to return to normal activity levels.

Canadian crude oil differentials also remained volatile through the second quarter of 2020. High storage levels, limited egress options, and concern over a dispute between Enbridge and the State of Michigan around Enbridge's Line 5 underwater crossing of the Great Lakes suggest that this may continue over the near-term. Looking forward, there are several pipeline projects underway, with the most significant being the Enbridge Line 3 Expansion, the Trans Mountain Expansion, and the Keystone XL pipeline. Completion of any proposed pipeline expansion projects or increasing Canada's export capabilities by expanding capacity on existing lines will have a positive effect on the movement and pricing of Canadian barrels.

The AECO benchmark price for natural gas declined very modestly in the second quarter of 2020. This is not unusual for the second quarter where the transition from winter into spring is marked by less seasonal demand. The implementation of a Temporary Service Protocol to manage supply during maintenance periods on TC Energy's NGTL pipeline system, coupled with limited supply growth appears to have resulted in more stable forecast pricing through 2020. Beyond 2020, planned facility additions for the NGTL gas transmission system and progress by LNG Canada for the Kitimat liquefied natural gas export facility may improve sentiment towards western Canadian-based natural gas producers. While these projects do not impact near-term supply and demand imbalances, they do have positive implications for the longer term.

Business Overview, Strategy and Key Performance Drivers

The COVID-19 pandemic has caused a severe deterioration in world oil demand leading to an unprecedented decrease in oil prices which began in March 2020. Bonterra remains focused and will continue to act swiftly and prudently to stabilize the Company's financial position and to preserve the value of its crude oil reserves for an eventual oil price recovery.

The Company has responded to this unprecedented volatility with the suspension of capital programs and dividend distributions, as well as the implementation of several operating and administrative cost reduction initiatives. The key cost saving initiatives include:

- Suspension of the monthly dividend (effective April 1, 2020);
- Suspension of the capital program in March;
- Approximately $1.5 million of monthly operating cost reductions;
- Approximately $0.2 million of monthly general and administrative cost saving (or 40 percent);
- Applying and receiving the Canada Emergency Wage Subsidy ("CEWS");
- Supplier and vendor cost reductions across all areas of operations and administration;
- Applications to Alberta's Site Rehabilitation Program to alleviate abandonment obligations of which the Company received approval for approximately $6.6 million of abandonment obligation relief with further applications submitted; and
- Applications to Federal economic relief and stimulus programs for liquidity with the Export Development Bank of Canada ("EDC") and the Business Development Bank of Canada ("BDC").

Given the economic environment, the future economic benefit of realizing the proved developed producing reserve volumes at the current crude oil prices has resulted in a number of exploration and production companies in western Canada not conforming to their standard reserve-based lending ("RBL") structures at the current future pricing scenarios. Bonterra is encouraged that the Federal Government has acknowledged the challenges facing the oil and gas industry and has announced a support program intended to provide a liquidity backstop to RBL credit facilities which will be administered through the EDC and the BDC. In working directly with the primary banking financial institutions, additional lending and credit capacity is expected to be provided to qualifying oil and gas producers that, based on certain criteria, were deemed financially viable prior to the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Bonterra's bank facility was confirmed at $300,000,000 subsequent to quarter end on July 14, 2020. The bank facility is comprised of a $125,000,000 syndicated revolving credit facility, a $25,000,000 non-syndicated revolving credit facility and a term loan of $150,000,000. The amount drawn under the total bank facility at June 30, 2020 was $277,823,000. The terms of the total revolving bank facility provide that the loan is revolving to August 31, 2020, with a maturity date of April 28, 2021. Along with the submission of EDC and BDC applications and potential for increased RBL lending value due to increasing commodity prices, Bonterra will also consider short-term or long-term financing alternatives in order to meet its future obligations.

For Q2 2020, production averaged 10,181 BOE per day, a decrease of 1,853 BOE per day from Q1 2020, caused primarily from the voluntarily shut-in of 1,800 BOE per day of uneconomic production due to a severe reduction in crude oil prices. Bonterra's operations are very flexible and allow the Company to respond quickly to a changing commodity price environment by shutting-in production at minimal cost without the risk of long-term reservoir impairment. The Company can rapidly restart or shut-in production by individually assessing netbacks down to facility or well basis depending on the commodity price environment to preserve reserves and maximize cash flow.

To further support stability while facing severe market volatility, and as part of Bonterra's ongoing efforts to diversify crude oil pricing and to protect future cash flow, the Company executed physical delivery sales and risk management contracts for the 2020 year. During the second quarter of 2020, the Company received fixed Edmonton Par prices on crude oil of $52.47 per bbl for 2,676 bbls per day (or approximately half Bonterra's crude oil production). For the balance of 2020, Bonterra has secured the following Edmonton Par prices for its crude oil sales:

- An average of $40.72 per bbl on 2,495 bbls per day in Q3 2020;
- An average of $46.33 per bbl on 1,500 bbls per day in Q4 2020.

The Company also diversified its natural gas pricing for the warmer months of 2020 by executing physical delivery sales contracts on 5,000 GJs per day from April 1, 2020 to October 31, 2020 at prices ranging between $1.55 to $1.64 per GJ.

Bonterra is committed to employing local services in Drayton Valley and to being a key economic contributor to rural and surrounding communities located within central Alberta. The Company's upstream oil and gas assets are primarily focused on the development of the Pembina and Willesden Green Cardium lands within central Alberta. The Pembina Cardium reservoir is the largest conventional oil reservoir in western Canada that features large original-oil-in-place with very low recoveries to date. Bonterra operates approximately 90 percent of its production and operates the majority of its related oil and gas processing facilities, which require minimal additional capital to support an increase in production.

Bonterra's successful operations are dependent upon several factors including, but not limited to: commodity prices, efficient management of capital spending, the ability to maintain desired levels of production, control over infrastructure, efficiency in developing and operating properties, and the ability to control costs. The Company's key measures of performance with respect to these drivers include but are not limited to: average daily production volumes, average realized prices, and average production costs per unit of production. Disclosure of these key performance measures can be found in this MD&A and/or previous interim or annual MD&A disclosures.

(1) “Gross” wells are the number of wells in which Bonterra has a working interest.

(2) “Net” wells are the aggregate number of wells obtained by multiplying each gross well by Bonterra’s percentage of working interest.

During the first quarter of 2020, the Company drilled eight gross (8.0 net) operated wells and completed nine gross (9.0 net) operated wells, of which nine gross (9.0 net) wells were tied-in and placed on production. Three of the wells completed and tied-in during Q1 2020 were drilled in late 2019. Two wells drilled in Q1 2020 were not completed as the Company chose not to complete one well due to current economic prices and one well was abandoned due subsurface fractures causing loss of well bore integrity. The abandoned well was part of a farm-in arrangement to increase the Company’s Cardium reserve base in the Ferrier field that has yet to be developed using horizontal drilling. The Company has depleted the full amount of $955,000 related to unsuccessful drill costs related to the abandoned well. Due to the effects of COVID-19 on crude oil prices, in the second quarter the Company suspended its capital program and will look to resume in the third quarter of 2020 assuming supportive oil prices.

Average BOE per day	10,181	12,034	12,674	11,108	12,349

The Company averaged 11,108 BOE per day for the first six months of 2020, compared to 12,349 BOE per day for the same period in 2019. The decrease in production in the second quarter occurred primarily as the Company voluntarily shut-in uneconomic production of 1,800 BOE per day and deferred its capital program due to low commodity prices from the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Cash Netback

The following table illustrates the calculation of the Company's cash netback from operations for the periods ended:

$ per BOE	Three months ended			Six months ended
	June 30, 2020	March 31, 2020	June 30, 2019	June 30, 2020	June 30, 2019

Cash netback	4.52	13.40	23.16	9.33	22.86

Cash netbacks decreased in the first six months of 2020 compared to the same period in 2019 primarily due to lower realized oil prices, which were partially offset by a decrease in royalties and production costs per BOE. Quarter-over-quarter decrease in cash netbacks were due to the same reasons.

Average BOE per day	10,181	12,034	12,674	11,108	12,349

Revenue from oil and gas sales in 2020 decreased by $43,960,000, or 42 percent, compared to the same period in 2019. The decrease in oil and gas sales was primarily driven by a 38 percent decrease in Bonterra's realized crude oil prices from weak demand caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. Quarter-over-quarter oil and gas sales decreased for the same reasons.

The Company's product split on a revenue basis is weighted approximately 85 percent to crude oil and NGLs for 2020.

Royalties

Royalties $ per BOE	1.64	2.52	3.05	2.11	3.37

Royalties paid by the Company consist of both crown royalties to the Provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia and other royalties. Total royalties for the first six months of June 30, 2020 decreased by $1.26 per BOE compared to the same period in 2019. The decrease was primarily the result of a reduction in crude oil prices.

The decrease in royalties in Q2 2020 compared to Q1 2020 is primarily due to the crude oil prices received in May at the peak of the crude oil collapse from the COVID-19 pandemic.

Production Costs

($ 000s except $ per BOE)	Three months ended			Six months ended

$ per BOE	13.84	15.85	15.88	14.93	15.38

Production costs for 2020 decreased from the same period in 2019 primarily due to shutting-in higher cost batteries due to depressed crude oil prices in the second quarter. In addition, the Government of Alberta has waived approximately $1.4 million of certain levies considering the COVID-19 pandemic.

Production costs for Q2 2020 decreased by $4,541,000 compared to Q1 2020 primarily due to the same reasons and a decrease in electricity costs due to less demand for power.

	(1,891)	3,781	355	1,890	715

Deferred consideration relates to a deferred gain on the sale of a two percent overriding royalty interest, which is recognized into revenue using the same unit-of-production method as the encumbered property, plant and equipment assets.

The market value and carrying value of the investments held by the Company at June 30, 2020 was $189,000 (June 30, 2019 - $287,000). There were no dispositions for the six month periods ended June 30, 2020 or June 30, 2019. Dispositions that result in a gain or loss on sale are recorded as an equity transfer between accumulated other comprehensive income and retained earnings.

The Company receives administrative income for various oil and gas administrative services provided and production equipment rentals to other companies.

Bonterra entered into financial derivatives to minimize commodity price risk on crude oil sales. The financial derivatives outstanding are for the period from January 1, 2020 to December 31, 2020. For the first six months of 2020 a total of 167,000 barrels of crude oil (approximately 2,000 barrels of oil per day at certain times during the period) received fixed Edmonton Par prices ranging from $19.25 to $69.60 per barrel. For the months of July to December of 2020, Bonterra also entered into further financial derivatives to minimize commodity price risk on future crude oil sales. The financial derivatives outstanding for the third and fourth quarters are for a total of 229,500 barrels of crude oil (at least 1,500 barrels of oil per day on average for the third and fourth quarters of 2020) at fixed Edmonton Par prices ranging from $28.35 to $49.00 per barrel. These contracts are not considered normal sales contracts and are recorded at fair value.

General and Administration (G&A) Expense

Employee compensation expense decreased by $374,000 for the first six months of 2020 compared to 2019, as a result of the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. Employment compensation expenses have declined due to reduced work weeks, lower overall compensation and the CEWS wage subsidy program which primarily benefited Bonterra in the second quarter.

Office and administrative expenses for the first six months of 2020 decreased by $200,000 compared to the same period in 2019 primarily due to a decrease in software, bank charges and general office administration costs. The increase in Q2 2020 over Q1 2020 was primarily due to significant increase in bank renewal fees incurred in the second quarter and professional consulting fees.

Finance Costs

($ 000s except $ per BOE)	Three months ended			Six months ended

Total finance costs	3,829	4,494	4,858	8,323	9,492

Interest on bank debt decreased in the first six months of 2020 compared to 2019 due to a $23,997,000 decrease in the average bank debt balance outstanding. Quarter-over-quarter interest on bank debt decreased due to the Company having lower bank debt balance at the beginning of the quarter. The Company expects interest rates on bank debt will increase in Q3 2020 due to the negative effects of COVID-19 on the Company's net debt to earnings before income taxes, depletion and amortization (or "EBITDA" as defined by the Company's bank facility) ratio for 2020 due to decreased EBITDA from reduced commodity prices and a higher interest rate grid from the banks compared to prior periods. Interest rates for the current quarter are determined based on the trailing quarter and calculated by taking the ratio of total debt (excluding accounts payable and accrued liabilities) to EBITDA (defined as net income excluding finance costs, provision for current and deferred taxes, depletion and depreciation, share-option compensation, gain or loss on sale of assets and impairment of assets) multiplied by four.

Other interest relates primarily to amounts paid to a related party (see related party transactions for details) and a $7,500,000 subordinated promissory note from a private investor. For more information about the subordinated promissory note, refer to Note 5 of the June 30, 2020 condensed financial statements.

A one percent increase (decrease) in the Canadian prime rate would decrease (increase) both annual net earnings and comprehensive income by approximately $2,083,000.

Share-Option Compensation

($ 000s)	Three months ended			Six months ended
Share-option compensation	41	56	620	97	1,179

Share-option compensation is a statistically calculated value representing the estimated expense of issuing employee stock options. The Company records a compensation expense over the vesting period based on the fair value of options granted to directors, officers and employees.

Share-option compensation decreased by $1,082,000 in the first six months of 2020 compared to 2019. This decline is primarily due to the higher share price volatility on most of the options issued in 2018 (which were fully amortized in 2019) relative to the options issued in the first quarter of 2020 (which will be fully amortized in 2021).

Based on the outstanding options as of June 30, 2020, the Company has an unamortized expense of $562,000, of which $262,000 will be recorded for the remainder of 2020; $263,000 for 2021; and $37,000 thereafter. For more information about options issued and outstanding, refer to Note 8 of the June 30, 2020 condensed financial statements.

Depletion and Depreciation, Exploration and Evaluation (E&E) and Impairment

($ 000s)	Three months ended			Six months ended

Impairment of oil and gas assets	—	331,678	—	331,678	—

The provision for depletion and depreciation (D&D) decreased in the first half of 2020 compared to 2019 primarily due to less capital to deplete and depreciate in the second quarter of 2020 due to the impairment provision.

At March 31, 2020 the Company determined that the carrying value of the Company's Alberta cash generating unit ("CGU") exceeded its recoverable amount. A total impairment loss of $331,678,000 was recognized, with $234,302,000 recognized on the Company's property, plant and equipment (PP&E), $92,810,000 was applied to the Company's goodwill and an additional $4,566,000 was applied to the Company's E&E assets. The impairment loss was the result of the COVID-19 pandemic effect on the forward commodity benchmark prices used in impairment testing at March 31, 2020. The value of the Company's assets was estimated based on independent evaluator pricing, proved plus probable reserves and a discount rate of 15 percent. No further indicators of impairment were identified as of June 30, 2020. The impairment charge does not impact the Company's cash flow or the amount of credit available under our bank credit facilities. The impairment can be reversed in future periods up to the original carrying value less any associated D&D for PP&E assets, should there be indicators that the value of the assets has increased. For more information about PP&E and impairment, refer to Note 3 of the June 30, 2020 condensed financial statements.

Taxes

The Company recorded a deferred income tax recovery of $55,929,000 (2019 – $19,189,000). The deferred income tax recovery for 2020 was primarily due to the impairment provision taken in the first quarter of 2020 and 2019 deferred income tax recovery was due to a decrease in the Alberta corporate income tax rate.

For additional information regarding income taxes, see Note 7 of the June 30, 2020 condensed financial statements.

Net Earnings (Loss)

($ 000s except $ per share)	Three months ended			Six months ended

$ per share—diluted	(0.18)	(8.53)	0.69	(8.70)	0.74

Net earnings for the first six months of 2020 decreased by $315,195,000 compared to the same period in 2019. The decrease in net earnings was primarily attributed to the impairment provision taken in Q1 2020 as a result of significantly reduced forward commodity benchmark prices due to the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic and lower D&D expense in Q2 2020 from the reduced PP&E carrying value, which was partially offset by deferred income tax recovery on the impairment provision.

Other Comprehensive Loss

Other comprehensive loss for 2020 consists of an unrealized loss before tax on investments (including investment in a related party) of $98,000 relating to a decrease in the investments' fair value (June 30, 2019 – unrealized loss of $87,000). Realized gains decrease accumulated other comprehensive income as these gains are transferred to retained earnings. Other comprehensive income varies from net earnings by unrealized changes in the fair value of Bonterra's holdings of investments, including the investment in a related party, net of tax.

Cash Flow from Operations

($ 000s except $ per share)	Three months ended			Six months ended
	June 30, 2020	March 31, 2020	June 30, 2019	June 30, 2020	June 30, 2019
Cash flow from operations	4,429	22,473	25,468	26,902	40,591
$ per share—basic	0.13	0.67	0.76	0.81	1.22

In the first six months of 2020, cash flow from operations decreased by $13,689,000 compared to 2019. This was primarily due to a decrease in oil and gas sales, which was partially offset by decreased royalties and production costs, a $2,465,000 realized gain on risk management contracts and an increase in non-cash working capital.

The quarter-over-quarter decrease in cash flow from operations of $18,044,000 was also primarily due to a decrease in non-cash working capital and a decrease in production and crude oil prices due to the pandemic, which was partially offset by decreased production costs and royalty expense.

Related Party Transactions

Bonterra holds 1,034,523 (December 31, 2019 – 1,034,523) common shares in Pine Cliff Energy Ltd. (“Pine Cliff”) which represents less than one percent ownership in Pine Cliff’s outstanding common shares. Pine Cliff’s common shares had a fair market value as of June 30, 2020 of $140,000 (December 31, 2019 – $155,000). The Company provides marketing services for Pine Cliff. All services performed were charged at estimated fair value. As at June 30, 2020, the Company had an account receivable from Pine Cliff of $22,000 (December 31, 2019 – $47,000).

As at June 30, 2020, a loan to Bonterra provided by the Company’s CEO, Chairman of the Board and major shareholder totaled $12,000,000 (December 31, 2019 - $12,000,000). Effective April 1, 2020 to July 1, 2020 the loan’s interest rate temporarily decreased from five and a half percent to three percent and had no set repayment terms but was payable on demand. As of July 1, 2020, the interest rate was increased back to five and a half percent. Security under the debenture is over all of the Company’s assets and is subordinated to any and all claims in favour of the syndicate of senior lenders providing credit facilities to the Company. Interest paid on this loan during the first six months of 2020 was $224,000 (June 30, 2019 - $198,000). Effective June 1, 2020, principal payments cannot be paid without bank approval. An additional $30,000 in interest was accrued in accounts payable and accrued liabilities and cannot be settled for cash but may be settled by the issuance of common shares.

Net Debt to Cash Flow from Operations

Bonterra continues to focus on monitoring overall debt while managing its cash flow and capital expenditures. The Company’s net debt to twelve-month trailing cash flow ratio as of June 30, 2020 was 4.4 to 1 times (versus 3.6 to 1 times at December 31, 2019). The increased net debt to cash flow ratio is the result of a decrease in the Company’s twelve-month trailing cash flow that is primarily due to the effect of the COVID-19 pandemic on crude oil prices. Compared to Q2 2019, ending net debt at Q2 2020 decreased by $11,338,000 due to an enhanced focus on debt reduction and a lower capital spending program. Effective April 1, 2020 the Company suspended its monthly dividend and suspended its capital program as crude oil prices reached an all-time low in May. The Company’s primary focus remains on managing its bank debt during a period of highly volatile commodity prices. Bonterra will continue to assess its capital expenditures compared to cash flow from operations on a quarterly basis.

Working Capital Deficiency and Net debt

Working capital deficiency	299,445	39,769	19,745	22,238
Net Debt	299,445	300,688	292,810	310,783

Net debt is a combination of long-term bank debt and working capital. As of June 30, 2020, the Company’s bank facility has a maturity date of April 28, 2021 and has been moved to current liabilities. Bonterra actively monitors its credit availability and working capital to ensure that it has sufficient available funds to meet its financial requirements as they come due. Any of these events present risks that could affect Bonterra’s ability to fund ongoing operations. If required, Bonterra will also consider short-term or long-term financing alternatives in order to meet its future liabilities.

Net debt for June 30, 2020 decreased by $11,338,000 compared to June 30, 2019 primarily due to an enhanced focus on debt reduction and a lower capital spending program, which was partially offset by decreased cash flow in Q2 2020 from the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic on crude oil prices. Net debt decreased from March 31, 2020 due to the suspension of the Company's capital program and dividend payments in Q2 2020. The Company is considering resuming a modest capital program in the third quarter depending on commodity prices.

Working capital is calculated as current assets less current liabilities. Included in the working capital deficiency as at June 30, 2020 is $19,500,000 of debt relating to the subordinated promissory note and the amount due to a related party and $277,823,000 of bank debt that was reflected in long-term debt in previous periods. Effective June 1, 2020 the Company cannot make principal payments on the related party loan or the subordinated promissory note without bank approval. Interest has been accrued in accounts payable and accrued liabilities on both loans and cannot be settled for cash but may be settled by the issuance of common shares. No common shares have been issued to date. During each quarter, the Company manages net debt by monitoring capital spending relative to cash flow from operations.

Financial Risk Management

The Company executed physical delivery sales contracts to manage commodity risk. These contracts are considered normal sales contracts and are not recorded at fair value in the financial statements. The Company also executed risk management contracts to manage commodity risk. These contracts are not considered normal sales contracts and are recorded at fair value. For more information on physical delivery and risk management contracts in place see Note 10 of the June 30, 2020 condensed financial statements.

Capital Expenditures

During the six months ended June 30, 2020, the Company incurred capital expenditures of $21,845,000 (June 30, 2019 - $30,104,000), primarily in the first quarter. Of the total capital invested, $17,277,000 was directed to the drilling of eight gross (8.0 net) wells and the completion, equip and tie-in of nine gross (9.0 net) wells. Of the eight wells drilled, one was not completed due to current economic prices and one well was abandoned due to subsurface fractures causing loss of well bore integrity. An amount of $955,000 was fully depleted for unsuccessful drill costs. An additional $4,568,000 was spent primarily on related infrastructure and recompletions. The Company suspended its capital program in the second quarter due to crude oil pricing as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. As crude oil prices recover the Company will consider a modest resumption of its capital program in the third quarter.

Decommissioning Liabilities

In the first six months of 2020, 98 percent of the Company's production was in the province of Alberta. Bonterra has entered into the province of Alberta's Area-Based Closure ("ABC") program to reduce abandonment and reclamation costs and liabilities. The ABC program requires the Company to spend approximately $3 million by the end of next year, of which approximately half has been spent. Bonterra's abandonment program in the first quarter of 2020 included the abandonment of 45 inactive well bores and associated pipelines. The Company suspended this program in the second quarter due to reduced cash flow as a result of the pandemic and due to road bans from spring breakup. The Company has submitted applications to oilfield service providers under Alberta's Site Rehabilitation Program ("SRP") to abandon over 600 well bores, pipelines and well sites. The Government of Alberta's SRP provides grant funding through service providers to abandon or remediate oil and gas sites and has chosen to administer this program in various phases. Bonterra has also applied to similar programs in Saskatchewan and British Columbia. In total the Company expects to recover approximately $6.6 million of abandonment costs from these programs. The Company will continue its efforts to utilize these programs for its asset retirement obligations as more information is known.

Bank Debt

Bank debt represents the outstanding amounts drawn on the Company's bank facility as described in the notes to the Company's audited annual financial statements. On July 14, 2020, the Company's credit facility was confirmed at $300,000,000 (December 31, 2019 - $325,000,000), comprised of a $125,000,000 syndicated revolving credit facility, a $25,000,000 non-syndicated revolving credit facility and a term loan of $150,000,000. The amount drawn under the total bank facility at June 30, 2020 was $277,823,000 (December 31, 2019 - $273,065,000). The amounts borrowed under the renewed bank facility bear interest at a floating rate based on the applicable Canadian prime rate or Banker's Acceptance rate, plus between 2.00 percent and 10.00 percent, depending on the type of borrowing and the Company's consolidated debt to EBITDA ratio. The terms of the total revolving bank facility provide that the loan facility is revolving to August 31, 2020, with a maturity date of April 28, 2021.

The available lending limit of the bank facility is reviewed semi-annually on or before April 30 and October 31 or at the request of any one syndicate member during the fiscal year and is based on lender's assessment of the Company's reserves, future commodity prices and costs.

Under the credit facility, the Company is restricted from making any payment of principal or interest on account of subordinated debt or dividend distributions. In addition, the Company is also limited to expenditures each quarter which cannot:

- exceed 110 percent or be less than 90 percent of the forecasted decommissioning expenditures settled;
- exceed 110 percent of forecasted capital expenditures, and;
- exceed 110 percent of the forecasted operating expenses.

The Company was within all forecasted expenditure limits for the three months ended June 30, 2020.

Management's forecast for 2020 was based upon current strip pricing at June 5, 2020 and does not anticipate the Company's bank debt will exceed $300,000,000 by December 31, 2020. Management's forecast may change materially based upon actual prices received during the year, changes in future strip pricing and its future business plan. As at June 30, 2020, Bonterra classified its bank debt as a current liability and had a working capital deficiency. The Company was in compliance with all financial covenants on its total bank facility at June 30, 2020.

Bonterra's total bank facility revolves to August 31, 2020. If the facility is not renewed the bank debt could become due by the maturity date of April 28, 2021. If the borrowing base redetermination is reduced below the current amount drawn, Bonterra would have 30 days to eliminate the borrowing base shortfall by repaying the amount drawn in excess of the adjusted borrowing base. If this occurs, alternative external sources of funding will be necessary.

After examining the economic factors that are causing the liquidity risk facing the Company, the judgment applied to these factors, and the various initiatives that the Company has and will undertake to strengthen its financial position, the Company believes it will have sufficient liquidity to support its ongoing operations and meet its current financial obligations as they come due for at least twelve months. There can be no assurance that the borrowing base review will not result in a material reduction in the borrowing base, and that the necessary funds will be available to meet its obligations as they become due subject to other alternative sources of financing.

Advances drawn under the bank facility are secured by a fixed and floating charge debenture over the assets of the Company. In the event the bank facility is not extended or renewed, amounts drawn under the facility would be due and payable on the maturity date. The size of the committed credit facilities is based primarily on the value of the Company's producing petroleum and natural gas assets and related tangible assets as determined by the lenders. For more information see Note 6 of the June 30, 2020 condensed financial statements.

Shareholders' Equity

The Company is authorized to issue an unlimited number of common shares without nominal or par value.

The Company is also authorized to issue an unlimited number of Class "A" redeemable Preferred Shares and an unlimited number of Class "B" Preferred Shares. There are currently no outstanding Class "A" redeemable Preferred Shares or Class "B" Preferred Shares.

Issued and fully paid—common shares	Number	Amount ($ 000s)
Balance, June 30, 2020 and December 31, 2019	33,388,796	765,276

The Company provides a stock option plan for its directors, officers and employees. Under the plan, the Company may grant options for up to 3,338,880 (December 31, 2019 – 3,338,880) common shares. The exercise price of each option granted will not be lower than the market price of the common shares on the date of grant and the option's maximum term is five years. For additional information regarding options outstanding, see Note 8 of the June 30, 2020 condensed financial statements.

Dividend Policy

For the six months ended June 30, 2020, the Company declared and paid dividends of $1,002,000 ($0.03 per share) (June 30, 2019 – $2,003,000) ($0.06 per share). Bonterra's dividend policy is regularly monitored and is dependent upon production, commodity prices, cash flow from operations, debt levels and capital expenditures.

On March 10, 2020, the Company's Board of Directors elected to suspend its monthly dividend, commencing in April, 2020. This is in response to the significant reduction in commodity pricing.

The fluctuations in the Company's revenue and net earnings from quarter-to-quarter are caused by variations in production volumes, realized commodity pricing and the related impact on royalties, production, G&A and finance costs. In the first quarter of 2020, the Company's net earnings significantly decreased due to the effect of the COVID-19 pandemic on crude oil demand. Net earnings for Q2 2019 increased due to a deferred tax recovery from a decrease in the Alberta corporate income tax rate. The Canadian oil and gas industry experienced a significant decrease in the realized price for Canadian crude oil due to extremely wide differentials in Q4 2018 and extremely low WTI prices in the first half of 2020 due to the pandemic, which also negatively impacted Bonterra's net earnings and cash flow, as well as its Q1 2019 cash flow.

Critical Accounting Estimates

There have been no changes to the Company's critical accounting policies and estimates as of the period ended in the financial statements.

BONTERRA ENERGY CORP.
INFORMATION CIRCULAR
ANNUAL AND SPECIAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS

SOLICITATION OF PROXIES BY MANAGEMENT

This Information Circular is furnished in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the management of Bonterra Energy Corp. (the “Corporation”) for use at the annual and special meeting of the holders of common shares (“Common Shares”) of the Corporation to be held on Thursday, May 21, 2020, at 10:00 a.m. (Calgary time) (the “Meeting”) or at any adjournment thereof, for the purposes set forth in the Notice of Meeting accompanying this Information Circular.

There is enclosed herewith a form of proxy for use at the Meeting. A copy of the Annual Report, which includes the audited financial statements of the Corporation for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2019, has previously been disseminated to the shareholders. The holders of Common Shares of the Corporation (“Shareholders”) are entitled to vote and are encouraged to participate in the Meeting.

This solicitation is made on behalf of the management of the Corporation. The costs incurred in the preparation and mailing of the Notice of Meeting, form of proxy and this Information Circular will be borne by the Corporation. Management does not contemplate a solicitation of proxies other than by mail.

In accordance with National Instrument 54-101—Communication with Beneficial Owners of Securities of a Reporting Issuer, arrangements have been made with brokerage houses and other intermediaries, clearing agencies, custodians, nominees and fiduciaries to forward solicitation materials to the beneficial owners of the Common Shares held of record by such persons and the Corporation may reimburse such persons for reasonable fees and disbursements incurred by them in doing so.

APPOINTMENT AND REVOCATION OF PROXIES

A Shareholder has the right to appoint a nominee, other than the persons designated in the enclosed form of proxy (who need not be a Shareholder), to represent him at the Meeting, by inserting the name of his chosen nominee in the space provided for that purpose on the form of proxy or by completing another proper form of proxy. Such a Shareholder should notify the nominee of his appointment, obtain his consent to act as proxy and instruct him on how the Shareholder’s shares are to be voted. In any case, the form of proxy should be dated and executed by the Shareholder or his attorney authorized in writing. Registered Shareholders may also cast their vote online (www.odysseytrust.com/login) by following the instructions provided on the form. In light of the ongoing public health concerns related to COVID-19 and in order to comply with the measures imposed by the federal and provincial governments, the Corporation is encouraging Shareholders and others not to attend the Meeting in person.

A form of proxy will not be valid for the Meeting or any adjournment thereof unless it is completed and received by Odyssey Trust Company, Stock Exchange Tower, 1230-300 5th Avenue SW, Calgary, Alberta, T2P 3C4, not less than 48 hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and statutory holidays, preceding the date of the Meeting, or any adjournment thereof.

In addition to revocation by any other manner permitted by law, a Shareholder who has given a proxy may revoke it, at any time before it is exercised, by instrument in writing executed by the Shareholder or by his attorney authorized in writing or, if the Shareholder is a corporation, under its corporate seal or by an officer or attorney thereof duly authorized and deposited at the registered office of the Corporation at 901, 1015 - 4th Street SW, Calgary, Alberta T2R 1J4, Attention: Corporate Secretary, at any time up to and including the last business day preceding the day of the Meeting, or any adjournment thereof, at which the proxy is to be used, or with the Chairman of such meeting on the date of the Meeting or any adjournment thereof.

NOTICE TO BENEFICIAL HOLDERS OF SHARES

Only registered Shareholders or the persons they validly appoint as their proxies are permitted to vote at the Meeting. However, in many cases, Common Shares beneficially owned by a person (a “Non-Registered Shareholder”) are registered either (i) in the name of an intermediary (an “Intermediary”) (including banks, trust companies, securities dealers or brokers and trustees or administrators of self-administered RRSPs, RRIFs, RESPs and similar plans) that the Non-Registered Shareholder deals with in respect of the Common Shares, or (ii) in the name of a clearing agency (such as the Canadian Depository for Securities Limited), of which the Intermediary is a participant.

In accordance with the requirements of the Canadian Securities Administrators, the Corporation will distribute copies of the Notice of Meeting, this Information Circular, and the enclosed form of proxy (collectively, the “meeting materials”) to the clearing agencies and Intermediaries for onward distribution to Non-Registered Shareholders. The Corporation does not intend to pay for Intermediaries to forward meeting materials and voting instruction request forms to those Non-Registered Shareholders who have objected to their Intermediary disclosing ownership information about them pursuant to Canadian securities legislation (“Objecting Beneficial Owners”). As a result, Objecting Beneficial Owners will not receive these materials unless the Intermediary assumes the cost of delivery.

Existing regulatory policy requires brokers and other intermediaries to seek voting instructions from Non-Registered Shareholders in advance of Shareholder meetings. The various brokers and other intermediaries have their own mailing procedures and provide their own return instructions to clients, which should be carefully followed by Non-Registered Shareholders in order to ensure that their Common Shares are voted at the Meeting. The form of proxy supplied to a Non-Registered Shareholder by its broker (or the agent of the broker) is substantially similar to the Instrument of Proxy provided directly to registered Shareholders by the Corporation. However, its purpose is limited to instructing the registered Shareholder (i.e., the broker or agent of the broker) how to vote on behalf of the Non-Registered Shareholder. The vast majority of brokers now delegate responsibility for obtaining instructions from clients to Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc. (“Broadridge”) in Canada. Broadridge typically prepares a machine-readable voting instruction form, mails those forms to Non-Registered Shareholders and asks Non-Registered Shareholders to return the forms to Broadridge, or otherwise communicate voting instructions to Broadridge (by way of the Internet or telephone, for example). Broadridge then tabulates the results of all instructions received and provides appropriate instructions respecting the voting of Common Shares to be represented at the Meeting.

A Non-Registered Shareholder who receives a Broadridge voting instruction form cannot use that form to vote Common Shares directly at the Meeting. The voting instruction forms must be returned to Broadridge (or instructions respecting the voting of Common Shares must otherwise be communicated to Broadridge) well in advance of the Meeting in order to have the Common Shares voted. If you have any questions respecting the voting of Common Shares held through a broker or other intermediary, please contact that broker or other intermediary for assistance.

Although a Non-Registered Shareholder may not be recognized directly at the Meeting for the purposes of voting Common Shares registered in the name of his broker, a Non-Registered Shareholder may attend the Meeting as proxyholder for the registered Shareholder and vote the Common Shares in that capacity. Non-Registered Shareholders who wish to attend the Meeting and indirectly vote their Common Shares as proxyholder for the registered Shareholder, should enter their own names in the blank space on the form of proxy or voting instruction form provided to them and return the same to their broker (or the broker’s agent) in accordance with the instructions provided by such broker.

VOTING OF PROXIES

The persons named in the enclosed form of proxy are directors and/or officers of the Corporation and have indicated their willingness to represent as proxy the Shareholders who appoint them. Each Shareholder may instruct his proxy how to vote his shares by completing the blanks on the form of proxy.

Common Shares represented by properly executed proxy forms in favour of the persons designated on the enclosed proxy form will be voted for or withheld from voting in accordance with the instructions made on the proxy forms, on any ballot that may be called for and, if Shareholders specify a choice as to any matters to be acted upon, such Shareholders' shares shall be voted accordingly. In the absence of such instructions or choices, such shares will be voted in favour of all matters identified in the Notice of Meeting accompanying this Information Circular.

The enclosed form of proxy confers discretionary authority upon the persons named therein with respect to amendments and variations to matters identified in the Notice of Meeting and with respect to any other matters which may properly come before the Meeting. The Common Shares represented by the proxy will be voted on such matters in accordance with the best judgment of the person voting such shares. At the time of printing of this Information Circular, management knows of no such amendments, variations or other matters to come before the Meeting.

In light of the ongoing public health concerns related to COVID-19 and in order to comply with the measures imposed by the federal and provincial governments, the Corporation is encouraging Shareholders and others not to attend the Meeting in person.

VOTING SHARES AND PRINCIPAL HOLDERS OF SHARES

The Corporation is authorized to issue an unlimited number of Common Shares, an unlimited number of Class A Redeemable Preferred Shares and an unlimited number of Class B Preferred Shares, issuable in series, all without par value. As of March 31, 2020, 33,388,796 Common Shares and nil preferred shares were issued and outstanding. On all matters to be considered and acted upon at the Meeting, holders of Common Shares are entitled to one vote for each Common Share held.

The Board of Directors (the “Board”) has fixed April 15, 2020, as the record date (the “Record Date”) for determining which Shareholders are entitled to receive notice of the Meeting. A Shareholder of record at the close of business on April 15, 2020, shall be entitled to vote the Common Shares registered in such Shareholder's name on that date, except to the extent that (a) such person transfers his Common Shares after the Record Date; and (b) the transferee of those Common Shares produces properly endorsed share certificates or otherwise establishes his ownership to the Common Shares, and makes a demand to the registrar and transfer agent of the Corporation, not later than 10 days before the Meeting, that his name be included on the Shareholders' list.

To the best of the knowledge of the directors and officers of the Corporation, as at April 9, 2020, no person or company beneficially owns or controls or directs, directly or indirectly, Common Shares carrying more than 10% of the voting rights of the Corporation except as set out in the table below:

Name and Municipality of Residence	Number of Common Shares	Percentage
George F. Fink

San Francisco, California	4,016,152	12.0%

Note:

QUORUM FOR MEETING

At the Meeting, a quorum shall consist of two or more persons either present in person or represented by proxy and representing in the aggregate not less than 5% of the outstanding Common Shares. If a quorum is not present at a meeting within a reasonable time after the time fixed for the holding of the Meeting, the Shareholders present or represented at the Meeting may adjourn the Meeting to a fixed time and place but may not transact any other business.

MATTERS TO BE ACTED UPON AT THE MEETING

To the knowledge of the Corporation's directors, the only matters to be placed before the Meeting are those set forth in the accompanying Notice of Meeting and more particularly discussed below.

Majority Voting Policy

The Board has adopted a policy which requires that any nominee for director who receives a greater number of votes “withheld” than votes “for” his or her election as a director, in connection with an uncontested election, shall submit his or her resignation to the Board for consideration forthwith following the Shareholder annual meeting. The Board shall consider the resignation and determine whether or not to accept the resignation within 90 days of the applicable meeting and a press release shall be issued by the Corporation announcing the Board’s determination. Any director who tenders his or her resignation shall not participate in any meetings to consider whether the resignation shall be accepted. The Board shall accept the resignation absent exceptional circumstances.

Corporate Cease Trade Order or Bankruptcies

None of those persons who are proposed directors of the Corporation is, or has been within the past ten years:

- (a) a director or chief executive officer or chief financial officer of any company, including the Corporation, that while such person was acting in that capacity, was the subject of a cease trade or similar order or an order that denied the company access to any exemption under securities legislation, for a period of more than 30 consecutive days, or was subject to an event that resulted, after the proposed director ceased to be a director or chief executive officer or chief financial officer, in the company being the subject of a cease trade or similar order or an order that denied the company access to any exemption under securities legislation, for a period of more than 30 consecutive days;

- (b) a director or executive officer of any company, including the Corporation, that, while such person was acting in that capacity or within a year of that person ceasing to act in that capacity, became bankrupt, made a proposal under any legislation relating to bankruptcy or insolvency or was subject to or instituted any proceedings, arrangement or compromise with creditors or had a receiver, receiver manager or trustee appointed to hold its assets; or
- (c) become bankrupt, made a proposal under any legislation relating to bankruptcy or insolvency, or became subject to or instituted any proceedings, arrangement or compromise with creditors or had a receiver, receiver manager or trustee appointed to hold such person's assets.

None of those persons who are proposed directors of the Corporation have been subject to any penalties or sanctions imposed by a court relating to securities legislation or by a securities regulatory authority or has entered into a settlement with a securities regulatory authority or been subject to any other penalties or sanctions imposed by a court or regulatory body that would likely be considered important to a reasonable Shareholder in deciding whether to vote for a proposed director.

3. Appointment of Auditors

At the Meeting, it is the intention of the persons named in the enclosed form of proxy to vote in favour of a resolution to appoint the firm of Deloitte LLP, Chartered Professional Accountants, Calgary, Alberta, to serve as auditors of the Corporation until the next annual meeting of Shareholders and to authorize the Board of Directors to fix the remuneration of the auditors.

4. Approval of the Unallocated Options Under the Stock Option Plan

At the Meeting, Shareholders will be asked to pass an ordinary resolution approving all unallocated options under the Corporation's Stock Option Plan (the "Stock Option Plan" or the "Plan"). The approval is being sought in accordance with policies of the Toronto Stock Exchange ("TSX") which require that unallocated options under a stock option plan that does not have a fixed maximum number of securities issuable must be ratified by Shareholders every three years. The number of Common Shares issuable pursuant to the Plan is limited to 10% of the issued and outstanding Common Shares of the Corporation, rather than a fixed number, and the Plan has not been ratified by Shareholders since 2017. Accordingly, at the Meeting Shareholders will be asked to pass an ordinary resolution approving the unallocated options available under the Stock Option Plan. There have not been any amendments to the Plan since it was last approved by Shareholders in 2017. The terms and conditions of the Plan are summarized under the heading "Statement of Executive Compensation – Compensation Discussion and Analysis – Compensation Elements – Stock Option Plan".

As at March 31, 2020, 2,900,200 options to acquire Common Shares were outstanding, representing 8.7% of the 33,388,796 Common Shares issued and outstanding, leaving 438,680 Common Shares representing 1.3% of the issued and outstanding Common Shares available to be reserved for future option allocations. At the Meeting, Shareholders will be asked to consider and, if thought appropriate, approve, an ordinary resolution approving the unallocated options under the Stock Option Plan. The ordinary resolution must be approved by a majority vote of the Shareholders. Unless otherwise directed, it is the intention of the management designees to vote proxies in the accompanying form in favour of this ordinary resolution.

If approval is obtained at the Meeting, the Corporation will not be required to seek further approval of the grant of unallocated options under the Stock Option Plan until 2023. If the resolution approving the unallocated options under the Plan is not approved, previously granted options will continue and not be affected; however, in such circumstances, additional options may not be granted and previously granted options will not be available for re-allocation if they are exercised or cancelled.

The text of the ordinary resolution to be considered at the Meeting is as follows:

“BE IT RESOLVED as an ordinary resolution that:

1. all unallocated options, rights or other entitlements under the Stock Option Plan be and are hereby approved;
2. the Corporation is hereby authorized to continue granting options under the Stock Option Plan until May 21, 2023, being the date that is three years from the date of this resolution; and
3. any director or officer of the Corporation is authorized and directed, on behalf of the Corporation, to take all necessary steps and proceedings and to execute, deliver and file any and all declarations, agreements, documents and other instruments and do all such other acts and things (whether under corporate seal of the Corporation or otherwise) that may be necessary or desirable to give effect to this resolution.”

5. Others Matters to be Acted Upon

Management of the Corporation is not aware of any matters to come before the Meeting, other than as set forth in the Notice of Meeting. If any other matter properly comes before the Meeting, it is the intention of the persons named in the enclosed form of proxy to vote the Common Shares represented thereby in accordance with their best judgment on such matter.

INTEREST OF CERTAIN PERSONS OR COMPANIES IN MATTERS TO BE ACTED UPON

The Corporation is not aware of any material interest of any director, executive officer, nominee for election as a director of the Corporation or of any associate or affiliate of any of the foregoing in respect of any matter to be acted on at the Meeting.

INTEREST OF INFORMED PERSONS IN MATERIAL TRANSACTIONS

There are no material interests, direct or indirect, of any “informed person” (as defined in National Instrument 51-102 – Continuous Disclosure Obligations) of the Corporation, any proposed nominee for election as a director of the Corporation or any associate or affiliate of any such person or proposed nominee in any transaction since the beginning of the most recently completed financial year, or in any proposed transaction, that has materially affected or would materially affect the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries.

INDEBTEDNESS OF DIRECTORS, EXECUTIVE OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

No current or former directors, executive officers or employees of the Corporation, nor any proposed nominee for election as a director of the Corporation, nor any associate or affiliate of any one of them, is or was indebted to the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries at any time since the beginning of the most recently completed financial year.

STATEMENT OF EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

Compensation Governance

The Compensation Committee is responsible for setting the overall compensation strategy of the Corporation and administering the Corporation's executive compensation program. As part of its mandate, the Compensation Committee approves the appointment and remuneration of the Corporation's executive officers, including the Named Executive Officers identified in the Summary Compensation Table. The Compensation Committee is also responsible for reviewing the Corporation's compensation policies and guidelines generally. In addition, the Compensation Committee will receive and review recommendations of the Chief Executive Officer relating to the general compensation structure and policies and programs for the Corporation and the salary and benefit levels for the executive officers.

The Compensation Committee currently consists of Messrs. Drummond and Fink. Mr. Drummond is independent within the meaning of section 1.4 of National Instrument 52-110 – Audit Committees, and Mr. Fink is not independent due to his role as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation. As Mr. Drummond is not standing for re-election, it is anticipated that additional directors will be appointed to the Compensation Committee following the Meeting.

All of the members of the Compensation Committee have direct experience that is relevant to their responsibilities in executive compensation, as they have each managed executives and/or business leaders in their current and/or past roles. In these roles, they have participated in compensation planning sessions, made compensation decisions and participated in compensation discussions with external consultants.

No consultants have been hired; however, various studies have been reviewed and also comparatives to peers in similar positions and similar roles have been relied upon.

Compensation Elements

The objective of the executive compensation program is to attract, motivate, reward and retain management talent that is needed to achieve the Corporation's business objectives. The compensation program is designed to ensure that compensation is competitive with other companies of similar size and is commensurate with the experience, performance and contribution of the individuals involved and the overall performance of the Corporation. In evaluating performance, the Compensation Committee gives consideration to the Corporation's long-term interests and quantitative financial objectives, as well as to the qualitative aspects of the individual's performance and achievements.

The executive compensation program is comprised of three principal components: base salaries, a bonus plan and a stock option plan, which are designed to provide a combination of cash and equity-based compensation to effectively retain and motivate the executive officers to achieve the corporate goals and objectives. Each component of the executive compensation program is described below.

Base Salaries

Executive officers are paid a base salary to compensate them for providing the leadership and specific skills needed to fulfill their responsibilities. The base salaries for the executive officers are reviewed annually by the Compensation Committee and are determined by considering the contributions made by the officers, how their compensation levels compare to compensation packages that would be achievable by such officers from other opportunities and commercially available salary survey data. Salaries of the executive officers are not determined based on benchmarks or a specific formula. The Compensation Committee submits its recommendation to the Board to determine the salary of the Chief Executive Officer. The Compensation Committee considers, and if thought appropriate, approves salaries recommended by the Chief Executive Officer for the other executive officers of the Corporation.

Bonus Plan

The Board, upon the recommendation of the Compensation Committee, approves bonus payments to reward executive officers for their contribution to the achievement of annual corporate goals and objectives. The payment of bonuses is consistent with the overall objective of the Corporation to reward performance. The bonus pool consists of a range between 2.5 to 3.5 percent of pre-income tax profit (which includes all non cash flow expenditures such as depreciation and depletion) and up to 100 percent of this bonus money is paid out on a discretionary basis. The Corporation does not have any specific goals to determine individual bonus payments. Management determines the amount to be paid to each employee and it is then presented to the Compensation Committee for approval.

Stock Option Plan

The Corporation has adopted a Stock Option Plan (the “Plan”), pursuant to which options to purchase Common Shares may be granted to directors, officers, employees and consultants of the Corporation. The Plan is designed, through the grant of options, to reward key individuals in relation to their overall contribution and to the appreciation of the Corporation’s share price during the term of the options. The Plan is an integral component of the Corporation’s total compensation program in terms of attracting and retaining key employees and enhances Shareholder value by aligning the interests of executives and employees with share price increases and the growth and profitability of the Corporation. The longer-term focus of the Plan complements and balances the short-term elements of the compensation program of the Corporation.

Pursuant to the Plan, the Board may, on the recommendation of the Compensation Committee, grant from time to time to directors, officers, employees and consultants of the Corporation options to purchase Common Shares. In determining the number of options to be granted to the executive officers, the Compensation Committee considers the amount, terms and vesting levels of existing options held by the officers and also the number of options remaining available for grant by the Corporation in the future to attract and retain qualified technical and administrative staff. Generally, the number of options granted to any optionee is a function of the level of authority and responsibility of the optionee, the contribution that has been made by the optionee to the business and affairs of the Corporation, the number of options that have already been granted to the optionee and such other factors as the Compensation Committee may consider relevant.

The Plan reserves for the grant of options 10% of the total number of Common Shares outstanding (on a non-diluted basis). The exercise price of an option is determined at the time of grant and is to be not less than the closing price of the Common Shares on the TSX on the last trading day preceding the date of grant. The term of an option shall not be less than one year and shall not be more than five years from the date of grant. Unless otherwise specified, options vest as to one-third of the entitlement each year following the date of grant. Options are exercisable only during the term of employment or service of an optionee, provided that the exercise period is extended for 120 days in the event of the death of the optionee and ten days in the event of an optionee ceasing to be a director, officer or employee for any reason other than death or termination for cause. In the event of an option expiring during a blackout period then the expiration date of the option is extended to the tenth business day after the expiry of the blackout period. Options are not transferable, except upon death or as authorized by the Board.

The number of Common Shares reserved for issuance to insiders of the Corporation pursuant to options and other security-based compensation arrangements shall not exceed 10% of the total number of Common Shares outstanding. Furthermore, the issuance of Common Shares to insiders of the Corporation pursuant to options and other security-based compensation arrangements shall not exceed or result in the issuance to insiders during a one year period of more than 10% of the total number of Common Shares outstanding, nor may the issuance to any one such insider and associates of such insider, within a one year period, exceed 5% of the total number of Common Shares outstanding. In addition, the number of Common Shares reserved for issuance to any one person pursuant to options shall not exceed 5% of the total number of Common Shares outstanding.

An optionee may exercise options by payment of the exercise price of the options in cash or the optionee may elect to effect a cashless exercise of any vested and exercisable options whereby the optionee would receive, without any cash payment (other than amounts due in respect of taxes), a number of Common Shares determined by dividing the in-the-money value of the options by the market price of the Common Shares.

The Board may amend the Plan and may amend the terms and conditions of options granted pursuant to the Plan, without Shareholder approval, provided that the amendment does not change the number of options issuable under the Plan, change the class of eligible participants, change the amending provisions of the Plan, reduce the exercise price of options held by insiders or extend the term of options held by insiders. Amendments are subject to any required approval of any regulatory authority or stock exchange.

As at December 31, 2019, there were 1,945,000 options outstanding, representing 5.8% of the Common Shares outstanding as of that date and 1,393,880 Common Shares representing 4.2% of the outstanding Common Shares available for further option grants. No Common Shares were issued during 2019 on exercise of options. The Company granted an aggregate of 1,921,000 options in 2017, 1,073,000 options in 2018 and 60,000 options in 2019. Accordingly, the Company's annual option grant burn rate, calculated by dividing the number of options granted under the Plan during the relevant fiscal year by the weighted average number of Common Shares outstanding for the applicable fiscal year, was 5.8% in 2017, 3.2% in 2018 and 0.2% in 2019.

Risks Associated with Compensation Policies and Practices

The oversight and administration of the Corporation's executive compensation program requires the Compensation Committee to consider risks associated with the Corporation's compensation policies and practices. Potential risks associated with compensation policies and compensation awards are considered at annual reviews and also throughout the year whenever it is deemed necessary by the Compensation Committee.

The Corporation's executive compensation policies and practices are intended to align management incentives with the long-term interests of the Corporation and its Shareholders. In each case, the Corporation seeks an appropriate balance of risk and reward. Practices that are designed to avoid inappropriate or excessive risks include (i) financial controls that impose limits and require approvals in areas such as capital and operating expenditures to mitigate risk taking that could affect compensation; (ii) balancing base salary and variable compensation elements; (iii) spreading compensation across short and long-term programs; (iv) limiting bonuses to a pre-determined percentage of pre-income tax profit; and (v) vesting of stock options over a period of years.

Financial Instruments

The Corporation does not have a policy that would prohibit a Named Executive Officer or director from purchasing financial instruments, including prepaid variable forward contracts, equity swaps, collars or units of exchange funds, that are designed to hedge or offset a decrease in market value of equity securities granted as compensation or held, directly or indirectly, by the Named Executive Officer or director. However, management is not aware of any Named Executive Officer or director purchasing such an instrument.

Performance Graph

The following graph compares the yearly percentage change in the cumulative Shareholder return over the last five years of the Common Shares of the Corporation (assuming a $100 investment was made on December 31, 2014 and the reinvestment of all dividends into Common Shares of the Corporation) and the cumulative total return of the S&P/TSX Composite Index and the TSX Energy Index.

Total Shareholder Return (TSR) and its Relationship to Executive Compensation

Executive compensation is defined as the aggregate of base salary, annual bonuses (if any), stock options, and any other miscellaneous types of benefits that may periodically be granted to an executive. The total compensation of executive officers did not change significantly during the period disclosed in the Summary Compensation Table. When the Compensation Committee of the Board determines overall compensation, it considers a number of factors and performance elements. Although TSR is one performance measure that is reviewed, it is not the only consideration. As a result, a direct correlation between TSR over a given period and executive compensation levels is not anticipated.

Process for Granting Option-Based Rewards

The process that the Corporation uses to grant option-based awards to executive officers, including the Named Executive Officers, is for the Board to approve option grants based on recommendations made by the Compensation Committee. Option grants can be made at any time and there are no specific periods for the issuance of options. Option awards are determined based on the factors described above under the heading “Compensation Elements—Stock Option Plan”.

Termination and Change of Control Benefits

The Corporation has entered into employment agreements with each of the Named Executive Officers. The employment agreements provide for certain payments to be made by the Corporation to the Named Executive Officers in the event of: (i) termination of the Named Executive Officer's employment by the Corporation without cause (“Termination without Cause”); or (ii) termination of employment by the Named Executive Officer within 60 days of certain significant changes in the Named Executive Officer’s duties and responsibilities, compensation or location of employment or a breach by the Corporation of its obligations pursuant to the employment agreement (“Termination for Good Reason”). In addition, the employment agreements include non-solicitation restrictions which restrict Named Executive Officers from soliciting employees, consultants or officers of the Corporation to become engaged in any capacity with a competing business for a period of 12 months following termination of the Named Executive Officer.

In the event of Termination without Cause, the officer is entitled to payment of an amount equal to his monthly salary (plus 12.5% on account of lost benefits) for a specified notice period less the number of months, if any, of working notice provided to the officer plus an amount equal to the average cash bonus paid to the officer in each of the last two calendar years. The Board meets or has conference call meetings at least four times per year. Each Committee meets a minimum number of times per year as required to conduct its respective duties. Agendas are provided to all directors in advance of all meetings and are generally prepared by management and are discussed with Board members who are responsible for particular items with regard to the agenda.

The Chair of the Board is responsible for setting the agenda for each Board meeting and the Chairs of the Committees are responsible for setting the agenda for each of their respective Committee meetings. The Chair of each Committee reports to the Board following each Committee meeting. Minutes of each Board and Committee meeting are executed and copies are provided to the full Board. The Board and Committees continue to establish key goals to provide focus to their core responsibilities on an ongoing basis.

The Board and each Committee can meet independently of management at any time and are encouraged to do so whenever a member deems it is warranted. The Board and each Committee also have the authority to engage independent advisors, paid for by the Corporation, to provide it with expert advice.

Currently the Board consists of four independent directors and one director who is not independent. The term for each director and each Committee Chair is for one year. The Chair of the Board is responsible for providing leadership to the Board in the governance of the Corporation, overseeing all aspects of Board direction and administration, overseeing the communication of management strategy and plans to the Board and ensuring that the Board receives regular updates from management on matters that are important to the future of the Corporation. The main responsibility of the Chairs of the respective Committees as outlined above is to assess the requirements of the specific Committee on an ongoing basis and to communicate these requirements to the full Board.

Each Board member is evaluated informally each year by all of the other Board members and formally by all of the Shareholders in that they are required to be elected each year by the Shareholders.

CEO Position

The Chair of the Policy, Governance and Nominating Committee sets goals and objectives each year for the CEO by providing guidance through approval of formal documents and informal discussions with Board members and Committee members including the CEO. The four independent directors evaluate the CEO's performance at least annually. For a detailed analysis of the CEO's compensation for 2019, please see "Statement of Executive Compensation" above.

Orientation and Continuing Education

The Corporation has developed an orientation program, administered by the Policy, Governance and Nominating Committee, for new directors which provide each new director with all applicable information regarding the roles and responsibilities of the Board, each Committee, the Board Chair, Chair of each Committee and the CEO. It provides information regarding the nature and operation of the Corporation's business, its organizational structure, governance policies including the Board Mandate and each Committee Mandate, the Whistle Blower Policy and the Code of Business Conduct, which is available on SEDAR at www.sedar.com and the Corporation's Disclosure Policy. The information is updated as the Corporation's business, governance documents and policies change.

The Corporation arranges for presentations to be made to the Board and each Committee of the Board to inform directors regarding corporate developments and changes in legal, regulatory and industry requirements affecting the Corporation. As well, directors are encouraged to visit the Corporation's facilities, to interact with management and employees and to stay abreast of industry developments and the evolving business of the Corporation. The Corporation encourages its Board and Committee members to continue to educate themselves through courses and discussions that will be paid for by the Corporation to ensure that its directors maintain the skill and knowledge necessary to meet their obligations as directors.

Ethical Business Conduct

The Corporation has adopted a written Code of Business Conduct (the "Code"). The Policy, Governance and Nominating Committee takes reasonable steps to monitor compliance with the Code by requiring employees, on the commencement of their employment and as and when directed by management, to sign a copy of the Code acknowledging that they have read, understood and will comply with the Code. The Code applies to the Corporation's directors, executive officers, management, employees and consultants, each of whom is expected to ensure that his or her behaviour accords with the letter and the spirit of the Code. The Code also encourages all parties who engage in business with the Corporation to report any perceived and all actual breaches of the Code in accordance with the Corporation's Whistle Blower Policy. The Chair of the Committee is responsible for investigating complaints, presenting complaints to the Committee and any other applicable Committee of the Board or the Board as a whole, and developing a plan for promptly and fairly resolving complaints. Upon conclusion of the investigation and resolution of a complaint, the Chair of the Committee will advise the complainant of the corrective measures that have been taken or advise the complainant that the complaint has not been substantiated. The Code prohibits retaliation by the Corporation, its directors, executive officers and management, against complainants who raise concerns in good faith and requires the Corporation to maintain the confidentiality of complainants to the greatest extent practicable. Complainants may also submit their concerns anonymously in writing. However, complaints that in the future are determined to be inaccurate or untruthful could result in suspension or dismissal.

In addition to the Code, the Corporation has an Audit Committee Charter regarding the collection and dissemination of accounting information, and a Whistle Blower Policy with respect to reporting accounting and auditing irregularities, as well as other corporate misconduct and breaches of the Code. Copies of these documents are available on the Corporation's website.

Since the beginning of the most recently completed financial year, no material change reports have been filed that pertain to any conduct of a director or executive officer that constitutes a departure from the Code.

Exercise of Independent Judgment

The Board encourages and promotes a culture of ethical business conduct by appointing directors who demonstrate integrity and high ethical standards in their business dealings and personal affairs. Directors are required to abide by the Code and are expected to make responsible and ethical decisions in discharging their duties, thereby setting an example of the standard to which management and employees should adhere. The Board is required by the Board Mandate to satisfy itself that the CEO and other executive officers are acting with integrity and fostering a culture of integrity throughout the Corporation.

The Policy, Governance and Nominating Committee is responsible for reviewing departures from the Code by executive officers, management, employees and consultants, reviewing and either providing or denying waivers from the Code, and disclosing any waivers that are granted in accordance with applicable law. The Board as a whole is responsible for responding to conflict of interest situations involving directors, particularly with respect to existing or proposed transactions and agreements in respect of which directors advise they have a material interest.

Conflicts of Interest

The Board Mandate requires: (1) that directors and officers disclose any material interest in any transaction or agreement with the Corporation; (2) that an individual director, if requested by himself or by the Board, excuse himself or herself from Board deliberations; and (3) that directors do not vote in respect of transactions in which they have an interest. The Corporation's directors and officers must also abide by the disclosure of conflict of interest provisions contained in the Canada Business Corporations Act. By taking these steps, the Board strives to ensure that directors at Board meetings exercise independent judgment, unclouded by the relationships of the directors and officers to each other and the Corporation, in considering transactions and agreements in respect of which directors and executive officers have an interest.

Director Nomination

Responsibility for identifying new candidates to join the Board belongs to the Policy, Governance and Nominating Committee. This Committee is responsible for identifying qualified candidates, recommending nominees for election as directors, and appointing directors to Committees. The Committee is required to consider a candidate's independence, financial acumen, skills, experience, background and available time to devote to the duties of the Board in making their recommendations for nomination. The Committee reviews the composition and size of the Board and tenure of directors in advance of annual general meetings when directors are most commonly elected by the Corporation's Shareholders, as well as when individual directors indicate that their terms may end or that their status may change.

In addition, the Policy, Governance and Nominating Committee is empowered to recommend candidates to fill any vacancy in the Board that arises between annual meetings. Subject to the Articles of the Corporation, the Policy, Governance and Nominating Committee also has the authority to recommend the appointment of additional directors between annual meetings.

Compensation

The Compensation Committee annually recommends the compensation to be received by the Corporation's directors and CEO and evaluates the proposed compensation to be received by the executive officers and management. The Compensation Committee is comprised of the entire Board. The CEO, who is also a director, does not participate in any Board discussions with regard to compensation issues that pertain to him. Compensation is determined in the context of the Corporation's goals, Shareholder returns and other achievements, and considered in the context of position descriptions, goals and the performance of each individual director and officer. With respect to directors' compensation, the Compensation Committee reviews the level and form of compensation received by the directors, members of each Committee, and the Chair of the Board and each Committee, considering the duties and responsibilities of each member, his or her past service and continuing duties in service to the Corporation.

Director Assessment

In addition to determining compensation, the Compensation Committee is responsible for conducting an informal annual evaluation and assessment of the performance, contribution and effectiveness of individual directors, each Committee and the Board as a whole. The annual review also asks directors to provide feedback on the Corporation's Board and Committee Mandates, the Code and all of its policies. The Compensation Committee discusses the information gathered pursuant to the annual assessment, the results of which are then presented to the Board in order to engage in a discussion regarding Board effectiveness and how it may be improved.

Term Limits

The Board has not adopted term limits for Board members, mandatory retirement policies or other mechanisms of Board renewal. However, the Policy, Governance and Nominating Committee has a process in place for the annual review of the performance of individual directors, the Board as a whole and the Board Committees. Through this annual review process, the Policy, Governance and Nominating Committee determine whether an individual director is able to continue to make an effective contribution and recommend changes when appropriate. The Board is of the view that a regular review process is more effective than arbitrary term limits or other mechanisms of Board renewal such as a mandatory retirement age. The Policy, Governance and Nomination Committee also has the mandate and responsibility for annually reviewing the composition, skills and tenure of directors in advance of annual meetings of Shareholders and whenever individual directors indicate that their status as members may change.

Representation of Designated Groups on the Board and in Executive Officer Positions

Policies Regarding Representation of Designated Groups on the Board

The Corporation has adopted a written diversity policy that is intended to promote diversity on the Board and includes policies relating to the identification and nomination of women, Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities and members of visible minorities (collectively, "Designated Groups") to serve as directors. In the diversity policy and this Information Circular, Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities and members of visible minorities have the meaning given in the Employment Equity Act (Canada). The Policy, Governance and Nominating Committee recommended, and the Board approved the diversity policy in recognition that diversity among the Corporation's directors supports balanced consideration of matters and fulsome debate, which enhances decision making and maximizes Shareholder value. The policy provides that, although the Corporation remains committed to a merit-based system for Board composition, the Policy, Governance and Nominating Committee will seek to achieve an appropriate level of diversity on the Board by having regard to the differing skills, experience, education, gender, age, ethnicity and cultural background of Board members.

To ensure the Corporation taps into a broad pool of the best qualified individuals, an external search firm may be retained to help identify future openings for new directors with the mandate that the pool must take diversity into account, in addition to the other attributes desired. Any search, whether executed by an outside executive search firm or through an internal process, is directed to include a diverse set of candidates, including members of Designated Groups, in its list of potential nominees presented to the Board for its consideration. The final decision will be based on merit and the contribution that the chosen candidate brings to the Board.

The Policy, Governance and Nominating Committee measures the effectiveness of the policy by reviewing the number of members of Designated Groups considered or brought forward for Board positions and the skills, background and experience of such candidates to ensure they are being fairly considered relative to other candidates. The Board approved the nomination of two new directors for election to the Board at the Meeting and one of the nominees is a woman and is therefore a member of one of the Designated Groups.

Consideration of the Representation of Designated Groups in the Director Identification and Selection Process

The Policy, Governance and Nominating Committee considers the skills, experience and background that would enhance the overall effectiveness of the Board and seeks candidates that are anticipated to bring those qualities to the Board. The representation of members of Designated Groups is one of many criteria that is considered, however a candidate's skills and experience are the primary criteria. For more information on the director identification and selection process, please refer to "Director Nomination".

Consideration Given to the Representation of Designated Groups in Executive Officer Appointments

Executive appointments at Bonterra are determined based on merit and qualifications relevant for the specific role. Consideration is given to a broad range of skills, background and experience. Diversity is taken into account; however, the ultimate decision is determined based on the best candidate for the role. The representation of members of Designated Groups and the benefit of diversity are among many factors that are considered in assessing the contribution of an executive officer.

Targets Regarding the Representation of Designated Groups on the Board and in Executive Officer Positions

Bonterra has not adopted a specific target regarding the number of members of Designated Groups on the Board and in executive officer positions as the representation of members of Designated Groups and the benefits of diversity are among many factors that are considered in assessing the potential contribution of a prospective director or executive officer.

Number of Members of Designated Groups on the Board and in Executive Officer Positions management of Obsidian Energy has made certain assumptions that affect the amounts reported in these pro forma consolidated financial statements. Such pro forma consolidated financial statements are not intended to be indicative of the results that would have actually occurred, had the events reflected therein occurred on the dates indicated, and do not purport to project the future financial position of Obsidian Energy. Actual amounts recorded upon consummation of the Transaction will differ from such pro forma consolidated financial statements. Any potential synergies that may be realized after consummation of the Transaction have been excluded from such pro forma consolidated financial statements. Shareholders are cautioned to not place undue reliance on such pro forma consolidated financial statements.

The Corporation does not currently have any members of Designated Groups (nil percent) that serve on its board of directors or in executive officer positions. However, one of the nominees for election to the Board at the Meeting is a woman and is therefore a member of one of the Designated Groups.

IFRS 3 requires that one of Obsidian Energy and Bonterra be designated as the acquirer for accounting purposes based on the evidence available. Based on the exchange ratio described in the Offer and Circular on the basis of two (2) common shares of Obsidian Energy for each common share of Bonterra (calculated on an undiluted basis), the resulting share ownership percentages after the closing of the transaction are approximately 52% to current Obsidian Energy share shareholders and 48% to current Bonterra shareholders. Obsidian Energy will be treated as the acquiring entity for accounting purposes. In identifying Obsidian Energy as the acquirer for accounting purposes, management took into account the voting rights of all equity instruments and the size of each of the companies. In assessing the size of each of the companies, management evaluated various metrics, including but not limited to: total assets, production, and reserves. No single factor was the sole determinant in the overall conclusion that Obsidian Energy is the acquirer for accounting purposes; rather all factors were considered in arriving at such conclusion.

Certain reclassifications were made in respect of Bonterra's financial statement presentation to conform to Obsidian Energy's financial statement presentation.

2. Pro forma adjustments to the consolidated balance sheet

($CAD millions, except per share amounts)
Number of Obsidian Energy shares issued	66,777,592
Obsidian Energy share price	$ 0.57
Consideration	$ 38
Estimated Fair Value of assets and liabilities of Bonterra acquired:
Oil and gas properties	$ 349
Investment tax credit receivable	9
Working capital	(2)
Bank debt	(278)
Due to related party	(11)
Subordinated promissory note	(7)
Deferred consideration	(12)
Decommissioning liability	(10)
Estimated Net assets acquired	$ 38

The following assumptions have been applied in determining the above estimates:

a) Consideration and Purchase Price Equation

The number of shares issued assumes 66.8 million Obsidian Energy common shares are issued to shareholders of Bonterra for a total of $38 million at a share price of $0.57 which was the closing price of an Obsidian Energy common share on the Toronto Stock Exchange on September 4, 2020 (the last trading day prior to Obsidian Energy's press release dated September 8, 2020 announcing its intention to commence the offer related to the Transaction). The number of Obsidian Energy common shares issued is based on the estimated number of Bonterra common shares outstanding (undiluted) multiplied by the 2.00 exchange ratio established in the Offer and Circular. The total consideration will change based on fluctuations in Obsidian Energy's share price and the number of Bonterra common shares outstanding upon completion of the Transaction. The determination of the fair values of the net assets acquired requires Obsidian Energy to make assumptions and estimates, in addition Obsidian Energy has not had access to the non-public books and records of Bonterra. The purchase price equation is preliminary as the acquisition has not closed as of the date of the pro forma information. The final calculation of the purchase price will be based on the fair value of the net assets acquired following the closing date of the Transaction and other information available at that time. There may be material differences from this pro forma purchase price equation as a result of finalizing the valuation.

b) Oil and gas properties

The fair value of the oil and gas properties is estimated at September 4, 2020.

c) Working capital

Working capital assumed as at June 30, 2020 has been adjusted by $15 million for Obsidian Energy's estimated transaction costs associated with the Transaction, including severance, advisory and legal costs.

d) Bank debt, Financing instruments and financial derivatives

Obsidian Energy has assumed that the book value is equal to fair value for Bonterra's bank debt and financial derivatives.

Obsidian Energy estimated the fair value for the Due to related party loan and Subordinated promissory note using a discount rate of 15% to reflect their subordinated nature. This resulted in a reduction in the fair value of both instruments of $1 million compared to their book value at June 30, 2020. Note the accretion on the fair value of debt was insignificant based on the assumptions.

e) Deferred consideration and Investment tax credit receivable

The Deferred consideration and Investment tax credit receivable has been included at Bonterra's book value on June 30, 2020 as Obsidian Energy has not been able to assess their fair values given the limited information currently available.

f) Decommissioning Liability

The discount rate used in estimating the fair value of the decommissioning liability used a credit adjusted risk-free rate of 9.0 percent based on Obsidian Energy's rate at June 30, 2020. The previous value of the decommissioning liability used in Bonterra's consolidated balance sheet used a risk-free rate of 2.3 percent. The higher discount rate results in a reduction of $126 million to the provision.

g) Deferred income tax liability

When comparing the relevant estimated fair values assigned in the purchase equation to the Bonterra tax pools disclosed in the financial statements as at June 30, 2020, the result is a deferred tax asset which has not been recognized as the IAS 12 probable recognition criteria are not met.

h) Reclassifications

In order to align Bonterra's financial statement presentation to Obsidian Energy, certain balances were reclassified which included the following:

- Crude oil inventory and Prepaid expenses recorded into Prepaids and other.

3. Pro forma consolidated statement of income (loss)

The following assumptions and adjustments were made to the unaudited pro forma consolidated statement of income (loss) for the year-ended 2019 and the first six months ended June 30, 2020:

a) Depletion, depreciation and accretion

Depletion and depreciation expense for Bonterra has been reduced by $22 million for the year-ended 2019 and $11 million for the first six months of 2020 to reflect the amount of oil and gas properties that would have been recorded using the revised carrying amount determined in the purchase price equation.

Accretion has been calculated using Obsidian Energy's credit adjusted risk free rate on the revised decommissioning liability balance calculated in the purchase price equation resulting in decreases of $2 million for the year-ended 2019 and $1 million for the first six months of 2020.

b) Deferred income tax expense

When comparing the relevant estimated fair values assigned in the purchase equation to the Bonterra tax pools disclosed in the financial statements for the year ended 2019 and for the first six months of 2020, the result is a deferred tax asset which has not been recognized as the IAS 12 probable recognition criteria are not met.

c) Weighted average common shares

Pro forma basic and diluted net income (loss) per share was calculated using the pro forma net income (loss) divided by the weighted average number of Obsidian Energy common shares outstanding after given the effect to the Transaction as if it occurred on January 1, 2019.

d) Reclassifications

In order to align Bonterra's financial statement presentation to Obsidian Energy, certain balances were reclassified which included the following:

- Oil and gas sales, net of royalties was recorded into Oil and natural gas sales and other income and royalties separately;
- Office administration and Employee compensation was recorded into General & administrative expenses; and
- Unwinding of the fair value of the decommissioning liabilities, which was previously recorded within Financing was now recorded into Depletion, depreciation, impairment and accretion.

Item 20. Indemnification of Directors and Officers

Under the ABCA, Obsidian Energy is permitted to indemnify its directors and officers and former directors and officers against costs and expenses, including amounts paid to settle an action or satisfy a judgment in a civil, criminal or administrative action or proceeding to which they are made parties because of their position as directors or officers, including an action against Obsidian Energy. In order to be entitled to indemnification under the ABCA, the director or officer must act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of Obsidian Energy, and in the case of a criminal or administrative action or proceeding that is enforced by a monetary penalty, the director or officer must have reasonable grounds for believing that his or her conduct was lawful.

Under its By-Laws, Obsidian Energy shall indemnify, to the maximum extent permitted under the ABCA, its current and former directors and officers, any person who acts or has acted on its behalf as a director or officer of a corporation of which Obsidian Energy is or was a shareholder or creditor, and any of their heirs and legal representatives.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers or persons controlling Obsidian Energy pursuant to the foregoing provisions, Obsidian Energy has been informed that in the opinion of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and is therefore unenforceable.

Item 22. Undertakings

(a) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes:

(1) To file, during any period in which offers or sales are being made, a post effective amendment to this registration statement:

(i) To include any prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933;

(ii) To reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the registration statement (or the most recent post effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in the registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high end of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of prospectus filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) if, in the aggregate, the changes in volume and price represent no more than 20% change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the "Calculation of Registration Fee" table in the effective registration statement; and

(iii) To include any material information with respect to the plan of distribution not previously disclosed in the registration statement or any material change to such information in the registration statement.

(2) That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(3) To remove from registration by means of a post effective amendment any of the securities being registered which remain unsold at the termination of the offering.

(4) To file a post effective amendment to the registration statement to include any financial statements required by Item 8.A. of Form 20 F at the start of any delayed offering or throughout a continuous offering. Financial statements and information otherwise required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Act need not be furnished, provided that the registrant includes in the prospectus, by means of a post effective amendment, financial statements required pursuant to this paragraph (a)(4) and other information necessary to ensure that all other information in the prospectus is at least as current as the date of those financial statements.

(b) (i) The undersigned registrant undertakes as follows: That prior to any public reoffering of the securities registered hereunder through use of a prospectus which is a part of this registration statement, by any person or party who is deemed to be an underwriter within the meaning of Rule 145(c), the issuer undertakes that such reoffering prospectus will contain the information called for by the applicable registration form with respect to reofferings by persons who may be deemed underwriters, in addition to the information called for by the other Items of the applicable form.

(ii) The undersigned registrant undertakes that every prospectus (i) that is filed pursuant to the paragraph immediately preceding, or (ii) that purports to meet the requirements of Section 10(a)(3) of the Act and is used in connection with an offering of securities subject to Rule 415, will be filed as a part of an amendment to the registration statement and will not be used until such amendment is effective, and that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(c) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

(d) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes: (i) to respond to requests for information that is incorporated by reference into the prospectus pursuant to Items 4, 10(b), 11, or 13 of this Form, within one business day of receipt of such request, and to send the incorporated documents by first class mail or other equally prompt means, and (ii) to arrange or provide for a facility in the United States for the purpose of responding to such requests. The undertaking in subparagraph (i) above includes information contained documents filed subsequent to the effective date of the registration statement through the date of responding to the request.

(e) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes to supply by means of a post-effective amendment all information concerning a transaction, and the company being acquired involved therein, that was not the subject of and included in the registration statement when it became effective.

SIGNATURES

Pursuant to the requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, the registrant has duly caused this Registration Statement to be signed on its behalf by the undersigned, thereunto duly authorized, in the City of Calgary, Province of Alberta, Canada, on the 21st day of September, 2020.

ANNEX A

The Corporation is authorized to issue an unlimited number of Common Shares without nominal or par value and 90,000,000 Preferred Shares without nominal or par value. The rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attached to each class of shares are set forth below.

COMMON SHARES

The unlimited number of Common Shares shall have attached thereto the following rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions:

- a) The holders of Common Shares shall be entitled to notice of to attend and to one vote per share held at any meeting of the shareholders of the Corporation (other than meetings of a class or series of shares of the Corporation other than the Common Shares as such);
- b) The holders of Common Shares shall be entitled to receive dividends as and when declared by the Board of Directors of the Corporation on the Common Shares as a class, subject to prior satisfaction of all preferential rights to dividends attached to shares of other classes of shares of the Corporation ranking in priority to the Common Shares in respect of dividends; and
- c) The holders of Common Shares shall be entitled in the event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, or any other distribution of the assets of the Corporation among its shareholders for the purpose of winding-up its affairs, and subject to prior satisfaction of all preferential rights to return of capital on dissolution attached to all shares of other classes of shares of the Corporation ranking in priority to the Common Shares in respect of return of capital on dissolution, to share rateably, together with the holders of shares of any other class of shares of the Corporation ranking equally with the Common Shares in respect of return of capital on dissolution, in such assets of the Corporation as are available for distribution.

PREFERRED SHARES

The 90,000,000 Preferred Shares shall have attached thereto the following rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions:

- a) The Preferred Shares may at any time or from time to time be issued in one or more series. Before any shares of a particular series are issued, the Directors of the Corporation shall, by resolution, fix the number of shares that will form such series and shall, subject to the limitations set out herein, by resolution fix the designation, rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions to be attached to the Preferred Shares of such series, including, but without in any way limiting or restricting the generality of the foregoing, the rate, amount or method of calculation of dividends thereon, the time and place of payment of dividends, the consideration for and the terms and conditions of any purchase for cancellation, retraction or redemption thereof, conversion or exchange rights (if any), and whether into or for securities of the Corporation or otherwise, voting rights attached thereto (if any), the terms and conditions of any share purchase or retirement plan or sinking fund, and restrictions on the payment of dividends on any shares other than Preferred Shares or payment in respect of capital on any shares in the capital of the Corporation or creation or issue of debt or equity securities; the whole subject to filing with the Registrar (as defined in the Business Corporations Act (Alberta) or successor legislation thereto) of Articles of Amendment setting forth a description of such series including the designation, rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attached to the shares of such series;

b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a), the Directors of the Corporation may at any time or from time to time change the rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attached to unissued shares of any series of Preferred Shares;

c) Notwithstanding paragraph (a), other than in the case of a failure to declare or pay dividends specified in any series of the Preferred Shares, the voting rights attached to the Preferred Shares shall be limited to one vote per Preferred Share at any meeting where the Preferred Shares and Common Shares vote together as a single class;

d) The Preferred Shares of each series shall rank on a parity with the Preferred Shares of every other series with respect to accumulated dividends and return of capital. The Preferred Shares shall be entitled to a preference over the Common Shares and over any other shares of the Corporation ranking junior to the Preferred Shares with respect to priority in the payment of dividends and in the distribution of assets in the event of the liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, or any other distribution of the assets of the Corporation among its shareholders for the purpose of winding-up its affairs. If any cumulative dividends or amounts payable on a return of capital are not paid in full, the Preferred Shares of all series shall participate rateably in respect of such dividends, including accumulations, if any, in accordance with the sums that would be payable on such shares if all such dividends were declared and paid in full, and in respect of any repayment of capital in accordance with the sums that would be payable on such repayment of capital if all sums so payable were paid in full; provided, however, that in the event of there being insufficient assets to satisfy in full all such claims as aforesaid, the claims of the holders of the Preferred Shares with respect to repayment of capital shall first be paid and satisfied and any assets remaining thereafter shall be applied towards the payment in satisfaction of claims in respect of dividends. The Preferred Shares of any series may also be given such other preferences not inconsistent with paragraphs (a) through (e) hereof over the Common Shares and any other shares ranking junior to the Preferred Shares as may be determined in the case of each such series of Preferred Shares; and

e) The rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attaching to the Preferred Shares as a class as provided herein and as may be provided from time to time may be repealed, altered, modified, amended or amplified or otherwise varied only with the sanction of the holders of the Preferred Shares given in such manner as may then be required by law, subject to a minimum requirement that such approval be given by resolution passed by the affirmative vote of a least two-thirds of the votes cast at a meeting of holders of Preferred Shares duly called for such purpose and held upon at least 21 days' notice at which a quorum is present comprising at least two persons present, holding or representing by proxy at least 10 percent of the outstanding Preferred Shares or by a resolution in writing of all holders of the outstanding Preferred Shares. If any such quorum is not present within half an hour after the time appointed for the meeting, then the meeting shall be adjourned to a date being not less than 7 days later and at such time and place as may be appointed by the chairman and at such meeting a quorum will consist of that number of shareholders present in person or represented by proxy. The formalities to be observed with respect to the giving of notice of any such meeting or adjourned meeting and the conduct thereof shall be those which may from time to time be prescribed in the by-laws of the Corporation with respect to meetings of shareholders. On every vote taken at every such meeting or adjourned meeting each holder of a Preferred Share shall be entitled to one vote in respect of each one dollar of stated value of Preferred Shares held.

BY-LAW NO. 1

A by-law relating generally to the conduct of the business and affairs of (hereinafter called the “Corporation”).

IT IS HEREBY ENACTED as a by-law of the Corporation as follows:

Definitions

1. In this by-law, unless the context otherwise specifies or requires:

- (a) “Act” means the Business Corporations Act (Alberta) and the regulations made thereunder, as from time to time amended, and in the case of such amendment any reference in the by-laws shall be read as referring to the amended provisions thereof;
- (b) “board” means the board of directors of the Corporation;
- (c) “articles” and “by-laws” means the articles and by-laws of the Corporation from time to time in force and effect;
- (d) all terms contained in the by-laws which are defined in the Act shall have the meanings given to such terms in the Act;
- (e) to the extent of any conflict between the provisions of the by-laws and the provisions of the Act or the articles, the provisions of the Act or the articles shall govern; and
- (f) the invalidity or unenforceability of any provisions of the by-laws shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the remaining provisions of the by-laws.

Directors

- 2. Number. The number of directors shall be the number fixed by the articles, or where the articles specify a variable number, the number shall be not less than the minimum and not more than the maximum number so specified and shall be determined from time to time within such limits by resolution of the board.
- 3. Powers. The directors shall manage or supervise the management of the business and affairs of the Corporation.

Meetings of Directors

4. Place of Meeting. Unless the articles otherwise provide, meetings of directors and of any committee of directors may be held at any place. A meeting of directors may be convened by the Chairman of the Board (if any), the Chief Executive Officer or any two directors at any time and the Secretary shall upon direction of any of the foregoing convene or cause to be convened a meeting of directors.

5. Notice. Notice of the time and place for the holding of any meeting of directors or of any committee of directors shall be sent to each director or each director who is a member of such committee, as the case may be, not less than twenty-four (24) hours before the time of the meeting; provided that a meeting of directors or of any committee of directors may be held at any time without notice if all the directors or members of such committee are present or if all the absent directors waive notice of the meeting (except, in both cases, where a director attends the meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the grounds that the meeting is not lawfully called). The notice of a meeting of directors shall specify any matter referred to in subsection (3) of section 115 of the Act that is to be dealt with at the meeting, but otherwise need not specify the purpose of the business to be transacted at the meeting.

6. Waiver of Notice. Notice of any meeting of directors or of any committee of directors or the time for the giving of any such notice or any irregularity in any meeting or in the notice thereof may be waived by any director in writing or by facsimile, electronic mail or other electronic transmission addressed to the Corporation or in any other manner, and any such waiver may be validly given either before or after the meeting to which such waiver relates. Attendance of a director at any meeting of directors or of any committee of directors is a waiver of notice of such meeting, except when a director attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the grounds that the meeting is not lawfully called.

7. Electronic Participation. A director may participate in a meeting of directors or of any committee of directors by electronic means, telephone or other communication facilities that permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in a meeting by those means is deemed for the purposes of the Act and this by-law to be present at that meeting.

8. Adjournment. Any meeting of directors or of any committee of directors may be adjourned from time to time by the chairman of the meeting, with the consent of the meeting, to a fixed time and place. Notice of an adjourned meeting of directors or committee of directors is not required to be given if the time and place of the adjourned meeting is announced at the original meeting. Any adjourned meeting shall be duly constituted if held in accordance with the terms of the adjournment and a quorum is present thereat. The directors who formed a quorum at the original meeting are not required to form the quorum at the adjourned meeting. If there is no quorum present at the adjourned meeting, the original meeting shall be deemed to have terminated forthwith after its adjournment. Any business may be brought before or dealt with at the adjourned meeting which might have been brought before or dealt with at the original meeting in accordance with the notice calling the same.

9. Quorum and Voting. Subject to the articles, a majority of the number of directors constitutes a quorum at any meeting of directors and, notwithstanding any vacancy among the directors, and subject to the Act, a quorum of directors may exercise all the powers of the directors. Questions arising at any meeting of directors shall be decided by a majority of votes. In the case of an equality of votes, the chairman of the meeting shall not have a second or casting vote.

10. Resolution in Lieu of Meeting. Subject to the articles, a resolution in writing, signed by all the directors entitled to vote on that resolution at a meeting of directors or committee of directors, is as valid as if it had been passed at a meeting of directors or committee of directors. A resolution in writing dealing with all matters required by the Act or this by-law to be dealt with at a meeting of directors, and signed by all the directors entitled to vote at that meeting, satisfies all the requirements of the Act and this by-law relating to meetings of directors. A resolution may be signed in counterparts and will be effective as of the date stated therein.

Committees of Directors

11. The directors may from time to time appoint from their number a managing director, who must be a resident Canadian, or a committee of directors, at least 25% of whom shall be resident Canadians, and may delegate to the managing director or such committee any of the powers of the directors, except that no managing director or committee shall have the authority to:

- (a) submit to the shareholders any question or matter requiring the approval of the shareholders;
- (b) fill a vacancy among the directors or in the office of auditor;
- (c) appoint additional directors;
- (d) issue securities except in the manner and on the terms authorized by the directors;
- (e) declare dividends;
- (f) purchase, redeem or otherwise acquire shares issued by the Corporation, except in the manner and on the terms authorized by the directors;
- (g) pay a commission referred to in section 42 of the Act;
- (h) approve a management proxy circular;
- (i) approve any annual financial statements to be placed before the shareholders of the Corporation; or
- (j) adopt, amend or repeal by-laws of the Corporation.

Remuneration of Directors, Officers and Employees

12. Subject to the articles, the directors of the Corporation may fix the remuneration of the directors, officers and employees of the Corporation. Any remuneration paid to a director of the Corporation shall be in addition to the salary paid to such director in his or her capacity as an officer or employee of the Corporation. The directors may also by resolution award special remuneration to any director in undertaking any special services on the Corporation's behalf. The directors, officers and employees shall also be entitled to be paid their travelling and other expenses properly incurred by them in connection with the affairs of the Corporation.

Conflict of Interest

13. A director or officer of the Corporation who is a party to a material contract or material transaction or proposed material contract or proposed material transaction with the Corporation, or is a director or an officer or has a material interest in any person who is a party to a material contract or proposed material contract or material transaction or proposed material transaction with the Corporation, shall disclose the nature and extent of his or her interest at the time and in the manner provided in the Act. Except as provided in the Act, no such director of the Corporation shall vote on any resolution to approve such contract or transaction. If a material contract or material transaction is made between the Corporation and one or more of its directors or officers, or between the Corporation and another person of which a director or officer of the Corporation is a director or officer or in which he has a material interest: (i) the contract or transaction is neither void nor voidable by reason only of that relationship, or by reason only that a director with an interest in the contract or transaction is present at or is counted to determine the presence of a quorum at a meeting of directors or committee of directors that authorized the contract or transaction; and (ii) a director or officer or former director or officer of the Corporation to whom a profit accrues as a result of the making of the contract is not liable to account to the Corporation for that profit by reason only of holding office as a director or officer, if the director or officer disclosed his or her interest in accordance with the provisions of the Act and the contract was approved by the directors or the shareholders and it was reasonable and fair to the Corporation at the time it was approved.

14. Even if the above conditions are not met, a director or officer acting honestly and in good faith shall not be accountable to the Corporation or to its shareholders for any profit realized from a material contract or material transaction for which disclosure is required by the Act, and such contract or transaction shall not be void or voidable by reason only of the director or officer's interest therein, provided that the material contract or material transaction was approved or confirmed by special resolution at a meeting of the shareholders, disclosure of the interest was made to the shareholders in a manner sufficient to indicate its nature before such contract or transaction was approved or confirmed, and such contract or transaction was reasonable and fair to the Corporation at the time it was approved or confirmed.

For the Protection of Directors and Officers

15. No director or officer of the Corporation shall be liable to the Corporation for the acts, receipts, neglects or defaults of any other director or officer or employee or for joining in any receipt or act for conformity or for any loss, damage or expense happening to the Corporation through the insufficiency or deficiency of title to any property acquired by the Corporation or for or on behalf of the Corporation or for the insufficiency or deficiency of any security in or upon which any of the monies of or belonging to the Corporation shall be placed out or invested or for any loss or damage arising from the bankruptcy, insolvency or tortious act of any person, firm or corporation including any person, firm or corporation with whom or which any monies, securities or effects shall be lodged or deposited or for any loss, conversion, misapplication or misappropriation of or any damage resulting from any dealings with any monies, securities or other assets belonging to the Corporation or for any other loss, damage or misfortune whatever which may happen in the execution of the duties of his or her respective office of trust or in relation thereto, unless the same shall happen by or through his or her failure to exercise the powers and to discharge the duties of his or her office honestly, in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Corporation, and in connection therewith to exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances, provided that nothing herein contained shall relieve a director or officer from the duty to act in accordance with the Act or relieve him or her from liability for a breach of that duty under the Act.

Indemnities to Directors and Others

16. The Corporation shall indemnify a director or officer of the Corporation, a former director or officer of the Corporation or a person who acts or acted at the Corporation's request as a director or officer of a body corporate of which the Corporation is or was a shareholder or creditor, and his or her heirs and legal representatives, against all costs, charges and expenses, to the maximum extent permitted under the Act and may enter into indemnification agreements with each such persons from time to time. Nothing herein contained shall limit the right of any person entitled to indemnity to claim indemnity apart from the provisions of this paragraph 16.

Insurance

17. The Corporation may purchase and maintain insurance for the benefit of any person referred to in paragraph 16 against any liability incurred by him or her:

- (a) in his or her capacity as a director or officer of the Corporation, except where the liability relates to his or her failure to act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Corporation; or
- (b) in his or her capacity as a director or officer of another body corporate where he or she acts or acted in that capacity at the Corporation's request, except where the liability relates to his or her failure to act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the body corporate.

Officers

18. Appointment of Officers. Subject to the articles, the directors may, as often as may be required, appoint a Chairman of the Board and such other officers as they shall deem necessary, including without limitation a Chief Executive Officer, President, Chief Financial Officer, one or more Vice-Presidents and Secretary. The Chief Executive Officer shall have such authority and shall perform such functions and duties as may be prescribed by the directors and any other officers shall have such authority and shall perform such functions and duties as may be prescribed by the directors or the Chief Executive Officer and as are incidental to his or her position. None of such officers (except the Chairman of the Board) need be a director of the Corporation, although a director may be appointed to any office of the Corporation. The directors may from time to time appoint such other employees and agents as they shall deem necessary who shall have such authority and shall perform such functions and duties as may from time to time be prescribed by the directors. The directors may from time to time and subject to the provisions of the Act, vary, add to or limit the duties and powers of any officer, employee or agent.

19. Removal of Officers and Vacation of Office. Subject to the articles, all officers, employees and agents, notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, shall be subject to removal by the directors at any time, with or without cause; provided however that this right of removal shall not limit in any way such officer's right to damages by virtue of any such agreement or any other rights resulting from such removal in law or equity.
20. Chairman of the Board. The Chairman of the Board (if any) shall, if present, preside as chairman at all meetings of the board. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board (if any), the Vice-Chairman (if any) or another director of the Corporation appointed by the directors for such purpose shall preside as chairman at the meeting.
21. Chief Executive Officer. The Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation (except as may otherwise be specified by the board) shall, subject to the direction of the board, exercise general supervision and control over the business and affairs of the Corporation.
22. Secretary. The Secretary shall give or cause to be given notices for all meetings of directors, any committee of directors and shareholders when directed to do so.
23. Duties of Officers may be Delegated. In case of the absence or inability or refusal to act of any officer of the Corporation or for any other reason that the directors may deem sufficient, the directors may delegate all or any of the powers of such officer to any other officer or to any director.

Shareholders' Meetings

24. Annual Meeting. Subject to sections 131 and 132 of the Act, the annual meeting of shareholders shall be held at the registered office of the Corporation or at a place elsewhere within Alberta determined by the directors on such day in each year and at such time as the directors may determine (or outside Alberta, if the articles so provide).
25. Special Meetings. The directors of the Corporation may at any time call a special meeting of shareholders to be held on such day and at such time and, subject to section 131 of the Act, at such place within Alberta as the directors may determine (or outside Alberta, if the articles so provide).
26. Waiver of Notice. Notice of any meeting of shareholders or the time for the giving of any such notice or any irregularity in any meeting or in the notice thereof may be waived by any shareholder, the duly appointed proxy of any shareholder, any director or the auditor of the Corporation in writing or by facsimile, electronic mail or other electronic transmission addressed to the Corporation or in any other manner, and any such waiver may be validly given either before or after the meeting to which such waiver relates. Attendance of a shareholder or any other person entitled to attend a meeting of shareholders is a waiver of notice of such meeting, except when he or she attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the grounds that the meeting is not lawfully called.
27. Chairman of the Meeting. The Chairman of the Board (if any) shall, if present, preside as chairman at all meetings of the shareholders. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board (if any), the Vice-Chairman (if any) or another director of the Corporation appointed by the directors for such purpose shall preside as chairman at the meeting. Failing the designation by the board of another director as chairman of the meeting who is present, the shareholders present entitled to vote shall elect another director as chairman of the meeting, and if no director is present or if all the directors present decline to take the chair, then the shareholders present shall elect one of their number to be chairman.

28. Votes. Votes at meetings of shareholders may be given either personally or by proxy. Every question submitted to any meeting of shareholders shall be decided on a show of hands except when a ballot is required by the chairman of the meeting or is demanded by a shareholder or proxyholder entitled to vote at the meeting. A shareholder or proxyholder may demand a ballot either before or on the declaration of the result of any vote by show of hands. At every meeting at which he or she is entitled to vote, every shareholder present in person and every proxyholder shall have one (1) vote on a show of hands. Upon a ballot at which he or she is entitled to vote every shareholder present in person or by proxy shall (subject to the provisions, if any, of the articles) have one (1) vote for every share for which he or she is entitled to vote. In the case of an equality of votes the chairman of the meeting shall not, either on a show of hands or on a ballot, have a second or casting vote in addition to the vote or votes to which he or she may be entitled as a shareholder or proxyholder.

At any meeting, unless a ballot is demanded by a shareholder or proxyholder entitled to vote at the meeting, a declaration by the chairman of the meeting that a resolution has been carried unanimously or by a particular majority or lost or not carried by a particular majority shall be conclusive evidence of the fact without proof of the number or proportion of votes recorded in favour of or against the resolution.

If at any meeting a ballot is demanded on the election of a chairman or on the question of adjournment or termination, the ballot shall be taken forthwith without adjournment. If a ballot is demanded on any other question or as to the election of directors, the ballot shall be taken in such manner and either at once or later at the meeting or after adjournment as the chairman of the meeting directs. The result of a ballot shall be deemed to be the resolution of the meeting at which the ballot was demanded. A demand for a ballot may be withdrawn.

29. Persons Entitled to be Present. The only persons entitled to be present at a meeting of shareholders shall be:

- (a) those entitled to vote at such meeting;
- (b) the directors, officers and auditors of the Corporation;
- (c) others who, although not entitled to vote, are entitled or required under any provision of the Act, the articles or the by-laws to be present at the meeting;
- (d) legal counsel to the Corporation when invited by the Corporation to attend the meeting; and any other person on the invitation of the chairman of the meeting or with the consent of the meeting.

30. Electronic Participation. With the consent of the chairman of the meeting, a shareholder or any other person entitled to attend a meeting of shareholders may participate in the meeting by electronic means, telephone or other communication facilities that permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear or otherwise communicate with each other and a person participating in such a meeting by those means is deemed for the purposes of the Act and this by-law to be present at the meeting.

If the directors or the shareholders of the Corporation call a meeting of shareholders, the directors or the shareholders, as the case may be, may (with the consent of the chairman of the meeting) determine that the meeting shall be held, in accordance with the regulation to the Act, if any, entirely by electronic means, telephone or other communication facility that permits all participants to communicate adequately with each other during the meeting.

31. Adjournment. The chairman of the meeting may with the consent of the meeting adjourn any meeting of shareholders from time to time to a fixed time and place and if the meeting is adjourned by one or more adjournments for an aggregate of less than thirty (30) days it is not necessary to give notice of the adjourned meeting other than by announcement at the time of an adjournment.

Any adjourned meeting shall be duly constituted if held in accordance with the terms of the adjournment and a quorum is present thereat. The persons who formed a quorum at the original meeting are not required to form the quorum at the adjourned meeting. Any business may be brought before or dealt with at the adjourned meeting which might have been brought before or dealt with at the original meeting in accordance with the notice calling the same.

32. Quorum. Two (2) persons present and holding or representing by proxy one-quarter of the shares entitled to vote at a meeting of shareholders shall be a quorum. If a quorum is present at the opening of a meeting of shareholders, the shareholders present may proceed with the business of the meeting, notwithstanding that a quorum is not present throughout the meeting.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Corporation has only one shareholder, or one shareholder holding a majority of the shares entitled to vote at the meeting, that shareholder present in person or by proxy constitutes a meeting and a quorum for such meeting.

33. Resolution in Lieu of Meeting. A resolution in writing signed by all the shareholders entitled to vote on that resolution is as valid as if it had been passed at a meeting of the shareholders. A resolution in writing dealing with all matters required by the Act or this bylaw to be dealt with at a meeting of shareholders, and signed by all the shareholders entitled to vote at that meeting, satisfies all the requirements of the Act and these by-laws relating to meetings of shareholders.

Shares and Transfers

34. Security Certificates. A security holder is entitled at his or her option to a security certificate that complies with the Act or a non-transferable written acknowledgment of his or her right to obtain a security certificate from the Corporation in respect of the securities of the Corporation held by him or her. Security certificates shall comply with the requirements of the Act and be in such form as the directors may from time to time by resolution approve and such certificates shall be signed by at least one director or officer of the Corporation or by or on behalf of a registrar, transfer agent or branch transfer agent of the Corporation, or by a trustee who certifies it in accordance with a trust indenture.

35. Agent. The directors may from time to time by resolution appoint or remove: (i) one or more trust corporations as its agent or agents to maintain a central securities register or registers; or (ii) an agent or agents to maintain a branch securities register or registers for the Corporation.

36. Dealings with Registered Holder. Subject to the Act, the Corporation may treat the registered owner of a security as the person exclusively entitled to vote, to receive notices, to receive any interest, dividend or other payments in respect of the security, and otherwise to exercise all the rights and powers of an owner of the security.

37. Surrender of Security Certificates. Subject to the Act, no transfer of a security issued by the Corporation shall be registered unless or until the security certificate representing the security to be transferred has been presented for registration or, if no security certificate has been issued by the Corporation in respect of such security, unless or until a duly executed transfer in respect thereof has been presented for registration.

38. Defaced, Destroyed, Stolen or Lost Security Certificates. In case of the defacement, destruction, theft or loss of a security certificate, the fact of such defacement, destruction, theft or loss shall be reported by the owner to the Corporation or to an agent of the Corporation (if any), on behalf of the Corporation, with a statement verified by oath or statutory declaration as to the defacement, destruction, theft or loss and the circumstances concerning the same and with a request for the issuance of a new security certificate to replace the one so defaced, destroyed, stolen or lost. Upon the giving to the Corporation (or if there be an agent, hereinafter in this paragraph referred to as the “Corporation’s agent”, then to the Corporation and the Corporation’s agent) of a bond of a surety company (or other security approved by the directors or by a senior officer of the Corporation) in such form as is approved by the directors or by a senior officer of the Corporation, indemnifying the Corporation (and the Corporation’s agent, if any) against all loss, damage or expense, which the Corporation and/or the Corporation’s agent may suffer or be liable for by reason of the issuance of a new security certificate to such owner, a new security certificate may be issued in replacement of the one defaced, destroyed, stolen or lost, if such issuance is ordered and authorized by a senior officer of the Corporation or by resolution of the directors.

Dividends

39. Dividend Cheques. A dividend payable in cash shall be paid by cheque of the Corporation or of any dividend paying agent appointed by the board, to the order of each registered holder of shares of the class or series in respect of which it has been declared and mailed by prepaid ordinary mail to such registered holder at the shareholder’s recorded address, unless such holder otherwise directs and the Corporation agrees to follow such direction. In the case of joint holders the cheque shall, unless such joint holders otherwise direct and the Corporation agrees to follow such direction, be made payable to the order of all of such joint holders and mailed to them at their recorded address. The mailing of such cheque as aforesaid, unless the same is not paid on due presentation, shall satisfy and discharge the liability for the dividend to the extent of the sum represented thereby plus the amount of any tax which the Corporation is required to and does withhold.

40. Non-receipt of Cheques. In the event of non-receipt of any dividend cheque by the person to whom it is sent as aforesaid, the Corporation shall issue to such person a replacement cheque for a like amount on such terms as to indemnity, reimbursement of expenses and evidence of non-receipt and of title as the board may from time to time prescribe, whether generally or in any particular case.

41. Unclaimed Dividends. Any dividend unclaimed after a period ending on the last business day prior to the third anniversary of the date on which the same has been declared to be payable shall be forfeited and shall revert to the Corporation and shall be deemed to have been transferred to the Corporation on such date.

Voting Securities in Other Bodies Corporate

42. All securities of any other body corporate carrying voting rights held from time to time by the Corporation may be voted at all meetings of shareholders, bondholders, debenture holders or holders of such securities, as the case may be, of such other body corporate and in such manner and by such person or persons as the directors of the Corporation shall from time to time determine and authorize by resolution. The duly authorized signing officers of the Corporation may also from time to time execute and deliver for and on behalf of the Corporation proxies and arrange for the issuance of voting certificates or other evidence of the right to vote in such names as they may determine without the necessity of a resolution or other action by the directors.

Notices, Etc.

43. Service. Any notice or document required by the Act, the articles or the by-laws to be sent to any shareholder or director of the Corporation may be delivered personally to or sent by mail addressed to:

- (a) the shareholder at his or her latest address as shown in the records of the Corporation or its transfer agent; and
- (b) the director at his or her latest address as shown in the records of the Corporation or in the last notice filed under Section 106 or 113 of the Act.

Such notice or document shall be deemed to have been sent on the day of personal delivery or mailing. With respect to every notice or document sent by mail it shall be sufficient to prove that the envelope or wrapper containing the notice or document was properly addressed and put into a post office or into a post office letter box. Notwithstanding the foregoing, and subject to the Act, a notice or document required to be sent or delivered under section 255, 256 or 257 of the Act may be sent by electronic means in accordance with the provisions of the Electronic Transactions Act (Alberta) or any replacement thereof.

44. Failure to Locate Shareholder. If the Corporation sends a notice or document to a shareholder and the notice or document is returned on two consecutive occasions because the shareholder cannot be found, the Corporation is not required to send any further notices or documents to the shareholder until he or she informs the Corporation in writing of his or her new address.

45. Shares Registered in More than One Name. All notices or documents shall, with respect to any shares in the capital of the Corporation registered in more than one name, be sent to whichever of such persons is named first in the records of the Corporation and any notice or document so sent shall be deemed to have been duly sent to all the holders of such shares.

46. Omissions and Errors. Subject to the Act, the accidental omission to give any notice to any shareholder, director, officer, auditor or member of a committee of the board or the non-receipt of any notice by any such person or any error in any notice not affecting the substance thereof shall not invalidate any action taken at any meeting held pursuant to such notice or otherwise founded thereon.

47. Signatures upon Notices. Subject to the Act or other applicable law, the signature of any director or officer of the Corporation upon any notice may be written, stamped, typewritten or printed or partly written, stamped, typewritten or printed.

48. Computation of Time. All computations of time required to be made pursuant to the articles or by-laws of the Corporation shall be made: (i) in accordance with the provisions of the Interpretation Act (Alberta), to the extent such provisions are applicable; and (ii) in any other case, in accordance with the customary meaning ascribed to the words requiring such computation of time.

49. Proof of Service. A certificate of any officer of the Corporation in office at the time of the making of the certificate or of an agent of the Corporation as to facts in relation to the sending of any notice or document to any shareholder, director, officer or auditor or publication of any notice or document shall be conclusive evidence thereof and shall be binding on every shareholder, director, officer or auditor of the Corporation, as the case may be.

Execution of Contracts, Etc.

50. Contracts, documents or instruments in writing requiring the signature of the Corporation may be signed by any two directors or officers or any person or persons authorized by resolution of the directors and all contracts, documents or instruments in writing so signed shall be binding upon the Corporation without any further authorization or formality. The directors may direct any other person or persons on behalf of the Corporation either to sign contracts, documents or instruments in writing generally or to sign specific contracts, documents or instruments in writing.

The corporate seal of the Corporation, if any, may, when required, be affixed by any director or officer to contracts, documents or instruments in writing signed by him or her as aforesaid or by the person or persons directed.

52. Repeal. All previous by-laws of the Corporation are repealed as of the coming into force of this by-law. Such repeal shall not affect the previous operation of any by-law so repealed or affect the validity of any act done or right, privilege, obligation or liability acquired or incurred under, or the validity of any contract or agreement made pursuant to, or the validity of any articles (as defined in the Act) or predecessor charter documents of the Corporation obtained pursuant to, any such bylaw prior to its repeal.

ADVANCE NOTICE BY-LAW

BY-LAW NO. 2

A by-law relating to the advance notice of nominations of directors of (hereinafter referred to as the “Corporation”)

IT IS HEREBY ENACTED as a by-law of the Corporation as follows:

1. Subject only to the provisions of the Business Corporations Act (Alberta) (the “Act”) and the articles of the Corporation, only persons who are nominated in accordance with the following procedures shall be eligible for election as directors of the Corporation. Nominations of persons for election to the board of directors of the Corporation (the “Board”) may be made at any annual meeting of shareholders, or at any special meeting of shareholders if one of the purposes for which the special meeting was called is the election of directors. Such nominations may be made in the following manner:
 - (a) by or at the direction of the Board, including pursuant to a notice of meeting;
 - (b) by or at the direction or request of one or more shareholders of the Corporation pursuant to a proposal made in accordance with the provisions of the Act, or a requisition of a meeting of the shareholders of the Corporation made in accordance with the provisions of the Act; or
 - (c) by any person (a “Nominating Shareholder”) who: (i) at the close of business on the date of the giving by the Nominating Shareholder of the notice provided for below in this by-law and at the close of business on the record date for notice of such meeting, is entered in the securities register of the Corporation as a holder of one or more shares carrying the right to vote at such meeting or who beneficially owns shares that are entitled to be voted at such meeting and provides evidence of such beneficial ownership to the Corporation; and (ii) complies with the notice procedures set forth below in this by-law.
2. In addition to any other requirements under applicable laws, for a nomination to be made by a Nominating Shareholder, the Nominating Shareholder must have given notice thereof that is both timely (in accordance with paragraph 3 below) and in proper written form (in accordance with paragraph 4 below) to the Corporate Secretary of the Corporation at the principal executive offices of the Corporation.

3. To be timely, a Nominating Shareholder's notice to the Corporate Secretary of the Corporation must be made:
- (a) in the case of an annual meeting of shareholders, not less than 30 nor more than 65 days prior to the date of the annual meeting of shareholders; provided, however, that in the event that the annual meeting of shareholders is to be held on a date that is less than 50 days after the date (the "Notice Date") on which the first public announcement of the date of the annual meeting was made, notice by the Nominating Shareholder may be made not later than the close of business on the tenth (10th) day following the Notice Date; and
 - (b) in the case of a special meeting (which is not also an annual meeting) of shareholders called for the purpose of electing directors (whether or not called for other purposes), not later than the close of business on the fifteenth (15th) day following the day on which the first public announcement of the date of the special meeting of shareholders was made.

The time periods for the giving of a Nominating Shareholder's notice set forth above shall in all cases be determined based on the original date of the applicable annual meeting or special meeting of shareholders, and in no event shall any adjournment or postponement of a meeting of shareholders or the announcement thereof commence a new time period for the giving of such notice.

4. To be in proper written form, a Nominating Shareholder's notice to the Corporate Secretary of the Corporation must set forth:
- (a) as to each person whom the Nominating Shareholder proposes to nominate for election as a director: (i) the name, age, business address and residential address of the person; (ii) the principal occupation, business or employment of the person for the most recent five years, and the name and principal business of any company in which any such employment is carried on; (iii) the citizenship of such person; (iv) the number of securities of each class or series of securities in the capital of the Corporation which are owned beneficially or of record by the person or under the control or direction, directly or indirectly, of the person as of the record date for the meeting of shareholders (if such date shall then have been made publicly available and shall have occurred) and as of the date of such notice; (v) such person's written consent to being named in the notice as a nominee and to serving as a director of the Corporation if elected; and (vi) any other information relating to the person that would be required to be disclosed in a dissident's proxy circular in connection with solicitations of proxies for election of directors pursuant to the Act and Applicable Securities Laws (as defined below); and
 - (b) as to the Nominating Shareholder giving the notice: (i) the name and address of such Nominating Shareholder, as they appear on the securities register of the Corporation; (ii) the number of securities of each class or series of securities of the Corporation owned of record and beneficially by, or under the control or direction of, directly or indirectly, such Nominating Shareholder; (iii) full particulars regarding any agreement, arrangement or understanding with respect to the nomination between or among such Nominating Shareholder, any of their respective affiliates or associates, and any others acting jointly or in concert with any of the foregoing, including the nominee; (iv) full particulars regarding any agreement, arrangement or understanding (including any derivative or short positions, profit interests, options, warrants, convertible securities, stock appreciation or similar rights, hedging transactions, and borrowed or loaned shares) that has been entered into as of the date of the notice by, or on behalf of, such Nominating Shareholder, whether or not such instrument or right shall be subject to settlement in underlying securities of the Corporation, the effect or intent of which is to mitigate loss to, manage risk or benefit of share price changes for, or increase or decrease the voting power of, such Nominating Shareholder with respect to securities of the Corporation; (v) full particulars regarding any proxy, contract, agreement, arrangement or understanding pursuant to which such Nominating Shareholder has a right to vote or direct or control the voting of any securities of the Corporation; and (vi) any other information relating to such Nominating Shareholder that would be required to be made in a dissident's proxy circular in connection with solicitations of proxies for election of directors pursuant to the Act and Applicable Securities Laws (as defined below).

The Corporation may require any proposed nominee to furnish such other information and documents as may reasonably be required by the Corporation to (i) determine the eligibility of such proposed nominee to serve as an independent director of the Corporation or that could be material to a reasonable shareholder's understanding of the independence and/or qualifications, or lack thereof, of such proposed nominee, or (ii) satisfy the requirements of applicable stock exchange rules.

In addition, a Nominating Shareholder's notice shall be promptly updated and supplemented, if necessary, so that the information provided or required to be provided in such notice shall be true and correct as of the record date for the meeting.

5. No person shall be eligible for election as a director of the Corporation unless nominated in accordance with the provisions of this by-law; provided, however, that nothing in this by-law shall be deemed to preclude discussion by a shareholder (as distinct from the nomination of directors) at a meeting of shareholders of any matter that is properly before such meeting pursuant to the provisions of the Act or the discretion of the Chairperson of the meeting. The Chairperson of the meeting shall have the power and duty to determine whether a nomination was made in accordance with the procedures set forth in the foregoing provisions and, if any proposed nomination is not in compliance with such foregoing provisions, to declare that such defective nomination shall be disregarded.
6. For purposes of this by-law:
 - (a) "public announcement" shall mean disclosure in a press release reported by a national news service in Canada, or in a document publicly filed by the Corporation under its profile on the System of Electronic Document Analysis and Retrieval at www.sedar.com; and

(b) “Applicable Securities Laws” means the applicable securities legislation of each relevant province and territory of Canada, as amended from time to time, the rules, regulations and forms made or promulgated under any such statute and the published national instruments, multilateral instruments, policies, bulletins and notices of the securities commission and similar regulatory authority of each province and territory of Canada.

7. Notwithstanding any other provision of this by-law, notice given to the Corporate Secretary of the Corporation pursuant to this by-law may only be given by personal delivery, facsimile transmission or by email (at such email address as may be stipulated from time to time by the Corporate Secretary of the Corporation for purposes of this notice), and shall be deemed to have been given and made only at the time it is served by personal delivery to the Corporate Secretary at the address of the principal executive offices of the Corporation, email (at the address as aforesaid) or sent by facsimile transmission (provided that receipt of confirmation of such transmission has been received); provided that if such delivery or electronic communication is made on a day which is a not a business day or later than 5:00 p.m. (Calgary time) on a day which is a business day, then such delivery or electronic communication shall be deemed to have been made on the next following day that is a business day.
8. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board may, in its sole discretion, waive any requirement in this by-law.

This By-law No. 2 is passed by the directors of the Corporation in accordance with the provisions of the Act effective as of the 1st day of May, 2013.

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

Re: Registration Statement on Form F-4 of Obsidian Energy Ltd.

We are acting as Canadian tax counsel to Obsidian Energy Ltd. ("Obsidian Energy") in connection with the offer (the "Offer") to exchange for each outstanding common share of Bonterra Energy Corp. two (2) common shares of Obsidian Energy.

We understand that, in connection with the Offer, Obsidian Energy is filing a Registration Statement on Form F-4 (the "Registration Statement") with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Act"). - B. The Parties wish to amend the Credit Agreement on the terms and conditions herein provided.

AGREEMENT:

NOW THEREFORE in consideration of the premises, the covenants and the agreements herein contained, the Parties agree as follows:

1. Definitions. Capitalized terms used in this Seventh Amending Agreement will, unless otherwise defined herein, have the meanings attributed to such terms in the Credit Agreement, as amended hereby (the “Amended Credit Agreement”). In addition, for purposes of this Seventh Amending agreement, the following capitalized terms have the following meanings:

“February 28 Bank Amount” means the Canadian Dollar Exchange Equivalent of the outstanding Aggregate Principal Amount as at February 28, 2020.

“True-Up Payment” means each permanent repayment or prepayment, as the case may be, of the Existing Notes and Aggregate Principal Amount and permanent reductions of the Commitment Amount after the Seventh Amendment Date, whether voluntary or through mandatory application of asset disposition proceeds.

“True-Up Payment Application” means, with respect to each True-Up Payment, the application of such True-Up Payment in the following manner: (a) first, to repay the Aggregate Principal Amount, together with accrued interest thereon, to the extent that the Canadian Dollar Exchange Equivalent of the then outstanding Aggregate Principal Amount exceeds the February 28 Bank Amount, together with a corresponding dollar-for-dollar permanent reduction in the Commitment Amount; and (b) second, on a pro rata basis determined on the basis of the February 28 Bank Amount and the Canadian Dollar Exchange Equivalent of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Existing Notes as at February 28, 2020, to (i) repay the Aggregate Principal Amount, together with accrued interest thereon, together with a corresponding dollar-for-dollar permanent reduction in the Commitment Amount, and (ii) repay the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Existing Notes together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon, in the case of both (i) and (ii) without any make-whole or premium of any kind.

2. Extension. The parties hereto hereby confirm and agree that, as of the Seventh Amendment Date, the Revolving Period is extended to, and therefore the Term Conversion Date shall be, May 31, 2021; provided that:
- (a) on March 4, 2020, the Revolving Period shall end, without further action by the Agent or any of the Lenders, if:
 - (i) the maturity date of all Existing Notes due March 16, 2020, May 29, 2020 and December 2, 2020 shall not be extended to be a date no earlier than November 30, 2021 pursuant to amending agreements to such Existing Notes, each in form and substance satisfactory to the Agent and each of the Lenders, each in their sole and absolute discretion, and the Agent and the Lenders shall have received an officer’s certificate of the Borrower attaching certified true and complete copies of such amending agreements;

- (ii) there have not been amendments to the note purchase agreements governing the outstanding Existing Notes to provide for, and otherwise permit, True-Up Payments in accordance with the True-Up Application, each such amending agreement to the note purchase agreements being in form and substance satisfactory to the Agent and each of the Lenders, each in their sole and absolute discretion, and the Agent and the Lenders shall have received an officer's certificate of the Borrower attaching certified true and complete copies of such amending agreements;
- (iii) any other amendments have been made to the terms of the Existing Notes without the prior written agreement of the Agent and each of the Lenders, each in their sole and absolute discretion;
- (iv) any fee or other compensation is paid or payable to any of the holders of the Existing Notes in respect of the aforementioned extension of the maturity dates thereof in excess (on a proportionate basis) of the extension fee payable to the Lenders, as contemplated herein and the Agent and the Lenders shall have received an officer's certificate of the Borrower certifying the same;
- (v) the Borrower has not concluded and entered into definitive documentation with its landlord, Degi Homburg Harris Limited Partnership (together with its successors and assigns, the "Landlord"), in respect of: (A) a reduction of the net rent payable under the amended and restated lease agreement dated as of April 15, 2008 between the Borrower and the Landlord (as amended and supplemented to the date hereof, the "Office Lease") to an aggregate amount not to exceed (x) Cdn.$10,000,000 per annum for each calendar year from 2020 through to and including 2024 and (y) Cdn.$833,333 in the 2025 calendar year; and (B) an indemnity in respect of the existing subleases of the Office Lease, such definitive documentation in form and substance satisfactory to the Agent and each of the Lenders, each in their sole and absolute discretion, and the Agent and the Lenders shall have received an officer's certificate of the Borrower attaching certified true and complete copies of such definitive documentation; or
- (vi) the Intercreditor Agreement has not been amended to provide for, and otherwise recognize as between the holders of Secured Obligations (under and as defined in the Intercreditor Agreement) True-Up Payments in accordance with the True-Up Application whether prior to or after the occurrence of any Enforcement Action (as defined in the Intercreditor Agreement); provided that, for purposes of section 9(a) of the Intercreditor Agreement such True-Up Application shall amend the distributions contemplated by the paragraph beginning with "SECOND:"; such amending agreement to the Intercreditor Agreement in form and substance satisfactory to the Agent and each of the Lenders, each in their sole and absolute discretion; and

- (b) if any one of the Lenders, in its sole and absolute discretion, provides notice to the Agent and the Borrower in writing on or before June 22, 2020 that the Revolving Period shall end, and therefore the Term Conversion Date shall be, June 30, 2020, then the Revolving Period shall be deemed to end on, and the Term Conversion Date shall be, June 30, 2020 for all purposes hereof and of the other Documents and without the requirement for any step or action whatsoever.

Notwithstanding the foregoing extension set forth in this Section 2 of this Agreement or the definition of “Term Period” set forth in the Credit Agreement, the last day of the Term Period shall be November 30, 2021; provided that, if the Revolving Period shall, at any time, end on or before June 30, 2020 pursuant to the foregoing, then the last day of the Term Period shall be April 1, 2021.

3. May 2020 Borrowing Base Date. The parties hereto hereby agree that the determination of the Borrowing Base that is scheduled to occur by May 31, 2020 in accordance with Section 3.10(b) of the Credit Agreement shall not proceed. The foregoing is neither an affirmation nor redetermination of the current Borrowing Base; however, the previous Borrowing Base of $550,000,000 shall continue to apply for purposes of the limitation on Interest Rate Swap Contracts pursuant to Section 13.2(c)(iii) of the Credit Agreement until the Borrowing Base is redetermined by the Lenders. For certainty, the next scheduled determination of the Borrowing Base is to occur on or before November 30, 2020 in accordance with Section 3.10(b) of the Credit Agreement.
4. Removal of Additional Borrowing Base Determination under Sixth Amending Agreement. Effective as of the Seventh Amendment Date, the Sixth Amending Agreement is hereby amended to delete section 4 thereof in its entirety and to substitute therefor “[Intentionally Removed]”.
5. Additional Borrowing Base Determination. The parties hereto hereby confirm, acknowledge and agree that, in addition to the determinations of the Borrowing Base set forth in Section 3.10(b) of the Credit Agreement, the Lenders may make an additional determination of the Borrowing Base on either:
- (a) March 4, 2020, if the Revolving Period ends thereon; or
- (b) June 30, 2020, if the Revolving Period ends thereon
- (either of the foregoing, an “Additional Borrowing Base Determination”).

The Additional Borrowing Base Determination shall proceed on either March 4, 2020 or June 30, 2020, as the case may be, unless all of the Lenders agree otherwise. The provisions of Section 3.10 of the Credit Agreement shall apply to each Additional Borrowing Base Determination in all respects. For certainty, the Additional Borrowing Base Determinations shall not constitute a Borrowing Base Determination pursuant to Section 3.10(b)(i) of the Credit Agreement.

6. No Obligation to Determine the Borrowing Base. Notwithstanding anything herein, in the Credit Agreement or in the other Documents to the contrary, all of the Lenders may defer or suspend any Borrowing Base Determination (including on or in respect of any Scheduled Borrowing Base Date) otherwise required or contemplated thereby in their sole discretion and shall not be obligated to make any such determination if they have so exercised their discretion.
7. Reductions in Commitment Amount. Notwithstanding anything in the Credit Agreement to the contrary, the parties hereto hereby covenant and agree that on the Seventh Amendment Date, the Commitment Amount shall be permanently reduced to Cdn.$450,000,000. Concurrent with such reduction, a corresponding pro rata permanent reduction shall be made in the Individual Commitment Amount of each Lender. Any such pro rata reduction by RBC shall be applied first as against its Individual Syndicated Facility Commitment Amount. Schedule B to the Credit Agreement is hereby deleted in its entirety and replaced with Schedule A attached hereto, inter alia, to provide that the Syndicated Facility Commitment of each Lender shall be the amount set forth opposite its name on such new Schedule B.
8. Prepayments of Existing Notes and Aggregate Principal Amount. Notwithstanding any provision in the Credit Agreement or any other Document to the contrary, any amount required to be applied by the Borrower or any Subsidiary thereof for permanent repayments or prepayments, as the case may be, of the Aggregate Principal Amount under the Credit Facilities and permanent reductions of the Commitment Amount after the Seventh Amendment Date, whether voluntary or through mandatory application of asset disposition proceeds, shall be a True-Up Payment and shall be made to the Administrative Agent and/or the applicable holders of the Existing Notes, as the case may be, in accordance with the True-Up Application, and, for certainty, any such repayment or prepayment of the Aggregate Principal Amount shall result in an automatic and corresponding dollar-for-dollar permanent reduction in the Commitment Amount.
9. Restrictions on Drawdowns of, Rollovers of, and Conversions into Bankers' Acceptances.
- (a) From and after the Seventh Amendment Date and notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the Credit Agreement, the Borrower shall not request, and the Borrower shall not be entitled to make, have or effect:
- (i) any Advances by way of Bankers' Acceptances (or BA Equivalent Loans);
 - (ii) any Rollover of any outstanding Bankers' Acceptances (or BA Equivalent Loans); and
 - (iii) any Conversion of any outstanding Advances into a Bankers' Acceptance (or BA Equivalent Loan),
- in each of the foregoing cases, which have a term to maturity of more than 1 month.

- (b) Notwithstanding any provision in the Credit Agreement to the contrary, Bankers' Acceptances and BA Equivalent Loans shall only be available during the Revolving Period and shall not be available during the Term Period; and, from and after the Term Conversion Date, any outstanding Bankers' Acceptances and BA Equivalent Loans shall, upon maturity date thereof, be automatically converted into Canadian Prime Rate Loans.

10. Amendments to Credit Agreement. Effective as of the Seventh Amendment Date, the Credit Agreement is hereby amended as follows:

- (a) Section 3.10(b)(ii) of the Credit Agreement is hereby amended by deleting "exceeds 5% of the then applicable Borrowing Base" and substituting therefor "exceeds the Threshold Amount".

- (b) Section 13.1(e)(x) of the Credit Agreement is hereby amended by adding the following new paragraph to the end thereof:

[REDACTED]

- (c) Section 13.2 of the Credit Agreement is hereby amended by adding the following new subparagraph (p) immediately following the existing subparagraph (o) thereof, as follows:

"(p) No Acquisition of Petroleum and Natural Gas Rights. The Borrower will not, and will not permit any of its Subsidiaries to, without the prior written consent of the Majority Lenders, purchase, acquire, lease, have assigned to any of them, assume the obligations in respect of, or be granted or have created in favour of any of them any in rem right or interest in, to or against, any P&NG Rights, by whatever means effected, other than those existing as of the date hereof and other than: (a) pursuant to binding obligations of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries existing prior to February 12, 2020; or (b) the purchase, acquisition, leasing, assignment, assumption, granting, creation of P&NG Rights which have, in the aggregate, uninflated and undiscounted asset retirement obligations associated therewith of less than Cdn. $5,000,000."

- (d) The definition of "Threshold Amount" in Schedule A of the Credit Agreement is hereby deleted in its entirety and the following is substituted therefor.

"Threshold Amount" means Cdn.$15,000,000 or the Canadian Dollar Exchange Equivalent thereof in any other currency; provided that, with respect to the determination of the Threshold Amount referred to (a) in Section 3.10(b)(ii) and (b) under subparagraph (d) of the definition of Permitted Dispositions, the aggregate amount thereunder shall be reset to zero as at February 28, 2020.

11. Additional Events of Default. In addition to and without derogating from, limiting or otherwise affecting in any manner the other provisions of the Credit Agreement, the parties hereto agree that if there is a breach or failure by the Borrower to comply with or perform its obligations under Section 13(b) of this Seventh Amending Agreement, then such breach or failure shall constitute, and shall be deemed to constitute, an immediate Event of Default under the Credit Agreement and the other Documents for all purposes thereof.

12. Conditions Precedent. This Seventh Amending Agreement is only effective upon and is subject to the satisfaction of the following conditions precedent:
- (a) the accuracy and completeness in all respects of the Borrower's representations and warranties in Section 14 hereof; and
 - (b) payment to the Agent (on behalf of the Lenders) of the fee required pursuant to Section 13(a) hereof.
- The foregoing conditions precedent are for the sole benefit of the Agent and the Lenders and may be waived, in whole or in part and with or without further conditions, in the sole discretion of the Agent and the Lenders.
13. Fees. The Borrower agrees to pay to the Agent, on account of the Lenders, the following extension fees in connection with the extension of the Revolving Period contemplated hereby:
- (a) a fee being in an amount in Canadian Dollars equal to [REDACTED] bps of the Commitment Amount, payable concurrently with the execution and delivery of this Seventh Amending Agreement; and
 - (b) a fee being in an amount in Canadian Dollars equal to [REDACTED] bps of the Commitment Amount (for certainty, as in effect as at the Seventh Amendment Date), payable on June 30, 2020 unless the Lenders have elected to end the Revolving Period on or prior to June 30, 2020.
14. Representations and Warranties. To confirm each Lender's understanding concerning the Borrower and its business, properties and obligations, and to induce the Agent and each Lender to enter into this Seventh Amending Agreement, the Borrower hereby reaffirms to the Agent and each Lender that, as of the Seventh Amendment Date, its representations and warranties contained in Section 12.1 of the Credit Agreement, as amended by this Seventh Amending Agreement, and except to the extent such representations and warranties relate solely to an earlier date, are true and correct in all material respects and additionally represents and warrants as follows on the Seventh Amendment Date:

 - (A) its constating documents, by-laws, any resolution of its Directors or any shareholders' or partnership agreement in respect of the Borrower;
 - (B) any agreement or document to which it is a party or by which any of its property is bound; or
 - (C) any applicable Law;
 - (c) the Credit Agreement, as amended by this Seventh Amending Agreement, constitutes a valid and binding obligation of the Borrower, and is enforceable against the Borrower in accordance with the terms thereof, except to the extent that enforceability may be limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, or similar statutes affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally and by general principles of equity; and
 - (d) no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing.
15. Continuing Effect. Each of the parties hereto acknowledges and agrees that the Amended Credit Agreement and all other documents entered into in connection therewith, will be and continue in full force and effect and are hereby confirmed and the rights and obligations of all parties thereunder will not be affected or prejudiced in any manner except as specifically provided herein. The Borrower hereby further acknowledges and agrees that all Security granted by it to the Agent for its own benefit and on behalf of the Lender Secured Parties and others in connection with the Credit Agreement and any other documents executed and delivered pursuant thereto or in connection therewith, including confirmations and acknowledgements thereof, continue in full force and effect, without in any way impairing or derogating from any of the mortgages, pledges, charges, assignments, security interests and covenants therein contained or thereby constituted, as continuing security for all indebtedness, liabilities and other obligations of the Borrower under the Amended Credit Agreement and each other Document to which it is a party.
16. Expenses. The Borrower will pay or reimburse the Agent and the Lenders, as applicable, for the reasonable out of pocket expenses, including reasonable legal fees and disbursements (on a solicitor and his own client full indemnity basis) and enforcement costs, incurred by the Agent and the Lenders, as applicable, in connection with the negotiation, preparation, execution and maintenance of the Amended Credit Agreement and of this Seventh Amending Agreement.

AGREEMENT:

NOW THEREFORE in consideration of the premises, the covenants and the agreements herein contained, the Parties agree as follows:

1. Definitions. Capitalized terms used in this Tenth Amending Agreement will, unless otherwise defined herein, have the meanings attributed to such terms in the Credit Agreement, as amended hereby (the “Amended Credit Agreement”). In addition, for purposes of this Tenth Amending agreement, the following capitalized terms have the following meanings:

“Control” has the meaning attributed to it in the Intercreditor Agreement.

“Consensual Transaction” means a transaction, whether by amalgamation, merger or otherwise, consented to by the holders of all outstanding Existing Notes, that is consummated outside a Bankruptcy or Insolvency (including, without limitation, a proceeding under the Companies’ Creditors Arrangement Act (Canada), the Canada Business Corporations Act or the Business Corporations Act (Alberta)) and results in (a) a transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries to a Person or Persons or (b) Control of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries being transferred to a Person or Persons.

“Crystalized Make-Whole Amount” has the meaning attributed to it in the Intercreditor Agreement.

“New Hedging Obligations” means, collectively, all of the obligations, indebtedness and liabilities (present or future, absolute or contingent, mature or not) of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries under, pursuant or relating to any and all Hedging Agreements (under and as defined in the Intercreditor Agreement) entered into between a Hedge Provider (under and as defined in the Intercreditor Agreement) and the Borrower or a Subsidiary thereof from and after February 28, 2020.

“Noteholder Protective Claim Amounts” [REDACTED].

“Percentage Share” means:

- (a) as to the Aggregate Noteholder Principal Amount, the share of such amount as a percentage of the sum of: (i) the Aggregate Noteholder Principal Amount; and (ii) the Canadian Dollar Exchange Equivalent of the Aggregate Principal Amount; and
- (b) as to the Aggregate Principal Amount, the share of such amount as a percentage of the sum of: (i) the Aggregate Noteholder Principal Amount; and (ii) the Canadian Dollar Exchange Equivalent of the Aggregate Principal Amount.

13.3 Financial Covenants

While any Obligations under the Credit Facilities are outstanding or any Accommodation under the Credit Facilities remains available:

- (b) Definitions. Solely for the purposes of this Section 13.3 and the calculation of the financial covenants described in paragraph (a) above, “Consolidated Total Capitalization” and “Consolidated Total Debt”, shall have the meanings ascribed thereto in the note purchase agreements governing the Existing Notes as at March 27, 2020.”
- (d) The definition of “Permitted Distribution” in Schedule A of the Credit Agreement is hereby deleted in its entirety and the following new definition is substituted therefor:

4. Extension. The parties hereto hereby confirm and agree that, as of the Tenth Amendment Date, the Revolving Period is extended to, and therefore the Term Conversion Date shall be, May 31, 2021; provided that:
- (a) on March 31, 2020, the Revolving Period shall end, without further action by the Agent or any of the Lenders if the Borrower has not concluded and entered into definitive documentation with its landlord, Degi Homburg Harris Limited Partnership (together with its successors and assigns, the “Landlord”), in respect of: (A) a reduction of the net rent payable under the amended and restated lease agreement dated as of April 15, 2008 between the Borrower and the Landlord (as amended and supplemented to the date hereof, the “Office Lease”) to an aggregate amount not to exceed [REDACTED] and (B) an indemnity in respect of the existing subleases of the Office Lease, such definitive documentation in form and substance satisfactory to the Agent and each of the Lenders, each in their sole and absolute discretion, and the Agent and the Lenders shall have received an officer’s certificate of the Borrower attaching certified true and complete copies of such definitive documentation; and
- (b) if any one of the Lenders, in its sole and absolute discretion, provides notice to the Agent and the Borrower in writing on or before June 22, 2020 that the Revolving Period shall end, and therefore the Term Conversion Date shall be, June 30, 2020, then the Revolving Period shall be deemed to end on, and the Term Conversion Date shall be, June 30, 2020 for all purposes hereof and of the other Documents and without the requirement for any step or action whatsoever.

Notwithstanding the foregoing extension set forth in this Section 4 of this Agreement or the definition of “Term Period” set forth in the Credit Agreement, the last day of the Term Period shall be November 30, 2021; provided that, if the Revolving Period shall, at any time, end on or before June 30, 2020 pursuant to the foregoing, then the last day of the Term Period shall be April 1, 2021.

5. Prepayments of Existing Notes and Aggregate Principal Amount. Notwithstanding any provision in the Credit Agreement or any other Document to the contrary, any amount be applied by the Borrower or any Subsidiary thereof for permanent repayments or prepayments, as the case may be, of the Aggregate Principal Amount and permanent reductions of the Commitment Amount after February 28, 2020, whether voluntary or through mandatory application of asset disposition proceeds or enforcement of obligations as a result of a Bankruptcy or Insolvency, shall be a True-Up Payment and shall be made to the Agent and/or the holders of the Existing Notes, as the case may be, in accordance with the True-Up Payment Application, and, for certainty, any such repayment or prepayment of the Aggregate Principal Amount shall result in an automatic and corresponding dollar-for-dollar permanent reduction in the Commitment Amount. For greater certainty, any voluntary repayment of the Aggregate Principal Amount in the ordinary course of business, as part of the revolving nature of the Credit Facilities, shall not result in a permanent reduction of the Commitment Amount.

6. Conditions Precedent. This Tenth Amending Agreement is only effective upon and is subject to the satisfaction of the following conditions precedent:

- (a) the accuracy and completeness in all respects of the Borrower's representations and warranties in Section 14 hereof; and
- (b) there shall have been amendments and restatements to the Note Purchase Agreements to:

 - (iii) provide for a reporting notice with respect to the resignation or replacement of auditors of the Borrower;
 - (iv) provide for the revision of the definition of "Remaining Average Life" therein to provide that the number of years for which Remaining Average Life is to be calculated is calculated to two decimal places rather than the nearest one-twelfth year; and
 - (v) such other amendments as are: (x) expressly contemplated by the Note Purchase Agreements amendment agreement dated as of March 13, 2020, a certified copy of which had been previously delivered to the Agent and the Lenders on March 13, 2020; (y) administrative in nature and acceptable to Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP, as counsel to the Agent and the Lenders; and (z) made to conform the Note Purchase Agreements to the covenants set forth in the Credit Agreement (including as contemplated to be amended hereby),in each case, pursuant to amending agreements to the Note Purchase Agreements, each in form and substance satisfactory to the Agent and each of the Lenders, each in their sole and absolute discretion, and the Agent and the Lenders shall have received an officer's certificate of the Borrower attaching certified true and complete copies of such amending agreements;
- (c) there shall not have been any amendments to the Note Purchase Agreements other than as expressly contemplated by Section 6(b) above, and the Agent and the Lenders shall have received an officer's certificate of the Borrower attaching certified true and complete copies of such amending agreements;

- (d) the Intercreditor Agreement shall, concurrently with the effectiveness of this Tenth Amending Agreement, have been amended and restated to provide for, and otherwise recognize as between the holders of Secured Obligations (under and as defined in the Intercreditor Agreement) True-Up Payments in accordance with the True-Up Payment Application whether prior to or after the occurrence of any Enforcement Action (as defined in the Intercreditor Agreement); including, for certainty and for purposes of section 9(a) of the Intercreditor Agreement, a restatement of clause "FOURTH" thereof to reflect subparagraph (b) of the definition of True-Up Application, such amending agreement to the Intercreditor Agreement in form and substance satisfactory to the Agent and each of the Lenders, each in their sole and absolute discretion; and

The foregoing conditions precedent are for the sole benefit of the Agent and the Lenders and may be waived, in whole or in part and with or without further conditions, in the sole discretion of the Agent and the Lenders.

7. Representations and Warranties. To confirm each Lender's understanding concerning the Borrower and its business, properties and obligations, and to induce the Agent and each Lender to enter into this Tenth Amending Agreement, the Borrower hereby reaffirms to the Agent and each Lender that, as of the Tenth Amendment Date, its representations and warranties contained in Section 12.1 of the Credit Agreement, as amended by this Tenth Amending Agreement, and except to the extent such representations and warranties relate solely to an earlier date, are true and correct in all material respects and additionally represents and warrants as follows on the Tenth Amendment Date:

- (d) no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing.
8. Continuing Effect. Each of the parties hereto acknowledges and agrees that the Amended Credit Agreement (including the Seventh Amending Agreement) and all other documents entered into in connection therewith, will be and continue in full force and effect and are hereby confirmed and the rights and obligations of all parties thereunder will not be affected or prejudiced in any manner except as specifically provided herein. The Borrower hereby further acknowledges and agrees that all Security granted by it to the Agent for its own benefit and on behalf of the Lender Secured Parties and others in connection with the Credit Agreement (including the Seventh Amending Agreement) and any other documents executed and delivered pursuant thereto or in connection therewith, including confirmations and acknowledgements thereof, continue in full force and effect, without in any way impairing or derogating from any of the mortgages, pledges, charges, assignments, security interests and covenants therein contained or thereby constituted, as continuing security for all indebtedness, liabilities and other obligations of the Borrower under the Amended Credit Agreement and each other Document to which it is a party.

- B. The Parties wish to amend the Credit Agreement, the Seventh Amending Agreement and the Tenth Amending Agreement on the terms and conditions herein provided.

AGREEMENT:

NOW THEREFORE in consideration of the premises, the covenants and the agreements herein contained, the Parties agree as follows:

1. Definitions. Capitalized terms used in this Eleventh Amending Agreement will, unless otherwise defined herein, have the meanings attributed to such terms in the Credit Agreement, as amended hereby (the “Amended Credit Agreement”). In addition, for purposes of this Eleventh Amending Agreement, the following capitalized terms have the following meanings:
 - “Note Purchase Agreements” means the “Note Agreements” under and as defined in the Intercreditor Agreement.
 - “Permitted NPAs Amendments” means amendments to:
 - (a) section 8.9 of each of the Note Purchase Agreements to provide for the following: [REDACTED] and
 - (b) section 7.1(n) of each of the Note Purchase Agreements to delete “June 2020” where it appears in such section and to substitute “September 2020” therefor.
2. Amendments to Seventh Amending Agreement and Tenth Amending Agreement. Effective as of the Eleventh Amendment Date, the Seventh Amending Agreement and the Tenth Amending Agreement are hereby amended as follows:
 - (a) Section 4 of the Tenth Amending Agreement is hereby deleted in its entirety and “[Intentionally Deleted]” is hereby substituted therefor;
 - (b) Section 13 of the Seventh Amending Agreement is amended by: (i) deleting subparagraph (b) thereof in its entirety; and (b) deleting “; and” where it appears in subparagraph (a) thereof and substituting “.” therefor; and
 - (c) Section 5 of the Seventh Amending Agreement is hereby deleted in its entirety and “[Intentionally Deleted]” is hereby substituted therefor.

Extension. The parties hereto hereby confirm and agree that, as of the Eleventh Amendment Date, the Revolving Period is extended to, and therefore the Term Conversion Date shall be, May 31, 2021; provided that, if any one of the Lenders, in its sole and absolute discretion, provides notice to the Agent and the Borrower in writing on or before September 4, 2020 that the Revolving Period shall end, and therefore the Term Conversion Date shall be, September 15, 2020, then the Revolving Period shall be deemed to end on, and the Term Conversion Date shall be, September 15, 2020 for all purposes hereof and of the other Documents and without the requirement for any step or action whatsoever. Notwithstanding the foregoing extension set forth in this Section 2 of this Agreement or the definition of “Term Period” set forth in the Credit Agreement, the last day of the Term Period shall be November 30, 2021; provided that, if the Revolving Period shall, at any time, end on or before September 15, 2020 pursuant to the foregoing, then the last day of the Term Period shall be April 1, 2021.

3. Additional Borrowing Base Determination. The parties hereto hereby confirm, acknowledge and agree that, in addition to the determinations of the Borrowing Base set forth in Section 3.10(b) of the Credit Agreement, the Lenders may make an additional determination of the Borrowing Base on September 15, 2020, if the Revolving Period ends thereon (the “Additional Borrowing Base Determination”). The Additional Borrowing Base Determination shall proceed on September 15, 2020 unless all of the Lenders agree otherwise. The provisions of Section 3.10 of the Credit Agreement shall apply to each Additional Borrowing Base Determination in all respects. For certainty, the Additional Borrowing Base Determinations shall not constitute a Borrowing Base Determination pursuant to Section 3.10(b)(i) of the Credit Agreement.
4. Amendments to Credit Agreement. Effective as of the Eleventh Amendment Date, the Credit Agreement is hereby amended as follows:
- Extension of Requirement to Offer Monthly Meetings re: Sale and Recapitalization Process
- (a) Section 13.1(e)(x) of the Credit Agreement is hereby amended to delete “June 2020” where it appears therein and to substitute “September 2020” therefor;
- LIBOR Replacement Amendments
- (b) the following new definition is inserted into Schedule A to the Credit Agreement in the applicable alphabetical order:
- “LIBOR Discontinuation Date” has the meaning set out in Section 8.4(a)(i).
- (c) the definition of “LIBOR” contained in Schedule A to the Credit Agreement is hereby amended by deleting each reference therein to “Interest Period” and substituting, in each case, “LIBOR Period” therefor;
- (d) Section 8.4 of the Credit Agreement is hereby deleted in its entirety and the following new Section 8.4 is substituted therefor:
- 8.4 LIBOR Replacement
- (a) If at any time the Agent determines (which determination shall be conclusive, absent manifest error) that:

- (i) the circumstances described in Section 8.3 have arisen and such circumstances are unlikely to be temporary, or that the circumstances described in Section 8.3 have not arisen, but either (A) the applicable supervisor or administrator of LIBOR, or (B) a governmental authority having jurisdiction over the Agent, has made a public statement identifying a specific date after which LIBOR shall no longer be used for determining interest rates for loans (either such date, a “Libor Discontinuation Date”); or
 - (ii) a rate other than LIBOR has become a widely recognized benchmark rate for newly originated loans denominated in U.S. Dollars in the Canadian market, then the Agent and the Borrower shall negotiate in good faith to select a replacement index rate of interest for LIBOR and make such spread adjustments thereto and other related amendments to this Agreement such that, to the extent practicable, the all-in interest rate paid by the Borrower under this Agreement based on the replacement index rate of interest will be substantially equivalent to the all-in interest rate applicable to LIBOR Based Loans made hereunder immediately prior to the LIBOR’s replacement.
- (b) Upon an agreement being reached between the Agent and the Borrower pursuant to clause (a) above, the Agent and the Borrower shall enter into an amendment to this Agreement that gives effect to the replacement index rate of interest, spread adjustments and such other related amendments as may be appropriate in the discretion of the Agent for the implementation and administration of U.S. Dollar loans bearing interest calculated with reference to the replacement index rate of interest. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement (including Section 17.17) or any other Document, such amendment shall become effective at 5:00 p.m. (Calgary time) on the fifth Banking Day after a copy of the amendment is provided to the Lenders and without any further action or consent of any other party to this Agreement, unless the Agent receives, on or before such date and time, a written notice from the Majority Lenders stating that such Lenders object to such amendment.
- (c) Selection of the replacement index rate of interest, spread adjustments, and all other related amendments to this Agreement contemplated by this Section shall give due consideration to the prevailing market practice for: (i) determining a rate of interest applicable to newly originated U.S. Dollar loans made in Canada at such time, and (ii) transitioning existing loans from LIBOR-based interest rates to loans bearing interest calculated with reference to the new reference index rate of interest.

- (d) Until an amendment reflecting the transition to a new reference index rate of interest becomes effective as contemplated by this Section, each Notice of Borrowing, Notice of Conversion or Notice of Rollover with respect to a LIBOR Based Loan shall continue to bear interest calculated with reference to LIBOR; provided that if the Agent determines (which determination shall be conclusive, absent manifest error) that a Libor Discontinuation Date has occurred, then following the Libor Discontinuation Date, until such time as an amending agreement adopting a new reference index rate of interest becomes effective as contemplated by this Section:
 - (i) any Notice of Borrowing requesting an Advance by way of, Notice of Conversion requesting a Conversion into, or Notice of Rollover requesting a Rollover of, LIBOR Based Loans under a Credit Facility shall be deemed to be a request for a U.S. Base Rate Loan in the same principal amount under the same Credit Facility; and
 - (ii) in respect of a maturing LIBOR Based Loan under a Credit Facility, in the event the Borrower fails to give, if applicable, a Notice of Conversion with respect thereto specifying the Conversion of such LIBOR Based Loan on the last day of the applicable LIBOR Period into an Accommodation other than a LIBOR Based Loan (and provided a valid notice of repayment has not been delivered to the Agent in respect thereof), such maturing LIBOR Based Loan shall be converted on the last day of the applicable LIBOR Period into a U.S. Base Rate Loan under the same Credit Facility as if a valid Conversion Notice had been given to the Agent by the Borrower pursuant to the provisions hereof.
- (e) Notwithstanding any other provision of the Agreement, if at any time the replacement index rate of interest agreed upon to replace LIBOR shall be less than zero, it shall be deemed to be zero for the purposes of the Agreement.
- (f) For certainty, upon the occurrence of a Libor Discontinuation Date, the U.S. Base Rate shall be determined without regard to subparagraph (c) of the definition thereof.

CDOR Rate Discontinuance Amendments

- (e) the following new definition is inserted into Schedule A to the Credit Agreement in the applicable alphabetical order:

“CDOR Discontinuation Date” has the meaning set out in Section 9.7(a).
- (f) the definition of “CDOR Rate” contained in Schedule A to the Credit Agreement is hereby deleted in its entirety and the following new definition is substituted therefor:

“CDOR Rate” means, on any day:

- (a) the per annum rate of interest which is the rate determined as being the arithmetic average of the rates applicable to Canadian Dollar bankers’ acceptances having identical issue and comparable maturity dates as the Bankers’ Acceptances proposed to be issued by the Borrower displayed and identified as such on the display referred to as the “Refinitiv Screen Canadian Dollar Offered Rate (CDOR) Page” (or any display substituted therefor) of Reuters Monitor Money Rates Service (or any successor thereto or Affiliate thereof) as at approximately 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time) on such day, or if such day is not a Banking Day, then on the immediately preceding Banking Day (as adjusted by the Agent in good faith after 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time) to reflect any error in a posted rate of interest or in the posted average annual rate of interest); and
- (b) if the rate in subparagraph (a) above does not appear on such “Refinitiv Screen Canadian Dollar Offered Rate (CDOR) Page” or is not otherwise available for any reason, then the CDOR Rate, on any day, shall be the discount rate quoted by the Agent (determined as of 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time) on such day) which would be applicable in respect of an issue of bankers’ acceptances in a comparable amount and with comparable maturity dates to the Bankers’ Acceptances proposed to be issued by the Borrower on such day, or if such day is not a Banking Day, then on the immediately preceding Banking Day, provided that, if the CDOR Rate would otherwise be less than zero, the CDOR Rate shall instead be deemed for all purposes of this Agreement to be zero.

- (g) the Credit Agreement is hereby amended by adding the following new Section 9.7 thereto, immediately following the existing Section 9.6 of the Credit Agreement, as follows:

9.7 CDOR Rate Discontinuance

- (a) If at any time the Agent determines (which determination shall be conclusive, absent manifest error) that:
 - (i) an interest rate or discount rate is not ascertainable in subparagraph (a) of the definition of “CDOR Rate” (for the purposes of this Section 9.7, “CDOR”) and the inability to ascertain such rate is unlikely to be temporary;

- (ii) the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of CDOR, the Bank of Canada, an insolvency official with jurisdiction over the administrator of CDOR, a resolution authority with jurisdiction over the administrator of CDOR, or a court or an entity with similar insolvency or resolution authority over the administrator of CDOR, has made a public statement, or published information, stating that the administrator of CDOR, has ceased or will cease to provide CDOR, permanently or indefinitely on a specific date; provided that, at that time, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide CDOR; or
- (iii) the administrator of CDOR or a governmental authority having jurisdiction over the Agent or the administrator of CDOR has made a public statement identifying a specific date after which CDOR shall no longer be made available, or used for determining the interest rate of loans or the discount rates for bankers' acceptances; provided that, at that time, there is no successor administrator that will continue to provide CDOR

(the date of determination or such specific date in the foregoing subparagraphs (i) through (iii), the "CDOR Discontinuation Date"); or

- (iv) a rate other than CDOR has become a widely recognized benchmark rate to determine the discount rate for Bankers' Acceptances in the Canadian market, then the Agent and the Borrower shall negotiate in good faith to select a replacement index rate for CDOR and make such spread adjustments thereto and other related amendments to this Agreement that shall give due consideration to the prevailing market practice for: (x) determining a rate of interest applicable to newly originated Canadian Dollar loans made in Canada at such time and for determining the discount rate for Canadian Dollar bankers' acceptances issued and accepted in Canada at such time, and (y) transitioning existing loans and bankers' acceptances from CDOR-based rates to loans bearing interest and bankers' acceptances with discount rates calculated with reference to the new reference index rate; provided that, to the extent reasonably practicable, the all-in rate paid by the Borrower under this Agreement based on such replacement index rate will be substantially equivalent to the all-in rate applicable to Bankers' Acceptances and BA Equivalent Loans made hereunder prior to the replacement of CDOR (excluding, for certainty, any differences resulting from changes to the Applicable Pricing Rate as a result of the fluctuation of the First Lien Debt to EBITDA Ratio).

- (b) Upon an agreement being reached between the Agent and the Borrower pursuant to the immediately preceding paragraph, the Agent and the Borrower shall enter into an amendment to this Agreement that gives effect to the replacement index rate, adjustments to the Applicable Pricing Rate and such other related amendments as may be appropriate in the discretion of the Agent, acting reasonably, for the implementation and administration of Canadian Dollar loans bearing interest or bankers' acceptances with discount rates calculated with reference to the replacement index rate. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement (including Section 17.17) or any other Document, such amendment shall become effective at 5:00 p.m. (Calgary time) on the fifth Banking Day after a copy of the amendment is provided to the Lenders and without any further action or consent of any other party to this Agreement, unless the Agent receives, on or before such date and time, a written notice from a Lender stating that such Lender objects to such amendment; provided that, if such replacement index rate agreed upon to replace CDOR shall be less than zero, it shall be deemed to be zero for the purposes of this Agreement.
- (c) Until an amendment reflecting the transition to a new reference index rate becomes effective as contemplated by this Section, the discount rate applicable to each Drawdown, Conversion or Rollover of a Bankers' Acceptance or a BA Equivalent Loan shall continue to be calculated with reference to CDOR; provided that if the Agent determines (which determination shall be conclusive, absent manifest error) that a CDOR Discontinuation Date has occurred, then following the CDOR Discontinuation Date, until such time as an amending agreement adopting such a new reference index rate becomes effective as contemplated by this Section:
- (i) any requested Drawdown by way of, Conversion into, or Rollover of, a Bankers' Acceptance or a BA Equivalent Loan under a Credit Facility shall be deemed to be a request for a Canadian Prime Rate Loan in the same principal amount under the same Credit Facility; and

- (ii) in respect of a maturing Bankers' Acceptance or a BA Equivalent Loan under a Credit Facility, in the event the Borrower fails to give, if applicable, a Notice of Conversion with respect thereto specifying the Conversion of such Bankers' Acceptance or BA Equivalent Loan (on the maturity date thereof) into an Accommodation other than a Bankers' Acceptance or a BA Equivalent Loan (and provided a valid notice of repayment has not been delivered to the Agent in respect thereof), such maturing Bankers' Acceptance or BA Equivalent Loan shall be converted on the maturity date thereof into a Canadian Prime Rate Loan under the same Credit Facility as if a valid Notice of Conversion had been given to the Agent by the Borrower pursuant to the provisions hereof.
- (d) For certainty, upon the occurrence of a CDOR Discontinuation Date, the Canadian Prime Rate shall be determined without regard to subparagraph (b) of the definition thereof.

- (c) LIBOR for a period of 1 month on such day (or in respect of any day that is not a Banking Day, such LIBOR in effect on the immediately preceding Banking Day) plus 1.00% per annum,

 - (A) its constating documents, by-laws, any resolution of its Directors or any shareholders' or partnership agreement in respect of the Borrower;
 - (B) any agreement or document to which it is a party or by which any of its property is bound; or

- (d) no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing.
8. Continuing Effect. Each of the parties hereto acknowledges and agrees that the Amended Credit Agreement and all other documents entered into in connection therewith, will be and continue in full force and effect and are hereby confirmed and the rights and obligations of all parties thereunder will not be affected or prejudiced in any manner except as specifically provided herein. The Borrower hereby further acknowledges and agrees that all Security granted by it to the Agent for its own benefit and on behalf of the Lender Secured Parties and others in connection with the Credit Agreement and any other documents executed and delivered pursuant thereto or in connection therewith, including confirmations and acknowledgements thereof, continue in full force and effect, without in any way impairing or derogating from any of the mortgages, pledges, charges, assignments, security interests and covenants therein contained or thereby constituted, as continuing security for all indebtedness, liabilities and other obligations of the Borrower under the Amended Credit Agreement and each other Document to which it is a party.

Each Purchaser severally represents that it is purchasing the Notes for its own account or for one or more separate accounts maintained by such Purchaser or for the account of one or more pension or trust funds, for investment purposes, and not with a view to the distribution thereof, provided that the disposition of such Purchaser's or their property shall at all times be within such Purchaser's or their control. Each Purchaser understands that the Notes have not been registered under the Securities Act and that the distribution of the Notes has not been qualified by a prospectus under Canadian federal or provincial securities laws and may be transferred or resold (including by pledge or hypothecation) only if registered pursuant to the provisions of the Securities Act and a valid qualification under applicable state or provincial securities or "blue sky" laws, or if an exemption from registration or qualification is available, except under circumstances where neither such registration nor such an exemption is required by law, and may be transferred or resold (including by pledge or hypothecation) in Canada only in compliance with applicable Canadian federal and provincial securities laws, and that the Company is not required to register the Notes or qualify their distribution in the United States or Canada. Such Purchaser is knowledgeable, sophisticated and experienced in business and financial matters; it has previously invested in securities similar to the Notes (but issued by other Persons); and it (or, if it is purchasing for a managed account, such account on behalf of which such Purchaser is acting) is able to bear the economic risk of its investment in the Notes and is presently able to afford the complete loss of such investment; it (or, if it is purchasing for a managed account, such account on behalf of which such Purchaser is acting) is a resident of Canada, was offered the Notes in Canada and executed this Agreement in Canada, or is an Institutional Accredited Investor; and it acknowledges it has been afforded sufficient access to information about the Trust and its Subsidiaries and their financial condition and business sufficient to enable it to evaluate its investment in the Notes.

If such Purchaser is a resident of Canada:

(a) it is purchasing the Notes as principal or for accounts on behalf of which its purchase is deemed to be as principal under applicable securities legislation, and it is an "accredited investor" as such term is defined in National Instrument 45-106;

(b) it acknowledges that the sale and delivery of the Notes to such Purchaser and (if applicable) to any purchaser on whose behalf such Purchaser is contracting hereunder, is conditional upon such sale being exempt from the prospectus and dealer registration requirements under applicable securities laws in the province of Canada in which such Purchaser is resident;

(c) it acknowledges that the Notes are subject to re-sale restrictions under applicable securities laws, and it has been advised to consult its own legal advisors with respect to applicable re-sale restrictions; and

(d) it will comply with all relevant securities legislation concerning any re-sale of the Notes.

The Purchasers acknowledge that the Notes shall bear a legend substantially in the following form:

THIS SECURITY HAS NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED, OR ANY APPLICABLE STATE SECURITIES LAWS AND HAS NOT BEEN QUALIFIED UNDER ANY APPLICABLE CANADIAN SECURITIES LAWS, AND MAY NOT BE SOLD OR TRANSFERRED WITHOUT COMPLIANCE WITH THE REGISTRATION OR QUALIFICATION PROVISIONS OF APPLICABLE U.S. FEDERAL AND STATE SECURITIES LAWS, CANADIAN SECURITIES LAWS OR APPLICABLE EXEMPTIONS THEREFROM. UNLESS PERMITTED UNDER CANADIAN SECURITIES LEGISLATION, THE HOLDER OF THIS SECURITY MUST NOT TRADE THE SECURITY BEFORE THE DATE THAT IS 4 MONTHS AND A DAY AFTER THE LATER OF (I) MAY 29, 2008, AND (II) THE DATE THE COMPANY BECAME A REPORTING ISSUER IN ANY PROVINCE OR TERRITORY OF CANADA.

Each of the Purchasers and each subsequent holder of any Note, by its acceptance thereof, agrees that no transfer or sale (including by pledge or hypothecation) of Notes by any holder of Notes which is otherwise permitted hereunder, other than a transfer or sale to the Company, shall be effective, unless such transfer or sale is made;

7.2. Officer's Certificate.

Each set of financial statements delivered to a holder of Notes pursuant to Section 7.1(a) or Section 7.1(b) shall be accompanied by a certificate of a Senior Financial Officer setting forth (which, in the case of Electronic Delivery of any such financial statements, shall be by separate and reasonably concurrent delivery of such certificate to each holder of Notes):

(a) Covenant Compliance — the information (including detailed calculations) required in order to establish whether the Company was in compliance with the requirements of Sections 10.5, 10.7, 10.8, 10.12 and 10.13 during the interim or annual period covered by the statements then being furnished (including with respect to each such Section, where applicable, the calculations of the maximum or minimum amount, ratio or percentage, as the case may be, permissible under the terms of such Sections, and the calculation of the amount, ratio or percentage then in existence); and

(b) Event of Default — a statement that such Senior Financial Officer has reviewed the relevant terms hereof and has made, or caused to be made, under his or her supervision, a review of the transactions and conditions of the Company and its Subsidiaries from the beginning of the interim or annual period covered by the statements then being furnished to the date of the certificate and that such review shall not have disclosed the existence during such period of any condition or event that constitutes a Default or an Event of Default or, if any such condition or event existed or exists, specifying the nature and period of existence thereof and what action the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary shall have taken or proposes to take with respect thereto.

7.3. Visitation.

The Company shall permit the representatives of each holder of Notes that is an Institutional Investor:

(a) No Default — if no Default or Event of Default then exists, at the expense of such holder and upon reasonable prior notice to the Company, to visit the principal executive office of the Company, to discuss the affairs, finances and accounts of the Company and its Restricted Subsidiaries with the Company's officers/management, and (with the consent of the Company, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld) the Company's independent public accountants, and (with the consent of the Company, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld) to visit the other offices and properties of the Company and its Restricted Subsidiaries, all at such reasonable times and as often as may be reasonably requested in writing; and

(b) Default — if a Default or Event of Default then exists, at the expense of the Company to visit and inspect any of the offices or properties of the Company and its Restricted Subsidiaries, to examine all their respective books of account, records, reports and other papers, to make copies and extracts therefrom, and to discuss their respective affairs, finances and accounts with their respective officers and independent public accountants (and by this provision the Company, on its own behalf and on behalf of its Restricted Subsidiaries, authorizes said accountants to discuss the affairs, finances and accounts of the Company and its Restricted Subsidiaries), all at such times and as often as may be requested in writing.

7.4. Limitation on Disclosure Obligation.

The Company shall not be required to disclose the following information pursuant to Section 7.1(c), 7.1(r) or 7.3:

(a) information that the Company determines after consultation with counsel qualified to advise on such matters that, notwithstanding the confidentiality requirements of Section 21, it would be prohibited from disclosing by applicable Laws or regulations without making public disclosure thereof; or

(b) information that, notwithstanding the confidentiality requirements of Section 21, the Company is prohibited from disclosing by the terms of an obligation of confidentiality contained in any agreement with any non-Affiliate binding upon the Company and not entered into in contemplation of this clause (b), provided that the Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain consent from the party in whose favor the obligation of confidentiality was made to permit the disclosure of the relevant information and provided further that the Company has received a written opinion of counsel confirming that disclosure of such information without consent from such other contractual party would constitute a breach of such agreement.

Promptly after a request therefor from any holder of Notes that is an Institutional Investor, the Company will provide such holder with a written opinion of counsel (which may be addressed to the Company) relied upon as to any requested information that the Company is prohibited from disclosing to such holder under circumstances described in this Section 7.4.

8. PAYMENT AND PREPAYMENT OF THE NOTES.

8.1. Maturity.

As provided therein, the entire unpaid principal balance of the Notes shall be due and payable on the stated maturity date thereof.

8.2. Optional Prepayments with Make-Whole Amount.

The Company may, at its option, upon notice as provided below, prepay at any time all, or from time to time any part of, the Series G Notes, in an amount not less than 10% of the aggregate principal amount of the Series G Notes then outstanding in the case of a partial prepayment, at 100% of the principal amount so prepaid, and the Series G Make-Whole Amount determined for the prepayment date with respect to such principal amount. The Company will give each holder of the Series G Notes written notice of each optional prepayment under this Section 8.2 not less than 30 days and not more than 60 days prior to the date fixed for such prepayment. Each such notice shall specify such date (which shall be a Business Day), the aggregate principal amount of the Series G Notes to be prepaid on such date, the principal amount of each Series G Note held by such holder to be prepaid (determined in accordance with Section 8.4), and the interest to be paid on the prepayment date with respect to such principal amount being prepaid, and shall be accompanied by a certificate of a Senior Financial Officer as to the estimated Series G Make-Whole Amount due in connection with such prepayment (calculated as if the date of such notice were the date of the prepayment), setting forth the details of such computation. Two Business Days prior to such prepayment, the Company shall deliver to each holder of the Series G Notes a certificate of a Senior Financial Officer specifying the calculation of such Series G Make-Whole Amount as of the specified prepayment date.

8.3. Prepayment for Tax Reasons Without Make-Whole.

If at any time as a result of a Change in Tax Law (as defined below) the Company is or becomes obligated to make any Additional Payments (as defined below) in respect of any payment of interest on account of any of the Notes in an aggregate amount for all affected Notes equal to 5% or more of the aggregate amount of such interest payment on account of all of the Notes, the Company may give the holders of all affected Notes irrevocable written notice (each, a “Tax Prepayment Notice”) of the prepayment of such affected Notes on a specified prepayment date (which shall be a Business Day not less than 30 days nor more than 60 days after the date of such notice) and the circumstances giving rise to the obligation of the Company to make any Additional Payments and the amount thereof and offering to prepay all of the affected Notes on the date of such prepayment at 100% of the principal amount so prepaid together with interest accrued thereon to the date of such prepayment. Each holder of an affected Note that wishes to accept such prepayment in respect of all or any of the affected Notes held by it shall give written notice to that effect to the Company no more than 20 days after receipt of the Tax Prepayment Notice (each, a “Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice”). The form of Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice and a description in reasonable detail of the nature and date of the Change in Tax Law shall accompany the Tax Prepayment Notice. Failure to give a Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice with respect to any affected Note within such 20 day period shall be deemed to be a rejection of the prepayment of such affected Note or affected Notes held by such holder, and shall operate as a permanent waiver of such holder’s right to receive the Additional Payments arising as a result of the circumstances described in the Tax Prepayment Notice in respect of all future payments of interest on such Note or Notes (but not of such holder’s right to receive any Additional Payments that arise out of circumstances not described in the Tax Prepayment Notice or which exceed the amount of the Additional Payment described in the Tax Prepayment Notice), which waiver shall be binding upon all subsequent transferees of such Notes. The principal amount of all Notes that are the subject of a Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice together with interest accrued thereon to the date of such prepayment shall become due and payable on such prepayment date.

No prepayment of the Notes pursuant to this Section 8.3 shall affect the obligation of the Company to pay Additional Payments in respect of any payment made on or prior to the date of such prepayment. For purposes of this Section 8.3, any holder of more than one affected Note may act separately with respect to each affected Note so held (with the effect that a holder of more than one affected Note may accept such offer with respect to one or more affected Notes so held and reject such offer with respect to one or more other affected Notes so held).

The Company may not offer to prepay or prepay Notes pursuant to this Section 8.3 (a) if a Default or Event of Default then exists, (b) until the Company shall have taken commercially reasonable steps to mitigate the requirement to make the related Additional Payments or (c) if the obligation to make such Additional Payments directly results or resulted from actions taken by the Company or any Subsidiary (other than actions required to be taken under applicable Laws), and any Tax Prepayment Notice given pursuant to this Section 8.3 shall certify to the foregoing and describe such mitigation steps, if any.

For purposes of this Section 8.3: “Additional Payments” means additional amounts required to be paid to a holder of any Note pursuant to Section 13 by reason of a Change in Tax Law; and a “Change in Tax Law” means (individually or collectively with one or more prior changes) (i) an amendment to, or change in, any law, treaty, rule or regulation of Canada after the date of the Closing, or an amendment to, or change in, an official interpretation or application of such law, treaty, rule or regulation after the date of the Closing, which amendment or change is in force and continuing and meets the opinion and certification requirements described below or (ii) in the case of any other jurisdiction that becomes a Taxing Jurisdiction after the date of the Original Note Agreement, an amendment to, or change in, any law, treaty, rule or regulation of such jurisdiction, or an amendment to, or change in, an official interpretation or application of such law, treaty, rule or regulation, in any case after such jurisdiction shall have become a Taxing Jurisdiction, which amendment or change is in force and continuing and meets such opinion and certification requirements. No such amendment or change shall constitute a Change in Tax Law unless the same would in the opinion of the Company (which shall be evidenced by an Officer’s Certificate of the Company and supported by a written opinion of counsel having recognized expertise in the field of taxation in the Taxing Jurisdiction, both of which shall be delivered to all holders of the Notes prior to or concurrently with the Tax Prepayment Notice in respect of such Change in Tax Law) affect the deduction or require the withholding of any Tax imposed by such Taxing Jurisdiction on any payment payable on the Notes.

8.4. Allocation of Partial Prepayments.

In the case of each partial prepayment of the Notes pursuant to Section 8.2, the principal amount of the Notes to be prepaid shall be allocated among all of the Notes at the time outstanding in proportion, as nearly as practicable, to the respective unpaid principal amounts of all Notes not theretofore called for prepayment.

All prepayments pursuant to Sections 8.3 and 8.8 shall be applied as therein provided.

8.5. Maturity; Surrender, Etc.

In the case of each prepayment of Notes pursuant to this Section 8, the principal amount of each Note to be prepaid shall mature and become due and payable on the date fixed for such prepayment (which shall be a Business Day), together with interest on such principal amount accrued to such date and the Series E Make-Whole Amount, Series F Make-Whole Amount, Series G Make-Whole Amount or Series H Make-Whole Amount, as applicable, if any. From and after such date, unless the Company shall fail to pay such principal amount when so due and payable, together with the interest and Series E Make-Whole Amount, Series F Make-Whole Amount, Series G Make-Whole Amount or Series H Make-Whole Amount, as applicable, if any, as aforesaid, interest on such principal amount shall cease to accrue. Any Note paid or prepaid in full shall be surrendered to the Company and cancelled and shall not be reissued, and no Note shall be issued in lieu of any prepaid principal amount of any Note.

8.6. Purchase of Notes.

The Company will not and will not permit any Affiliate to purchase, redeem, prepay or otherwise acquire, directly or indirectly, any of the outstanding Notes except upon the payment or prepayment of the Notes in accordance with the terms of this Agreement and the Notes. The Company will promptly cancel all Notes acquired by it or any Affiliate pursuant to any payment or prepayment of Notes pursuant to any provision of this Agreement and no Notes may be issued in substitution or exchange for any such Notes.

8.7. Make-Whole Amount.

The term “Series G Make-Whole Amount” means, with respect to any Series G Note, an amount equal to the excess, if any, of the Discounted Value of the Remaining Scheduled Payments with respect to the Called Principal of such Note over the amount of such Called Principal, provided that the Series G Make-Whole Amount may not in any event be less than zero. For the purposes of determining the Series G Make-Whole Amount, the following terms have the following meanings:

“Applicable Percentage” means [REDACTED]% ([REDACTED] Basis Points).

“Called Principal” means, with respect to any such Note, the principal of such Note that is to be prepaid pursuant to Section 8.2 or has become or is declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to Section 12.1, as the context requires.

“Discounted Value” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any such Note, the amount obtained by discounting all Remaining Scheduled Payments with respect to such Called Principal from their respective scheduled due dates to the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal, in accordance with accepted financial practice and at a discount factor (applied on the same periodic basis as that on which interest on the Notes is payable) equal to the Reinvestment Yield with respect to such Called Principal.

“Reinvestment Yield” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any such Note, the sum of (x) the Applicable Percentage plus (y) the yield to maturity implied by (i) the yields reported as of 10:00 A.M. (New York City time) on the second Business Day preceding the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal, on the display designated as “Page PX1” (or such other display as may replace Page PX1) on Bloomberg Financial Markets for the most recently issued actively traded on the run U.S. Treasury securities having a maturity equal to the Remaining Average Life of such Called Principal as of such Settlement Date, or (ii) if such yields are not reported as of such time or the yields reported as of such time are not ascertainable (including by way of interpolation), the Treasury Constant Maturity Series Yields reported, for the latest day for which such yields have been so reported as of the second Business Day preceding the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal, in Federal Reserve Statistical Release H.15 (or any comparable successor publication) for U.S. Treasury securities having a constant maturity equal to the Remaining Average Life of such Called Principal as of such Settlement Date. In the case of each determination under clause (i) or clause (ii), as the case may be, of the preceding paragraph, such implied yield will be determined, if necessary, by (a) converting U.S. Treasury bill quotations to bond equivalent yields in accordance with accepted financial practice and (b) interpolating linearly between (1) the applicable U.S. Treasury security with the maturity closest to and greater than such Remaining Average Life and (2) the applicable U.S. Treasury security with the maturity closest to and less than such Remaining Average Life. The Reinvestment Yield shall be rounded to the number of decimal places as appears in the interest rate of the applicable Note.

“Remaining Average Life” means, with respect to any Called Principal, the number of years (calculated to two decimal places) obtained by dividing (i) such Called Principal into (ii) the sum of the products obtained by multiplying (a) the principal component of each Remaining Scheduled Payment with respect to such Called Principal by (b) the number of years (calculated to two decimal places) that will elapse between the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal and the Applicable Maturity Date of such Remaining Scheduled Payment.

“Remaining Scheduled Payments” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any Note, all payments of such Called Principal and interest thereon that would be due after the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal if no payment of such Called Principal were made prior to the Applicable Maturity Date, provided that if such Settlement Date is not a date on which interest payments are due to be made under the terms of the Notes, then the amount of the next succeeding scheduled interest payment will be reduced by the amount of interest accrued to such Settlement Date and required to be paid on such Settlement Date pursuant to Section 8.2 or 12.1.

“Settlement Date” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any Note, the date on which such Called Principal is to be prepaid pursuant to Section 8.2 or has become or is declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to Section 12.1, as the context requires.

8.8. Prepayment Offer Without Make-Whole on Change in Control.

(a) Notice of Change in Control. The Company will, within 5 Business Days after any Responsible Officer has knowledge of the occurrence of any Change in Control, give written notice of such Change in Control to each holder of Notes. Such notice shall refer to this Section 8.8, shall contain and constitute an offer to prepay Notes as described in Section 8.8(b) and shall be accompanied by the certificate described in Section 8.8(e).

(b) Offer to Prepay Notes. The offer to prepay Notes contemplated by 8.8(a) shall be an offer to prepay, in accordance with and subject to this Section 8.8, all, but not less than all, the Notes held by each holder (in this case only, “holder” in respect of any Note registered in the name of a nominee for a disclosed beneficial owner shall mean such beneficial owner) on a date specified in such offer (the “Proposed Prepayment Date”), which date shall be not less than 30 Business Days and not more than 120 Business Days after the date of such offer (if the Proposed Prepayment Date shall not be specified in such offer, the Proposed Prepayment Date shall be the first Business Day after the 45th Business Day after the date of such offer).

(c) Acceptance/Rejection. A holder of Notes may accept the offer to prepay made pursuant to this Section 8.8 by causing a notice of such acceptance to be delivered to the Company not later than 15 Business Days after receipt by such holder of the most recent offer of prepayment, but in any event at least 10 Business Days prior to the Proposed Prepayment Date. A failure by a holder of Notes to respond to an offer to prepay made pursuant to this Section 8.8 shall be deemed to constitute a rejection of such offer by such holder.

(d) Prepayment. Prepayment of the Notes to be prepaid pursuant to this Section 8.8 shall be at 100% of the principal amount of such Notes, together with interest on such Notes accrued to the date of prepayment, but without the applicable Make-Whole Amounts or other premium.

(e) Officer’s Certificate. Each offer to prepay the Notes pursuant to this Section 8.8 shall be accompanied by a certificate, signed by a Senior Financial Officer of the Company and dated the date of such offer, specifying: (i) the Proposed Prepayment Date; (ii) that such offer is made pursuant to this Section 8.8; (iii) the principal amount of each Note offered to be prepaid; (iv) the interest that would be due on each Note offered to be prepaid, accrued to the Proposed Prepayment Date; (v) that the conditions of this Section 8.8 have been fulfilled; and (vi) in reasonable detail, the nature and date of the Change in Control.

(f) Certain Definitions.

(i) “Change in Control” means any circumstance arising after the date of the Original Note Agreement in which a Person or a combination of Persons, acting jointly or in concert (within the meaning of Multi-Lateral Instrument 62 104 — Take Over Bids and Issuer Bids of the Canadian Securities Administrator), acquires Equity Interests of the Company which, in either case, together with all other such Equity Interests held by such Persons, constitute in the aggregate more than 35% of all outstanding Equity Interests of the Company (regardless of whether such Person or Persons are owned or controlled by the same Persons which owned or controlled such Equity Interests) (in any such case, the “Acquiror” or “Acquirors”); provided that it shall not be a Change in Control if, within 90 days following the events to occur in this definition, the Acquiror(s):

(A) have a credit rating in respect of its/their senior unsecured long term indebtedness for borrowed money debt of at least BBB- by Standard & Poor’s Rating Services, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. or Baa3 by Moody’s Investors Service, Inc., a subsidiary of Moody’s Corporation or an equivalent rating by another rating agency of recognized national standing (which rating takes into account the events contemplated by this definition), and

(B) have executed and delivered a guarantee to the holders of Notes, and the holders of Notes have received, with respect to such guarantee, a favorable legal opinion of counsel to such Acquiror(s) as to the due authorization, execution, delivery, legality, validity and enforceability thereof, and that the obligations of the guarantor thereunder do not violate or conflict with any law, constating document or material agreement to which such guarantor is a party or by which its assets are bound, nor violate any restrictions, if any, governing financial assistance (or similar restrictions in the applicable jurisdiction).

(ii) “Equity Interests” means in the case of a corporation, shares of capital stock of any class or series, including warrants, rights, participating interests or options to purchase or otherwise acquire any class or series of capital stock or securities exchangeable for or convertible into any class or series of capital stock, and in the case of any other Person or entity shall mean any class or series of partnership interests, units, membership interests or like interests constituting equity, and in the case of each of the foregoing, any part or portion thereof or participation in any of the foregoing.

(g) Calculations. All calculations contemplated in this Section 8.8 involving the capital stock of any Person shall be made with the assumption that all convertible securities (including, for certainty, any Convertible Debentures) of such Person then outstanding and all convertible Securities issuable upon the exercise of any warrants, options and other rights outstanding at such time were converted at such time and that all options, warrants and similar rights to acquire shares of capital stock of such Person were exercised at such time.

9.2. Insurance.

The Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, maintain, with financially sound and reputable insurers, insurance with respect to their respective properties and businesses against such casualties and contingencies, of such types, on such terms and in such amounts (including deductibles, co-insurance and self-insurance, if adequate reserves are maintained with respect thereto) as is customary in the case of entities of established reputations engaged in the same or a similar business and similarly situated.

9.3. Maintenance of Properties.

Subject to Section 10.2 and 10.11, the Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, maintain and keep, or cause to be maintained and kept, their respective properties in good repair, working order and condition (other than ordinary wear and tear), so that the business carried on in connection therewith may be properly conducted at all times, provided that this Section shall not prevent the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary from discontinuing the operation and the maintenance of any of its properties if such discontinuance is desirable in the conduct of its business and the Company has concluded that such discontinuance could not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.4. Payment of Taxes and Claims.

The Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, file all tax returns required to be filed in any jurisdiction and to pay and discharge all taxes shown to be due and payable on such returns and all other taxes, assessments, governmental charges or levies imposed on them or any of their properties, assets, income or franchises, to the extent the same have become due and payable and before they have become delinquent and all claims for which sums have become due and payable that have or might become a Lien on properties or assets of the Company, or any Restricted Subsidiary, provided that none of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary need pay any such tax, assessment, charge or levy if (i) the amount, applicability or validity thereof is contested by the Company or such Restricted Subsidiary on a timely basis in good faith and in appropriate proceedings, and the Company or a Restricted Subsidiary has established adequate reserves therefor in accordance with GAAP on the books of the Company or such Restricted Subsidiary or (ii) the nonpayment of all such taxes, assessments, charges and levies in the aggregate could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.5. Legal Existence, Etc.

Subject to Section 10.2, the Company will at all times preserve and keep in full force and effect its corporate existence. Subject to Sections 10.2 and 10.11, the Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, at all times preserve and keep in full force and effect the existence of each Restricted Subsidiary (unless merged into the Company or another Restricted Subsidiary) and all rights and franchises of the Company and each Restricted Subsidiary unless, in the good faith judgment of the Company, the termination of or failure to preserve and keep in full force and effect such corporate existence, right or franchise could not, individually or in the aggregate, have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.6. Books and Records.

The Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, maintain proper books of record and account in conformity with GAAP and all applicable requirements of any Governmental Authority having legal or regulatory jurisdiction over the Company or such Subsidiary, as the case may be.

9.7. Priority of Obligations.

The Company will ensure that, at all times prior to the Security Release Date:

(a) its payment obligations under this Agreement and the Notes rank pari passu, without preference or priority, with its obligations under the Bank Facility, the Other Note Agreements and all other senior secured Indebtedness of the Company, other than Indebtedness secured by Permitted Encumbrances which under applicable Laws ranks in priority thereto; and

(b) each Subsidiary Guarantor's payment obligations under its Subsidiary Guarantee rank pari passu, without preference or priority, with its obligations in respect of the Bank Facility, the Other Note Agreements and all other senior secured Indebtedness of such Subsidiary Guarantor, other than Indebtedness secured by Permitted Encumbrances which under applicable Laws ranks in priority thereto.

9.8. [Reserved].

9.9. Designation of Restricted Subsidiaries.

The Company may designate any Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary and may designate any Restricted Subsidiary as an Unrestricted Subsidiary by providing to the holders of Notes a Notice of Designation in the form attached hereto as Exhibit 9.9; provided that:

(a) no Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) will exist immediately following such designation, and the Company shall have provided an Officer's Certificate to that effect at the time it provides such notice;

(b) in the case of the designation of an Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary and after giving effect thereto, all existing Liens of such Restricted Subsidiary so designated shall be permitted within the applicable limitations of Section 10.4, notwithstanding that any such Lien may have existed as of the date of the Original Note Agreement;

(c) in the case of the designation of a Restricted Subsidiary as an Unrestricted Subsidiary and after giving effect thereto, (i) such Unrestricted Subsidiary so designated shall not, directly or indirectly, own any Indebtedness or Capital Stock of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary, and (ii) such designation shall be deemed to be a sale by the Company of the assets of the Restricted Subsidiary so designated, and must be permitted under Section 10.11;

(d) if required by Section 9.10, each Restricted Subsidiary shall forthwith become a Subsidiary Guarantor;

(e) any Restricted Subsidiary that was previously designated as an Unrestricted Subsidiary shall not be redesignated as a Restricted Subsidiary if a Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) exists immediately prior to such designation; and

(f) any Unrestricted Subsidiary that was previously designated as an Restricted Subsidiary shall not be redesignated as a Unrestricted Subsidiary if a Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) exists immediately prior to such designation.

9.10. Subsidiary Guarantees.

The Company will cause each Subsidiary of the Company (other than any Subsidiary which already is a Subsidiary Guarantor) that hereafter becomes a borrower or a guarantor under the Bank Facility, concurrently therewith to enter into and become a party to a Subsidiary Guarantee, and within three Business Days thereafter, to deliver to each holder of a Note the following:

(a) the Subsidiary Guarantee and the Security Documents (as provided in Section 9.16), or applicable joinders thereto;

(c) such documents and evidence with respect to such Subsidiary Guarantor as the Required Holders may reasonably request in order to establish the existence and good standing of such Subsidiary Guarantor and the authorization of the transactions contemplated by the Subsidiary Guarantee and Security Documents to which such Subsidiary Guarantor is a party; and

(d) a favorable legal opinion of independent legal counsel satisfactory to the Required Holders to the effect that the Subsidiary Guarantee and Security Documents to which such Subsidiary Guarantor is a party have been duly authorized, executed and delivered and constitute the legal, valid and binding obligations of such Subsidiary Guarantor enforceable in accordance with their terms, except as enforcement of such terms may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally and by general equitable principles.

If any such Subsidiary Guarantor subsequently ceases to be a borrower or a guarantor under the Bank Facility (other than as a result of the Bank Facility reaching its scheduled maturity date without renewal and provided that, on the date such Subsidiary Guarantor ceases to be a borrower or guarantor under the Bank Facility, the Liens encumbering assets of such Subsidiary Guarantor created by the Security Documents have been released and discharged in accordance with Section 9.16(g)), then the Company may require the holders of Notes to release such Subsidiary from its Subsidiary Guarantee and any Security Document to which it is a party upon giving 5 Business Days written notice thereof to the holders of Notes together with confirmation of the foregoing reasonably satisfactory to the holders of Notes, whereupon such Subsidiary shall cease to be a Subsidiary Guarantor hereunder and any Lien granted by it pursuant to the Security Documents shall be released and discharged (and the Company may take any additional steps and actions it deems necessary to discharge corresponding Lien registrations and filings), provided that at the time of such notice and the effective date of such release as provided below, and immediately after giving effect thereto, and to such Subsidiary ceasing to be a Subsidiary Guarantor, no Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) exists or would exist, and the Company shall have provided an Officer's Certificate to such effect at the time it provides such notice, with the information (including detailed calculations) required in order to establish same. Upon compliance with the requirements of the preceding sentence, the Subsidiary Guarantee of such Subsidiary shall be deemed to be released and terminated, and any Lien granted by it pursuant to the Security Documents shall be deemed to be released and discharged, as at the expiry of such 5 Business Day period (unless sooner terminated by all the holders of Notes).

9.11. Subordination Agreements.

The Company will cause each Affiliate (a "Subordinating Person") that hereafter subordinates any obligations owed to such Subordinating Person by the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor in favor of any obligations owed by the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor under the Bank Facility, to concurrently therewith enter into a subordination agreement on the same terms in favor of the holders of the Notes, and within three Business Days thereafter, the Company shall deliver to each holder of a Note the following:

- (a) such subordination agreement;
- (b) if the Subordinating Person is a Subsidiary of the Company, a certificate signed by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Operating Officer, the Chief Financial Officer, a Vice President or another authorized officer of such Subsidiary making representations and warranties to the effect of those contained in Sections 5.1, 5.2, 5.6 and 5.7, but with respect to such Subordinating Person and its subordination agreement;
- (c) if the Subordinating Person is a Subsidiary of the Company, such documents and evidence with respect to such Subordinating Person as the Required Holders may reasonably request in order to establish the existence and good standing of such Subordinating Person and the authorization of the transactions contemplated by its subordination agreement; and
- (d) if the Subordinating Person is a Subsidiary of the Company, an opinion of independent counsel satisfactory to the Required Holders to the effect that such subordination agreement has been duly authorized, executed and delivered and constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of such Subordinating Person enforceable in accordance with its terms, except as enforcement of such terms may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally and by general equitable principles.

9.12. [Reserved].

9.13. Matching Bank Facility Liens.

If at any time the Company or any Subsidiary provides a Lien to or for the benefit of the lenders under the Bank Facility, then the Company will (if it has provided such a Lien), and will cause each of its Subsidiaries that has provided such Lien to concurrently grant to or for the benefit of the holders of Notes a similar first priority Lien (subject only to Liens permitted by the Bank Facility and Section 10.4, and ranking pari passu with the Liens provided to or for the benefit of the lenders under such Bank Facility), over the same assets, property and undertaking of the Company and each such Subsidiary as those encumbered in respect of the Bank Facility, in form and substance satisfactory to the holders of Notes, acting reasonably, with such security to be subject to the Intercreditor Agreement.

9.14. Partnership.

For so long as the Partnership is a Restricted Subsidiary, the Company will ensure that at all times the partners in the Partnership will consist only of the Company and one or more Restricted Subsidiaries.

(b) The Security shall be in form and substance satisfactory to the Requisite Secured Parties in their sole discretion. The Requisite Secured Parties, acting reasonably, may require that any Security Document be governed by the Laws of the jurisdiction in which the property in which a Lien is created pursuant to such Security Document is located. The Security Documents shall be registered by the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantors, as applicable, where necessary or desirable to record and perfect the Liens created thereby, as determined by the Requisite Secured Parties in their sole discretion, and if the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor does not so register the Security Documents as requested, any holder of Notes may do the same (the cost of which will be borne by the Company).

(c) The Company will cause to be delivered to the Collateral Agent and each holder of Notes the results of all applicable searches in respect of the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors in the applicable jurisdictions as well as the opinions of solicitors for the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors regarding their corporate status, the due authorization, execution and delivery of the Security Documents provided by them, the creation of the Liens pursuant to the Security Documents and all registrations in respect of the Security Documents, and the validity and enforceability of such Security Documents; all such opinions to be in form and substance satisfactory to the Required Holders and their counsel.

(d) The Company will and will cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to execute any and all further documents, financing statements, agreements and instruments, and take all further action (including filing Personal Property Security Act (Alberta) and Land Titles Act (Alberta) and other financing statements, registering the Security at any land titles or land registry offices or under the Mines and Mineral Act (Alberta) or any similar registry in any other applicable jurisdiction, and filing any other notices, mortgages, deeds of trust and caveats (or the equivalent statements in any other jurisdiction)) that may from time to time be required under applicable Laws, or that the Collateral Agent or the Requisite Secured Parties may reasonably request, in order to effectuate the transactions contemplated by the Financing Agreements and in order to grant, preserve, protect and perfect the validity, enforceability and priority of the Liens created or intended to be created by the Security Documents. For the avoidance of doubt, the Requisite Secured Parties and the Collateral Agent shall have the right to require the Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor to amend or supplement any Security Documents or related registrations to the extent necessary to reflect any changes in applicable Laws (or the interpretation thereof) or any directives, rules or procedures related thereto, whether arising as a result of statutory amendments, court decisions or otherwise, and whether occurring prior to or subsequent to the date hereof.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither the Company nor any Subsidiary Guarantor shall be required (and neither the holders of Notes nor the Collateral Agent shall be entitled) to effect any fixed charge registrations against any real property (including for certainty, registering the Security at any land titles or land registry offices or under the Mines and Mineral Act (Alberta) or any similar registry in any other applicable jurisdiction unless an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing except as otherwise set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement). After an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, from time to time upon the request of the Collateral Agent or the Requisite Secured Parties, within ten Business Days of such request, the Company shall, at the Company's sole cost and expense, execute and deliver, and shall cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to execute and deliver, such additional or supplemental Security Documents as the Collateral Agent or the Requisite Secured Parties may reasonably request in order to ensure that all Collateral held by the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors is validly subjected to first fixed charge Liens in favor of the Collateral Agent for the benefit of the holders of Notes, subject only to Permitted Encumbrances, and in connection therewith shall provide to the Collateral Agent a land schedule in form satisfactory to the Collateral Agent and the Requisite Secured Parties detailing all Collateral then held by the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantor (which shall include legal descriptions, crown lease numbers and issue dates, reserve numbers, zone restrictions, names of freehold lessors, and the interest of the Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor therein before and after payout of working interests and all royalties and burdens). The Company will pay all reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the Collateral Agent or any holder in connection with the preparation, execution, delivery and registration of all documents, agreements, instruments and registrations necessary or advisable to implement the provisions of this Section 9.16(e).

(f) The Company and its Subsidiary Guarantors shall not be discharged from the Subsidiary Guarantee except in accordance with the last paragraph of Section 9.10 or by a written release signed by all holders of Notes and the Liens in respect of the Security shall not be discharged and released except (A) in accordance with Section 9.16(g) and the Intercreditor Agreement or (B) in connection with a Disposition of assets permitted by Section 10.11, to the extent, but only to the extent, that such Liens encumber assets subject to such Disposition.

(g) The Liens created or intended to be created by the Security Documents in accordance with this Section 9.16 shall be fully released and discharged (and the Company may take any additional steps and actions it deems necessary to discharge any corresponding Liens registrations and filings), and the Security Documents shall be terminated and be of no further force and effect, upon the date when both of the following are satisfied (the “Security Release Date”):

(i) a date on which the Notes and the other Outstanding Notes have been paid in full, in cash; and

(ii) a date on which no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing on such date and the Collateral subject to the Intercreditor Agreement is concurrently released by the lenders under the Bank Facility and the noteholders under each Other Note Agreement and the Intercreditor Agreement is concurrently terminated.

(h) Nothing contained herein or in the Security Documents now held or hereafter acquired by the holders, nor any act or omission of the Collateral Agent or the holders with respect to any such Security Documents, will in any way prejudice or affect the rights, remedies or powers of the holders with respect to any other Financing Agreement at any time held by them.

9.17. Material Adverse Claims.

The Company will, and will cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to, do all things necessary to defend and protect their property from all material adverse claims, and to maintain their property free therefrom, except for Permitted Encumbrances, where the failure to do so (a) in the opinion of the Required Holders and/or Collateral Agent, acting reasonably, threatens the actual or intended priority or validity of the Security Documents and the Liens created therein, as provided herein, in the Security Documents and in the Intercreditor Agreement, or (b) has had or would reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.18. Protection of Security.

The Company will, and will cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to, do all things reasonably requested by the Required Holders or the Collateral Agent to protect and maintain the validity and enforceability of the Security Documents and the first-ranking priority thereof, as contemplated herein and in the Intercreditor Agreement, in relation to other Persons.

9.19. [Reserved].

9.20. Hedging Plan.

The Company will comply with the Hedging Plan, as such plan may be amended from time to time with the approval of the Company's board of directors (whether by amendment of such plan or the hedging policy adopted by the Company's board of directors) and in a manner consistent with prudent management of risk related to volatility in prices of Petroleum Substances.

9.21. Most Favored Lender.

Thereafter, upon the request of the Required Holders, the Required Holders and the Company shall enter into an amendment to this Agreement evidencing the incorporation of such additional or more restrictive covenants or events of default, it being agreed that any failure to make such request or to enter into any such amendment shall in no way qualify or limit the incorporation by reference described in clause (ii) of the immediately preceding sentence.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, provisions of the Bank Facility (or any document in respect thereof) that impose a limit on the amount of Indebtedness that may be incurred under this Agreement, shall not be subject to the requirements of the first paragraph of this Section 9.21.

If, prior to a Consensual Transaction, there is any increase in the margin applicable to any one or more loans outstanding under the Bank Facility above the margin in effect on the Effective Date or any fee or other compensation is paid or payable to the Lenders in connection with (x) an extension of the Revolving Period (as defined in the Bank Facility as in effect on the Effective Date) or (y) deferring a redetermination of the Borrowing Base (as defined in the Bank Facility as in effect on the Effective Date) or refraining from exercising a right to redetermine the Borrowing Base, then (a) in the case of an increase in such margin, the interest rate on the Notes shall increase by the same number of Basis Points as such margin has increased for the same period that such increase in the margin shall exist, and (b) in the case of any fee or other compensation, the equivalent of such fee or other compensation shall be given to the holders of Notes promptly, and in any event not more than five (5) Business Days after such consideration is given to the Lenders; provided, however, that fees payable to the Lenders under the Seventh Amending Agreement to the Bank Facility shall not be subject to the requirements of this Section 9.21.

12.1. Acceleration.

(a) If an Event of Default with respect to the Company described in Sections 11(g), 11(h) or 11(i) (other than an Event of Default described in clause (i) of Section 11(g) or described in clause (vi) of Section 11(g) by virtue of the fact that such clause encompasses clause (i) of Section 11(g)) has occurred, all the Notes then outstanding shall automatically become immediately due and payable.

Upon any Notes becoming due and payable under this Section 12.1, whether automatically or by declaration, such Notes will forthwith mature and the entire unpaid principal amount of such Notes, plus (x) all accrued and unpaid interest thereon (including, without limitation, interest accrued thereon at the applicable rate specified in the Notes during an Event of Default) and (y) the Make-Whole Amount or the Protective Claim Amount, as applicable (as specified in the next succeeding sentence of this paragraph), determined in respect of such principal amount (to the full extent permitted by applicable Laws), shall all be immediately due and payable, in each and every case without presentment, demand, protest or further notice, all of which are hereby waived. The Company acknowledges, and the parties hereto agree, that each holder of a Note has the right to maintain its investment in the Notes free from repayment by the Company (except as herein specifically provided for) and that the provision for payment of a Make-Whole Amount or Protective Claim Amount, as the case may be, by the Company in the event that the Notes are repaid as provided in the preceding sentence is intended to provide compensation for the deprivation of such right under such circumstances.

“Crystallized Make-Whole Amount” means $[REDACTED] in the aggregate for all Series G Notes and, in respect of any Series G Note, means a ratable share of such amount based on the principal amount of such Series G Note as a percentage of the aggregate principal amount of all Series G Notes, in each case at the time the Crystallized Make-Whole Amount is payable.

12.2. Other Remedies.

If any Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, and irrespective of whether any Notes have become or have been declared immediately due and payable under Section 12.1, the holder of any Note at the time outstanding may proceed to protect and enforce the rights of such holder by an action at law, suit in equity or other appropriate proceeding, whether for the specific performance of any agreement contained herein or in any Note, or for an injunction against a violation of any of the terms hereof or thereof, or in aid of the exercise of any power granted hereby or thereby or by law or otherwise.

No rescission and annulment under this Section 12.3 will extend to or affect any subsequent Event of Default or Default or impair any right consequent thereon.

12.4. No Waivers or Election of Remedies, Expenses, Etc.

No course of dealing and no delay on the part of any holder of any Note in exercising any right, power or remedy shall operate as a waiver thereof or otherwise prejudice such holder's rights, powers or remedies. No right, power or remedy conferred by this Agreement or by any Note upon any holder thereof shall be exclusive of any other right, power or remedy referred to herein or therein or now or hereafter available at law, in equity, by statute or otherwise. Without limiting the obligations of the Company under Section 16, the Company will pay to the holder of each Note on demand such further amount as shall be sufficient to cover all costs and expenses of such holder incurred in any enforcement or collection under this Section 12, including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees, expenses and disbursements.

13. TAX INDEMNIFICATION.

All payments whatsoever under the Financing Agreements will be made by the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors free and clear of, and without liability for withholding or deduction for or on account of, any present or future Taxes of whatever nature imposed or levied by or on behalf of any jurisdiction (or any political subdivision or taxing authority of or in such jurisdiction) (hereinafter a "Taxing Jurisdiction"), unless the withholding or deduction of such Tax is compelled by law.

If any deduction or withholding for any Tax of a Taxing Jurisdiction shall at any time be required in respect of any amounts to be paid by the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantors under the Financing Agreements, the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantors, as applicable, will pay to the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction the full amount required to be withheld, deducted or otherwise paid before penalties attach thereto or interest accrues thereon and pay to each holder of a Note such additional amounts as may be necessary in order that the net amounts paid to such holder pursuant to the terms of the Financing Agreements after such deduction, withholding or payment (including, without limitation, any required deduction or withholding of Tax on or with respect to such additional amount), shall be not less than the amounts then due and payable to such holder under the terms of the Financing Agreements before the assessment of such Tax, provided that no payment of any additional amounts shall be required to be made for or on account of:

(a) any Tax that would not have been imposed but for the existence of any present or former connection between such holder (or a fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member of, shareholder of, or possessor of a power over, such holder, if such holder is an estate, trust, partnership or corporation or any Person other than the holder to whom the Notes or any amount payable thereon is attributable for the purposes of such Tax) and the Taxing Jurisdiction, other than the mere holding of the relevant Note or the receipt of payments thereunder or in respect thereof, including, without limitation, such holder (or such other Person described in the above parenthetical) being or having been a citizen or resident thereof, or being or having been present or engaged in trade or business therein or having or having had an establishment, office, fixed base or branch, therein, provided that this exclusion shall not apply with respect to a Tax that would not have been imposed but for the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantor, after the date of the Original Note Agreement, opening an office in, moving an office to, reincorporating in, or changing the Taxing Jurisdiction from or through which payments on account of the Financing Agreements are made to, the Taxing Jurisdiction imposing the relevant Tax;

(b) any Tax that would not have been imposed but for the delay or failure by such holder (following a written request by the Company) in the filing with the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction of Forms (as defined below) that are required to be filed by such holder to avoid or reduce such Taxes (including for such purpose any refilings or renewals of filings that may from time to time be required by the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction), provided that the filing of such Forms would not (in such holder's reasonable judgment) impose any unreasonable burden (in time, resources or otherwise) on such holder or result in any confidential or proprietary income tax return information being revealed, either directly or indirectly, to any Person and such delay or failure could have been lawfully avoided by such holder, and provided further that such holder shall be deemed to have satisfied the requirements of this clause (b) upon the good faith completion and submission of such Forms (including refilings or renewals of filings) as may be specified in a written request of the Company no later than 60 days after receipt by such holder of such written request (accompanied by copies of such Forms and related instructions, if any, all in the English language or with an English translation thereof);

(c) any amount in excess of the amount of tax that would be payable if the holder was a resident of the United States for the purpose of the Canada-U.S. Income Tax Convention (1980), as amended;

(d) any Tax that would not have been imposed but for the holder not dealing at arm's length with the Company for the purposes of the Tax Act; or

(e) any combination of clauses (a), (b), (c) or (d) above.

If as a result of any payment by the Company or a Subsidiary Guarantor under the Financing Agreements, whether in respect of principal, Make-Whole Amounts (if any), Protective Claim Amount, interest, interest on overdue interest, fees or other payment obligations, any holder of a Note is required to pay tax under Part XIII of the Tax Act, then the Company or applicable Subsidiary Guarantor will, upon demand by such holder of any Note, indemnify the holder for the payment of any such amount, together with any interest, penalties and expenses in connection therewith, and for any Taxes on such indemnity payment provided that no indemnification payment shall be required to be made in respect of a Tax described in clauses (a), (b), (c), (d) or (e) of the previous paragraph. All amounts payable under this paragraph shall be payable by the Company or applicable Subsidiary Guarantor on demand, shall, if paid in respect of interest, be a payment of additional interest, and shall bear interest at the Default Rate, calculated from the date demanded by such holder to the date paid by the Company or applicable Subsidiary Guarantor.

By acceptance of any Note, the holder of such Note agrees, subject to the limitations of clause (b) above, that it will from time to time with reasonable promptness (x) duly complete and deliver to or as reasonably directed by the Company all such forms, certificates, documents and returns provided to such holder by the Company (collectively, together with instructions for completing the same, "Forms") required to be filed by or on behalf of such holder in order to avoid or reduce any such Tax pursuant to the provisions of an applicable statute, regulation or administrative practice of the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction or of an applicable tax treaty between the United States or Canada and such Taxing Jurisdiction and (y) provide the Company with such information with respect to such holder as the Company may reasonably request in order to complete any such Forms, provided that nothing in this Section 13 shall require any holder to provide information with respect to any such Form or otherwise if in the opinion of such holder such Form or disclosure of information would involve the disclosure of tax return or other information that is confidential or proprietary to such holder, and provided further that each such holder shall be deemed to have complied with its obligation under this paragraph with respect to any Form if such Form shall have been duly completed and delivered by such holder to the Company or mailed to the appropriate taxing authority (which in the case of a United Kingdom Inland Revenue Form FD13 or any similar Form shall be deemed to occur when such Form is submitted to the United States Internal Revenue Service in accordance with instructions contained in such Form), whichever is applicable, within 60 days following a written request of the Company (which request shall be accompanied by copies of such Form and English translations of any such Form not in the English language) and, in the case of a transfer of any Note, at least 90 days prior to the relevant interest payment date.

If any payment is made by the Company to or for the account of the holder of any Note after deduction for or on account of any Taxes, and increased payments are made by the Company pursuant to this Section 13, then, if such holder at its sole discretion determines that it has received or been granted a refund of such Taxes, such holder shall, to the extent that it can do so without prejudice to the retention of the amount of such refund, reimburse to the Company such amount as such holder shall, in its sole discretion, determine to be attributable to the relevant Taxes or deduction or withholding. Nothing herein contained shall interfere with the right of the holder of any Note to arrange its tax affairs in whatever manner it thinks fit and, in particular, no holder of any Note shall be under any obligation to claim relief from its corporate profits or similar tax liability in respect of such Tax in priority to any other claims, reliefs, credits or deductions available to it or (other than as set forth in clause (b) above) oblige any holder of any Note to disclose any information relating to its tax affairs or any computations in respect thereof.

The Company will furnish the holders of Notes, promptly and in any event within 60 days after the date of any payment by the Company of any Tax in respect of any amounts paid under the Financing Agreements, the original tax receipt issued by the relevant taxation or other authorities involved for all amounts paid as aforesaid (or if such original tax receipt is not available or must legally be kept in the possession of the Company, a duly certified copy of the original tax receipt or any other reasonably satisfactory evidence of payment), together with such other documentary evidence with respect to such payments as may be reasonably requested from time to time by any holder of a Note.

If the Company is required by any applicable Laws, as modified by the practice of the taxation or other authority of any relevant Taxing Jurisdiction, to make any deduction or withholding of any Tax in respect of which the Company would be required to pay any additional amount under this Section 13, but for any reason does not make such deduction or withholding with the result that a liability in respect of such Tax is assessed directly against the holder of any Note, and such holder pays such liability, then the Company will promptly reimburse such holder for such payment (including any related interest or penalties to the extent such interest or penalties arise by virtue of a default or delay by the Company) upon demand by such holder accompanied by an official receipt (or a duly certified copy thereof) issued by the taxation or other authority of the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction.

If the Company makes payment to or for the account of any holder of a Note and such holder is entitled to a refund of the Tax to which such payment is attributable upon the making of a filing (other than a Form described above), then such holder shall, as soon as practicable after receiving written request from the Company (which shall specify in reasonable detail and supply the refund forms to be filed) use reasonable efforts to complete and deliver such refund forms to or as directed by the Company, subject, however, to the same limitations with respect to Forms as are set forth above.

The obligations of the Company under this Section 13 shall survive the payment or transfer of any Note and the provisions of this Section 13 shall also apply to successive transferees of the Notes.

14. REGISTRATION; EXCHANGE; SUBSTITUTION OF NOTES.

14.1. Registration of Notes.

The Company shall keep at its principal executive office a register for the registration and registration of transfers of Notes. The name and address of each holder of one or more Notes, each transfer thereof and the name and address of each transferee of one or more Notes shall be registered in such register. If any holder of one or more Notes is a nominee, then

(a) the name and address of the beneficial owner of such Note or Notes shall also be registered in such register as an owner and holder thereof and (b) at any such beneficial owner's option, either such beneficial owner or its nominee may execute any amendment, waiver or consent pursuant to this Agreement. Prior to due presentment for registration of transfer, the Person in whose name any Note shall be registered shall be deemed and treated as the owner and holder thereof for all purposes hereof, and the Company shall not be affected by any notice or knowledge to the contrary. The Company shall give to any holder of a Note that is an Institutional Investor promptly upon request therefor, a complete and correct copy of the names and addresses of all registered holders of Notes.

14.2. Transfer and Exchange of Notes.

Upon surrender of any Note to the Company at the address and to the attention of the designated officer (all as specified in Section 19) for registration of transfer or exchange (and in the case of a surrender for registration of transfer accompanied by a written instrument of transfer duly executed by the registered holder of such Note or such holder's attorney duly authorized in writing and accompanied by the relevant name, address and other details for notices of each transferee of such Note or part thereof) within ten Business Days thereafter the Company shall execute and deliver, at the Company's expense (except as provided below), one or more new Notes (as requested by the holder thereof) in exchange therefor, in an aggregate principal amount equal to the unpaid principal amount of the surrendered Note of the same series. Each such new Note shall be payable to such Person as such holder may request and shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit 1G. Each such new Note shall be dated and bear interest from the date to which interest shall have been paid on the surrendered Note or dated the date of the surrendered Note if no interest shall have been paid thereon. The Company may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any stamp tax or governmental charge imposed in respect of any such transfer of Notes. Notes shall not be transferred in denominations of less than U.S.$500,000 provided that (i) a Note originally issued in an amount less than U.S.$500,000 may be transferred in such original amount, and (ii) if necessary to enable the registration of transfer by a holder of its entire holding of Notes, one Note may be in a denomination of less than U.S.$500,000. Any transferee, by its acceptance of a Note registered in its name (or the name of its nominee), shall be deemed to have made the representation set forth in Section 6.2.

14.3. Replacement of Notes.

Upon receipt by the Company at the address and to the attention of the designated officer (all as specified in Section 19(c)) of evidence reasonably satisfactory to it of the ownership of and the loss, theft, destruction or mutilation of any Note (which evidence shall be, in the case of an Institutional Investor, notice from such Institutional Investor of such ownership and such loss, theft, destruction or mutilation), and

(a) in the case of loss, theft or destruction, of indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it (provided that if the holder of such Note is, or is a nominee for, an original Purchaser or another holder of a Note with a minimum net worth of at least Cdn.$50,000,000 or a Qualified Institutional Buyer, such Person's own unsecured agreement of indemnity shall be deemed to be satisfactory), or within ten Business Days thereafter the Company at its own expense shall execute and deliver, in lieu thereof, a new Note of the same series, dated and bearing interest from the date to which interest shall have been paid on such lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated Note or dated the date of such lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated Note if no interest shall have been paid thereon.

(b) in the case of mutilation, upon surrender and cancellation thereof,

15. PAYMENTS ON NOTES.

15.1. Place of Payment.

Subject to Section 15.2, payments of principal, Make-Whole Amount, if any, Protective Claim Amount and interest becoming due and payable on the Notes shall be made in Calgary, Alberta at the principal office of the Company. The Company may at any time, by notice to each holder of a Note, change the place of payment of the Notes so long as such place of payment shall be either (i) the principal office of the Company in the United States or (ii) the principal office of a bank or trust company in the United States.

15.2. Home Office Payment.

So long as any Purchaser or its nominee shall be the holder of any Note, and notwithstanding anything contained in Section 15.1 or in such Note to the contrary, the Company will pay all sums becoming due on such Note for principal, Make-Whole Amount, if any, Protective Claim Amount and interest by the method and at the address specified for such purpose below such Purchaser's name in Schedule A, or by such other method or at such other address as such Purchaser shall have from time to time specified to the Company in writing for such purpose, plus any wiring fees applicable to wire transfers of funds, without the presentation or surrender of such Note or the making of any notation thereon, except that upon written request of the Company made concurrently with or reasonably promptly after payment or prepayment in full of any Note, such Purchaser shall surrender such Note for cancellation, reasonably promptly after any such request, to the Company at its principal executive office or at the place of payment most recently designated by the Company pursuant to Section 15.1. Prior to any sale or other disposition of any Note held by a Purchaser or its nominee, such Purchaser will, at its election, either endorse thereon the amount of principal paid thereon and the last date to which interest has been paid thereon or surrender such Note to the Company in exchange for a new Note or Notes pursuant to Section 14.2. The Company will afford the benefits of this Section 15.2 to any Institutional Investor that is the direct or indirect transferee of any Note purchased by a Purchaser under this Agreement and that has made the same agreement relating to such Note as the Purchasers have made in this Section 15.2.

16. EXPENSES, ETC.

16.1. Transaction Expenses.

Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated, the Company will pay all costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees of a special counsel and, if reasonably required by the Required Holders, local or other counsel) incurred by the Purchasers and each other holder of a Note in connection with such transactions and in connection with any amendments, waivers or consents under or in respect of the Financing Agreements (whether or not such amendment, waiver or consent becomes effective), including, without limitation: (a) review of any events or transactions contemplated by Sections 7.1(l), 7.1(m), 7.1(n), 7.1(p), 9.9, 9.10, 9.11, 9.12, 10.2, 10.11 and 23, (b) the costs and expenses incurred in enforcing or defending (or determining whether or how to enforce or defend) any rights under the Financing Agreements or in responding to any subpoena or other legal process or informal investigative demand issued in connection with the Financing Agreements, or by reason of being a holder of any Note, (c) the costs and expenses, including financial advisors' fees, incurred in connection with the insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary or in connection with any work-out or restructuring of the transactions contemplated by the Financing Agreements and (d) the reasonable costs and expenses incurred in connection with the initial filing of this Agreement and all related documents and financial information with the SVO. The Company will pay, and will save each Purchaser and each other holder of a Note harmless from, all claims in respect of any fees, costs or expenses, if any, of brokers and finders (other than those, if any, retained by a Purchaser or other holder in connection with its purchase of the Notes).

16.2. Certain Taxes.

The Company agrees to pay all stamp, documentary or similar taxes or fees which may be payable in respect of the execution and delivery or the enforcement of the Financing Agreements or the execution and delivery (but not the transfer) or the enforcement of any of the Notes in the United States or Canada or of any amendment of, or waiver or consent under or with respect to, the Financing Agreements, and to pay any value added tax due and payable in respect of reimbursement of costs and expenses by the Company pursuant to this Section 16, and will save each holder of a Note to the extent permitted by applicable Laws harmless against any loss or liability resulting from nonpayment or delay in payment of any such tax or fee required to be paid by the Company hereunder.

16.3. Survival.

The obligations of the Company under this Section 16 will survive the payment or transfer of any Note, the enforcement, amendment or waiver of any provision of the Financing Agreements, and the termination of this Agreement.

17. SURVIVAL OF REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES; ENTIRE AGREEMENT.

All representations and warranties contained herein shall survive the execution and delivery of the Financing Agreements, the purchase or transfer by any Purchaser of any Note or portion thereof or interest therein and the payment of any Note, and may be relied upon by any subsequent holder of a Note, regardless of any investigation made at any time by or on behalf of such Purchaser or any other holder of a Note. All statements contained in any certificate or other instrument delivered by or on behalf of the Company or any Subsidiary pursuant to the Financing Agreements shall be deemed representations and warranties of the Company under this Agreement. Subject to the preceding sentence, the Financing Agreements embody the entire agreement and understanding between each Purchaser and the Company and supersede all prior agreements and understandings relating to the subject matter hereof.

18. AMENDMENT AND WAIVER.

18.1. Requirements.

This Agreement, the Notes and the other Financing Agreements may be amended, and the observance of any term hereof or of the Notes may be waived (either retroactively or prospectively), with (and only with) the written consent of the Company and the Required Holders, except that (a) no amendment or waiver of any of the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 or 22, or any defined term (as it is used therein), will be effective as to any Purchaser unless consented to by such Purchaser in writing, and (b) no such amendment or waiver may, without the written consent of the holder of each Note at the time outstanding affected thereby, (i) subject to the provisions of Section 12 relating to acceleration or rescission, change the amount or time of any prepayment or payment of principal of, or reduce the rate or change the time of payment or method of computation of interest or of the Make-Whole Amount or Protective Claim Amount on, the Notes, (ii) change the percentage of the principal amount of the Notes the holders of which are required to consent to any such amendment or waiver, (iii) amend Section 8, 11(a), 11(b), 12, 13, 18, 21 or 23.9, or (iv) amend any provision of the Subordination Agreement, the Trust Guarantee, a Subsidiary Guarantee or any Lien granted to the holders of Notes pursuant to Section 9.13 or otherwise.

18.2. Solicitation of Holders of Notes.

(a) Solicitation. The Company will provide each holder of the Notes (irrespective of the amount of Notes then owned by it) with sufficient information, sufficiently far in advance of the date a decision is required, to enable such holder to make an informed and considered decision with respect to any proposed amendment, waiver or consent in respect of any of the provisions hereof or of the Notes. The Company will deliver executed or true and correct copies of each amendment, waiver or consent effected pursuant to the provisions of this Section 18 to each holder of outstanding Notes promptly following the date on which it is executed and delivered by, or receives the consent or approval of, the requisite holders of Notes.

(b) Payment. The Company will not directly or indirectly pay or cause to be paid any remuneration, whether by way of supplemental or additional interest, fee or otherwise, or grant any security or provide other credit support, to any holder of Notes as consideration for or as an inducement to the entering into by any holder of Notes of any waiver or amendment of any of the terms and provisions hereof unless such remuneration is concurrently paid, or security is concurrently granted or other credit support concurrently provided, on the same terms, ratably to each holder of Notes then outstanding even if such holder did not consent to such waiver or amendment.

18.3. Binding Effect, Etc.

Any amendment or waiver consented to as provided in this Section 18 applies equally to all holders of Notes and is binding upon them and upon each future holder of any Note and upon the Company without regard to whether such Note has been marked to indicate such amendment or waiver. No such amendment or waiver will extend to or affect any obligation, covenant, agreement, Default or Event of Default not expressly amended or waived or impair any right consequent thereon. No course of dealing between the Company and the holder of any Note nor any delay in exercising any rights hereunder or under any Note shall operate as a waiver of any rights of any holder of such Note. As used herein, the term “this Agreement” and references thereto shall mean this Agreement as it may from time to time be amended or supplemented.

18.4. Notes Held by Company, Etc.

Solely for the purpose of determining whether the holders of the requisite percentage of the aggregate principal amount of Notes then outstanding approved or consented to any amendment, waiver or consent to be given under this Agreement, the Notes or any other Financing Agreements, or have directed the taking of any action provided herein or therein to be taken upon the direction of the holders of a specified percentage of the aggregate principal amount of Notes then outstanding, Notes directly or indirectly owned by the Company or any of its Affiliates shall be deemed not to be outstanding.

19. NOTICES; ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

Except to the extent expressly provided otherwise in Sections 7.1(a) and 7.1(c), all notices and communications provided for hereunder shall be in writing and sent (a) by telecopy if the sender on the same day sends a confirming copy of such notice by a recognized international commercial delivery service (charges prepaid), (b) by a recognized international commercial delivery service (with charges prepaid), or (c) with respect to notices to a Purchaser or holder, unless such Purchaser or holders otherwise notifies the Company, by e-mail to an e-mail address provided by such Purchaser or holder to the Company from time to time. Any such notice must be sent:

(a) if to a Purchaser or its nominee, to such Purchaser or nominee at the address specified for such communications in Schedule A, or at such other address as such Purchaser or nominee shall have specified to the Company in writing,

(b) if to any other holder of any Note, to such holder at such address as such other holder shall have specified to the Company in writing, or

(c) if to the Company, to the Company at its address set forth at the beginning hereof to the attention of the Chief Financial Officer, or at such other address as the Company shall have specified to the holder of each Note in writing.

Notices under this Section 19 will be deemed given only when actually received.

Each document, instrument, financial statement, report, notice or other communication delivered in connection with this Agreement shall be in English.

The Purchaser acknowledges and confirms that it has requested that all documents evidencing or relating in any way to the sale of the Notes be drawn up in the English language only.

20. REPRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS.

This Agreement and all documents relating thereto, including, without limitation,

(a) consents, waivers and modifications that may hereafter be executed, (b) documents received by any Purchaser at the Closing (except the Notes themselves), and (c) financial statements, certificates and other information previously or hereafter furnished to any Purchaser, may be reproduced by such Purchaser by any photographic, photostatic, electronic, digital or other similar process and such Purchaser may destroy any original document so reproduced. The Company agrees and stipulates that, to the extent permitted by applicable Laws, any such reproduction shall be admissible in evidence as the original itself in any judicial or administrative proceeding (whether or not the original is in existence and whether or not such reproduction was made by such Purchaser in the regular course of business) and any enlargement, facsimile or further reproduction of such reproduction shall likewise be admissible in evidence. This Section 20 shall not prohibit the Company or any other holder of Notes from contesting any such reproduction to the same extent that it could contest the original, or from introducing evidence to demonstrate the inaccuracy of any such reproduction.

21. CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION.

For the purposes of this Section 21, “Confidential Information” means the Memorandum and all other information delivered to any Purchaser by or on behalf of the Company or any Subsidiary in connection with the transactions contemplated by or otherwise pursuant to this Agreement that is proprietary in nature and that was clearly marked or labeled or otherwise adequately identified when received by such Purchaser as being confidential information of the Company or such Subsidiary, provided that such term does not include information that (a) was publicly known or otherwise known to such Purchaser prior to the time of such disclosure, (b) subsequently becomes publicly known through no act or omission by such Purchaser or any person acting on such Purchaser’s behalf, (c) otherwise becomes known to such Purchaser other than through disclosure by the Company or any Subsidiary or (d) constitutes financial statements delivered to such Purchaser under Section 7.1 that are otherwise publicly available. Each Purchaser will maintain the confidentiality of such Confidential Information in accordance with procedures adopted by such Purchaser in good faith to protect confidential information of third parties delivered to such Purchaser, provided that such Purchaser may deliver or disclose Confidential Information to (i) its directors, trustees, officers, employees, agents, attorneys and affiliates (to the extent such disclosure reasonably relates to the administration of the investment represented by its Notes), (ii) its financial advisors and other professional advisors who agree to hold confidential the Confidential Information substantially in accordance with the terms of this Section 21, (iii) any other holder of any Note, (iv) any Institutional Investor to which it sells or offers to sell such Note or any part thereof or any participation therein (if such Person has agreed in writing prior to its receipt of such Confidential Information to be bound by the provisions of this Section 21), (v) any Person from which it offers to purchase any security of the Company (if such Person has agreed in writing prior to its receipt of such Confidential Information to be bound by the provisions of this Section 21), (vi) any federal or state regulatory authority having jurisdiction over such Purchaser, (vii) the NAIC or the SVO or, in each case, any similar organization, or any nationally recognized rating agency that requires access to information about such Purchaser's investment portfolio, or (viii) any other Person to which such delivery or disclosure may be necessary or appropriate (w) to effect compliance with any law, rule, regulation or order applicable to such Purchaser, (x) in response to any subpoena or other legal process, (y) in connection with any litigation to which such Purchaser is a party or (z) if an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, to the extent such Purchaser may reasonably determine such delivery and disclosure to be necessary or appropriate in the enforcement or for the protection of the rights and remedies under such Purchaser's Notes and this Agreement. Each holder of a Note, by its acceptance of a Note, will be deemed to have agreed to be bound by and to be entitled to the benefits of this Section 21 as though it were a party to this Agreement. On reasonable request by the Company in connection with the delivery to any holder of a Note of information required to be delivered to such holder under this Agreement or requested by such holder (other than a holder that is a party to this Agreement or its nominee), such holder will enter into an agreement with the Company embodying the provisions of this Section 21.

In the event that as a condition to receiving access to information relating to the Company or its Subsidiaries in connection with the transactions contemplated by or otherwise pursuant to this Agreement, any holder of a Note is required to agree to a confidentiality undertaking (whether through IntraLinks, another secure website, a secure virtual workspace or otherwise) which is different from this Section 21, this Section 21 shall not be amended thereby and, as between such holder and the Company, this Section 21 shall supersede any such other confidentiality undertaking.

22. SUBSTITUTION OF PURCHASER.

Each Purchaser shall have the right to substitute any one of its Affiliates as the purchaser of the Notes that it has agreed to purchase hereunder, by written notice to the Company, which notice shall be signed by both such Purchaser and such Affiliate, shall contain such Affiliate's agreement to be bound by this Agreement and shall contain a confirmation by such Affiliate of the accuracy with respect to it of the representations set forth in Section 6. Upon receipt of such notice, any reference to such Purchaser in this Agreement (other than in this Section 22), shall be deemed to refer to such Affiliate in lieu of such original Purchaser. In the event that such Affiliate is so substituted as a Purchaser hereunder and such Affiliate thereafter transfers to such original Purchaser all of the Notes then held by such Affiliate, upon receipt by the Company of notice of such transfer, any reference to such Affiliate as a "Purchaser" in this Agreement (other than in this Section 22), shall no longer be deemed to refer to such Affiliate, but shall refer to such original Purchaser, and such original Purchaser shall again have all the rights of an original holder of the Notes under this Agreement.

23. MISCELLANEOUS.

23.1. Successors and Assigns.

All covenants and other agreements contained in this Agreement by or on behalf of any of the parties hereto bind and inure to the benefit of their respective successors and assigns (including, without limitation, any subsequent holder of a Note) whether so expressed or not, except that, subject to Section 10.2, the Company may not assign or otherwise transfer any of its rights or obligations hereunder or under the Notes without the prior written consent of each holder. Nothing in this Agreement, expressed or implied, shall be construed to confer upon any Person (other than the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns permitted hereby) any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or by reason of this Agreement.

23.2. Payments Due on Non-Business Days.

Anything in this Agreement or the Notes to the contrary notwithstanding (but without limiting the requirement in Section 8.5 that notice of any optional prepayment specify a Business Day as the date fixed for such prepayment), any payment of principal of or Make-Whole Amount, or interest on any Note that is due on a date other than a Business Day shall be made on the next succeeding Business Day without including the additional days elapsed in the computation of the interest payable on such next succeeding Business Day; provided that if the maturity date of any Note is a date other than a Business Day, the payment otherwise due on such maturity date shall be made on the next succeeding Business Day and shall include the additional days elapsed in the computation of interest payable on such next succeeding Business Day.

23.3. Accounting Terms.

All accounting terms used herein which are not expressly defined in this Agreement have the meanings respectively given to them in accordance with GAAP. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, all computations made pursuant to this Agreement shall be made in accordance with GAAP, and all financial statements shall be prepared in accordance with GAAP. If GAAP is changed such that shareholders' equity of the Company as shown on the consolidated balance sheet of the Company as at the date hereof is recharacterized as a non-equity item, then Consolidated Shareholders' Equity will be determined on the basis of GAAP as in effect immediately prior to such recharacterization and, for certainty, such shareholders' equity as so recharacterized shall not be included as part of Consolidated Total Debt. In addition, if GAAP is changed to reclassify operating leases to capital leases subsequent to the date of the Original Note Agreement, then the accounting treatment of all such leases will be determined based on GAAP in effect immediately prior to such reclassification.

For purposes of determining compliance with the financial covenants contained in this Agreement, any election by the Company to measure an item of Debt using fair value (as permitted by Accounting Standard Codification Topic No. 825-10-25 – Fair Value Option, International Accounting Standard 39, or any similar accounting standard) shall be disregarded and such determination shall be made as if such election had not been made.

23.4. Severability.

Any provision of this Agreement that is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remaining provisions hereof, and any such prohibition or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall (to the full extent permitted by law) not invalidate or render unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction.

23.5. Construction, Etc.

Each covenant contained herein shall be construed (absent any express provision to the contrary) as being independent of each other covenant contained herein, so that compliance with any one covenant shall not (absent such an express contrary provision) be deemed to excuse compliance with any other covenant. Where any provision herein refers to action to be taken by any Person, or which such Person is prohibited from taking, such provision shall be applicable whether such action is taken directly or indirectly by such Person.

Defined terms herein shall apply equally to the singular and plural forms of the terms defined. Whenever the context may require, any pronoun shall include the corresponding masculine, feminine and neuter forms. 23.8. Jurisdiction and Process; Waiver of Jury Trial.

(a) The Company irrevocably submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Alberta over any suit, action or proceeding arising out of or relating to the Financing Agreements. To the fullest extent permitted by applicable Laws, the Company irrevocably waives and agrees not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense or otherwise, any claim that it is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such court, any objection that it may now or hereafter have to the laying of the venue of any such suit, action or proceeding brought in any such court and any claim that any such suit, action or proceeding brought in any such court has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

(b) The Company agrees, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable Laws, that a final judgment in any suit, action or proceeding of the nature referred to in Section 23.8(a) brought in any such court shall be conclusive and binding upon it subject to rights of appeal, as the case may be, and may be enforced in the courts of the Province of Alberta (or any other courts to the jurisdiction of which it or any of its assets is or may be subject) by a suit upon such judgment.

(c) Nothing in this Section 23.8 shall affect the right of any holder of a Note to serve process in any manner permitted by law, or limit any right that the holders of any of the Notes may have to bring proceedings against the Company in the courts of any appropriate jurisdiction or to enforce in any lawful manner a judgment obtained in one jurisdiction in any other jurisdiction.

(d) THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY WAIVE TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY ACTION BROUGHT ON OR WITH RESPECT TO THIS AGREEMENT, THE NOTES OR ANY OTHER DOCUMENT EXECUTED IN CONNECTION HERewith OR THEREWITH.

(b) Any payment on account of an amount that is payable under the Financing Agreements in U.S. dollars which is made to or for the account of any holder of Notes in any other currency, whether as a result of any judgment or order or the enforcement thereof or the realization of any security or the liquidation of the Company, shall constitute a discharge of the obligation of the Company under the Financing Agreements only to the extent of the amount of U.S. dollars which such holder purchases or could purchase in the foreign exchange markets in New York, New York, with the amount of such other currency in accordance with normal banking procedures at the rate of exchange prevailing on the Business Day following receipt of the payment first referred to above. If the amount of U.S. dollars so purchased or that could be purchased is less than the amount of U.S. dollars originally due to such holder, the Company agrees to the fullest extent permitted by law, to indemnify and save harmless such holder from and against all loss or damage arising out of or as a result of such deficiency. This indemnity shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, constitute an obligation separate and independent from the other obligations contained in the Financing Agreements, shall give rise to a separate and independent cause of action, shall apply irrespective of any indulgence granted by such holder from time to time and shall continue in full force and effect notwithstanding any judgment or order for a liquidated sum in respect of an amount due under the Financing Agreements or under any judgment or order.

23.10. Interest.

(a) In respect of any overdue amounts hereunder or under the Notes where no provision is made herein or therein for payment of interest thereon, the Company shall pay interest on such overdue amounts on demand, calculated from the date such unpaid amount is due until such unpaid amount is paid in full, at the Default Rate.

(b) In no event shall any interest or fee to be paid hereunder or under a Note exceed the maximum rate permitted by applicable Laws. In the event any such interest rate or fee exceeds such maximum rate, such rate shall be adjusted downward to the highest rate (expressed as a percentage per annum) or fee that the parties could validly have agreed to by contract on the date hereof under applicable Laws. It is further agreed that any excess actually received by a holder of a Note shall be credited against the principal of the Notes (or, if the principal shall have been or would thereby be paid in full, the remaining amount shall be credited or paid to the Company).

(c) All interest (including interest on overdue interest) payable by the Company hereunder and under the Notes shall accrue from day to day, computed as provided herein, and shall be payable after as well as before maturity, demand, default and judgment.

(d) Interest on the Notes shall be computed on the basis of a 360-day year of 12 30-day months. Solely for purposes of the Interest Act (Canada), the yearly rate of interest to which interest calculated for a period of less than one year on the basis of a year of 360 days consisting of 12 30-day periods is equivalent is such rate of interest multiplied by a fraction of which (i) the numerator is the product of (A) the actual number of days in the year commencing on the first day of such period, multiplied by (B) the sum of (y) the product of 30 multiplied by the number of complete months elapsed in such period and (z) the actual number of days elapsed in any incomplete month in such period; and (ii) the denominator is the product of (a) 360 multiplied by (b) the actual number of days in such period.

(e) The theory of “deemed reinvestment” shall not apply to the computation of interest and no allowance, reduction or deduction shall be made for the deemed reinvestment of interest in respect of any payments. Calculation of interest shall be made using the nominal rate method, and not the effective rate method, of calculation.

(f) To the extent permitted by law, Section 6 of the Judgment Interest Act (Alberta) is hereby waived and shall not apply to this Agreement or the Notes.

(g) The interest payment due on the day prior to the maturity date of each Note shall include one additional days' interest, calculated as if such interest due date was such final maturity date.

23.11. Changes to LMR.

If (a) as a result of any change in any applicable Laws, rule, policy, regulation, order or directive, any applicable Energy Regulator ceases to use a liability management (or equivalent) rating as a means of determining whether a corporation is in compliance with such regulator's abandonment and reclamation policies, regulations and directives in any one or more Material Jurisdiction, (b) the method of calculation of any LMR changes in any material manner in any Material Jurisdiction, or (c) if the threshold for which (i) license transfers of regulated properties shall be permitted under an Energy Regulator's licensee liability regime in any Material Jurisdiction changes in any material respect or (ii) any security deposits will be required to be provided to the applicable Energy Regulator changes in any material respect, then, in any such case, the Company and the Required Holders shall enter into good faith discussions with a view to determining a comparable rating system or threshold, as applicable, to replace the concept of LMR as set forth herein that is, at such time, broadly accepted as the prevailing market practice for such regulation in the applicable Material Jurisdiction, with the intent of having the respective positions of the holders of Notes and the Company after such change conform as nearly as possible to their respective positions immediately prior to such change; provided that, until any such agreement is reached, the LMR shall continue to be calculated as if no such change had occurred. Upon the Company and the Required Holders agreeing on such methodology for determining LMR and the thresholds set forth herein, the Company and the holders of Notes shall enter into documentation to amend the provisions hereof to refer to such rate and make all other adjustments incidental thereto. The Company and the holders of Notes agree that such amendment shall require the consent of each of the holders of Notes notwithstanding anything to the contrary set out herein.

Solely for purpose of the Interest Act (Canada), the yearly rate of interest to which interest calculated for a period of less than one year on the basis of a year of 360 days consisting of twelve 30-day periods is equivalent is such rate of interest multiplied by a fraction of which (i) the numerator is the product of (A) the actual number of days in the year commencing on the first day of such period, multiplied by (B) the sum of (y) the product of 30 multiplied by the number of complete months elapsed in such period and (z) the actual number of days elapsed in any incomplete month in such period; and (ii) the denominator is the product of (a) 360 multiplied by (b) the actual number of days in such period. The theory of “deemed reinvestment” shall not apply to the computation of interest hereunder and no allowance, reduction or deduction shall be made for the deemed reinvestment of interest in respect of any payments hereunder. Calculation of interest hereunder shall be made using the nominal rate method, and not the effective rate method, of calculation.

Payments of principal of, interest on and any Series G Make-Whole Amount or Protective Claim Amount with respect to this Series G Note are to be made in lawful money of the United States of America at Citibank, N.A. or at such other place as the Company shall have designated by written notice to the holder of this Series G Note as provided in the Note Purchase Agreement referred to below.

This Series G Note is a registered Series G Note and, as provided in the Note Purchase Agreement, upon surrender of this Series G Note for registration of transfer, accompanied by a written instrument of transfer duly executed by the registered holder hereof or such holder’s attorney duly authorized in writing, a new Series G Note for a like principal amount will be issued to, and registered in the name of, the transferee. Prior to due presentment for registration of transfer, the Company may treat the person in whose name this Series G Note is registered as the owner hereof for the purpose of receiving payment and for all other purposes, and the Company will not be affected by any notice to the contrary.

This Series G Note is subject to optional prepayment, in whole or from time to time in part, at the times and on the terms specified in the Note Purchase Agreement, but not otherwise.

If an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, the principal of this Series G Note may be declared or otherwise become due and payable in the manner, at the price (including the Series G Make-Whole Amount or the Protective Claim Amount, as applicable) and with the effect provided in the Note Purchase Agreement.

(iii) definitive purchase and sale agreement for property and assets of the Obsidian Parties; and

(iv) financing commitment for debt and/or equity financing in favor of the Obsidian Parties, provided that, if any Person delivering to one or more of the Obsidian Parties any non-binding letter of intent or non-binding term sheet pursuant to clause (i) or (ii) above has conditioned or otherwise restricted delivery of the same, or pursuant to the provisions of the same, there is a restriction or other prohibition that it may not be distributed to the holders' legal counsel and the Financial Advisor or that its distribution is otherwise restricted or prohibited such that it cannot be distributed to the holders' legal counsel and the Financial Advisor (including, for certainty, any information relating to the identity of Potential Transaction Counterparties and the details of bids) such that the Company cannot satisfy the foregoing provisions of this Section 7.1(p), then the Company shall promptly, and in any event within 5 Business Days of any Obsidian Party's receipt of the same, give written notice of such conditions, restrictions and/or prohibitions to the holders, the holders' legal counsel and the Financial Advisor and deliver to the holders' legal counsel and the Financial Advisor a summary summarizing in detail as much information regarding the same as possible and, thereafter, the Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain the consent of the person delivering the same so that the same can thereafter, and as promptly as possible, be distributed to the holders' legal counsel and the Financial Advisor;

(q) Notices from Lenders – within two Business Days of receipt thereof, a copy of any notice from a Lender relating to the termination of the Revolving Period (as defined in the Bank Facility); and

(r) Requested Information – with reasonable promptness, such other data and information relating to the business, operations, affairs, financial condition, assets or properties of the Company or its Restricted Subsidiaries or relating to their ability to perform their respective obligations under any Financing Agreement as from time to time may be reasonably requested by any such holder of Notes that is an Institutional Investor, including information readily available to the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary explaining the Company's financial statements if such information has been requested by the SVO in order to assign or maintain a designation of the Notes.

7.2. Officer's Certificate.

Each set of financial statements delivered to a holder of Notes pursuant to Section 7.1(a) or Section 7.1(b) shall be accompanied by a certificate of a Senior Financial Officer setting forth (which, in the case of Electronic Delivery of any such financial statements, shall be by separate and reasonably concurrent delivery of such certificate to each holder of Notes):

(a) Covenant Compliance — the information (including detailed calculations) required in order to establish whether the Company was in compliance with the requirements of Sections 10.5, 10.7, 10.8, 10.12 and 10.13 during the interim or annual period covered by the statements then being furnished (including with respect to each such Section, where applicable, the calculations of the maximum or minimum amount, ratio or percentage, as the case may be, permissible under the terms of such Sections, and the calculation of the amount, ratio or percentage then in existence); and

(b) Event of Default — a statement that such Senior Financial Officer has reviewed the relevant terms hereof and has made, or caused to be made, under his or her supervision, a review of the transactions and conditions of the Company and its Subsidiaries from the beginning of the interim or annual period covered by the statements then being furnished to the date of the certificate and that such review shall not have disclosed the existence during such period of any condition or event that constitutes a Default or an Event of Default or, if any such condition or event existed or exists, specifying the nature and period of existence thereof and what action the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary shall have taken or proposes to take with respect thereto.

7.3. Visitation.

The Company shall permit the representatives of each holder of Notes that is an Institutional Investor:

(a) No Default — if no Default or Event of Default then exists, at the expense of such holder and upon reasonable prior notice to the Company, to visit the principal executive office of the Company, to discuss the affairs, finances and accounts of the Company and its Restricted Subsidiaries with the Company's officers/management, and (with the consent of the Company, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld) the Company's independent public accountants, and (with the consent of the Company, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld) to visit the other offices and properties of the Company and its Restricted Subsidiaries, all at such reasonable times and as often as may be reasonably requested in writing; and

(b) Default — if a Default or Event of Default then exists, at the expense of the Company to visit and inspect any of the offices or properties of the Company and its Restricted Subsidiaries, to examine all their respective books of account, records, reports and other papers, to make copies and extracts therefrom, and to discuss their respective affairs, finances and accounts with their respective officers and independent public accountants (and by this provision the Company, on its own behalf and on behalf of its Restricted Subsidiaries, authorizes said accountants to discuss the affairs, finances and accounts of the Company and its Restricted Subsidiaries), all at such times and as often as may be requested in writing.

7.4. Limitation on Disclosure Obligation.

The Company shall not be required to disclose the following information pursuant to Section 7.1(c), 7.1(r) or 7.3:

(a) information that the Company determines after consultation with counsel qualified to advise on such matters that, notwithstanding the confidentiality requirements of Section 21, it would be prohibited from disclosing by applicable Laws or regulations without making public disclosure thereof; or

(b) information that, notwithstanding the confidentiality requirements of Section 21, the Company is prohibited from disclosing by the terms of an obligation of confidentiality contained in any agreement with any non-Affiliate binding upon the Company and not entered into in contemplation of this clause (b), provided that the Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain consent from the party in whose favor the obligation of confidentiality was made to permit the disclosure of the relevant information and provided further that the Company has received a written opinion of counsel confirming that disclosure of such information without consent from such other contractual party would constitute a breach of such agreement.

Promptly after a request therefor from any holder of Notes that is an Institutional Investor, the Company will provide such holder with a written opinion of counsel (which may be addressed to the Company) relied upon as to any requested information that the Company is prohibited from disclosing to such holder under circumstances described in this Section 7.4.

8. PAYMENT AND PREPAYMENT OF THE NOTES.

8.1. Maturity.

As provided therein, the entire unpaid principal balance of the Notes shall be due and payable on the stated maturity date thereof.

8.2. Optional Prepayments with Make-Whole Amount.

The Company may, at its option, upon notice as provided below, prepay at any time all, or from time to time any part of, the Series S Notes, in an amount not less than 10% of the aggregate principal amount of the Series S Notes then outstanding in the case of a partial prepayment, at 100% of the principal amount so prepaid, and the Series S Make-Whole Amount determined for the prepayment date with respect to such principal amount. The Company will give each holder of the Series S Notes written notice of each optional prepayment under this Section 8.2 not less than 30 days and not more than 60 days prior to the date fixed for such prepayment. Each such notice shall specify such date (which shall be a Business Day), the aggregate principal amount of the Series S Notes to be prepaid on such date, the principal amount of each Series S Note held by such holder to be prepaid (determined in accordance with Section 8.4), and the interest to be paid on the prepayment date with respect to such principal amount being prepaid, and shall be accompanied by a certificate of a Senior Financial Officer as to the estimated Series S Make-Whole Amount due in connection with such prepayment (calculated as if the date of such notice were the date of the prepayment), setting forth the details of such computation. Two Business Days prior to such prepayment, the Company shall deliver to each holder of the Series S Notes a certificate of a Senior Financial Officer specifying the calculation of such Series S Make-Whole Amount as of the specified prepayment date.

8.3. Prepayment for Tax Reasons Without Make-Whole.

If at any time as a result of a Change in Tax Law (as defined below) the Company is or becomes obligated to make any Additional Payments (as defined below) in respect of any payment of interest on account of any of the Notes in an aggregate amount for all affected Notes equal to 5% or more of the aggregate amount of such interest payment on account of all of the affected Notes, the Company may give the holders of all affected Notes irrevocable written notice (each, a “Tax Prepayment Notice”) of the prepayment of such affected Notes on a specified prepayment date (which shall be a Business Day not less than 30 days nor more than 60 days after the date of such notice) and the circumstances giving rise to the obligation of the Company to make any Additional Payments and the amount thereof and offering to prepay all of the affected Notes on the date of such prepayment at 100% of the principal amount so prepaid together with interest accrued thereon to the date of such prepayment. Each holder of an affected Note that wishes to accept such prepayment in respect of all or any of the affected Notes held by it shall give written notice to that effect to the Company no more than 20 days after receipt of the Tax Prepayment Notice (each, a “Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice”). The form of Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice and a description in reasonable detail of the nature and date of the Change in Tax Law shall accompany the Tax Prepayment Notice. Failure to give a Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice with respect to any affected Note within such 20 day period shall be deemed to be a rejection of the prepayment of such affected Note or affected Notes held by such holder, and shall operate as a permanent waiver of such holder’s right to receive the Additional Payments arising as a result of the circumstances described in the Tax Prepayment Notice in respect of all future payments of interest on such Note or Notes (but not of such holder’s right to receive any Additional Payments that arise out of circumstances not described in the Tax Prepayment Notice or which exceed the amount of the Additional Payment described in the Tax Prepayment Notice), which waiver shall be binding upon all subsequent transferees of such Notes. The principal amount of all Notes that are the subject of a Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice together with interest accrued thereon to the date of such prepayment shall become due and payable on such prepayment date.

No prepayment of the Notes pursuant to this Section 8.3 shall affect the obligation of the Company to pay Additional Payments in respect of any payment made on or prior to the date of such prepayment. For purposes of this Section 8.3, any holder of more than one affected Note may act separately with respect to each affected Note so held (with the effect that a holder of more than one affected Note may accept such offer with respect to one or more affected Notes so held and reject such offer with respect to one or more other affected Notes so held).

The Company may not offer to prepay or prepay Notes pursuant to this Section 8.3 (a) if a Default or Event of Default then exists, (b) until the Company shall have taken commercially reasonable steps to mitigate the requirement to make the related Additional Payments or (c) if the obligation to make such Additional Payments directly results or resulted from actions taken by the Company or any Subsidiary (other than actions required to be taken under applicable Laws), and any Tax Prepayment Notice given pursuant to this Section 8.3 shall certify to the foregoing and describe such mitigation steps, if any.

For purposes of this Section 8.3: “Additional Payments” means additional amounts required to be paid to a holder of any Note pursuant to Section 13 by reason of a Change in Tax Law; and a “Change in Tax Law” means (individually or collectively with one or more prior changes) (i) an amendment to, or change in, any law, treaty, rule or regulation of Canada after the date of the Closing, or an amendment to, or change in, an official interpretation or application of such law, treaty, rule or regulation after the date of the Closing, which amendment or change is in force and continuing and meets the opinion and certification requirements described below or (ii) in the case of any other jurisdiction that becomes a Taxing Jurisdiction after the date of the Original Note Agreement, an amendment to, or change in, any law, treaty, rule or regulation of such jurisdiction, or an amendment to, or change in, an official interpretation or application of such law, treaty, rule or regulation, in any case after such jurisdiction shall have become a Taxing Jurisdiction, which amendment or change is in force and continuing and meets such opinion and certification requirements. No such amendment or change shall constitute a Change in Tax Law unless the same would in the opinion of the Company (which shall be evidenced by an Officer’s Certificate of the Company and supported by a written opinion of counsel having recognized expertise in the field of taxation in the Taxing Jurisdiction, both of which shall be delivered to all holders of the Notes prior to or concurrently with the Tax Prepayment Notice in respect of such Change in Tax Law) affect the deduction or require the withholding of any Tax imposed by such Taxing Jurisdiction on any payment payable on the Notes.

8.4. Allocation of Partial Prepayments.

In the case of each partial prepayment of the Notes pursuant to Section 8.2, the principal amount of the Notes to be prepaid shall be allocated among all of the Notes at the time outstanding in proportion, as nearly as practicable, to the respective unpaid principal amounts of all Notes not theretofore called for prepayment.

All prepayments pursuant to Sections 8.3 and 8.8 shall be applied as therein provided.

8.5. Maturity; Surrender, Etc.

In the case of each prepayment of Notes pursuant to this Section 8, the principal amount of each Note to be prepaid shall mature and become due and payable on the date fixed for such prepayment (which shall be a Business Day), together with interest on such principal amount accrued to such date and the applicable Make-Whole Amount, if any. From and after such date, unless the Company shall fail to pay such principal amount when so due and payable, together with the interest and the applicable Make-Whole Amount, if any, as aforesaid, interest on such principal amount shall cease to accrue. Any Note paid or prepaid in full shall be surrendered to the Company and cancelled and shall not be reissued, and no Note shall be issued in lieu of any prepaid principal amount of any Note.

8.6. Purchase of Notes.

The Company will not and will not permit any Affiliate to purchase, redeem, prepay or otherwise acquire, directly or indirectly, any of the outstanding Notes except upon the payment or prepayment of the Notes in accordance with the terms of this Agreement and the Notes. The Company will promptly cancel all Notes acquired by it or any Affiliate pursuant to any payment or prepayment of Notes pursuant to any provision of this Agreement and no Notes may be issued in substitution or exchange for any such Notes.

8.7. Make-Whole Amount.

The term “Series S Make-Whole Amount” means, with respect to any Series S Note, an amount equal to the excess, if any, of the Discounted Value of the Remaining Scheduled Payments with respect to the Called Principal of such Note over the amount of such Called Principal, provided that none of the Series S Make-Whole Amount may in any event be less than zero. For the purposes of determining the Series S Make-Whole Amount the following terms have the following meanings:

“Applicable Percentage” means [REDACTED] ([REDACTED] Basis Points).

“Called Principal” means, with respect to any such Note, the principal of such Note that is to be prepaid pursuant to Section 8.2 or has become or is declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to Section 12.1, as the context requires.

“Discounted Value” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any such Note, the amount obtained by discounting all Remaining Scheduled Payments with respect to such Called Principal from their respective scheduled due dates to the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal, in accordance with accepted financial practice and at a discount factor (applied on the same periodic basis as that on which interest on the Notes is payable) equal to the Reinvestment Yield with respect to such Called Principal.

“Reinvestment Yield” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any such Note, the sum of (x) the Applicable Percentage plus (y) the yield to maturity implied by (i) the yields reported as of 10:00 A.M. (New York City time) on the second Business Day preceding the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal, on the display designated as “Page PX1” (or such other display as may replace Page PX1) on Bloomberg

Financial Markets for the most recently issued actively traded on the run U.S. Treasury securities having a maturity equal to the Remaining Average Life of such Called Principal as of such Settlement Date, or (ii) if such yields are not reported as of such time or the yields reported as of such time are not ascertainable (including by way of interpolation), the Treasury Constant Maturity Series Yields reported, for the latest day for which such yields have been so reported as of the second Business Day preceding the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal, in Federal Reserve Statistical Release H.15 (or any comparable successor publication) for U.S. Treasury securities having a constant maturity equal to the Remaining Average Life of such Called Principal as of such Settlement Date. In the case of each determination under clause (i) or clause (ii), as the case may be, of the preceding paragraph, such implied yield will be determined, if necessary, by (a) converting U.S. Treasury bill quotations to bond equivalent yields in accordance with accepted financial practice and (b) interpolating linearly between (1) the applicable U.S. Treasury security with the maturity closest to and greater than such Remaining Average Life and (2) the applicable U.S. Treasury security with the maturity closest to and less than such Remaining Average Life. The Reinvestment Yield shall be rounded to the number of decimal places as appears in the interest rate of the applicable Note.

“Remaining Average Life” means, with respect to any Called Principal, the number of years (calculated to two decimal places) obtained by dividing (i) such Called Principal into (ii) the sum of the products obtained by multiplying (a) the principal component of each Remaining Scheduled Payment with respect to such Called Principal by (b) the number of years (calculated to two decimal places) that will elapse between the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal and the Applicable Maturity Date of such Remaining Scheduled Payment.

“Remaining Scheduled Payments” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any Note, all payments of such Called Principal and interest thereon that would be due after the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal if no payment of such Called Principal were made prior to the Applicable Maturity Date, provided that if such Settlement Date is not a date on which interest payments are due to be made under the terms of the Notes, then the amount of the next succeeding scheduled interest payment will be reduced by the amount of interest accrued to such Settlement Date and required to be paid on such Settlement Date pursuant to Section 8.2 or 12.1.

“Settlement Date” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any Note, the date on which such Called Principal is to be prepaid pursuant to Section 8.2 or has become or is declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to Section 12.1, as the context requires.

8.8. Prepayment Offer Without Make-Whole on Change in Control.

(a) Notice of Change in Control. The Company will, within 5 Business Days after any Responsible Officer has knowledge of the occurrence of any Change in Control, give written notice of such Change in Control to each holder of Notes. Such notice shall refer to this Section 8.8, shall contain and constitute an offer to prepay Notes as described in Section 8.8(b) and shall be accompanied by the certificate described in Section 8.8 (e).

(b) Offer to Prepay Notes. The offer to prepay Notes contemplated by 8.8(a) shall be an offer to prepay, in accordance with and subject to this Section 8.8, all, but not less than all, the Notes held by each holder (in this case only, “holder” in respect of any Note registered in the name of a nominee for a disclosed beneficial owner shall mean such beneficial owner) on a date specified in such offer (the “Proposed Prepayment Date”), which date shall be not less than 30 Business Days and not more than 120 Business Days after the date of such offer (if the Proposed Prepayment Date shall not be specified in such offer, the Proposed Prepayment Date shall be the first Business Day after the 45th Business Day after the date of such offer).

(c) Acceptance/Rejection. A holder of Notes may accept the offer to prepay made pursuant to this Section 8.8 by causing a notice of such acceptance to be delivered to the Company not later than 15 Business Days after receipt by such holder of the most recent offer of prepayment, but in any event at least 10 Business Days prior to the Proposed Prepayment Date. A failure by a holder of Notes to respond to an offer to prepay made pursuant to this Section 8.8 shall be deemed to constitute a rejection of such offer by such holder.

(d) Prepayment. Prepayment of the Notes to be prepaid pursuant to this Section 8.8 shall be at 100% of the principal amount of such Notes, together with interest on such Notes accrued to the date of prepayment, but without the applicable Make-Whole Amounts or other premium.

(e) Officer’s Certificate. Each offer to prepay the Notes pursuant to this Section 8.8 shall be accompanied by a certificate, signed by a Senior Financial Officer of the Company and dated the date of such offer, specifying: (i) the Proposed Prepayment Date; (ii) that such offer is made pursuant to this Section 8.8; (iii) the principal amount of each Note offered to be prepaid;

(iv) the interest that would be due on each Note offered to be prepaid, accrued to the Proposed Prepayment Date; (v) that the conditions of this Section 8.8 have been fulfilled; and (vi) in reasonable detail, the nature and date of the Change in Control.

(f) Certain Definitions.

(i) “Change in Control” means any circumstance arising after the date of the Original Note Agreement in which a Person or a combination of Persons, acting jointly or in concert (within the meaning of Multi-Lateral Instrument 62-104 — Take-Over Bids and Issuer Bids of the Canadian Securities Administrator), acquires Equity Interests of the Company which, in either case, together with all other such Equity Interests held by such Persons, constitute in the aggregate more than 35% of all outstanding Equity Interests of the Company (regardless of whether such Person or Persons are owned or controlled by the same Persons which owned or controlled such Equity Interests).

(ii) “Equity Interests” means in the case of a corporation, shares of capital stock of any class or series, including warrants, rights, participating interests or options to purchase or otherwise acquire any class or series of capital stock or securities exchangeable for or convertible into any class or series of capital stock, and in the case of any other Person or entity shall mean any class or series of partnership interests, units, membership interests or like interests constituting equity, and in the case of each of the foregoing, any part or portion thereof or participation in any of the foregoing.

8.9. [REDACTED]

9. AFFIRMATIVE COVENANTS.

The Company covenants that so long as any of the Notes are outstanding:

9.1. Compliance with Law.

Without limiting Section 10.3, the Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, comply with all laws, ordinances or governmental rules or regulations to which each of them is subject, including, without limitation, ERISA, the USA Patriot Act and Environmental Laws, and will obtain and maintain in effect all licenses, certificates, permits, franchises and other governmental authorizations necessary to the ownership of their respective properties or to the conduct of their respective businesses, in each case to the extent necessary to ensure that non-compliance with such laws, ordinances or governmental rules or regulations or failures to obtain or maintain in effect such licenses, certificates, permits, franchises and other governmental authorizations could not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.2. Insurance.

The Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, maintain, with financially sound and reputable insurers, insurance with respect to their respective properties and businesses against such casualties and contingencies, of such types, on such terms and in such amounts (including deductibles, co-insurance and self-insurance, if adequate reserves are maintained with respect thereto) as is customary in the case of entities of established reputations engaged in the same or a similar business and similarly situated.

9.3. Maintenance of Properties.

Subject to Section 10.2 and 10.11, the Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, maintain and keep, or cause to be maintained and kept, their respective properties in good repair, working order and condition (other than ordinary wear and tear), so that the business carried on in connection therewith may be properly conducted at all times, provided that this Section shall not prevent the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary from discontinuing the operation and the maintenance of any of its properties if such discontinuance is desirable in the conduct of its business and the Company has concluded that such discontinuance could not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.4. Payment of Taxes and Claims.

The Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, file all tax returns required to be filed in any jurisdiction and to pay and discharge all taxes shown to be due and payable on such returns and all other taxes, assessments, governmental charges or levies imposed on them or any of their properties, assets, income or franchises, to the extent the same have become due and payable and before they have become delinquent and all claims for which sums have become due and payable that have or might become a Lien on properties or assets of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary, provided that none of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary need pay any such tax, assessment, charge or levy if (i) the amount, applicability or validity thereof is contested by the Company or such Restricted Subsidiary on a timely basis in good faith and in appropriate proceedings, and the Company or a Restricted Subsidiary has established adequate reserves therefor in accordance with GAAP on the books of the Company or such Restricted Subsidiary or (ii) the nonpayment of all such taxes, assessments, charges and levies in the aggregate could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.5. Legal Existence, Etc.

Subject to Section 10.2, the Company will at all times preserve and keep in full force and effect its corporate existence. Subject to Sections 10.2 and 10.11, the Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, at all times preserve and keep in full force and effect the existence of each Restricted Subsidiary (unless merged into the Company or another Restricted Subsidiary) and all rights and franchises of the Company and each Restricted Subsidiary unless, in the good faith judgment of the Company, the termination of or failure to preserve and keep in full force and effect such corporate existence, right or franchise could not, individually or in the aggregate, have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.6. Books and Records.

The Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, maintain proper books of record and account in conformity with GAAP and all applicable requirements of any Governmental Authority having legal or regulatory jurisdiction over the Company or such Subsidiary, as the case may be.

9.7. Priority of Obligations.

The Company will ensure that, at all times prior to the Security Release Date,

(a) its payment obligations under this Agreement and the Notes rank pari passu, without preference or priority, with its obligations under the Bank Facility, the Other Note Agreements and all other senior secured Indebtedness of the Company, other than Indebtedness secured by Permitted Encumbrances which under applicable Laws ranks in priority thereto; and

(b) each Subsidiary Guarantor's payment obligations under its Subsidiary Guarantee rank pari passu, without preference or priority, with its obligations in respect of the Bank Facility, the Other Note Agreements and all other senior secured Indebtedness of such Subsidiary Guarantor, other than Indebtedness secured by Permitted Encumbrances which under applicable Laws ranks in priority thereto.

9.8. [Reserved].

9.9. Designation of Restricted Subsidiaries.

The Company may designate any Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary and may designate any Restricted Subsidiary as an Unrestricted Subsidiary by providing to the holders of Notes a Notice of Designation in the form attached hereto as Exhibit 9.9; provided that:

(a) no Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) will exist immediately following such designation, and the Company shall have provided an Officer's Certificate to that effect at the time it provides such notice;

(b) in the case of the designation of an Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary and after giving effect thereto, all existing Liens of such Restricted Subsidiary so designated shall be permitted within the applicable limitations of Section 10.4, notwithstanding that any such Lien may have existed as of the date of the Original Note Agreement;

(c) in the case of the designation of a Restricted Subsidiary as an Unrestricted Subsidiary and after giving effect thereto, (i) such Unrestricted Subsidiary so designated shall not, directly or indirectly, own any Indebtedness or Capital Stock of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary, and (ii) such designation shall be deemed to be a sale by the Company of the assets of the Restricted Subsidiary so designated, and must be permitted under Section 10.11;

(d) if required by Section 9.10, each Restricted Subsidiary shall forthwith become a Subsidiary Guarantor;

(e) any Restricted Subsidiary that was previously designated as an Unrestricted Subsidiary shall not be redesignated as a Restricted Subsidiary if a Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) exists immediately prior to such designation; and

(f) any Unrestricted Subsidiary that was previously designated as an Restricted Subsidiary shall not be redesignated as a Unrestricted Subsidiary if a Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) exists immediately prior to such designation.

9.10. Subsidiary Guarantees.

The Company will cause each Subsidiary of the Company (other than any Subsidiary which already is a Subsidiary Guarantor) that hereafter becomes a borrower or a guarantor under the Bank Facility, concurrently therewith to enter into and become a party to a Subsidiary Guarantee, and within three Business Days thereafter, to deliver to each holder of a Note the following:

(a) the Subsidiary Guarantee and the Security Documents (as provided in Section 9.16), or applicable joinders thereto;

(b) a certificate signed by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Operating Officer, the Chief Financial Officer, a Vice President or another authorized officer of such Subsidiary Guarantor making representations and warranties to the effect of those contained in Sections 5.1, 5.2, 5.6 and 5.7 but with respect to such Subsidiary Guarantor and its Subsidiary Guarantee and the Security Documents to which it is a party, and, if relevant under applicable Laws to the provision of the Subsidiary Guarantee, a certificate confirming the solvency of the Subsidiary Guarantor;

(c) such documents and evidence with respect to such Subsidiary Guarantor as the Required Holders may reasonably request in order to establish the existence and good standing of such Subsidiary Guarantor and the authorization of the transactions contemplated by the Subsidiary Guarantee and Security Documents to which such Subsidiary Guarantor is a party; and

(d) a favorable legal opinion of independent legal counsel satisfactory to the Required Holders to the effect that the Subsidiary Guarantee and Security Documents to which such Subsidiary Guarantor is a party have been duly authorized, executed and delivered and constitute the legal, valid and binding obligations of such Subsidiary Guarantor enforceable in accordance with their terms, except as enforcement of such terms may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally and by general equitable principles.

If any such Subsidiary Guarantor subsequently ceases to be a borrower or a guarantor under the Bank Facility (other than as a result of the Bank Facility reaching its scheduled maturity date without renewal and provided that, on the date such Subsidiary Guarantor ceases to be a borrower or guarantor under the Bank Facility, the Liens encumbering assets of such Subsidiary Guarantor created by the Security Documents have been released and discharged in accordance with Section 9.16(g)), then the Company may require the holders of Notes to release such Subsidiary from its Subsidiary Guarantee and any Security Document to which it is a party upon giving 5 Business Days written notice thereof to the holders of Notes together with confirmation of the foregoing reasonably satisfactory to the holders of Notes, whereupon such Subsidiary shall cease to be a Subsidiary Guarantor hereunder and any Lien granted by it pursuant to the Security Documents shall be released and discharged (and the Company may take any additional steps and actions it deems necessary to discharge corresponding Lien registrations and filings), provided that at the time of such notice and the effective date of such release as provided below, and immediately after giving effect thereto, and to such Subsidiary ceasing to be a Subsidiary Guarantor, no Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) exists or would exist, and the Company shall have provided an Officer's Certificate to such effect at the time it provides such notice, with the information (including detailed calculations) required in order to establish same. Upon compliance with the requirements of the preceding sentence, the Subsidiary Guarantee of such Subsidiary shall be deemed to be released and terminated, and any Lien granted by it pursuant to the Security Documents shall be deemed to be released and discharged, as at the expiry of such 5 Business Day period (unless sooner terminated by all the holders of Notes).

9.11. Subordination Agreements.

The Company will cause each Affiliate (a "Subordinating Person") that hereafter subordinates any obligations owed to such Subordinating Person by the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor in favor of any obligations owed by the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor under the Bank Facility, to concurrently therewith enter into a subordination agreement on the same terms in favor of the holders of the Notes, and within three Business Days thereafter, the Company shall deliver to each holder of a Note the following:

- (a) such subordination agreement;

(b) if the Subordinating Person is a Subsidiary of the Company, a certificate signed by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Operating Officer, the Chief Financial Officer, a Vice President or another authorized officer of such Subsidiary making representations and warranties to the effect of those contained in Sections 5.1, 5.2, 5.6 and 5.7, but with respect to such Subordinating Person and its subordination agreement;

(c) if the Subordinating Person is a Subsidiary of the Company, such documents and evidence with respect to such Subordinating Person as the Required Holders may reasonably request in order to establish the existence and good standing of such Subordinating Person and the authorization of the transactions contemplated by its subordination agreement; and

(d) if the Subordinating Person is a Subsidiary of the Company, an opinion of independent counsel satisfactory to the Required Holders to the effect that such subordination agreement has been duly authorized, executed and delivered and constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of such Subordinating Person enforceable in accordance with its terms, except as enforcement of such terms may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally and by general equitable principles.

9.12. [Reserved].

9.13. Matching Bank Facility Liens.

If at any time the Company or any Subsidiary provides a Lien to or for the benefit of the lenders under the Bank Facility, then the Company will (if it has provided such a Lien), and will cause each of its Subsidiaries that has provided such Lien to concurrently grant to or for the benefit of the holders of Notes a similar first priority Lien (subject only to Liens permitted by each of the Bank Facility and Section 10.4, and ranking pari passu with the Liens provided to or for the benefit of the lenders under such Bank Facility), over the same assets, property and undertaking of the Company and each such Subsidiary as those encumbered in respect of the Bank Facility, in form and substance satisfactory to the holders of Notes, acting reasonably, with such security to be subject to the Intercreditor Agreement.

9.14. Partnership.

(a) From and after May 22, 2015 until the Security Release Date, the Company will provide (or cause to be provided) to the Collateral Agent, for and on behalf of, inter alios, the holders of Notes, as continuing security for the Obligations, a debenture from the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors creating a Lien in favor of the Collateral Agent in respect of all their present and after-acquired property, assets and undertaking and a floating charge over all present and future owned real property (the “Security”).

(b) The Security shall be in form and substance satisfactory to the Requisite Secured Parties in their sole discretion. The Requisite Secured Parties, acting reasonably, may require that any Security Document be governed by the Laws of the jurisdiction in which the property in which a Lien is created pursuant to such Security Document is located. The Security Documents shall be registered by the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantors, as applicable, where necessary or desirable to record and perfect the Liens created thereby, as determined by the Requisite Secured Parties in their sole discretion, and if the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor does not so register the Security Documents as requested, any holder of Notes may do the same (the cost of which will be borne by the Company).

(c) The Company will cause to be delivered to the Collateral Agent and each holder of Notes the results of all applicable searches in respect of the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors in the applicable jurisdictions as well as the opinions of solicitors for the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors regarding their corporate status, the due authorization, execution and delivery of the Security Documents provided by them, the creation of the Liens pursuant to the Security Documents and all registrations in respect of the Security Documents, and the validity and enforceability of such Security Documents; all such opinions to be in form and substance satisfactory to the Required Holders and their counsel.

(d) The Company will and will cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to execute any and all further documents, financing statements, agreements and instruments, and take all further action (including filing Personal Property Security Act (Alberta) and Land Titles Act (Alberta) and other financing statements, registering the Security at any land titles or land registry offices or under the Mines and Mineral Act (Alberta) or any similar registry in any other applicable jurisdiction, and filing any other notices, mortgages, deeds of trust and caveats (or the equivalent statements in any other jurisdiction)) that may from time to time be required under applicable Laws, or that the Collateral Agent or the Requisite Secured Parties may reasonably request, in order to effectuate the transactions contemplated by the Financing Agreements and in order to grant, preserve, protect and perfect the validity, enforceability and priority of the Liens created or intended to be created by the Security Documents. For the avoidance of doubt, the Requisite Secured Parties and the Collateral Agent shall have the right to require the Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor to amend or supplement any Security Documents or related registrations to the extent necessary to reflect any changes in applicable Laws (or the interpretation thereof) or any directives, rules or procedures related thereto, whether arising as a result of statutory amendments, court decisions or otherwise, and whether occurring prior to or subsequent to the date hereof.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither the Company nor any Subsidiary Guarantor shall be required (and neither the holders of Notes nor the Collateral Agent shall be entitled) to effect any fixed charge registrations against any real property (including for certainty, registering the Security at any land titles or land registry offices or under the Mines and Mineral Act (Alberta) or any similar registry in any other applicable jurisdiction unless an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing except as otherwise set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement). After an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, from time to time upon the request of the Collateral Agent or the Requisite Secured Parties, within ten Business Days of such request, the Company shall, at the Company's sole cost and expense, execute and deliver, and shall cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to execute and deliver, such additional or supplemental Security Documents as the Collateral Agent or the Requisite Secured Parties may reasonably request in order to ensure that all Collateral held by the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors is validly subjected to first fixed charge Liens in favor of the Collateral Agent for the benefit of the holders of Notes, subject only to Permitted Encumbrances, and in connection therewith shall provide to the Collateral Agent a land schedule in form satisfactory to the Collateral Agent and the Requisite Secured Parties detailing all Collateral then held by the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantor (which shall include legal descriptions, crown lease numbers and issue dates, reserve numbers, zone restrictions, names of freehold lessors, and the interest of the Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor therein before and after payout of working interests and all royalties and burdens). The Company will pay all reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the Collateral Agent or any holder in connection with the preparation, execution, delivery and registration of all documents, agreements, instruments and registrations necessary or advisable to implement the provisions of this Section 9.16(e).

(f) The Company and its Subsidiary Guarantors shall not be discharged from the Subsidiary Guarantee except in accordance with the last paragraph of Section 9.10 or by a written release signed by all holders of Notes and the Liens in respect of the Security shall not be discharged and released except (A) in accordance with Section 9.16(g) and the Intercreditor Agreement or (B) in connection with a Disposition of assets permitted by Section 10.11, to the extent, but only to the extent, that such Liens encumber assets subject to such Disposition.

(g) The Liens created or intended to be created by the Security Documents in accordance with this Section 9.16 shall be fully released and discharged (and the Company may take any additional steps and actions it deems necessary to discharge any corresponding Liens registrations and filings), and the Security Documents shall be terminated and be of no further force and effect, upon the date when both of the following are satisfied (the "Security Release Date"):

(i) a date on which the Notes and the other Outstanding Notes have been paid in full, in cash; and

(ii) a date on which no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing on such date and the Collateral subject to the Intercreditor Agreement is concurrently released by the lenders under the Bank Facility and the noteholders under each Other Note Agreement and the Intercreditor Agreement is concurrently terminated.

(h) Nothing contained herein or in the Security Documents now held or hereafter acquired by the holders, nor any act or omission of the Collateral Agent or the holders with respect to any such Security Documents, will in any way prejudice or affect the rights, remedies or powers of the holders with respect to any other Financing Agreement at any time held by them.

9.17. Material Adverse Claims.

The Company will, and will cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to, do all things necessary to defend and protect their property from all material adverse claims, and to maintain their property free therefrom, except for Permitted Encumbrances, where the failure to do so (a) in the opinion of the Required Holders and/or Collateral Agent, acting reasonably, threatens the actual or intended priority or validity of the Security Documents and the Liens created therein, as provided herein, in the Security Documents and in the Intercreditor Agreement, or (b) has had or would reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.18. Protection of Security.

The Company will, and will cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to, do all things reasonably requested by the Required Holders or the Collateral Agent to protect and maintain the validity and enforceability of the Security Documents and the first-ranking priority thereof, as contemplated herein and in the Intercreditor Agreement, in relation to other Persons.

9.19. [Reserved].

9.20. Hedging Plan.

The Company will comply with the Hedging Plan, as such plan may be amended from time to time with the approval of the Company's board of directors (whether by amendment of such plan or the hedging policy adopted by the Company's board of directors) and in a manner consistent with prudent management of risk related to volatility in prices of Petroleum Substances.

9.21. Most Favored Lender.

Thereafter, upon the request of the Required Holders, the Required Holders and the Company shall enter into an amendment to this Agreement evidencing the incorporation of such additional or more restrictive covenants or events of default, it being agreed that any failure to make such request or to enter into any such amendment shall in no way qualify or limit the incorporation by reference described in clause (ii) of the immediately preceding sentence.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, provisions of the Bank Facility (or any document in respect thereof) that impose a limit on the amount of Indebtedness that may be incurred under this Agreement, shall not be subject to the requirements of the first paragraph of this Section 9.21.

If, prior to a Consensual Transaction, there is any increase in the margin applicable to any one or more loans outstanding under the Bank Facility above the margin in effect on the Effective Date or any fee or other compensation is paid or payable to the Lenders in connection with (x) an extension of the Revolving Period (as defined in the Bank Facility as in effect on the Effective Date) or (y) deferring a redetermination of the Borrowing Base (as defined in the Bank Facility as in effect on the Effective Date) or refraining from exercising a right to redetermine the Borrowing Base, then (a) in the case of an increase in such margin, the interest rate on the Notes shall increase by the same number of Basis Points as such margin has increased for the same period that such increase in the margin shall exist, and (b) in the case of any fee or other compensation, the equivalent of such fee or other compensation shall be given to the holders of Notes promptly, and in any event not more than five (5) Business Days after such consideration is given to the Lenders; provided, however, that fees payable to the Lenders under the Seventh Amending Agreement to the Bank Facility shall not be subject to the requirements of this Section 9.21.

No rescission and annulment under this Section 12.3 will extend to or affect any subsequent Event of Default or Default or impair any right consequent thereon.

12.4. No Waivers or Election of Remedies, Expenses, Etc.

No course of dealing and no delay on the part of any holder of any Note in exercising any right, power or remedy shall operate as a waiver thereof or otherwise prejudice such holder's rights, powers or remedies. No right, power or remedy conferred by this Agreement or by any Note upon any holder thereof shall be exclusive of any other right, power or remedy referred to herein or therein or now or hereafter available at law, in equity, by statute or otherwise. Without limiting the obligations of the Company under Section 16, the Company will pay to the holder of each Note on demand such further amount as shall be sufficient to cover all costs and expenses of such holder incurred in any enforcement or collection under this Section 12, including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees, expenses and disbursements.

13. TAX INDEMNIFICATION.

All payments whatsoever under the Financing Agreements will be made by the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors free and clear of, and without liability for withholding or deduction for or on account of, any present or future Taxes of whatever nature imposed or levied by or on behalf of any jurisdiction (or any political subdivision or taxing authority of or in such jurisdiction) (hereinafter a "Taxing Jurisdiction"), unless the withholding or deduction of such Tax is compelled by law.

If any deduction or withholding for any Tax of a Taxing Jurisdiction shall at any time be required in respect of any amounts to be paid by the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantors under the Financing Agreements, the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantors, as applicable, will pay to the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction the full amount required to be withheld, deducted or otherwise paid before penalties attach thereto or interest accrues thereon and pay to each holder of a Note such additional amounts as may be necessary in order that the net amounts paid to such holder pursuant to the terms of the Financing Agreements after such deduction, withholding or payment (including, without limitation, any required deduction or withholding of Tax on or with respect to such additional amount), shall be not less than the amounts then due and payable to such holder under the terms of the Financing Agreements before the assessment of such Tax, provided that no payment of any additional amounts shall be required to be made for or on account of:

(a) any Tax that would not have been imposed but for the existence of any present or former connection between such holder (or a fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member of, shareholder of, or possessor of a power over, such holder, if such holder is an estate, trust, partnership or corporation or any Person other than the holder to whom the Notes or any amount payable thereon is attributable for the purposes of such Tax) and the Taxing Jurisdiction, other than the mere holding of the relevant Note or the receipt of payments thereunder or in respect thereof, including, without limitation, such holder (or such other Person described in the above parenthetical) being or having been a citizen or resident thereof, or being or having been present or engaged in trade or business therein or having or having had an establishment, office, fixed base or branch therein, provided that this exclusion shall not apply with respect to a Tax that would not have been imposed but for the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantor, after the date of the Original Note Agreement, opening an office in, moving an office to, reincorporating in, or changing the Taxing Jurisdiction from or through which payments on account of the Financing Agreements are made to, the Taxing Jurisdiction imposing the relevant Tax;

(b) any Tax that would not have been imposed but for the delay or failure by such holder (following a written request by the Company) in the filing with the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction of Forms (as defined below) that are required to be filed by such holder to avoid or reduce such Taxes (including for such purpose any refilings or renewals of filings that may from time to time be required by the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction), provided that the filing of such Forms would not (in such holder's reasonable judgment) impose any unreasonable burden (in time, resources or otherwise) on such holder or result in any confidential or proprietary income tax return information being revealed, either directly or indirectly, to any Person and such delay or failure could have been lawfully avoided by such holder, and provided further that such holder shall be deemed to have satisfied the requirements of this clause (b) upon the good faith completion and submission of such Forms (including refilings or renewals of filings) as may be specified in a written request of the Company no later than 60 days after receipt by such holder of such written request (accompanied by copies of such Forms and related instructions, if any, all in the English language or with an English translation thereof);

(c) any amount in excess of the amount of tax that would be payable if the holder was a resident of the United States of America for the purpose of the Canada-U.S. Income Tax Convention (1980), as amended;

(d) any Tax that would not have been imposed but for the holder not dealing at arm's length with the Company for the purposes of the Tax Act; or

(e) any combination of clauses (a), (b), (c) or (d) above.

If as a result of any payment by the Company or a Subsidiary Guarantor under the Financing Agreements, whether in respect of principal, Make-Whole Amounts (if any), Protective Claim Amount, interest, interest on overdue interest, fees or other payment obligations, any holder of a Note is required to pay tax under Part XIII of the Tax Act, then the Company or applicable Subsidiary Guarantor will, upon demand by such holder of any Note, indemnify the holder for the payment of any such amount, together with any interest, penalties and expenses in connection therewith, and for any Taxes on such indemnity payment provided that no indemnification payment shall be required to be made in respect of a Tax described in clauses (a), (b), (c), (d) or (e) of the previous paragraph. All amounts payable under this paragraph shall be payable by the Company or applicable Subsidiary Guarantor on demand, shall, if paid in respect of interest, be a payment of additional interest, and shall bear interest at the Default Rate, calculated from the date demanded by such holder to the date paid by the Company or applicable Subsidiary Guarantor.

By acceptance of any Note, the holder of such Note agrees, subject to the limitations of clause (b) above, that it will from time to time with reasonable promptness (x) duly complete and deliver to or as reasonably directed by the Company all such forms, certificates, documents and returns provided to such holder by the Company (collectively, together with instructions for completing the same, “Forms”) required to be filed by or on behalf of such holder in order to avoid or reduce any such Tax pursuant to the provisions of an applicable statute, regulation or administrative practice of the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction or of an applicable tax treaty between the United States and such Taxing Jurisdiction, and (y) provide the Company with such information with respect to such holder as the Company may reasonably request in order to complete any such Forms, provided that nothing in this Section 13 shall require any holder to provide information with respect to any such Form or otherwise if in the opinion of such holder such Form or disclosure of information would involve the disclosure of tax return or other information that is confidential or proprietary to such holder, and provided further that each such holder shall be deemed to have complied with its obligation under this paragraph with respect to any Form if such Form shall have been duly completed and delivered by such holder to the Company or mailed to the appropriate taxing authority, whichever is applicable, within 60 days following a written request of the Company (which request shall be accompanied by copies of such Form and English translations of any such Form not in the English language) and, in the case of a transfer of any Note, at least 90 days prior to the relevant interest payment date.

If any payment is made by the Company to or for the account of the holder of any Note after deduction for or on account of any Taxes, and increased payments are made by the Company pursuant to this Section 13, then, if such holder at its sole discretion determines that it has received or been granted a refund of such Taxes, such holder shall, to the extent that it can do so without prejudice to the retention of the amount of such refund, reimburse to the Company such amount as such holder shall, in its sole discretion, determine to be attributable to the relevant Taxes or deduction or withholding. Nothing herein contained shall interfere with the right of the holder of any Note to arrange its tax affairs in whatever manner it thinks fit and, in particular, no holder of any Note shall be under any obligation to claim relief from its corporate profits or similar tax liability in respect of such Tax in priority to any other claims, reliefs, credits or deductions available to it or (other than as set forth in clause (b) above) oblige any holder of any Note to disclose any information relating to its tax affairs or any computations in respect thereof.

The Company will furnish the holders of Notes with the original tax receipt issued to the Company for all amounts paid as Tax in respect of any amount paid under a Financing Agreement within the time period specified under the relevant Law (or if such original tax receipt is not available or must legally be kept in the possession of the Company, a duly certified copy of the original tax receipt or any other reasonably satisfactory evidence of payment), together with such other documentary evidence with respect to such payments as may be reasonably requested from time to time by any holder of a Note.

If the Company is required by any applicable Laws, as modified by the practice of the taxation or other authority of any relevant Taxing Jurisdiction, to make any deduction or withholding of any Tax in respect of which the Company would be required to pay any additional amount under this Section 13, but for any reason does not make such deduction or withholding with the result that a liability in respect of such Tax is assessed directly against the holder of any Note, and such holder pays such liability, then the Company will promptly reimburse such holder for such payment (including any related interest or penalties to the extent such interest or penalties arise by virtue of a default or delay by the Company) upon demand by such holder accompanied by an official receipt (or a duly certified copy thereof) issued by the taxation or other authority of the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction.

If the Company makes payment to or for the account of any holder of a Note and such holder is entitled to a refund of the Tax to which such payment is attributable upon the making of a filing (other than a Form described above), then such holder shall, as soon as practicable after receiving written request from the Company (which shall specify in reasonable detail and supply the refund forms to be filed) use reasonable efforts to complete and deliver such refund forms to or as directed by the Company, subject, however, to the same limitations with respect to Forms as are set forth above.

The obligations of the Company under this Section 13 shall survive the payment or transfer of any Note and the provisions of this Section 13 shall also apply to successive transferees of the Notes.

14. REGISTRATION; EXCHANGE; SUBSTITUTION OF NOTES.

14.1. Registration of Notes.

The Company shall keep at its principal executive office a register for the registration and registration of transfers of Notes. The name and address of each holder of one or more Notes, each transfer thereof and the name and address of each transferee of one or more Notes shall be registered in such register. If any holder of one or more Notes is a nominee, then (a) the name and address of the beneficial owner of such Note or Notes shall also be registered in such register as an owner and holder thereof and (b) at any such beneficial owner's option, either such beneficial owner or its nominee may execute any amendment, waiver or consent pursuant to this Agreement. Prior to due presentment for registration of transfer, the Person in whose name any Note shall be registered shall be deemed and treated as the owner and holder thereof for all purposes hereof, and the Company shall not be affected by any notice or knowledge to the contrary. The Company shall give to any holder of a Note that is an Institutional Investor promptly upon request therefor, a complete and correct copy of the names and addresses of all registered holders of Notes.

14.2. Transfer and Exchange of Notes.

Upon surrender of any Note to the Company at the address and to the attention of the designated officer (all as specified in Section 19) for registration of transfer or exchange (and in the case of a surrender for registration of transfer accompanied by a written instrument of transfer duly executed by the registered holder of such Note or such holder's attorney duly authorized in writing and accompanied by the relevant name, address and other details for notices of each transferee of such Note or part thereof) within ten Business Days thereafter the Company shall execute and deliver, at the Company's expense (except as provided below), one or more new Notes (as requested by the holder thereof) in exchange therefor, in an aggregate principal amount equal to the unpaid principal amount of the surrendered Note of the same series. Each such new Note shall be payable to such Person as such holder may request and shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit 1S. Each such new Note shall be dated and bear interest from the date to which interest shall have been paid on the surrendered Note or dated the date of the surrendered Note if no interest shall have been paid thereon. The Company may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any stamp tax or governmental charge imposed in respect of any such transfer of Notes. Notes shall not be transferred in denominations of less than U.S.$250,000, provided that (i) a Note originally issued in an amount less than U.S.$250,000, may be transferred in such original amount, and (ii) if necessary to enable the registration of transfer by a holder of its entire holding of Notes, one Note may be in a denomination of less than U.S.$250,000. Any transferee, by its acceptance of a Note registered in its name (or the name of its nominee), shall be deemed to have made the representation set forth in Section 6.2.

14.3. Replacement of Notes.

Upon receipt by the Company at the address and to the attention of the designated officer (all as specified in Section 19(c)) of evidence reasonably satisfactory to it of the ownership of and the loss, theft, destruction or mutilation of any Note (which evidence shall be, in the case of an Institutional Investor, notice from such Institutional Investor of such ownership and such loss, theft, destruction or mutilation), and

(a) in the case of loss, theft or destruction, of indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it (provided that if the holder of such Note is, or is a nominee for, an original Purchaser or another holder of a Note with a minimum net worth of at least Cdn.$50,000,000 (or its equivalent in the relevant currency) or a Qualified Institutional Buyer, such Person's own unsecured agreement of indemnity shall be deemed to be satisfactory), or within ten Business Days thereafter the Company at its own expense shall execute and deliver, in lieu thereof, a new Note of the same series, dated and bearing interest from the date to which interest shall have been paid on such lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated Note or dated the date of such lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated Note if no interest shall have been paid thereon.

(b) in the case of mutilation, upon surrender and cancellation thereof,

15. PAYMENTS ON NOTES.

15.1. Place of Payment.

Subject to Section 15.2, payments of principal, Make-Whole Amount, if any, Protective Claim Amount and interest becoming due and payable on the Notes shall be made in Calgary, Alberta at the principal office of the Company. The Company may at any time, by notice to each holder of a Note, change the place of payment of the Notes so long as such place of payment shall be either (i) the principal office of the Company in the United States of America or (ii) the principal office of a bank or trust company in the United States of America.

15.2. Home Office Payment.

So long as any Purchaser or its nominee shall be the holder of any Note, and notwithstanding anything contained in Section 15.1 or in such Note to the contrary, the Company will pay all sums becoming due on such Note for principal, Make-Whole Amount, if any, Protective Claim Amount and interest by the method and at the address specified for such purpose below such Purchaser's name in Schedule A, or by such other method or at such other address as such Purchaser shall have from time to time specified to the Company in writing for such purpose, plus any wiring fees applicable to wire transfers of funds, without the presentation or surrender of such Note or the making of any notation thereon, except that upon written request of the Company made concurrently with or reasonably promptly after payment or prepayment in full of any Note, such Purchaser shall surrender such Note for cancellation, reasonably promptly after any such request, to the Company at its principal executive office or at the place of payment most recently designated by the Company pursuant to Section 15.1. Prior to any sale or other disposition of any Note held by a Purchaser or its nominee, such Purchaser will, at its election, either endorse thereon the amount of principal paid thereon and the last date to which interest has been paid thereon or surrender such Note to the Company in exchange for a new Note or Notes pursuant to Section 14.2. The Company will afford the benefits of this Section 15.2 to any Institutional Investor that is the direct or indirect transferee of any Note purchased by a Purchaser under this Agreement and that has made the same agreement relating to such Note as the Purchasers have made in this Section 15.2.

16. EXPENSES, ETC.

16.1. Transaction Expenses.

Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated, the Company will pay all costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees of a special counsel and, if reasonably required by the Required Holders, local or other counsel) incurred by the Purchasers and each other holder of a Note in connection with such transactions and in connection with any amendments, waivers or consents under or in respect of the Financing Agreements (whether or not such amendment, waiver or consent becomes effective), including, without limitation: (a) review of any events or transactions contemplated by Sections 7.1(l), 7.1(m), 7.1(n), 7.1(p), 9.9, 9.10, 9.11, 9.12, 9.13, 10.2, 10.11 and 23, (b) the costs and expenses incurred in enforcing or defending (or determining whether or how to enforce or defend) any rights under the Financing Agreements or in responding to any subpoena or other legal process or informal investigative demand issued in connection with the Financing Agreements, or by reason of being a holder of any Note, (c) the costs and expenses, including financial advisors' fees, incurred in connection with the insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary or in connection with any work-out or restructuring of the transactions contemplated by the Financing Agreements and (d) the reasonable costs and expenses incurred in connection with the initial filing of this Agreement and all related documents and financial information with the SVO. The Company will pay, and will save each Purchaser and each other holder of a Note harmless from, all claims in respect of any fees, costs or expenses, if any, of brokers and finders (other than those, if any, retained by a Purchaser or other holder in connection with its purchase of the Notes).

16.2. Certain Taxes.

The Company agrees to pay all stamp, documentary or similar taxes or fees which may be payable in respect of the execution and delivery or the enforcement of the Financing Agreements or the execution and delivery (but not the transfer) or the enforcement of any of the Notes in the United States of America or Canada or of any amendment of, or waiver or consent under or with respect to, the Financing Agreements, and to pay any value added tax due and payable in respect of reimbursement of costs and expenses by the Company pursuant to this Section 16, and will save each holder of a Note to the extent permitted by applicable Laws harmless against any loss or liability resulting from nonpayment or delay in payment of any such tax or fee required to be paid by the Company hereunder.

16.3. Survival.

The obligations of the Company under this Section 16 will survive the payment or transfer of any Note, the enforcement, amendment or waiver of any provision of the Financing Agreements, and the termination of this Agreement.

17. SURVIVAL OF REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES; ENTIRE AGREEMENT.

All representations and warranties contained herein shall survive the execution and delivery of the Financing Agreements, the purchase or transfer by any Purchaser of any Note or portion thereof or interest therein and the payment of any Note, and may be relied upon by any subsequent holder of a Note, regardless of any investigation made at any time by or on behalf of such Purchaser or any other holder of a Note. All statements contained in any certificate or other instrument delivered by or on behalf of the Company or any Subsidiary pursuant to the Financing Agreements shall be deemed representations and warranties of the Company under this Agreement. Subject to the preceding sentence, the Financing Agreements embody the entire agreement and understanding between each Purchaser and the Company and supersede all prior agreements and understandings relating to the subject matter hereof.

18. AMENDMENT AND WAIVER.

18.1. Requirements.

This Agreement, the Notes and the other Financing Agreements may be amended, and the observance of any term hereof or of the Notes may be waived (either retroactively or prospectively), with (and only with) the written consent of the Company and the Required Holders, except that (a) no amendment or waiver of any of the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 or 22, or any defined term (as it is used therein), will be effective as to any Purchaser unless consented to by such Purchaser in writing, and (b) no such amendment or waiver may, without the written consent of the holder of each Note at the time outstanding affected thereby, (i) subject to the provisions of Section 12 relating to acceleration or rescission, change the amount or time of any prepayment or payment of principal of, or reduce the rate or change the time of payment or method of computation of interest or of the applicable Make-Whole Amount or Protective Claim Amount on, the Notes, (ii) change the percentage of the principal amount of the Notes the holders of which are required to consent to any such amendment or waiver, (iii) amend Section 8, 11(a), 11(b), 12, 13, 18, 21 or 23.10, or (iv) amend any provision of the Subordination Agreement, the Trust Guarantee, a Subsidiary Guarantee or any Lien granted to the holders of Notes pursuant to Section 9.13 or otherwise.

18.2. Solicitation of Holders of Notes.

(a) Solicitation. The Company will provide each holder of the Notes (irrespective of the amount of Notes then owned by it) with sufficient information, sufficiently far in advance of the date a decision is required, to enable such holder to make an informed and considered decision with respect to any proposed amendment, waiver or consent in respect of any of the provisions hereof or of the Notes. The Company will deliver executed or true and correct copies of each amendment, waiver or consent effected pursuant to the provisions of this Section 18 to each holder of outstanding Notes promptly following the date on which it is executed and delivered by, or receives the consent or approval of, the requisite holders of Notes.

(b) Payment. The Company will not directly or indirectly pay or cause to be paid any remuneration, whether by way of supplemental or additional interest, fee or otherwise, or grant any security or provide other credit support, to any holder of Notes as consideration for or as an inducement to the entering into by any holder of Notes of any waiver or amendment of any of the terms and provisions hereof unless such remuneration is concurrently paid, or security is concurrently granted or other credit support concurrently provided, on the same terms, ratably to each holder of Notes then outstanding even if such holder did not consent to such waiver or amendment.

18.3. Binding Effect, Etc.

Any amendment or waiver consented to as provided in this Section 18 applies equally to all holders of Notes and is binding upon them and upon each future holder of any Note and upon the Company without regard to whether such Note has been marked to indicate such amendment or waiver. No such amendment or waiver will extend to or affect any obligation, covenant, agreement, Default or Event of Default not expressly amended or waived or impair any right consequent thereon. No course of dealing between the Company and the holder of any Note nor any delay in exercising any rights hereunder or under any Note shall operate as a waiver of any rights of any holder of such Note. As used herein, the term “this Agreement” and references thereto shall mean this Agreement as it may from time to time be amended or supplemented.

18.4. Notes Held by Company, Etc.

Solely for the purpose of determining whether the holders of the requisite percentage of the aggregate principal amount of Notes then outstanding approved or consented to any amendment, waiver or consent to be given under this Agreement, the Notes or any other Financing Agreements, or have directed the taking of any action provided herein or therein to be taken upon the direction of the holders of a specified percentage of the aggregate principal amount of Notes then outstanding, Notes directly or indirectly owned by the Company or any of its Affiliates shall be deemed not to be outstanding.

19. NOTICES; ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

Except to the extent expressly provided otherwise in Sections 7.1(a) and 7.1(c), all notices and communications provided for hereunder shall be in writing and sent (a) by telecopy if the sender on the same day sends a confirming copy of such notice by a recognized international commercial delivery service (charges prepaid), (b) by a recognized international commercial delivery service (with charges prepaid), or (c) with respect to notices to a Purchaser or holder, unless such Purchaser or holders otherwise notifies the Company, by e-mail to an e-mail address provided by such Purchaser or holder to the Company from time to time. Any such notice must be sent:

(a) if to a Purchaser or its nominee, to such Purchaser or nominee at the address specified for such communications in Schedule A, or at such other address as such Purchaser or nominee shall have specified to the Company in writing,

(b) if to any other holder of any Note, to such holder at such address as such other holder shall have specified to the Company in writing,
or

(c) if to the Company, to the Company at its address set forth at the beginning hereof to the attention of the Chief Financial Officer, or at such other address as the Company shall have specified to the holder of each Note in writing.

Notices under this Section 19 will be deemed given only when actually received.

Each document, instrument, financial statement, report, notice or other communication delivered in connection with this Agreement shall be in English.

The Purchaser acknowledges and confirms that it has requested that all documents evidencing or relating in any way to the sale of the Notes be drawn up in the English language only.

20. REPRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS.

This Agreement and all documents relating thereto, including, without limitation, (a) consents, waivers and modifications that may hereafter be executed, (b) documents received by any Purchaser at the Closing (except the Notes themselves), and (c) financial statements, certificates and other information previously or hereafter furnished to any Purchaser, may be reproduced by such Purchaser by any photographic, photostatic, electronic, digital or other similar process and such Purchaser may destroy any original document so reproduced. The Company agrees and stipulates that, to the extent permitted by applicable Laws, any such reproduction shall be admissible in evidence as the original itself in any judicial or administrative proceeding (whether or not the original is in existence and whether or not such reproduction was made by such Purchaser in the regular course of business) and any enlargement, facsimile or further reproduction of such reproduction shall likewise be admissible in evidence. This Section 20 shall not prohibit the Company or any other holder of Notes from contesting any such reproduction to the same extent that it could contest the original, or from introducing evidence to demonstrate the inaccuracy of any such reproduction.

21. CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION.

For the purposes of this Section 21, “Confidential Information” means all information delivered to any Purchaser by or on behalf of the Company or any Subsidiary in connection with the transactions contemplated by or otherwise pursuant to this Agreement that is proprietary in nature and that was clearly marked or labeled or otherwise adequately identified when received by such Purchaser as being confidential information of the Company or such Subsidiary, provided that such term does not include information that (a) was publicly known or otherwise known to such Purchaser prior to the time of such disclosure, (b) subsequently becomes publicly known through no act or omission by such Purchaser or any person acting on such Purchaser’s behalf, (c) otherwise becomes known to such Purchaser other than through disclosure by the Company or any Subsidiary or (d) constitutes financial statements delivered to such Purchaser under Section 7.1 that are otherwise publicly available. Each Purchaser will maintain the confidentiality of such Confidential Information in accordance with procedures adopted by such Purchaser in good faith to protect confidential information of third parties delivered to such Purchaser, provided that such Purchaser may deliver or disclose Confidential Information to (i) its directors, trustees, officers, employees, agents, attorneys, auditors and affiliates (to the extent such disclosure reasonably relates to the administration of the investment represented by its Notes), (ii) its financial advisors and other professional advisors who agree to hold confidential the Confidential Information substantially in accordance with the terms of this Section 21, (iii) any other holder of any Note, (iv) any Institutional Investor to which it sells or offers to sell such Note or any part thereof or any participation therein (if such Person has agreed in writing prior to its receipt of such Confidential Information to be bound by the provisions of this Section 21), (v) any Person from which it offers to purchase any security of the Company (if such Person has agreed in writing prior to its receipt of such Confidential Information to be bound by the provisions of this Section 21), (vi) any federal or state regulatory authority having jurisdiction over such Purchaser, (vii) any organization or any nationally recognized rating agency that requires access to information about such Purchaser’s investment portfolio (including the NAIC or the SVO or, in each case, any similar organization), or (viii) any other Person to which such delivery or disclosure may be necessary or appropriate (w) to effect compliance with any law, rule, regulation or order applicable to such Purchaser, (x) in response to any subpoena or other legal process, (y) in connection with any litigation to which such Purchaser is a party or (z) if an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, to the extent such Purchaser may reasonably determine such delivery and disclosure to be necessary or appropriate in the enforcement or for the protection of the rights and remedies under such Purchaser’s Notes and this Agreement. Each holder of a Note, by its acceptance of a Note, will be deemed to have agreed to be bound by and to be entitled to the benefits of this Section 21 as though it were a party to this Agreement. On reasonable request by the Company in connection with the delivery to any holder of a Note of information required to be delivered to such holder under this Agreement or requested by such holder (other than a holder that is a party to this Agreement or its nominee), such holder will enter into an agreement with the Company embodying the provisions of this Section 21.

In the event that as a condition to receiving access to information relating to the Company or its Subsidiaries in connection with the transactions contemplated by or otherwise pursuant to this Agreement, any holder of a Note is required to agree to a confidentiality undertaking (whether through IntraLinks, another secure website, a secure virtual workspace or otherwise) which is different from this Section 21, this Section 21 shall not be amended thereby and, as between such holder and the Company, this Section 21 shall supersede any such other confidentiality undertaking.

22. SUBSTITUTION OF PURCHASER.

Each Purchaser shall have the right to substitute any one of its Affiliates as the purchaser of the Notes that it has agreed to purchase hereunder, by written notice to the Company, which notice shall be signed by both such Purchaser and such Affiliate, shall contain such Affiliate's agreement to be bound by this Agreement and shall contain a confirmation by such Affiliate of the accuracy with respect to it of the representations set forth in Section 6. Upon receipt of such notice, any reference to such Purchaser in this Agreement (other than in this Section 22), shall be deemed to refer to such Affiliate in lieu of such original Purchaser. In the event that such Affiliate is so substituted as a Purchaser hereunder and such Affiliate thereafter transfers to such original Purchaser all of the Notes then held by such Affiliate, upon receipt by the Company of notice of such transfer, any reference to such Affiliate as a "Purchaser" in this Agreement (other than in this Section 22), shall no longer be deemed to refer to such Affiliate, but shall refer to such original Purchaser, and such original Purchaser shall again have all the rights of an original holder of the Notes under this Agreement.

23. MISCELLANEOUS.

23.1. Successors and Assigns.

All covenants and other agreements contained in this Agreement by or on behalf of any of the parties hereto bind and inure to the benefit of their respective successors and assigns (including, without limitation, any subsequent holder of a Note) whether so expressed or not, except that, subject to Section 10.2, the Company may not assign or otherwise transfer any of its rights or obligations hereunder or under the Notes without the prior written consent of each holder. Nothing in this Agreement, expressed or implied, shall be construed to confer upon any Person (other than the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns permitted hereby) any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or by reason of this Agreement.

23.2. Payments Due on Non-Business Days.

Anything in this Agreement or the Notes to the contrary notwithstanding (but without limiting the requirement in Section 8.5 that notice of any optional prepayment specify a Business Day as the date fixed for such prepayment), any payment of principal of or Make-Whole Amount, or interest on any Note that is due on a date other than a Business Day shall be made on the next succeeding Business Day without including the additional days elapsed in the computation of the interest payable on such next succeeding Business Day; provided that if the maturity date of any Note is a date other than a Business Day, the payment otherwise due on such maturity date shall be made on the next succeeding Business Day and shall include the additional days elapsed in the computation of interest payable on such next succeeding Business Day.

23.3. Accounting Terms.

All accounting terms used herein which are not expressly defined in this Agreement have the meanings respectively given to them in accordance with GAAP. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, all computations made pursuant to this Agreement shall be made in accordance with GAAP, and all financial statements shall be prepared in accordance with GAAP. If GAAP is changed such that shareholders' equity of the Company as shown on the consolidated balance sheet of the Company as at the date hereof is recharacterized as a non-equity item, then Consolidated Shareholders' Equity will be determined on the basis of GAAP as in effect immediately prior to such recharacterization and, for certainty, such shareholders' equity as so recharacterized shall not be included as part of Consolidated Total Debt. In addition, if GAAP is changed to reclassify operating leases to capital leases subsequent to the date of the Original Note Agreement, then the accounting treatment of all such leases will be determined based on GAAP in effect immediately prior to such reclassification.

For purposes of determining compliance with the financial covenants contained in this Agreement, any election by the Company to measure an item of Debt using fair value (as permitted by Accounting Standard Codification Topic No. 825-10-25 – Fair Value Option, International Accounting Standard 39 or any similar accounting standard) shall be disregarded and such determination shall be made as if such election had not been made.

23.4. Changes in GAAP; IFRS.

(a) If the Company or the Required Holders determine at any time that any amount required to be determined hereunder would be materially different if such amount were determined in accordance with:

- (i) GAAP applied by the Company in respect of its financial statements on the date hereof ("Old GAAP"), rather than
- (ii) GAAP subsequently in effect in Canada and applied by the Company in respect of its financial statements (including the adoption of IFRS) and utilized for purposes of determining such amount,

then written notice of such determination shall be delivered by the Company to the holders, in the case of a determination by the Company, or by the Required Holders to the Company and the other holders, in the case of a determination by the Required Holders.

(b) If the Company adopts a change in an accounting policy in the preparation of its financial statements in order to conform to accounting recommendations, guidelines, or similar pronouncements, or legislative requirements, and such change could reasonably be expected to adversely affect (i) the rights of, or the protections afforded to, the holders hereunder or (ii) the position of either the Company or of the holders hereunder, the Company shall so notify the holders, describing the nature of the change and its effect on the current and immediately prior year's financial statements in accordance with Old GAAP and in detail sufficient for the holders to make the determination required of them in the following sentence. If either the Company or the Required Holders determine at any time that such change in accounting policy results in an adverse change either (A) in the rights of, or protections afforded to, the holders intended to be derived, or provided for, hereunder or (B) in the position of either the Company or of the holders hereunder, written notice of such determination shall be delivered by the Company to the holders, in the case of a determination by the Company, or by the Required Holders to the Company and the other holders, in the case of a determination by the Required Holders.

(c) The written notice to be provided pursuant to Section 23.4(a) or Section 23.4(b) by the Company or the holders (as the case may be) shall include a proposal with respect to the change in Old GAAP or such change in accounting policy, as the case may be, on how to preserve and protect the intended rights of, or protections afforded to, the holders on the date hereof or the position of the Company or the holders (as the case may be) and thereafter the Company and the holders shall in good faith negotiate to execute and deliver an amendment or amendments to this Agreement in order to preserve and protect the intended rights of, or protections afforded to, the holders on the date hereof or the position of the Company or the holders (as the case may be); provided that, until this Agreement has been amended in accordance with the foregoing, then for all purposes hereof, the applicable changes from Old GAAP or in accounting (as the case may be) shall be disregarded hereunder and any amount required to be determined hereunder shall, nevertheless, continue to be determined under Old GAAP and the Company's prior accounting policy. For the purposes of this Section 23.4(c), the Company and the holders acknowledge that the amendment or amendments to this Agreement are to provide substantially the same rights and protections to the holders as is intended by this Agreement on the date hereof. Until the Company and the Required Holders mutually agree (in their respective sole discretions, without any obligation to so agree) on such amendment or amendments to the Agreement, the Company shall continue to determine amounts required under this Agreement in accordance with Old GAAP and, for all purposes hereof, the applicable changes from Old GAAP or in accounting (as the case may be) shall be disregarded hereunder and any amount required to be determined hereunder shall, nevertheless, continue to be determined under Old GAAP and the Company's prior accounting policy.

23.5. Severability.

Any provision of this Agreement that is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remaining provisions hereof, and any such prohibition or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall (to the full extent permitted by law) not invalidate or render unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction.

23.6. Construction, Etc.

Each covenant contained herein shall be construed (absent any express provision to the contrary) as being independent of each other covenant contained herein, so that compliance with any one covenant shall not (absent such an express contrary provision) be deemed to excuse compliance with any other covenant. Where any provision herein refers to action to be taken by any Person, or which such Person is prohibited from taking, such provision shall be applicable whether such action is taken directly or indirectly by such Person.

Defined terms herein shall apply equally to the singular and plural forms of the terms defined. Whenever the context may require, any pronoun shall include the corresponding masculine, feminine and neuter forms. The words “include,” “includes” and “including” shall be deemed to be followed by the phrase “without limitation.” The word “will” shall be construed to have the same meaning and effect as the word “shall.” Unless the context requires otherwise (a) any definition of or reference to any agreement, instrument or other document herein shall be construed as referring to such agreement, instrument or other document as from time to time amended, supplemented or otherwise modified (subject to any restrictions on such amendments, supplements or modifications set forth herein) and, for purposes of the Notes, shall also include any such notes issued in substitution therefor pursuant to Section 14, (b) subject to Section 23.1, any reference herein to any Person shall be construed to include such Person’s successors and assigns, (c) the words “herein,” “hereof” and “hereunder,” and words of similar import, shall be construed to refer to this Agreement in its entirety and not to any particular provision hereof, (d) all references herein to Sections and Schedules shall be construed to refer to Sections of, and Schedules to, this Agreement, and (e) any reference to any law or regulation herein shall, unless otherwise specified, refer to such law or regulation as amended, modified or supplemented from time to time.

23.7. Counterparts.

This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be an original but all of which together shall constitute one instrument. Each counterpart may consist of a number of copies hereof, each signed by less than all, but together signed by all, of the parties hereto.

23.8. Governing Law.

This Agreement shall be construed and enforced in accordance with, and the rights of the parties shall be governed by, the law of the Province of Alberta excluding choice-of-law principles of the law of such Province that would permit the application of the laws of a jurisdiction other than such Province.

23.9. Jurisdiction and Process; Waiver of Jury Trial.

(a) The Company irrevocably submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Alberta over any suit, action or proceeding arising out of or relating to the Financing Agreements. To the fullest extent permitted by applicable Laws, the Company irrevocably waives and agrees not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense or otherwise, any claim that it is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such court, any objection that it may now or hereafter have to the laying of the venue of any such suit, action or proceeding brought in any such court and any claim that any such suit, action or proceeding brought in any such court has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

(b) The Company agrees, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable Laws, that a final judgment in any suit, action or proceeding of the nature referred to in Section 23.9(a) brought in any such court shall be conclusive and binding upon it subject to rights of appeal, as the case may be, and may be enforced in the courts of the Province of Alberta (or any other courts to the jurisdiction of which it or any of its assets is or may be subject) by a suit upon such judgment.

(c) Nothing in this Section 23.9 shall affect the right of any holder of a Note to serve process in any manner permitted by law, or limit any right that the holders of any of the Notes may have to bring proceedings against the Company in the courts of any appropriate jurisdiction or to enforce in any lawful manner a judgment obtained in one jurisdiction in any other jurisdiction.

23.10. Obligation to Make Payment in Applicable Currency.

(a) Payment Currency. Principal, interest, Make-Whole Amount and Protective Claim Amount on the Series S Notes shall be payable in U.S. dollars. Unless otherwise specified herein, all other amounts payable under this Agreement shall be payable in U.S. dollars.

(b) U.S. Dollars. Any payment on account of an amount that is payable under the Financing Agreements in U.S. dollars which is made to or for the account of any holder of Notes in any other currency, whether as a result of any judgment or order or the enforcement thereof or the realization of any security or the liquidation of the Company, shall constitute a discharge of the obligation of the Company under the Financing Agreements only to the extent of the amount of U.S. dollars which such holder purchases or could purchase in the foreign exchange markets in New York, New York, with the amount of such other currency in accordance with normal banking procedures at the rate of exchange prevailing on the Business Day following receipt of the payment first referred to above. If the amount of U.S. dollars so purchased or that could be purchased is less than the amount of U.S. dollars originally due to such holder, the Company agrees to the fullest extent permitted by law, to indemnify and save harmless such holder from and against all loss or damage arising out of or as a result of such deficiency. This indemnity shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, constitute an obligation separate and independent from the other obligations contained in the Financing Agreements, shall give rise to a separate and independent cause of action, shall apply irrespective of any indulgence granted by such holder from time to time and shall continue in full force and effect notwithstanding any judgment or order for a liquidated sum in respect of an amount due under the Financing Agreements or under any judgment or order.

23.11. Interest.

(a) In respect of any overdue amounts hereunder or under the Notes where no provision is made herein or therein for payment of interest thereon, the Company shall pay interest on such overdue amounts on demand, calculated from the date such unpaid amount is due until such unpaid amount is paid in full, at the Default Rate.

(b) In no event shall any interest or fee to be paid hereunder or under a Note exceed the maximum rate permitted by applicable Laws. In the event any such interest rate or fee exceeds such maximum rate, such rate shall be adjusted downward to the highest rate (expressed as a percentage per annum) or fee that the parties could validly have agreed to by contract on the date hereof under applicable Laws. It is further agreed that any excess actually received by a holder of a Note shall be credited against the principal of the Notes (or, if the principal shall have been or would thereby be paid in full, the remaining amount shall be credited or paid to the Company).

(c) All interest (including interest on overdue interest) payable by the Company hereunder and under the Notes shall accrue from day to day, computed as provided herein, and shall be payable after as well as before maturity, demand, default and judgment.

(d) Interest on the Notes shall be computed on the basis of a 360-day year of 12 30-day months. Solely for purposes of the Interest Act (Canada), the yearly rate of interest to which interest calculated for a period of less than one year on the basis of a year of 360 days consisting of 12 30-day periods is equivalent is such rate of interest multiplied by a fraction of which (i) the numerator is the product of (A) the actual number of days in the year commencing on the first day of such period, multiplied by (B) the sum of (y) the product of 30 multiplied by the number of complete months elapsed in such period and (z) the actual number of days elapsed in any incomplete month in such period; and (ii) the denominator is the product of (a) 360 multiplied by (b) the actual number of days in such period.

(e) The theory of “deemed reinvestment” shall not apply to the computation of interest and no allowance, reduction or deduction shall be made for the deemed reinvestment of interest in respect of any payments. Calculation of interest shall be made using the nominal rate method, and not the effective rate method, of calculation.

(f) To the extent permitted by law, Section 6 of the Judgment Interest Act (Alberta) is hereby waived and shall not apply to this Agreement or the Notes.

(g) The interest payment due on the day prior to the maturity date of each Note shall include one additional days’ interest, calculated as if such interest due date was such final maturity date.

23.12. Changes to LMR.

If (a) as a result of any change in any applicable Laws, rule, policy, regulation, order or directive, any applicable Energy Regulator ceases to use a liability management (or equivalent) rating as a means of determining whether a corporation is in compliance with such regulator’s abandonment and reclamation policies, regulations and directives in any one or more Material Jurisdiction, (b) the method of calculation of any LMR changes in any material manner in any Material Jurisdiction, or (c) if the threshold for which (i) license transfers of regulated properties shall be permitted under an Energy Regulator’s licensee liability regime in any Material Jurisdiction changes in any material respect or (ii) any security deposits will be required to be provided to the applicable Energy Regulator changes in any material respect, then, in any such case, the Company and the Required Holders shall enter into good faith discussions with a view to determining a comparable rating system or threshold, as applicable, to replace the concept of LMR as set forth herein that is, at such time, broadly accepted as the prevailing market practice for such regulation in the applicable Material Jurisdiction, with the intent of having the respective positions of the holders of Notes and the Company after such change conform as nearly as possible to their respective positions immediately prior to such change; provided that, until any such agreement is reached, the LMR shall continue to be calculated as if no such change had occurred. Upon the Company and the Required Holders agreeing on such methodology for determining LMR and the thresholds set forth herein, the Company and the holders of Notes shall enter into documentation to amend the provisions hereof to refer to such rate and make all other adjustments incidental thereto. The Company and the holders of Notes agree that such amendment shall require the consent of each of the holders of Notes notwithstanding anything to the contrary set out herein.

If you are in agreement with the foregoing, please sign the form of agreement on a counterpart of this Agreement and return it to the Company, whereupon this Agreement shall become a binding agreement between you and the Company.

Very truly yours,

8.3 Prepayment for Tax Reasons Without Make-Whole.

If at any time as a result of a Change in Tax Law (as defined below) the Company is or becomes obligated to make any Additional Payments (as defined below) in respect of any payment of interest on account of any of the Notes in an aggregate amount for all affected Notes equal to 5% or more of the aggregate amount of such interest payment on account of all of the affected Notes, the Company may give the holders of all affected Notes irrevocable written notice (each, a “Tax Prepayment Notice”) of the prepayment of such affected Notes on a specified prepayment date (which shall be a Business Day not less than 30 days nor more than 60 days after the date of such notice) and the circumstances giving rise to the obligation of the Company to make any Additional Payments and the amount thereof and offering to prepay all of the affected Notes on the date of such prepayment at 100% of the principal amount so prepaid together with interest accrued thereon to the date of such prepayment. Each holder of an affected Note that wishes to accept such prepayment in respect of all or any of the affected Notes held by it shall give written notice to that effect to the Company no more than 20 days after receipt of the Tax Prepayment Notice (each, a “Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice”). The form of Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice and a description in reasonable detail of the nature and date of the Change in Tax Law shall accompany the Tax Prepayment Notice. Failure to give a Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice with respect to any affected Note within such 20 day period shall be deemed to be a rejection of the prepayment of such affected Note or affected Notes held by such holder, and shall operate as a permanent waiver of such holder’s right to receive the Additional Payments arising as a result of the circumstances described in the Tax Prepayment Notice in respect of all future payments of interest on such Note or Notes (but not of such holder’s right to receive any Additional Payments that arise out of circumstances not described in the Tax Prepayment Notice or which exceed the amount of the Additional Payment described in the Tax Prepayment Notice), which waiver shall be binding upon all subsequent transferees of such Notes. The principal amount of all Notes that are the subject of a Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice together with interest accrued thereon to the date of such prepayment shall become due and payable on such prepayment date.

No prepayment of the Notes pursuant to this Section 8.3 shall affect the obligation of the Company to pay Additional Payments in respect of any payment made on or prior to the date of such prepayment. For purposes of this Section 8.3, any holder of more than one affected Note may act separately with respect to each affected Note so held (with the effect that a holder of more than one affected Note may accept such offer with respect to one or more affected Notes so held and reject such offer with respect to one or more other affected Notes so held).

The Company may not offer to prepay or prepay Notes pursuant to this Section 8.3 (a) if a Default or Event of Default then exists, (b) until the Company shall have taken commercially reasonable steps to mitigate the requirement to make the related Additional Payments or (c) if the obligation to make such Additional Payments directly results or resulted from actions taken by the Company or any Subsidiary (other than actions required to be taken under applicable Laws), and any Tax Prepayment Notice given pursuant to this Section 8.3 shall certify to the foregoing and describe such mitigation steps, if any.

For purposes of this Section 8.3: “Additional Payments” means additional amounts required to be paid to a holder of any Note pursuant to Section 13 by reason of a Change in Tax Law; and a “Change in Tax Law” means (individually or collectively with one or more prior changes) (i) an amendment to, or change in, any law, treaty, rule or regulation of Canada after the date of the Closing, or an amendment to, or change in, an official interpretation or application of such law, treaty, rule or regulation after the date of the Closing, which amendment or change is in force and continuing and meets the opinion and certification requirements described below or (ii) in the case of any other jurisdiction that becomes a Taxing Jurisdiction after the date of the Original Note Agreement, an amendment to, or change in, any law, treaty, rule or regulation of such jurisdiction, or an amendment to, or change in, an official interpretation or application of such law, treaty, rule or regulation, in any case after such jurisdiction shall have become a Taxing Jurisdiction, which amendment or change is in force and continuing and meets such opinion and certification requirements. No such amendment or change shall constitute a Change in Tax Law unless the same would in the opinion of the Company (which shall be evidenced by an Officer’s Certificate of the Company and supported by a written opinion of counsel having recognized expertise in the field of taxation in the Taxing Jurisdiction, both of which shall be delivered to all holders of the Notes prior to or concurrently with the Tax Prepayment Notice in respect of such Change in Tax Law) affect the deduction or require the withholding of any Tax imposed by such Taxing Jurisdiction on any payment payable on the Notes.

8.4 Allocation of Partial Prepayments.

In the case of each partial prepayment of the Notes pursuant to Section 8.2, the principal amount of the Notes to be prepaid shall be allocated among all of the Notes (without distinction as to series) at the time outstanding in proportion, as nearly as practicable, to the respective unpaid principal amounts of all Notes not theretofore called for prepayment.

All prepayments pursuant to Sections 8.3 and 8.8 shall be applied as therein provided.

8.5 Maturity; Surrender, Etc.

In the case of each prepayment of Notes pursuant to this Section 8, the principal amount of each Note to be prepaid shall mature and become due and payable on the date fixed for such prepayment (which shall be a Business Day), together with interest on such principal amount accrued to such date and the applicable Make-Whole Amount, if any. From and after such date, unless the Company shall fail to pay such principal amount when so due and payable, together with the interest and the applicable Make-Whole Amount, if any, as aforesaid, interest on such principal amount shall cease to accrue. Any Note paid or prepaid in full shall be surrendered to the Company and cancelled and shall not be reissued, and no Note shall be issued in lieu of any prepaid principal amount of any Note.

8.6 Purchase of Notes.

The Company will not and will not permit any Affiliate to purchase, redeem, prepay or otherwise acquire, directly or indirectly, any of the outstanding Notes except upon the payment or prepayment of the Notes in accordance with the terms of this Agreement and the Notes. The Company will promptly cancel all Notes acquired by it or any Affiliate pursuant to any payment or prepayment of Notes pursuant to any provision of this Agreement and no Notes may be issued in substitution or exchange for any such Notes.

8.7 Make-Whole Amount.

The terms “Series X Make-Whole Amount”, “Series Y Make-Whole Amount” and “Series Z Make-Whole Amount” mean, with respect to any Series X Note, Series Y Note and Series Z Note, respectively, an amount equal to the excess, if any, of the Discounted Value of the Remaining Scheduled Payments with respect to the Called Principal of such Note over the amount of such Called Principal, provided that none of the Series X Make-Whole Amount, the Series Y Make-Whole Amount nor the Series Z Make-Whole Amount, may in any event be less than zero. For the purposes of determining the Series X Make-Whole Amount, the Series Y Make-Whole Amount and the Series Z Make-Whole Amount the following terms have the following meanings:

“Applicable Percentage” means [REDACTED]% ([REDACTED] Basis Points).

“Called Principal” means, with respect to any such Note, the principal of such Note that is to be prepaid pursuant to Section 8.2 or has become or is declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to Section 12.1, as the context requires.

“Discounted Value” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any such Note, the amount obtained by discounting all Remaining Scheduled Payments with respect to such Called Principal from their respective scheduled due dates to the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal, in accordance with accepted financial practice and at a discount factor (applied on the same periodic basis as that on which interest on the Notes is payable) equal to the Reinvestment Yield with respect to such Called Principal.

“Reinvestment Yield” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any such Note, the sum of (x) the Applicable Percentage plus (y) the yield to maturity implied by (i) the yields reported as of 10:00 A.M. (New York City time) on the second Business Day preceding the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal, on the display designated as “Page PX1” (or such other display as may replace Page PX1) on Bloomberg Financial Markets for the most recently issued actively traded on the run U.S. Treasury securities having a maturity equal to the Remaining Average Life of such Called Principal as of such Settlement Date, or (ii) if such yields are not reported as of such time or the yields reported as of such time are not ascertainable (including by way of interpolation), the Treasury Constant Maturity Series Yields reported, for the latest day for which such yields have been so reported as of the second Business Day preceding the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal, in Federal Reserve Statistical Release H.15 (or any comparable successor publication) for U.S. Treasury securities having a constant maturity equal to the Remaining Average Life of such Called Principal as of such Settlement Date. In the case of each determination under clause (i) or clause (ii), as the case may be, of the preceding paragraph, such implied yield will be determined, if necessary, by (a) converting U.S. Treasury bill quotations to bond equivalent yields in accordance with accepted financial practice and (b) interpolating linearly between (1) the applicable U.S. Treasury security with the maturity closest to and greater than such Remaining Average Life and (2)

the applicable U.S. Treasury security with the maturity closest to and less than such Remaining Average Life. The Reinvestment Yield shall be rounded to the number of decimal places as appears in the interest rate of the applicable Note.

“Remaining Average Life” means, with respect to any Called Principal, the number of years (calculated to two decimal places) obtained by dividing (i) such Called Principal into (ii) the sum of the products obtained by multiplying (a) the principal component of each Remaining Scheduled Payment with respect to such Called Principal by (b) the number of years (calculated to two decimal places) that will elapse between the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal and the Applicable Maturity Date of such Remaining Scheduled Payment.

“Remaining Scheduled Payments” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any Note, all payments of such Called Principal and interest thereon that would be due after the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal if no payment of such Called Principal were made prior to the Applicable Maturity Date, provided that if such Settlement Date is not a date on which interest payments are due to be made under the terms of the Notes, then the amount of the next succeeding scheduled interest payment will be reduced by the amount of interest accrued to such Settlement Date and required to be paid on such Settlement Date pursuant to Section 8.2 or 12.1.

“Settlement Date” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any Note, the date on which such Called Principal is to be prepaid pursuant to Section 8.2 or has become or is declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to Section 12.1, as the context requires.

8.8 Prepayment Offer Without Make-Whole on Change in Control.

(a) Notice of Change in Control. The Company will, within 5 Business Days after any Responsible Officer has knowledge of the occurrence of any Change in Control, give written notice of such Change in Control to each holder of Notes. Such notice shall refer to this Section 8.8, shall contain and constitute an offer to prepay Notes as described in Section 8.8(b) and shall be accompanied by the certificate described in Section 8.8(e).

(b) Offer to Prepay Notes. The offer to prepay Notes contemplated by 8.8(a) shall be an offer to prepay, in accordance with and subject to this Section 8.8, all, but not less than all, the Notes held by each holder (in this case only, “holder” in respect of any Note registered in the name of a nominee for a disclosed beneficial owner shall mean such beneficial owner) on a date specified in such offer (the “Proposed Prepayment Date”), which date shall be not less than 30 Business Days and not more than 120 Business Days after the date of such offer (if the Proposed Prepayment Date shall not be specified in such offer, the Proposed Prepayment Date shall be the first Business Day after the 45th Business Day after the date of such offer).

(c) Acceptance/Rejection. A holder of Notes may accept the offer to prepay made pursuant to this Section 8.8 by causing a notice of such acceptance to be delivered to the Company not later than 15 Business Days after receipt by such holder of the most recent offer of prepayment, but in any event at least 10 Business Days prior to the Proposed Prepayment Date. A failure by a holder of Notes to respond to an offer to prepay made pursuant to this Section 8.8 shall be deemed to constitute a rejection of such offer by such holder.

(d) Prepayment. Prepayment of the Notes to be prepaid pursuant to this Section 8.8 shall be at 100% of the principal amount of such Notes, together with interest on such Notes accrued to the date of prepayment, but without the applicable Make-Whole Amounts or other premium.

(e) Officer's Certificate. Each offer to prepay the Notes pursuant to this Section 8.8 shall be accompanied by a certificate, signed by a Senior Financial Officer of the Company and dated the date of such offer, specifying: (i) the Proposed Prepayment Date; (ii) that such offer is made pursuant to this Section 8.8; (iii) the principal amount of each Note offered to be prepaid; (iv) the interest that would be due on each Note offered to be prepaid, accrued to the Proposed Prepayment Date; (v) that the conditions of this Section 8.8 have been fulfilled; and (vi) in reasonable detail, the nature and date of the Change in Control.

(f) Certain Definitions.

(i) "Change in Control" means any circumstance arising after the date of the Original Note Agreement in which a Person or a combination of Persons, acting jointly or in concert (within the meaning of Multi-Lateral Instrument 62-104 — Take-Over Bids and Issuer Bids of the Canadian Securities Administrator), acquires Equity Interests of the Company which, in either case, together with all other such Equity Interests held by such Persons, constitute in the aggregate more than 35% of all outstanding Equity Interests of the Company (regardless of whether such Person or Persons are owned or controlled by the same Persons which owned or controlled such Equity Interests).

(ii) "Equity Interests" means in the case of a corporation, shares of capital stock of any class or series, including warrants, rights, participating interests or options to purchase or otherwise acquire any class or series of capital stock or securities exchangeable for or convertible into any class or series of capital stock, and in the case of any other Person or entity shall mean any class or series of partnership interests, units, membership interests or like interests constituting equity, and in the case of each of the foregoing, any part or portion thereof or participation in any of the foregoing.

conduct of their respective businesses, in each case to the extent necessary to ensure that non-compliance with such laws, ordinances or governmental rules or regulations or failures to obtain or maintain in effect such licenses, certificates, permits, franchises and other governmental authorizations could not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.2 Insurance.

The Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, maintain, with financially sound and reputable insurers, insurance with respect to their respective properties and businesses against such casualties and contingencies, of such types, on such terms and in such amounts (including deductibles, co-insurance and self-insurance, if adequate reserves are maintained with respect thereto) as is customary in the case of entities of established reputations engaged in the same or a similar business and similarly situated.

9.4 Payment of Taxes and Claims.

Subject to Sections 10.2 and 10.11, the Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, at all times preserve and keep in full force and effect the existence of each Restricted Subsidiary (unless merged into the Company or another Restricted Subsidiary) and all rights and franchises of the Company and each Restricted Subsidiary unless, in the good faith judgment of the Company, the termination of or failure to preserve and keep in full force and effect such corporate existence, right or franchise could not, individually or in the aggregate, have a Material Adverse Effect.

The Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, maintain proper books of record and account in conformity with GAAP and all applicable requirements of any Governmental Authority having legal or regulatory jurisdiction over the Company or such Subsidiary, as the case may be.

- (b) each Subsidiary Guarantor's payment obligations under its Subsidiary Guarantee rank pari passu, without preference or priority, with its obligations in respect of the Bank Facility, the Other Note Agreements and all other senior secured Indebtedness of such Subsidiary Guarantor, other than Indebtedness secured by Permitted Encumbrances which under applicable Laws ranks in priority thereto.

9.8 [Reserved].

9.9 Designation of Restricted Subsidiaries.

The Company may designate any Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary and may designate any Restricted Subsidiary as an Unrestricted Subsidiary by providing to the holders of Notes a Notice of Designation in the form attached hereto as Exhibit 9.9; provided that:

- (a) no Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) will exist immediately following such designation, and the Company shall have provided an Officer's Certificate to that effect at the time it provides such notice;
- (b) in the case of the designation of an Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary and after giving effect thereto, all existing Liens of such Restricted Subsidiary so designated shall be permitted within the applicable limitations of Section 10.4, notwithstanding that any such Lien may have existed as of the date of the Original Note Agreement;
- (c) in the case of the designation of a Restricted Subsidiary as an Unrestricted Subsidiary and after giving effect thereto, (i) such Unrestricted Subsidiary so designated shall not, directly or indirectly, own any Indebtedness or Capital Stock of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary, and (ii) such designation shall be deemed to be a sale by the Company of the assets of the Restricted Subsidiary so designated, and must be permitted under Section 10.11;

(d) if required by Section 9.10, each Restricted Subsidiary shall forthwith become a Subsidiary Guarantor;

(e) any Restricted Subsidiary that was previously designated as an Unrestricted Subsidiary shall not be redesignated as a Restricted Subsidiary if a Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) exists immediately prior to such designation; and

(f) any Unrestricted Subsidiary that was previously designated as an Restricted Subsidiary shall not be redesignated as a Unrestricted Subsidiary if a Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) exists immediately prior to such designation.

9.10 Subsidiary Guarantees.

The Company will cause each Subsidiary of the Company (other than any Subsidiary which already is a Subsidiary Guarantor) that hereafter becomes a borrower or a guarantor under the Bank Facility, concurrently therewith to enter into and become a party to a Subsidiary Guarantee, and within three Business Days thereafter, to deliver to each holder of a Note the following:

(a) the Subsidiary Guarantee and the Security Documents (as provided in Section 9.16), or applicable joinders thereto;

(b) a certificate signed by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Operating Officer, the Chief Financial Officer, a Vice President or another authorized officer of such Subsidiary Guarantor making representations and warranties to the effect of those contained in Sections 5.1(a), 5.1(b), 5.1(f) and 5.1(g) but with respect to such Subsidiary Guarantor and its Subsidiary Guarantee, and, if relevant under applicable Laws to the provision of the Subsidiary Guarantee and the Security Documents to which it is a party, and, if relevant under applicable Laws to the provision of the Subsidiary Guarantee, a certificate confirming the solvency of the Subsidiary Guarantor;

(c) such documents and evidence with respect to such Subsidiary Guarantor as the Required Holders may reasonably request in order to establish the existence and good standing of such Subsidiary Guarantor and the authorization of the transactions contemplated by the Subsidiary Guarantee and Security Documents to which such Subsidiary Guarantor is a party; and

(d) a favorable legal opinion of independent legal counsel satisfactory to the Required Holders to the effect that the Subsidiary Guarantee and Security Documents to which such Subsidiary Guarantor is a party have been duly authorized, executed and delivered and constitute the legal, valid and binding obligations of such Subsidiary Guarantor enforceable in accordance with their terms, except as enforcement of such terms may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally and by general equitable principles.

If any such Subsidiary Guarantor subsequently ceases to be a borrower or a guarantor under the Bank Facility (other than as a result of the Bank Facility reaching its scheduled maturity date without renewal and provided that, on the date such Subsidiary Guarantor ceases to be a borrower or guarantor under the Bank Facility, the Liens encumbering assets of such Subsidiary Guarantor created by the Security Documents have been released and discharged in accordance with Section 9.16(g)), then the Company may require the holders of Notes to release such Subsidiary from its Subsidiary Guarantee and any Security Document to which it is a party upon giving 5 Business Days written notice thereof to the holders of Notes together with confirmation of the foregoing reasonably satisfactory to the holders of Notes, whereupon such Subsidiary shall cease to be a Subsidiary Guarantor hereunder and any Lien granted by it pursuant to the Security Documents shall be released and discharged (and the Company may take any additional steps and actions it deems necessary to discharge corresponding Lien registrations and filings), provided that at the time of such notice and the effective date of such release as provided below, and immediately after giving effect thereto, and to such Subsidiary ceasing to be a Subsidiary Guarantor, no Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) exists or would exist, and the Company shall have provided an Officer's Certificate to such effect at the time it provides such notice, with the information (including detailed calculations) required in order to establish same. Upon compliance with the requirements of the preceding sentence, the Subsidiary Guarantee of such Subsidiary shall be deemed to be released and terminated, and any Lien granted by it pursuant to the Security Documents shall be deemed to be released and discharged, as at the expiry of such 5 Business Day period (unless sooner terminated by all the holders of Notes)).

9.11 Subordination Agreements.

The Company will cause each Affiliate (a "Subordinating Person") that hereafter subordinates any obligations owed to such Subordinating Person by the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor in favor of any obligations owed by the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor under the Bank Facility, to concurrently therewith enter into a subordination agreement on the same terms in favor of the holders of the Notes, and within three Business Days thereafter, the Company shall deliver to each holder of a Note the following:

- (a) such subordination agreement;
- (b) if the Subordinating Person is a Subsidiary of the Company, a certificate signed by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Operating Officer, the Chief Financial Officer, a Vice President or another authorized officer of such Subsidiary making representations and warranties to the effect of those contained in Sections 5.1(a), 5.1(b), 5.1(f) and 5.1(g), but with respect to such Subordinating Person and its subordination agreement;
- (c) if the Subordinating Person is a Subsidiary of the Company, such documents and evidence with respect to such Subordinating Person as the Required Holders may reasonably request in order to establish the existence and good standing of such Subordinating Person and the authorization of the transactions contemplated by its subordination agreement; and

(d) if the Subordinating Person is a Subsidiary of the Company, an opinion of independent counsel satisfactory to the Required Holders to the effect that such subordination agreement has been duly authorized, executed and delivered and constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of such Subordinating Person enforceable in accordance with its terms, except as enforcement of such terms may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally and by general equitable principles.

9.12 [Reserved].

9.13 Matching Bank Facility Liens.

If at any time the Company or any Subsidiary provides a Lien to or for the benefit of the lenders under the Bank Facility, then the Company will (if it has provided such a Lien), and will cause each of its Subsidiaries that has provided such Lien to, concurrently grant to or for the benefit of the holders of Notes a similar first priority Lien (subject only to Liens permitted by each of the Bank Facility and Section 10.4, and ranking pari passu with the Liens provided to or for the benefit of the lenders under such Bank Facility), over the same assets, property and undertaking of the Company and each such Subsidiary as those encumbered in respect of the Bank Facility, in form and substance satisfactory to the holders of Notes, acting reasonably, with such security to be subject to the Intercreditor Agreement.

9.14 Partnership.

For so long as the Partnership is a Restricted Subsidiary, the Company will ensure that at all times the partners in the Partnership will consist only of the Company and one or more Restricted Subsidiaries.

9.15 Ownership of the Company and Restricted Subsidiaries.

The Company will ensure that at all times the Company and each Restricted Subsidiary, or their respective successors as permitted by Section 10.2, are directly or indirectly wholly-owned Subsidiaries of the Company, or are Joint Venture Development Entities.

9.16 Security Prior to Security Release Date.

(a) From and after May 22, 2015 until the Security Release Date, the Company will provide (or cause to be provided) to the Collateral Agent, for and on behalf of, inter alios, the holders of Notes, as continuing security for the Obligations, a debenture from the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors creating a Lien in favor of the Collateral Agent in respect of all their present and after-acquired property, assets and undertaking and a floating charge over all present and future owned real property (the "Security").

(b) The Security shall be in form and substance satisfactory to the Requisite Secured Parties in their sole discretion. The Requisite Secured Parties, acting reasonably, may require that any Security Document be governed by the Laws of the jurisdiction in which the property in which a Lien is created pursuant to such Security Document is located. The Security Documents shall be registered by the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantors, as applicable, where necessary or desirable to record and perfect the Liens created thereby, as determined by the Requisite Secured Parties in their sole discretion, and if the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor does not so register the Security Documents as requested, any holder of Notes may do the same (the cost of which will be borne by the Company).

(c) The Company will cause to be delivered to the Collateral Agent and each holder of Notes the results of all applicable searches in respect of the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors in the applicable jurisdictions as well as the opinions of solicitors for the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors regarding their corporate status, the due authorization, execution and delivery of the Security Documents provided by them, the creation of the Liens pursuant to the Security Documents and all registrations in respect of the Security Documents, and the validity and enforceability of such Security Documents; all such opinions to be in form and substance satisfactory to the Required Holders and their counsel.

(d) The Company will and will cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to execute any and all further documents, financing statements, agreements and instruments, and take all further action (including filing Personal Property Security Act (Alberta) and Land Titles Act (Alberta) and other financing statements, registering the Security at any land titles or land registry offices or under the Mines and Mineral Act (Alberta) or any similar registry in any other applicable jurisdiction, and filing any other notices, mortgages, deeds of trust and caveats (or the equivalent statements in any other jurisdiction)) that may from time to time be required under applicable Laws, or that the Collateral Agent or the Requisite Secured Parties may reasonably request, in order to effectuate the transactions contemplated by the Financing Agreements and in order to grant, preserve, protect and perfect the validity, enforceability and priority of the Liens created or intended to be created by the Security Documents. For the avoidance of doubt, the Requisite Secured Parties and the Collateral Agent shall have the right to require the Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor to amend or supplement any Security Documents or related registrations to the extent necessary to reflect any changes in applicable Laws (or the interpretation thereof) or any directives, rules or procedures related thereto, whether arising as a result of statutory amendments, court decisions or otherwise, and whether occurring prior to or subsequent to the date hereof.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither the Company nor any Subsidiary Guarantor shall be required (and neither the holders of Notes nor the Collateral Agent shall be entitled) to effect any fixed charge registrations against any real property (including for certainty, registering the Security at any land titles or land registry offices or under the Mines and Mineral Act (Alberta) or any similar registry in any other applicable jurisdiction unless an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing except as otherwise set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement). After an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, from time to time upon the request of the Collateral Agent or the Requisite Secured Parties, within ten Business Days of such request, the Company shall, at the Company's sole cost and expense, execute and deliver, and shall cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to execute and deliver, such additional or supplemental Security Documents as the Collateral Agent or the Requisite Secured Parties may reasonably request in order to ensure that all Collateral held by the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors is validly subjected to first fixed charge Liens in favor of the Collateral Agent for the benefit of the holders of Notes, subject only to Permitted Encumbrances, and in connection therewith shall provide to the Collateral Agent a land schedule in form satisfactory to the Collateral Agent and the Requisite Secured Parties detailing all Collateral then held by the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantor (which shall include legal descriptions, crown lease numbers and issue dates, reserve numbers, zone restrictions, names of freehold lessors, and the interest of the Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor therein before and after payout of working interests and all royalties and burdens). The Company will pay all reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the Collateral Agent or any holder in connection with the preparation, execution, delivery and registration of all documents, agreements, instruments and registrations necessary or advisable to implement the provisions of this Section 9.16(e).

(f) The Company and its Subsidiary Guarantors shall not be discharged from the Subsidiary Guarantee except in accordance with the last paragraph of Section 9.10 or by a written release signed by all holders of Notes and the Liens in respect of the Security shall not be discharged and released except (A) in accordance with Section 9.16(g) and the Intercreditor Agreement or (B) in connection with a Disposition of assets permitted by Section 10.11, to the extent, but only to the extent, that such Liens encumber assets subject to such Disposition.

(g) The Liens created or intended to be created by the Security Documents in accordance with this Section 9.16 shall be fully released and discharged (and the Company may take any additional steps and actions it deems necessary to discharge any corresponding Liens registrations and filings), and the Security Documents shall be terminated and be of no further force and effect, upon the date when both of the following are satisfied (the “Security Release Date”):

(i) a date on which the Notes and the other Outstanding Notes have been paid in full, in cash; and

(ii) a date on which no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing on such date and the Collateral subject to the Intercreditor Agreement is concurrently released by the lenders under the Bank Facility and the noteholders under each Other Note Agreement and the Intercreditor Agreement is concurrently terminated.

(h) Nothing contained herein or in the Security Documents now held or hereafter acquired by the holders, nor any act or omission of the Collateral Agent or the holders with respect to any such Security Documents, will in any way prejudice or affect the rights, remedies or powers of the holders with respect to any other Financing Agreement at any time held by them.

9.17 Material Adverse Claims.

The Company will, and will cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to, do all things necessary to defend and protect their property from all material adverse claims, and to maintain their property free therefrom, except for Permitted Encumbrances, where the failure to do so (a) in the opinion of the Required Holders and/or Collateral Agent, acting reasonably, threatens the actual or intended priority or validity of the Security Documents and the Liens created therein, as provided herein, in the Security Documents and in the Intercreditor Agreement, or (b) has had or would reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.18 Protection of Security.

The Company will, and will cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to, do all things reasonably requested by the Required Holders or the Collateral Agent to protect and maintain the validity and enforceability of the Security Documents and the first-ranking priority thereof, as contemplated herein and in the Intercreditor Agreement, in relation to other Persons.

12. REMEDIES ON DEFAULT, ETC.

12.1 Acceleration.

(a) If an Event of Default with respect to the Company described in Sections 11(g), 11(h) or 11(i) (other than an Event of Default described in clause (i) of Section 11(g) or described in clause (vi) of Section 11(g) by virtue of the fact that such clause encompasses clause (i) of Section 11(g)) has occurred, all the Notes then outstanding shall automatically become immediately due and payable.

The Company acknowledges, and the parties hereto agree, that (i) the Make-Whole Amount shall be payable if the Notes are payable pursuant to this Section 12.1 in any circumstance where a Consensual Transaction has occurred and (ii) the Protective Claim Amount shall be payable if the Notes are payable pursuant to this Section 12.1 prior to the occurrence of a Consensual Transaction. The Company acknowledges, and the parties hereto agree, that each holder of a Note has the right to maintain its investment in the Notes free from repayment by the Company (except as herein specifically provided for) and that the provision for payment of a Make-Whole Amount or Protective Claim Amount, as the case may be, by the Company in the event that the Notes are repaid as provided in the preceding sentence is intended to provide compensation for the deprivation of such right under such circumstances.

“Crystallized Make-Whole Amount”:

(A) in respect of the Series X Notes, means $[REDACTED] in the aggregate for all Series X Notes and, in respect of any Series X Note, means a ratable share of such amount based on the principal amount of such Series X Note as a percentage of the aggregate principal amount of all Series X Notes, in each case at the time the Crystallized Make-Whole Amount is payable;

(B) in respect of the Series Y Notes, means $[REDACTED] in the aggregate for all Series Y Notes and, in respect of any Series Y Note, means a ratable share of such amount based on the principal amount of such Series Y Note as a percentage of the aggregate principal amount of all Series Y Notes, in each case at the time the Crystallized Make-Whole Amount is payable; and “Protective Claim Amount” means, in respect of any Note, the sum of (a) the Crystallized Make-Whole Amount in respect of such Note plus (b) interest at 2% per annum on such Crystallized Make-Whole Amount and on the principal amount of such Note accrued during the period from and including March 13, 2020 to but excluding the date of payment in full of such Protective Claim Amount and principal.

12.2 Other Remedies.

If any Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, and irrespective of whether any Notes have become or have been declared immediately due and payable under Section 12.1, the holder of any Note at the time outstanding may proceed to protect and enforce the rights of such holder by an action at law, suit in equity or other appropriate proceeding, whether for the specific performance of any agreement contained herein or in any Note, or for an injunction against a violation of any of the terms hereof or thereof, or in aid of the exercise of any power granted hereby or thereby or by law or otherwise.

12.3 Rescission.

At any time after any Notes have been declared due and payable pursuant to Section 12.1(b) or 12.1(c), the Required Holders, by written notice to the Company, may rescind and annul any such declaration and its consequences if (a) the Company has paid all overdue interest on the Notes, all principal of and Make-Whole Amount, if any, on any Notes that are due and payable and are unpaid other than by reason of such declaration, and all interest on such overdue principal and Make-Whole Amount, if any, and (to the extent permitted by applicable Laws) any overdue interest in respect of the Notes, at the applicable rate specified in the Notes during an Event of Default, (b) neither the Company nor any other Person shall have paid any amounts that have become due solely by reason of such declaration, (c) all Events of Default and Defaults, other than non-payment of amounts that have become due solely by reason of such declaration, have been cured or have been waived pursuant to Section 18, and (d) no judgment or decree has been entered for the payment of any monies due pursuant hereto or to the Notes. No rescission and annulment under this Section 12.3 will extend to or affect any subsequent Event of Default or Default or impair any right consequent thereon.

12.4 No Waivers or Election of Remedies, Expenses, Etc.

No course of dealing and no delay on the part of any holder of any Note in exercising any right, power or remedy shall operate as a waiver thereof or otherwise prejudice such holder's rights, powers or remedies. No right, power or remedy conferred by this Agreement or by any Note upon any holder thereof shall be exclusive of any other right, power or remedy referred to herein or therein or now or hereafter available at law, in equity, by statute or otherwise. Without limiting the obligations of the Company under Section 16, the Company will pay to the holder of each Note on demand such further amount as shall be sufficient to cover all costs and expenses of such holder incurred in any enforcement or collection under this Section 12, including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees, expenses and disbursements.

13. TAX INDEMNIFICATION.

All payments whatsoever under the Financing Agreements will be made by the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors free and clear of, and without liability for withholding or deduction for or on account of, any present or future Taxes of whatever nature imposed or levied by or on behalf of any jurisdiction (or any political subdivision or taxing authority of or in such jurisdiction) (hereinafter a "Taxing Jurisdiction"), unless the withholding or deduction of such Tax is compelled by law.

If any deduction or withholding for any Tax of a Taxing Jurisdiction shall at any time be required in respect of any amounts to be paid by the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantors under the Financing Agreements, the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantors, as applicable, will pay to the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction the full amount required to be withheld, deducted or otherwise paid before penalties attach thereto or interest accrues thereon and pay to each holder of a Note such additional amounts as may be necessary in order that the net amounts paid to such holder pursuant to the terms of the Financing Agreements after such deduction, withholding or payment (including, without limitation, any required deduction or withholding of Tax on or with respect to such additional amount), shall be not less than the amounts then due and payable to such holder under the terms of the Financing Agreements before the assessment of such Tax, provided that no payment of any additional amounts shall be required to be made for or on account of:

(a) any Tax that would not have been imposed but for the existence of any present or former connection between such holder (or a fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member of, shareholder of, or possessor of a power over, such holder, if such holder is an estate, trust, partnership or corporation or any Person other than the holder to whom the Notes or any amount payable thereon is attributable for the purposes of such Tax) and the Taxing Jurisdiction, other than the mere holding of the relevant Note or the receipt of payments thereunder or in respect thereof, including, without limitation, such holder (or such other Person described in the above parenthetical) being or having been a citizen or resident thereof, or being or having been present or engaged in trade or business therein or having or having had an establishment, office, fixed base or branch therein, provided that this exclusion shall not apply with respect to a Tax that would not have been imposed but for the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantor, after the date of the Original Note Agreement, opening an office in, moving an office to, reincorporating in, or changing the Taxing Jurisdiction from or through which payments on account of the Financing Agreements are made to, the Taxing Jurisdiction imposing the relevant Tax;

(b) any Tax that would not have been imposed but for the delay or failure by such holder (following a written request by the Company) in the filing with the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction of Forms (as defined below) that are required to be filed by such holder to avoid or reduce such Taxes (including for such purpose any refilings or renewals of filings that may from time to time be required by the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction), provided that the filing of such Forms would not (in such holder's reasonable judgment) impose any unreasonable burden (in time, resources or otherwise) on such holder or result in any confidential or proprietary income tax return information being revealed, either directly or indirectly, to any Person and such delay or failure could have been lawfully avoided by such holder, and provided further that such holder shall be deemed to have satisfied the requirements of this clause (b) upon the good faith completion and submission of such Forms (including refilings or renewals of filings) as may be specified in a written request of the Company no later than 60 days after receipt by such holder of such written request (accompanied by copies of such Forms and related instructions, if any, all in the English language or with an English translation thereof);

(c) any amount in excess of the amount of tax that would be payable if the holder was a resident of the United States of America for the purpose of the Canada-U.S. Income Tax Convention (1980), as amended;

(d) any Tax that would not have been imposed but for the holder not dealing at arm's length with the Company for the purposes of the Tax Act; or

(e) any combination of clauses (a), (b), (c) or (d) above.

If as a result of any payment by the Company or a Subsidiary Guarantor under the Financing Agreements, whether in respect of principal, Make-Whole Amounts (if any), Protective Claim Amount, interest, interest on overdue interest, fees or other payment obligations, any holder of a Note is required to pay tax under Part XIII of the Tax Act, then the Company or applicable Subsidiary Guarantor will, upon demand by such holder of any Note, indemnify the holder for the payment of any such amount, together with any interest, penalties and expenses in connection therewith, and for any Taxes on such indemnity payment provided that no indemnification payment shall be required to be made in respect of a Tax described in clauses (a), (b), (c), (d) or (e) of the previous paragraph. All amounts payable under this paragraph shall be payable by the Company or applicable Subsidiary Guarantor on demand, shall, if paid in respect of interest, be a payment of additional interest, and shall bear interest at the Default Rate, calculated from the date demanded by such holder to the date paid by the Company or applicable Subsidiary Guarantor.

By acceptance of any Note, the holder of such Note agrees, subject to the limitations of clause (b) above, that it will from time to time with reasonable promptness (x) duly complete and deliver to or as reasonably directed by the Company all such forms, certificates, documents and returns provided to such holder by the Company (collectively, together with instructions for completing the same, “Forms”) required to be filed by or on behalf of such holder in order to avoid or reduce any such Tax pursuant to the provisions of an applicable statute, regulation or administrative practice of the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction or of an applicable tax treaty between the United States and such Taxing Jurisdiction, and (y) provide the Company with such information with respect to such holder as the Company may reasonably request in order to complete any such Forms, provided that nothing in this Section 13 shall require any holder to provide information with respect to any such Form or otherwise if in the opinion of such holder such Form or disclosure of information would involve the disclosure of tax return or other information that is confidential or proprietary to such holder, and provided further that each such holder shall be deemed to have complied with its obligation under this paragraph with respect to any Form if such Form shall have been duly completed and delivered by such holder to the Company or mailed to the appropriate taxing authority, whichever is applicable, within 60 days following a written request of the Company (which request shall be accompanied by copies of such Form and English translations of any such Form not in the English language) and, in the case of a transfer of any Note, at least 90 days prior to the relevant interest payment date.

If any payment is made by the Company to or for the account of the holder of any Note after deduction for or on account of any Taxes, and increased payments are made by the Company pursuant to this Section 13, then, if such holder at its sole discretion determines that it has received or been granted a refund of such Taxes, such holder shall, to the extent that it can do so without prejudice to the retention of the amount of such refund, reimburse to the Company such amount as such holder shall, in its sole discretion, determine to be attributable to the relevant Taxes or deduction or withholding. Nothing herein contained shall interfere with the right of the holder of any Note to arrange its tax affairs in whatever manner it thinks fit and, in particular, no holder of any Note shall be under any obligation to claim relief from its corporate profits or similar tax liability in respect of such Tax in priority to any other claims, reliefs, credits or deductions available to it or (other than as set forth in clause (b) above) oblige any holder of any Note to disclose any information relating to its tax affairs or any computations in respect thereof.

The Company will furnish the holders of Notes with the original tax receipt issued to the Company for all amounts paid as Tax in respect of any amount paid under a Financing Agreement within the time period specified under the relevant Law (or if such original tax receipt is not available or must legally be kept in the possession of the Company, a duly certified copy of the original tax receipt or any other reasonably satisfactory evidence of payment), together with such other documentary evidence with respect to such payments as may be reasonably requested from time to time by any holder of a Note.

If the Company is required by any applicable Laws, as modified by the practice of the taxation or other authority of any relevant Taxing Jurisdiction, to make any deduction or withholding of any Tax in respect of which the Company would be required to pay any additional amount under this Section 13, but for any reason does not make such deduction or withholding with the result that a liability in respect of such Tax is assessed directly against the holder of any Note, and such holder pays such liability, then the Company will promptly reimburse such holder for such payment (including any related interest or penalties to the extent such interest or penalties arise by virtue of a default or delay by the Company) upon demand by such holder accompanied by an official receipt (or a duly certified copy thereof) issued by the taxation or other authority of the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction.

If the Company makes payment to or for the account of any holder of a Note and such holder is entitled to a refund of the Tax to which such payment is attributable upon the making of a filing (other than a Form described above), then such holder shall, as soon as practicable after receiving written request from the Company (which shall specify in reasonable detail and supply the refund forms to be filed) use reasonable efforts to complete and deliver such refund forms to or as directed by the Company, subject, however, to the same limitations with respect to Forms as are set forth above.

The obligations of the Company under this Section 13 shall survive the payment or transfer of any Note and the provisions of this Section 13 shall also apply to successive transferees of the Notes.

14. REGISTRATION; EXCHANGE; SUBSTITUTION OF NOTES.

14.1 Registration of Notes.

The Company shall keep at its principal executive office a register for the registration and registration of transfers of Notes of each series. The name and address of each holder of one or more Notes, each transfer thereof and the name and address of each transferee of one or more Notes shall be registered in such register. If any holder of one or more Notes is a nominee, then (a) the name and address of the beneficial owner of such Note or Notes shall also be registered in such register as an owner and holder thereof and (b) at any such beneficial owner's option, either such beneficial owner or its nominee may execute any amendment, waiver or consent pursuant to this Agreement. Prior to due presentment for registration of transfer, the Person in whose name any Note shall be registered shall be deemed and treated as the owner and holder thereof for all purposes hereof, and the Company shall not be affected by any notice or knowledge to the contrary. The Company shall give to any holder of a Note that is an Institutional Investor promptly upon request therefor, a complete and correct copy of the names and addresses of all registered holders of Notes.

14.2 Transfer and Exchange of Notes.

Upon surrender of any Note to the Company at the address and to the attention of the designated officer (all as specified in Section 19) for registration of transfer or exchange (and in the case of a surrender for registration of transfer accompanied by a written instrument of transfer duly executed by the registered holder of such Note or such holder's attorney duly authorized in writing and accompanied by the relevant name, address and other details for notices of each transferee of such Note or part thereof) within ten Business Days thereafter the Company shall execute and deliver, at the Company's expense (except as provided below), one or more new Notes (as requested by the holder thereof) in exchange therefor, in an aggregate principal amount equal to the unpaid principal amount of the surrendered Note of the same series. Each such new Note shall be payable to such Person as such holder may request and shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit 1X, 1Y or 1Z, as applicable. Each such new Note shall be dated and bear interest from the date to which interest shall have been paid on the surrendered Note or dated the date of the surrendered Note if no interest shall have been paid thereon. The Company may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any stamp tax or governmental charge imposed in respect of any such transfer of Notes. Notes shall not be transferred in denominations of less than U.S.$250,000 provided that (i) a Note originally issued in an amount less than U.S.$250,000 may be transferred in such original amount, and (ii) if necessary to enable the registration of transfer by a holder of its entire holding of Notes, one Note may be in a denomination of less than U.S.$250,000. Any transferee, by its acceptance of a Note registered in its name (or the name of its nominee), shall be deemed to have made the representation set forth in Section 6.2.

14.3 Replacement of Notes.

Upon receipt by the Company at the address and to the attention of the designated officer (all as specified in Section 19(c)) of evidence reasonably satisfactory to it of the ownership of and the loss, theft, destruction or mutilation of any Note (which evidence shall be, in the case of an Institutional Investor, notice from such Institutional Investor of such ownership and such loss, theft, destruction or mutilation), and

(a) in the case of loss, theft or destruction, of indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it (provided that if the holder of such Note is, or is a nominee for, an original Purchaser or another holder of a Note with a minimum net worth of at least Cdn.$50,000,000 (or its equivalent in the relevant currency) or a Qualified Institutional Buyer, such Person's own unsecured agreement of indemnity shall be deemed to be satisfactory), or within ten Business Days thereafter the Company at its own expense shall execute and deliver, in lieu thereof, a new Note of the same series, dated and bearing interest from the date to which interest shall have been paid on such lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated Note or dated the date of such lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated Note if no interest shall have been paid thereon.

(b) in the case of mutilation, upon surrender and cancellation thereof,

15. PAYMENTS ON NOTES.

15.1 Place of Payment.

Subject to Section 15.2, payments of principal, Make-Whole Amount, if any, Protective Claim Amount, and interest becoming due and payable on the Notes shall be made in Calgary, Alberta at the principal office of the Company. The Company may at any time, by notice to each holder of a Note, change the place of payment of the Notes so long as such place of payment shall be either (i) the principal office of the Company in the United States of America or (ii) the principal office of a bank or trust company in the United States of America.

15.2 Home Office Payment.

So long as any Purchaser or its nominee shall be the holder of any Note, and notwithstanding anything contained in Section 15.1 or in such Note to the contrary, the Company will pay all sums becoming due on such Note for principal, Make-Whole Amount, if any, Protective Claim Amount and interest by the method and at the address specified for such purpose below such Purchaser's name in Schedule A, or by such other method or at such other address as such Purchaser shall have from time to time specified to the Company in writing for such purpose, plus any wiring fees applicable to wire transfers of funds, without the presentation or surrender of such Note or the making of any notation thereon, except that upon written request of the Company made concurrently with or reasonably promptly after payment or prepayment in full of any Note, such Purchaser shall surrender such Note for cancellation, reasonably promptly after any such request, to the Company at its principal executive office or at the place of payment most recently designated by the Company pursuant to Section 15.1. Prior to any sale or other disposition of any Note held by a Purchaser or its nominee, such Purchaser will, at its election, either endorse thereon the amount of principal paid thereon and the last date to which interest has been paid thereon or surrender such Note to the Company in exchange for a new Note or Notes pursuant to Section 14.2. The Company will afford the benefits of this Section 15.2 to any Institutional Investor that is the direct or indirect transferee of any Note purchased by a Purchaser under this Agreement and that has made the same agreement relating to such Note as the Purchasers have made in this Section 15.2.

16. EXPENSES, ETC.

16.1 Transaction Expenses.

Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated, the Company will pay all costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees of a special counsel and, if reasonably required by the Required Holders, local or other counsel) incurred by the Purchasers and each other holder of a Note in connection with such transactions and in connection with any amendments, waivers or consents under or in respect of the Financing Agreements (whether or not such amendment, waiver or consent becomes effective), including, without limitation: (a) review of any events or transactions contemplated by Sections 7.1(l), 7.1(m), 7.1(n), 7.1(p), 9.9, 9.10, 9.11, 9.12, 9.13, 10.2, 10.11 and 23, (b) the costs and expenses incurred in enforcing or defending (or determining whether or how to enforce or defend) any rights under the Financing Agreements or in responding to any subpoena or other legal process or informal investigative demand issued in connection with the Financing Agreements, or by reason of being a holder of any Note, (c) the costs and expenses, including financial advisors' fees, incurred in connection with the insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary or in connection with any work-out or restructuring of the transactions contemplated by the Financing Agreements and (d) the reasonable costs and expenses incurred in connection with the initial filing of this Agreement and all related documents and financial information with the SVO. The Company will pay, and will save each Purchaser and each other holder of a Note harmless from, all claims in respect of any fees, costs or expenses, if any, of brokers and finders (other than those, if any, retained by a Purchaser or other holder in connection with its purchase of the Notes).

16.2 Certain Taxes.

The Company agrees to pay all stamp, documentary or similar taxes or fees which may be payable in respect of the execution and delivery or the enforcement of the Financing Agreements or the execution and delivery (but not the transfer) or the enforcement of any of the Notes in the United States of America or Canada or of any amendment of, or waiver or consent under or with respect to, the Financing Agreements, and to pay any value added tax due and payable in respect of reimbursement of costs and expenses by the Company pursuant to this Section 16, and will save each holder of a Note to the extent permitted by applicable Laws harmless against any loss or liability resulting from nonpayment or delay in payment of any such tax or fee required to be paid by the Company hereunder.

16.3 Survival

The obligations of the Company under this Section 16 will survive the payment or transfer of any Note, the enforcement, amendment or waiver of any provision of the Financing Agreements, and the termination of this Agreement.

17. SURVIVAL OF REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES; ENTIRE AGREEMENT.

All representations and warranties contained herein shall survive the execution and delivery of the Financing Agreements, the purchase or transfer by any Purchaser of any Note or portion thereof or interest therein and the payment of any Note, and may be relied upon by any subsequent holder of a Note, regardless of any investigation made at any time by or on behalf of such Purchaser or any other holder of a Note. All statements contained in any certificate or other instrument delivered by or on behalf of the Company or any Subsidiary pursuant to the Financing Agreements shall be deemed representations and warranties of the Company under this Agreement. Subject to the preceding sentence, the Financing Agreements embody the entire agreement and understanding between each Purchaser and the Company and supersede all prior agreements and understandings relating to the subject matter hereof.

18. AMENDMENT AND WAIVER.

18.1 Requirements.

This Agreement, the Notes and the other Financing Agreements may be amended, and the observance of any term hereof or of the Notes may be waived (either retroactively or prospectively), with (and only with) the written consent of the Company and the Required Holders, except that (a) no amendment or waiver of any of the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 or 22, or any defined term (as it is used therein), will be effective as to any Purchaser unless consented to by such Purchaser in writing, and (b) no such amendment or waiver may, without the written consent of the holder of each Note at the time outstanding affected thereby, (i) subject to the provisions of Section 12 relating to acceleration or rescission, change the amount or time of any prepayment or payment of principal of, or reduce the rate or change the time of payment or method of computation of interest or of the applicable Make-Whole Amount or Protective Claim Amount on, the Notes, (ii) change the percentage of the principal amount of the Notes the holders of which are required to consent to any such amendment or waiver, (iii) amend Section 8, 11(a), 11(b), 12, 13, 18, 21 or 23.10, or (iv) amend any provision of the Subordination Agreement, the Trust Guarantee, a Subsidiary Guarantee or any Lien granted to the holders of Notes pursuant to Section 9.13 or otherwise.

18.2 Solicitation of Holders of Notes.

(a) Solicitation. The Company will provide each holder of the Notes (irrespective of the amount of Notes then owned by it) with sufficient information, sufficiently far in advance of the date a decision is required, to enable such holder to make an informed and considered decision with respect to any proposed amendment, waiver or consent in respect of any of the provisions hereof or of the Notes. The Company will deliver executed or true and correct copies of each amendment, waiver or consent effected pursuant to the provisions of this Section 18 to each holder of outstanding Notes promptly following the date on which it is executed and delivered by, or receives the consent or approval of, the requisite holders of Notes.

(b) Payment. The Company will not directly or indirectly pay or cause to be paid any remuneration, whether by way of supplemental or additional interest, fee or otherwise, or grant any security or provide other credit support, to any holder of Notes as consideration for or as an inducement to the entering into by any holder of Notes of any waiver or amendment of any of the terms and provisions hereof unless such remuneration is concurrently paid, or security is concurrently granted or other credit support concurrently provided, on the same terms, ratably to each holder of Notes then outstanding even if such holder did not consent to such waiver or amendment.

18.3 Binding Effect, Etc.

Any amendment or waiver consented to as provided in this Section 18 applies equally to all holders of Notes and is binding upon them and upon each future holder of any Note and upon the Company without regard to whether such Note has been marked to indicate such amendment or waiver. No such amendment or waiver will extend to or affect any obligation, covenant, agreement, Default or Event of Default not expressly amended or waived or impair any right consequent thereon. No course of dealing between the Company and the holder of any Note nor any delay in exercising any rights hereunder or under any Note shall operate as a waiver of any rights of any holder of such Note. As used herein, the term “this Agreement” and references thereto shall mean this Agreement as it may from time to time be amended or supplemented.

18.4 Notes Held by Company, Etc.

Solely for the purpose of determining whether the holders of the requisite percentage of the aggregate principal amount of Notes then outstanding approved or consented to any amendment, waiver or consent to be given under this Agreement, the Notes or any other Financing Agreements, or have directed the taking of any action provided herein or therein to be taken upon the direction of the holders of a specified percentage of the aggregate principal amount of Notes then outstanding, Notes directly or indirectly owned by the Company or any of its Affiliates shall be deemed not to be outstanding.

19. NOTICES; ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

Except to the extent expressly provided otherwise in Sections 7.1(a) and 7.1(c), all notices and communications provided for hereunder shall be in writing and sent (a) by telecopy if the sender on the same day sends a confirming copy of such notice by a recognized international commercial delivery service (charges prepaid), (b) by a recognized international commercial delivery service (with charges prepaid), or (c) with respect to notices to a Purchaser or holder, unless such Purchaser or holders otherwise notifies the Company, by e-mail to an e-mail address provided by such Purchaser or holder to the Company from time to time. Any such notice must be sent:

(a) if to a Purchaser or its nominee, to such Purchaser or nominee at the address specified for such communications in Schedule A, or at such other address as such Purchaser or nominee shall have specified to the Company in writing,

(b) if to any other holder of any Note, to such holder at such address as such other holder shall have specified to the Company in writing,
or

(c) if to the Company, to the Company at its address set forth at the beginning hereof to the attention of the Chief Financial Officer, or at such other address as the Company shall have specified to the holder of each Note in writing.

Notices under this Section 19 will be deemed given only when actually received.

Each document, instrument, financial statement, report, notice or other communication delivered in connection with this Agreement shall be in English.

The Purchaser acknowledges and confirms that it has requested that all documents evidencing or relating in any way to the sale of the Notes be drawn up in the English language only.

20. REPRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS.

This Agreement and all documents relating thereto, including, without limitation, (a) consents, waivers and modifications that may hereafter be executed, (b) documents received by any Purchaser at the First Closing or Second Closing, as applicable (except the Notes themselves), and (c) financial statements, certificates and other information previously or hereafter furnished to any Purchaser, may be reproduced by such Purchaser by any photographic, photostatic, electronic, digital or other similar process and such Purchaser may destroy any original document so reproduced. The Company agrees and stipulates that, to the extent permitted by applicable Laws, any such reproduction shall be admissible in evidence as the original itself in any judicial or administrative proceeding (whether or not the original is in existence and whether or not such reproduction was made by such Purchaser in the regular course of business) and any enlargement, facsimile or further reproduction of such reproduction shall likewise be admissible in evidence. This Section 20 shall not prohibit the Company or any other holder of Notes from contesting any such reproduction to the same extent that it could contest the original, or from introducing evidence to demonstrate the inaccuracy of any such reproduction.

21. CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION.

For the purposes of this Section 21, “Confidential Information” means all information delivered to any Purchaser by or on behalf of the Company or any Subsidiary in connection with the transactions contemplated by or otherwise pursuant to this Agreement that is proprietary in nature and that was clearly marked or labeled or otherwise adequately identified when received by such Purchaser as being confidential information of the Company or such Subsidiary, provided that such term does not include information that (a) was publicly known or otherwise known to such Purchaser prior to the time of such disclosure, (b) subsequently becomes publicly known through no act or omission by such Purchaser or any person acting on such Purchaser’s behalf, (c) otherwise becomes known to such Purchaser other than through disclosure by the Company or any Subsidiary or (d) constitutes financial statements delivered to such Purchaser under Section 7.1 that are otherwise publicly available. Each Purchaser will maintain the confidentiality of such Confidential Information in accordance with procedures adopted by such Purchaser in good faith to protect confidential information of third parties delivered to such Purchaser, provided that such Purchaser may deliver or disclose Confidential Information to (i) its directors, trustees, officers, employees, agents, attorneys, auditors and affiliates (to the extent such disclosure reasonably relates to the administration of the investment represented by its Notes), (ii) its financial advisors and other professional advisors who agree to hold confidential the Confidential Information substantially in accordance with the terms of this Section 21, (iii) any other holder of any Note, (iv) any Institutional Investor to which it sells or offers to sell such Note or any part thereof or any participation therein (if such Person has agreed in writing prior to its receipt of such Confidential Information to be bound by the provisions of this Section 21), (v) any Person from which it offers to purchase any security of the Company (if such Person has agreed in writing prior to its receipt of such Confidential Information to be bound by the provisions of this Section 21), (vi) any federal or state regulatory authority having jurisdiction over such Purchaser, (vii) any organization or any nationally recognized rating agency that requires access to information about such Purchaser’s investment portfolio (including the NAIC or the SVO or, in each case, any similar organization), or (viii) any other Person to which such delivery or disclosure may be necessary or appropriate (w) to effect compliance with any law, rule, regulation or order applicable to such Purchaser, (x) in response to any subpoena or other legal process, (y) in connection with any litigation to which such Purchaser is a party or (z) if an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, to the extent such Purchaser may reasonably determine such delivery and disclosure to be necessary or appropriate in the enforcement or for the protection of the rights and remedies under such Purchaser’s Notes and this Agreement. Each holder of a Note, by its acceptance of a Note, will be deemed to have agreed to be bound by and to be entitled to the benefits of this Section 21 as though it were a party to this Agreement. On reasonable request by the Company in connection with the delivery to any holder of a Note of information required to be delivered to such holder under this Agreement or requested by such holder (other than a holder that is a party to this Agreement or its nominee), such holder will enter into an agreement with the Company embodying the provisions of this Section 21.

In the event that as a condition to receiving access to information relating to the Company or its Subsidiaries in connection with the transactions contemplated by or otherwise pursuant to this Agreement, any holder of a Note is required to agree to a confidentiality undertaking (whether through IntraLinks, another secure website, a secure virtual workspace or otherwise) which is different from this Section 21, this Section 21 shall not be amended thereby and, as between such holder and the Company, this Section 21 shall supersede any such other confidentiality undertaking.

22. SUBSTITUTION OF PURCHASER.

Each Purchaser shall have the right to substitute any one of its Affiliates as the purchaser of the Notes that it has agreed to purchase hereunder, by written notice to the Company, which notice shall be signed by both such Purchaser and such Affiliate, shall contain such Affiliate's agreement to be bound by this Agreement and shall contain a confirmation by such Affiliate of the accuracy with respect to it of the representations set forth in Section 6. Upon receipt of such notice, any reference to such Purchaser in this Agreement (other than in this Section 22), shall be deemed to refer to such Affiliate in lieu of such original Purchaser. In the event that such Affiliate is so substituted as a Purchaser hereunder and such Affiliate thereafter transfers to such original Purchaser all of the Notes then held by such Affiliate, upon receipt by the Company of notice of such transfer, any reference to such Affiliate as a "Purchaser" in this Agreement (other than in this Section 22), shall no longer be deemed to refer to such Affiliate, but shall refer to such original Purchaser, and such original Purchaser shall again have all the rights of an original holder of the Notes under this Agreement.

23. MISCELLANEOUS.

23.1 Successors and Assigns.

All covenants and other agreements contained in this Agreement by or on behalf of any of the parties hereto bind and inure to the benefit of their respective successors and assigns (including, without limitation, any subsequent holder of a Note) whether so expressed or not, except that, subject to Section 10.2, the Company may not assign or otherwise transfer any of its rights or obligations hereunder or under the Notes without the prior written consent of each holder. Nothing in this Agreement, expressed or implied, shall be construed to confer upon any Person (other than the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns permitted hereby) any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or by reason of this Agreement.

23.2 Payments Due on Non-Business Days.

Anything in this Agreement or the Notes to the contrary notwithstanding (but without limiting the requirement in Section 8.5 that notice of any optional prepayment specify a Business Day as the date fixed for such prepayment), any payment of principal of or Make-Whole Amount, or interest on any Note that is due on a date other than a Business Day shall be made on the next succeeding Business Day without including the additional days elapsed in the computation of the interest payable on such next succeeding Business Day; provided that if the maturity date of any Note is a date other than a Business Day, the payment otherwise due on such maturity date shall be made on the next succeeding Business Day and shall include the additional days elapsed in the computation of interest payable on such next succeeding Business Day.

23.3 Accounting Terms.

All accounting terms used herein which are not expressly defined in this Agreement have the meanings respectively given to them in accordance with GAAP. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, all computations made pursuant to this Agreement shall be made in accordance with GAAP, and all financial statements shall be prepared in accordance with GAAP. If GAAP is changed such that shareholders' equity of the Company as shown on the consolidated balance sheet of the Company as at the date hereof is recharacterized as a non-equity item, then Consolidated Shareholders' Equity will be determined on the basis of GAAP as in effect immediately prior to such recharacterization and, for certainty, such shareholders' equity as so recharacterized shall not be included as part of Consolidated Total Debt. In addition, if GAAP is changed to reclassify operating leases to capital leases subsequent to the date of the Original Note Agreement, then the accounting treatment of all such leases will be determined based on GAAP in effect immediately prior to such reclassification.

For purposes of determining compliance with the financial covenants contained in this Agreement, any election by the Company to measure an item of Debt using fair value (as permitted by Accounting Standard Codification Topic No. 825-10-25 – Fair Value Option, International Accounting Standard 39 or any similar accounting standard) shall be disregarded and such determination shall be made as if such election had not been made.

23.4 Changes in GAAP; IFRS.

(a) If the Company or the Required Holders determine at any time that any amount required to be determined hereunder would be materially different if such amount were determined in accordance with:

(i) GAAP applied by the Company in respect of its financial statements on the date hereof (“Old GAAP”), rather than

(ii) GAAP subsequently in effect in Canada and applied by the Company in respect of its financial statements (including the adoption of IFRS) and utilized for purposes of determining such amount,

then written notice of such determination shall be delivered by the Company to the holders, in the case of a determination by the Company, or by the Required Holders to the Company and the other holders, in the case of a determination by the Required Holders.

(b) If the Company adopts a change in an accounting policy in the preparation of its financial statements in order to conform to accounting recommendations, guidelines, or similar pronouncements, or legislative requirements, and such change could reasonably be expected to adversely affect (i) the rights of, or the protections afforded to, the holders hereunder or (ii) the position of either the Company or of the holders hereunder, the Company shall so notify the holders, describing the nature of the change and its effect on the current and immediately prior year's financial statements in accordance with Old GAAP and in detail sufficient for the holders to make the determination required of them in the following sentence. If either the Company or the Required Holders determine at any time that such change in accounting policy results in an adverse change either (A) in the rights of, or protections afforded to, the holders intended to be derived, or provided for, hereunder or (B) in the position of either the Company or of the holders hereunder, written notice of such determination shall be delivered by the Company to the holders, in the case of a determination by the Company, or by the Required Holders to the Company and the other holders, in the case of a determination by the Required Holders.

(c) The written notice to be provided pursuant to Section 23.4(a) or Section 23.4(b) by the Company or the holders (as the case may be) shall include a proposal with respect to the change in Old GAAP or such change in accounting policy, as the case may be, on how to preserve and protect the intended rights of, or protections afforded to, the holders on the date hereof or the position of the Company or the holders (as the case may be) and thereafter the Company and the holders shall in good faith negotiate to execute and deliver an amendment or amendments to this Agreement in order to preserve and protect the intended rights of, or protections afforded to, the holders on the date hereof or the position of the Company or the holders (as the case may be); provided that, until this Agreement has been amended in accordance with the foregoing, then for all purposes hereof, the applicable changes from Old GAAP or in accounting (as the case may be) shall be disregarded hereunder and any amount required to be determined hereunder shall, nevertheless, continue to be determined under Old GAAP and the Company's prior accounting policy. For the purposes of this Section 23.4(c), the Company and the holders acknowledge that the amendment or amendments to this Agreement are to provide substantially the same rights and protections to the holders as is intended by this Agreement on the date hereof. Until the Company and the Required Holders mutually agree (in their respective sole discretions, without any obligation to so agree) on such amendment or amendments to the Agreement, the Company shall continue to determine amounts required under this Agreement in accordance with Old GAAP and, for all purposes hereof, the applicable changes from Old GAAP or in accounting (as the case may be) shall be disregarded hereunder and any amount required to be determined hereunder shall, nevertheless, continue to be determined under Old GAAP and the Company's prior accounting policy.

Any provision of this Agreement that is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remaining provisions hereof, and any such prohibition or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall (to the full extent permitted by law) not invalidate or render unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction.

23.6 Construction, Etc.

Each covenant contained herein shall be construed (absent any express provision to the contrary) as being independent of each other covenant contained herein, so that compliance with any one covenant shall not (absent such an express contrary provision) be deemed to excuse compliance with any other covenant. Where any provision herein refers to action to be taken by any Person, or which such Person is prohibited from taking, such provision shall be applicable whether such action is taken directly or indirectly by such Person.

Defined terms herein shall apply equally to the singular and plural forms of the terms defined. Whenever the context may require, any pronoun shall include the corresponding masculine, feminine and neuter forms. The words “include,” “includes” and “including” shall be deemed to be followed by the phrase “without limitation.” The word “will” shall be construed to have the same meaning and effect as the word “shall.” Unless the context requires otherwise (a) any definition of or reference to any agreement, instrument or other document herein shall be construed as referring to such agreement, instrument or other document as from time to time amended, supplemented or otherwise modified (subject to any restrictions on such amendments, supplements or modifications set forth herein) and, for purposes of the Notes, shall also include any such notes issued in substitution therefor pursuant to Section 14, (b) subject to Section 23.1, any reference herein to any Person shall be construed to include such Person’s successors and assigns, (c) the words “herein,” “hereof” and “hereunder,” and words of similar import, shall be construed to refer to this Agreement in its entirety and not to any particular provision hereof, (d) all references herein to Sections and Schedules shall be construed to refer to Sections of, and Schedules to, this Agreement, and (e) any reference to any law or regulation herein shall, unless otherwise specified, refer to such law or regulation as amended, modified or supplemented from time to time.

This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be an original but all of which together shall constitute one instrument. Each counterpart may consist of a number of copies hereof, each signed by less than all, but together signed by all, of the parties hereto.

23.8 Governing Law.

This Agreement shall be construed and enforced in accordance with, and the rights of the parties shall be governed by, the law of the Province of Alberta excluding choice-of-law principles of the law of such Province that would permit the application of the laws of a jurisdiction other than such Province.

23.9 Jurisdiction and Process; Waiver of Jury Trial.

(a) The Company irrevocably submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Alberta over any suit, action or proceeding arising out of or relating to the Financing Agreements. To the fullest extent permitted by applicable Laws, the Company irrevocably waives and agrees not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense or otherwise, any claim that it is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such court, any objection that it may now or hereafter have to the laying of the venue of any such suit, action or proceeding brought in any such court and any claim that any such suit, action or proceeding brought in any such court has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

(b) The Company agrees, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable Laws, that a final judgment in any suit, action or proceeding of the nature referred to in Section 23.9(a) brought in any such court shall be conclusive and binding upon it subject to rights of appeal, as the case may be, and may be enforced in the courts of the Province of Alberta (or any other courts to the jurisdiction of which it or any of its assets is or may be subject) by a suit upon such judgment.

(c) Nothing in this Section 23.9 shall affect the right of any holder of a Note to serve process in any manner permitted by law, or limit any right that the holders of any of the Notes may have to bring proceedings against the Company in the courts of any appropriate jurisdiction or to enforce in any lawful manner a judgment obtained in one jurisdiction in any other jurisdiction.

(d) THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY WAIVE TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY ACTION BROUGHT ON OR WITH RESPECT TO THIS AGREEMENT, THE NOTES OR ANY OTHER DOCUMENT EXECUTED IN CONNECTION HERewith OR THEREWITH.

23.10 Obligation to Make Payment in Applicable Currency.

(a) Payment Currency. Principal, interest, Make-Whole Amounts and Protective Claim Amounts on the Notes shall be payable in U.S. dollars. Unless otherwise specified herein, all other amounts payable under this Agreement shall be payable in U.S. dollars.

(b) U.S. Dollars. Any payment on account of an amount that is payable under the Financing Agreements in U.S. dollars which is made to or for the account of any holder of Notes in any other currency, whether as a result of any judgment or order or the enforcement thereof or the realization of any security or the liquidation of the Company, shall constitute a discharge of the obligation of the Company under the Financing Agreements only to the extent of the amount of U.S. dollars which such holder purchases or could purchase in the foreign exchange markets in New York, New York, with the amount of such other currency in accordance with normal banking procedures at the rate of exchange prevailing on the Business Day following receipt of the payment first referred to above. If the amount of U.S. dollars so purchased or that could be purchased is less than the amount of U.S. dollars originally due to such holder, the Company agrees to the fullest extent permitted by law, to indemnify and save harmless such holder from and against all loss or damage arising out of or as a result of such deficiency. This indemnity shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, constitute an obligation separate and independent from the other obligations contained in the Financing Agreements, shall give rise to a separate and independent cause of action, shall apply irrespective of any indulgence granted by such holder from time to time and shall continue in full force and effect notwithstanding any judgment or order for a liquidated sum in respect of an amount due under the Financing Agreements or under any judgment or order.

(a) In respect of any overdue amounts hereunder or under the Notes where no provision is made herein or therein for payment of interest thereon, the Company shall pay interest on such overdue amounts on demand, calculated from the date such unpaid amount is due until such unpaid amount is paid in full, at the Default Rate.

(b) In no event shall any interest or fee to be paid hereunder or under a Note exceed the maximum rate permitted by applicable Laws. In the event any such interest rate or fee exceeds such maximum rate, such rate shall be adjusted downward to the highest rate (expressed as a percentage per annum) or fee that the parties could validly have agreed to by contract on the date hereof under applicable Laws. It is further agreed that any excess actually received by a holder of a Note shall be credited against the principal of the Notes (or, if the principal shall have been or would thereby be paid in full, the remaining amount shall be credited or paid to the Company).

(c) All interest (including interest on overdue interest) payable by the Company hereunder and under the Notes shall accrue from day to day, computed as provided herein, and shall be payable after as well as before maturity, demand, default and judgment.

(d) Interest on the Notes shall be computed on the basis of a 360-day year of 12 30-day months. Solely for purposes of the Interest Act (Canada), the yearly rate of interest to which interest calculated for a period of less than one year on the basis of a year of 360 days consisting of 12 30-day periods is equivalent is such rate of interest multiplied by a fraction of which (i) the numerator is the product of (A) the actual number of days in the year commencing on the first day of such period, multiplied by (B) the sum of (y) the product of 30 multiplied by the number of complete months elapsed in such period and (z) the actual number of days elapsed in any incomplete month in such period; and (ii) the denominator is the product of (a) 360 multiplied by (b) the actual number of days in such period.

(e) The theory of “deemed reinvestment” shall not apply to the computation of interest and no allowance, reduction or deduction shall be made for the deemed reinvestment of interest in respect of any payments. Calculation of interest shall be made using the nominal rate method, and not the effective rate method, of calculation.

(f) To the extent permitted by law, Section 6 of the Judgment Interest Act (Alberta) is hereby waived and shall not apply to this Agreement or the Notes.

(g) The interest payment due on the day prior to the maturity date of each Note shall include one additional days’ interest, calculated as if such interest due date was such final maturity date.

23.12 Changes to LMR.

If (a) as a result of any change in any applicable Laws, rule, policy, regulation, order or directive, any applicable Energy Regulator ceases to use a liability management (or equivalent) rating as a means of determining whether a corporation is in compliance with such regulator’s abandonment and reclamation policies, regulations and directives in any one or more Material Jurisdiction, (b) the method of calculation of any LMR changes in any material manner in any Material Jurisdiction, or (c) if the threshold for which (i) license transfers of regulated properties shall be permitted under an Energy Regulator’s licensee liability regime in any Material Jurisdiction changes in any material respect or (ii) any security deposits will be required to be provided to the applicable Energy Regulator changes in any material respect, then, in any such case, the Company and the Required Holders shall enter into good faith discussions with a view to determining a comparable rating system or threshold, as applicable, to replace the concept of LMR as set forth herein that is, at such time, broadly accepted as the prevailing market practice for such regulation in the applicable Material Jurisdiction, with the intent of having the respective positions of the holders of Notes and the Company after such change conform as nearly as possible to their respective positions immediately prior to such change; provided that, until any such agreement is reached, the LMR shall continue to be calculated as if no such change had occurred. Upon the Company and the Required Holders agreeing on such methodology for determining LMR and the thresholds set forth herein, the Company and the holders of Notes shall enter into documentation to amend the provisions hereof to refer to such rate and make all other adjustments incidental thereto. The Company and the holders of Notes agree that such amendment shall require the consent of each of the holders of Notes notwithstanding anything to the contrary set out herein.

If you are in agreement with the foregoing, please sign the form of agreement on a counterpart of this Agreement and return it to the Company, whereupon this Agreement shall become a binding agreement between you and the Company.

Very truly yours,

7.3 Visitation.

The Company shall permit the representatives of each holder of Notes that is an Institutional Investor:

(a) No Default – if no Default or Event of Default then exists, at the expense of such holder and upon reasonable prior notice to the Company, to visit the principal executive office of the Company, to discuss the affairs, finances and accounts of the Company and its Restricted Subsidiaries with the Company's officers/management, and (with the consent of the Company, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld) the Company's independent public accountants, and (with the consent of the Company, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld) to visit the other offices and properties of the Company and its Restricted Subsidiaries, all at such reasonable times and as often as may be reasonably requested in writing; and

(b) Default – if a Default or Event of Default then exists, at the expense of the Company to visit and inspect any of the offices or properties of the Company and its Restricted Subsidiaries, to examine all their respective books of account, records, reports and other papers, to make copies and extracts therefrom, and to discuss their respective affairs, finances and accounts with their respective officers and independent public accountants (and by this provision the Company, on its own behalf and on behalf of its Restricted Subsidiaries, authorizes said accountants to discuss the affairs, finances and accounts of the Company and its Restricted Subsidiaries), all at such times and as often as may be requested in writing.

7.4 Limitation on Disclosure Obligation.

The Company shall not be required to disclose the following information pursuant to Section 7.1(c), 7.1(r) or 7.3:

(a) information that the Company determines after consultation with counsel qualified to advise on such matters that, notwithstanding the confidentiality requirements of Section 21, it would be prohibited from disclosing by applicable Laws or regulations without making public disclosure thereof; or

(b) information that, notwithstanding the confidentiality requirements of Section 21, the Company is prohibited from disclosing by the terms of an obligation of confidentiality contained in any agreement with any non-Affiliate binding upon the Company and not entered into in contemplation of this clause (b), provided that the Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to obtain consent from the party in whose favor the obligation of confidentiality was made to permit the disclosure of the relevant information and provided further that the Company has received a written opinion of counsel confirming that disclosure of such information without consent from such other contractual party would constitute a breach of such agreement.

Promptly after a request therefor from any holder of Notes that is an Institutional Investor, the Company will provide such holder with a written opinion of counsel (which may be addressed to the Company) relied upon as to any requested information that the Company is prohibited from disclosing to such holder under circumstances described in this Section 7.4.

8. PAYMENT AND PREPAYMENT OF THE NOTES.

8.1 Maturity.

As provided therein, the entire unpaid principal balance of the Notes shall be due and payable on the stated maturity date thereof.

8.2 Optional Prepayments with Make-Whole Amount.

The Company may, at its option, upon notice as provided below, prepay at any time all, or from time to time any part of, the Series EE Notes, in an amount not less than 10% of the aggregate principal amount of the Series EE Notes then outstanding in the case of a partial prepayment, at 100% of the principal amount so prepaid, and the Series EE Make-Whole Amount determined for the prepayment date with respect to such principal amount. The Company will give each holder of the Series EE Notes written notice of each optional prepayment under this Section 8.2 not less than 30 days and not more than 60 days prior to the date fixed for such prepayment. Each such notice shall specify such date (which shall be a Business Day), the aggregate principal amount of the Series EE Notes to be prepaid on such date, the principal amount of each Series EE Note held by such holder to be prepaid (determined in accordance with Section 8.4), and the interest to be paid on the prepayment date with respect to such principal amount being prepaid, and shall be accompanied by a certificate of a Senior Financial Officer as to the estimated Series EE Make-Whole Amount due in connection with such prepayment (calculated as if the date of such notice were the date of the prepayment), setting forth the details of such computation. Two Business Days prior to such prepayment, the Company shall deliver to each holder of the Series

EE Notes a certificate of a Senior Financial Officer specifying the calculation of such Series EE Make-Whole Amount as of the specified prepayment date.

8.3 Prepayment for Tax Reasons Without Make-Whole.

If at any time as a result of a Change in Tax Law (as defined below) the Company is or becomes obligated to make any Additional Payments (as defined below) in respect of any payment of interest on account of any of the Notes in an aggregate amount for all affected Notes equal to 5% or more of the aggregate amount of such interest payment on account of all of the affected Notes, the Company may give the holders of all affected Notes irrevocable written notice (each, a “Tax Prepayment Notice”) of the prepayment of such affected Notes on a specified prepayment date (which shall be a Business Day not less than 30 days nor more than 60 days after the date of such notice) and the circumstances giving rise to the obligation of the Company to make any Additional Payments and the amount thereof and offering to prepay all of the affected Notes on the date of such prepayment at 100% of the principal amount so prepaid together with interest accrued thereon to the date of such prepayment. Each holder of an affected Note that wishes to accept such prepayment in respect of all or any of the affected Notes held by it shall give written notice to that effect to the Company no more than 20 days after receipt of the Tax Prepayment Notice (each, a “Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice”). The form of Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice and a description in reasonable detail of the nature and date of the Change in Tax Law shall accompany the Tax Prepayment Notice. Failure to give a Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice with respect to any affected Note within such 20 day period shall be deemed to be a rejection of the prepayment of such affected Note or affected Notes held by such holder, and shall operate as a permanent waiver of such holder’s right to receive the Additional Payments arising as a result of the circumstances described in the Tax Prepayment Notice in respect of all future payments of interest on such Note or Notes (but not of such holder’s right to receive any Additional Payments that arise out of circumstances not described in the Tax Prepayment Notice or which exceed the amount of the Additional Payment described in the Tax Prepayment Notice), which waiver shall be binding upon all subsequent transferees of such Notes. The principal amount of all Notes that are the subject of a Tax Prepayment Acceptance Notice together with interest accrued thereon to the date of such prepayment shall become due and payable on such prepayment date.

No prepayment of the Notes pursuant to this Section 8.3 shall affect the obligation of the Company to pay Additional Payments in respect of any payment made on or prior to the date of such prepayment. For purposes of this Section 8.3, any holder of more than one affected Note may act separately with respect to each affected Note so held (with the effect that a holder of more than one affected Note may accept such offer with respect to one or more affected Notes so held and reject such offer with respect to one or more other affected Notes so held).

The Company may not offer to prepay or prepay Notes pursuant to this Section 8.3 (a) if a Default or Event of Default then exists, (b) until the Company shall have taken commercially reasonable steps to mitigate the requirement to make the related Additional Payments or (c) if the obligation to make such Additional Payments directly results or resulted from actions taken by the Company or any Subsidiary (other than actions required to be taken under applicable Laws), and any Tax Prepayment Notice given pursuant to this Section 8.3 shall certify to the foregoing and describe such mitigation steps, if any.

For purposes of this Section 8.3: “Additional Payments” means additional amounts required to be paid to a holder of any Note pursuant to Section 13 by reason of a Change in Tax Law; and a “Change in Tax Law” means (individually or collectively with one or more prior changes) (i) an amendment to, or change in, any law, treaty, rule or regulation of Canada after the date of the Closing, or an amendment to, or change in, an official interpretation or application of such law, treaty, rule or regulation after the date of the Closing, which amendment or change is in force and continuing and meets the opinion and certification requirements described below or (ii) in the case of any other jurisdiction that becomes a Taxing Jurisdiction after the date of the Original Note Agreement, an amendment to, or change in, any law, treaty, rule or regulation of such jurisdiction, or an amendment to, or change in, an official interpretation or application of such law, treaty, rule or regulation, in any case after such jurisdiction shall have become a Taxing Jurisdiction, which amendment or change is in force and continuing and meets such opinion and certification requirements. No such amendment or change shall constitute a Change in Tax Law unless the same would in the opinion of the Company (which shall be evidenced by an Officer's Certificate of the Company and supported by a written opinion of counsel having recognized expertise in the field of taxation in the Taxing Jurisdiction, both of which shall be delivered to all holders of the Notes prior to or concurrently with the Tax Prepayment Notice in respect of such Change in Tax Law) affect the deduction or require the withholding of any Tax imposed by such Taxing Jurisdiction on any payment payable on the Notes.

8.4 Allocation of Partial Prepayments.

In the case of each partial prepayment of the Notes pursuant to Section 8.2, the principal amount of the Notes to be prepaid shall be allocated among all of the Notes at the time outstanding in proportion, as nearly as practicable, to the respective unpaid principal amounts of all Notes not theretofore called for prepayment.

All prepayments pursuant to Sections 8.3 and 8.8 shall be applied as therein provided.

8.5 Maturity; Surrender, Etc.

In the case of each prepayment of Notes pursuant to this Section 8, the principal amount of each Note to be prepaid shall mature and become due and payable on the date fixed for such prepayment (which shall be a Business Day), together with interest on such principal amount accrued to such date and the applicable Make-Whole Amount, if any. From and after such date, unless the Company shall fail to pay such principal amount when so due and payable, together with the interest and the applicable Make-Whole Amount, if any, as aforesaid, interest on such principal amount shall cease to accrue. Any Note paid or prepaid in full shall be surrendered to the Company and cancelled and shall not be reissued, and no Note shall be issued in lieu of any prepaid principal amount of any Note.

8.6 Purchase of Notes.

The Company will not and will not permit any Affiliate to purchase, redeem, prepay or otherwise acquire, directly or indirectly, any of the outstanding Notes except upon the payment or prepayment of the Notes in accordance with the terms of this Agreement and the Notes. The Company will promptly cancel all Notes acquired by it or any Affiliate pursuant to any payment or prepayment of Notes pursuant to any provision of this Agreement and no Notes may be issued in substitution or exchange for any such Notes.

8.7 Make-Whole Amount.

The term "Series EE Make-Whole Amount" means, with respect to any Series EE Note, an amount equal to the excess, if any, of the Discounted Value of the Remaining Scheduled Payments with respect to the Called Principal of such Note over the amount of such Called Principal, provided that the Series EE Make-Whole Amount may not in any event be less than zero. For the purposes of determining the Series EE Make-Whole Amount, the following terms have the following meanings:

“Applicable Percentage” means [REDACTED]% ([REDACTED] Basis Points).

“Called Principal” means, with respect to any such Note, the principal of such Note that is to be prepaid pursuant to Section 8.2 or has become or is declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to Section 12.1, as the context requires.

“Discounted Value” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any such Note, the amount obtained by discounting all Remaining Scheduled Payments with respect to such Called Principal from their respective scheduled due dates to the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal, in accordance with accepted financial practice and at a discount factor (applied on the same periodic basis as that on which interest on the Notes is payable) equal to the Reinvestment Yield with respect to such Called Principal.

“Reinvestment Yield” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any such Note, the sum of (x) the Applicable Percentage plus (y) the yield to maturity implied by (i) the yields reported as of 10:00 A.M. (New York City time) on the second Business Day preceding the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal, on the display designated as “Page PX1” (or such other display as may replace Page PX1) on Bloomberg Financial Markets for the most recently issued actively traded on the run U.S. Treasury securities having a maturity equal to the Remaining Average Life of such Called Principal as of such Settlement Date, or (ii) if such yields are not reported as of such time or the yields reported as of such time are not ascertainable (including by way of interpolation), the Treasury Constant Maturity Series Yields reported, for the latest day for which such yields have been so reported as of the second Business Day preceding the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal, in Federal Reserve Statistical Release H.15 (or any comparable successor publication) for U.S. Treasury securities having a constant maturity equal to the Remaining Average Life of such Called Principal as of such Settlement Date. In the case of each determination under clause (i) or clause (ii), as the case may be, of the preceding paragraph, such implied yield will be determined, if necessary, by (a) converting U.S. Treasury bill quotations to bond equivalent yields in accordance with accepted financial practice and (b) interpolating linearly between (1) the applicable U.S. Treasury security with the maturity closest to and greater than such Remaining Average Life and (2) the applicable U.S. Treasury security with the maturity closest to and less than such Remaining Average Life. The Reinvestment Yield shall be rounded to the number of decimal places as appears in the interest rate of the applicable Note.

“Remaining Average Life” means, with respect to any Called Principal, the number of years (calculated to two decimal places) obtained by dividing (i) such Called Principal into (ii) the sum of the products obtained by multiplying (a) the principal component of each Remaining Scheduled Payment with respect to such Called Principal by (b) the number of years (calculated to two decimal places) that will elapse between the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal and the Applicable Maturity Date of such Remaining Scheduled Payment.

“Remaining Scheduled Payments” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any Note, all payments of such Called Principal and interest thereon that would be due after the Settlement Date with respect to such Called Principal if no payment of such Called Principal were made prior to the Applicable Maturity Date, provided that if such Settlement Date is not a date on which interest payments are due to be made under the terms of the Notes, then the amount of the next succeeding scheduled interest payment will be reduced by the amount of interest accrued to such Settlement Date and required to be paid on such Settlement Date pursuant to Section 8.2 or 12.1.

“Settlement Date” means, with respect to the Called Principal of any Note, the date on which such Called Principal is to be prepaid pursuant to Section 8.2 or has become or is declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to Section 12.1, as the context requires.

8.8 Prepayment Offer Without Make-Whole on Change in Control.

(a) Notice of Change in Control. The Company will, within 5 Business Days after any Responsible Officer has knowledge of the occurrence of any Change in Control, give written notice of such Change in Control to each holder of Notes. Such notice shall refer to this Section 8.8, shall contain and constitute an offer to prepay Notes as described in Section 8.8(b) and shall be accompanied by the certificate described in Section 8.8 (e).

(b) Offer to Prepay Notes. The offer to prepay Notes contemplated by 8.8(a) shall be an offer to prepay, in accordance with and subject to this Section 8.8, all, but not less than all, the Notes held by each holder (in this case only, “holder” in respect of any Note registered in the name of a nominee for a disclosed beneficial owner shall mean such beneficial owner) on a date specified in such offer (the “Proposed Prepayment Date”), which date shall be not less than 30 Business Days and not more than 120 Business Days after the date of such offer (if the Proposed Prepayment Date shall not be specified in such offer, the Proposed Prepayment Date shall be the first Business Day after the 45th Business Day after the date of such offer).

(c) Acceptance/Rejection. A holder of Notes may accept the offer to prepay made pursuant to this Section 8.8 by causing a notice of such acceptance to be delivered to the Company not later than 15 Business Days after receipt by such holder of the most recent offer of prepayment, but in any event at least 10 Business Days prior to the Proposed Prepayment Date. A failure by a holder of Notes to respond to an offer to prepay made pursuant to this Section 8.8 shall be deemed to constitute a rejection of such offer by such holder.

(d) Prepayment. Prepayment of the Notes to be prepaid pursuant to this Section 8.8 shall be at 100% of the principal amount of such Notes, together with interest on such Notes accrued to the date of prepayment, but without the applicable Make-Whole Amounts or other premium.

(e) Officer’s Certificate. Each offer to prepay the Notes pursuant to this Section 8.8 shall be accompanied by a certificate, signed by a Senior Financial Officer of the Company and dated the date of such offer, specifying: (i) the Proposed Prepayment Date; (ii) that such offer is made pursuant to this Section 8.8; (iii) the principal amount of each Note offered to be prepaid; (iv) the interest that would be due on each Note offered to be prepaid, accrued to the Proposed Prepayment Date; (v) that the conditions of this Section 8.8 have been fulfilled; and (vi) in reasonable detail, the nature and date of the Change in Control.

(f) Certain Definitions.

(i) “Change in Control” means any circumstance arising after the date of the Original Note Agreement in which a Person or a combination of Persons, acting jointly or in concert (within the meaning of Multi-Lateral Instrument 62 104 — Take-Over Bids and Issuer Bids of the Canadian Securities Administrator), acquires Equity Interests of the Company which, in either case, together with all other such Equity Interests held by such Persons, constitute in the aggregate more than 35% of all outstanding Equity Interests of the Company (regardless of whether such Person or Persons are owned or controlled by the same Persons which owned or controlled such Equity Interests).

(ii) “Equity Interests” means in the case of a corporation, shares of capital stock of any class or series, including warrants, rights, participating interests or options to purchase or otherwise acquire any class or series of capital stock or securities exchangeable for or convertible into any class or series of capital stock, and in the case of any other Person or entity shall mean any class or series of partnership interests, units, membership interests or like interests constituting equity, and in the case of each of the foregoing, any part or portion thereof or participation in any of the foregoing.

8.9 REDACTED

Without limiting Section 10.3, the Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, comply with all laws, ordinances or governmental rules or regulations to which each of them is subject, including, without limitation, ERISA, the USA Patriot Act and Environmental Laws, and will obtain and maintain in effect all licenses, certificates, permits, franchises and other governmental authorizations necessary to the ownership of their respective properties or to the conduct of their respective businesses, in each case to the extent necessary to ensure that non-compliance with such laws, ordinances or governmental rules or regulations or failures to obtain or maintain in effect such licenses, certificates, permits, franchises and other governmental authorizations could not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.2 Insurance.

The Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, maintain, with financially sound and reputable insurers, insurance with respect to their respective properties and businesses against such casualties and contingencies, of such types, on such terms and in such amounts (including deductibles, co-insurance and self-insurance, if adequate reserves are maintained with respect thereto) as is customary in the case of entities of established reputations engaged in the same or a similar business and similarly situated.

9.3 Maintenance of Properties.

Subject to Section 10.2 and 10.11, the Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, maintain and keep, or cause to be maintained and kept, their respective properties in good repair, working order and condition (other than ordinary wear and tear), so that the business carried on in connection therewith may be properly conducted at all times, provided that this Section shall not prevent the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary from discontinuing the operation and the maintenance of any of its properties if such discontinuance is desirable in the conduct of its business and the Company has concluded that such discontinuance could not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.4 Payment of Taxes and Claims.

The Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, file all tax returns required to be filed in any jurisdiction and to pay and discharge all taxes shown to be due and payable on such returns and all other taxes, assessments, governmental charges or levies imposed on them or any of their properties, assets, income or franchises, to the extent the same have become due and payable and before they have become delinquent and all claims for which sums have become due and payable that have or might become a Lien on properties or assets of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary, provided that none of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary need pay any such tax, assessment, charge or levy if (i) the amount, applicability or validity thereof is contested by the Company or such Restricted Subsidiary on a timely basis in good faith and in appropriate proceedings, and the Company or a Restricted Subsidiary has established adequate reserves therefor in accordance with GAAP on the books of the Company or such Restricted Subsidiary or (ii) the nonpayment of all such taxes, assessments, charges and levies in the aggregate could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.5 Legal Existence, Etc.

Subject to Section 10.2, the Company will at all times preserve and keep in full force and effect its corporate existence. Subject to Sections 10.2 and 10.11, the Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, at all times preserve and keep in full force and effect the existence of each Restricted Subsidiary (unless merged into the Company or another Restricted Subsidiary) and all rights and franchises of the Company and each Restricted Subsidiary unless, in the good faith judgment of the Company, the termination of or failure to preserve and keep in full force and effect such corporate existence, right or franchise could not, individually or in the aggregate, have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.6 Books and Records.

The Company will, and will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, maintain proper books of record and account in conformity with GAAP and all applicable requirements of any Governmental Authority having legal or regulatory jurisdiction over the Company or such Subsidiary, as the case may be.

9.7 Priority of Obligations.

The Company will ensure that, at all times prior to the Security Release Date:

(a) its payment obligations under this Agreement and the Notes rank pari passu, without preference or priority, with its obligations under the Bank Facility, the Other Note Agreements and all other senior secured Indebtedness of the Company, other than Indebtedness secured by Permitted Encumbrances which under applicable Laws ranks in priority thereto; and

(b) each Subsidiary Guarantor's payment obligations under its Subsidiary Guarantee rank pari passu, without preference or priority, with its obligations in respect of the Bank Facility, the Other Note Agreements and all other senior secured Indebtedness of such Subsidiary Guarantor, other than Indebtedness secured by Permitted Encumbrances which under applicable Laws ranks in priority thereto.

9.8 [Reserved].

9.9 Designation of Restricted Subsidiaries.

The Company may designate any Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary and may designate any Restricted Subsidiary as an Unrestricted Subsidiary by providing to the holders of Notes a Notice of Designation in the form attached hereto as Exhibit 9.9; provided that:

(a) no Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) will exist immediately following such designation, and the Company shall have provided an Officer's Certificate to that effect at the time it provides such notice;

(b) in the case of the designation of an Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary and after giving effect thereto, all existing Liens of such Restricted Subsidiary so designated shall be permitted within the applicable limitations of Section 10.4, notwithstanding that any such Lien may have existed as of the date of the Original Note Agreement;

(c) in the case of the designation of a Restricted Subsidiary as an Unrestricted Subsidiary and after giving effect thereto, (i) such Unrestricted Subsidiary so designated shall not, directly or indirectly, own any Indebtedness or Capital Stock of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary, and (ii) such designation shall be deemed to be a sale by the Company of the assets of the Restricted Subsidiary so designated, and must be permitted under Section 10.11;

(d) if required by Section 9.10, each Restricted Subsidiary shall forthwith become a Subsidiary Guarantor;

(e) any Restricted Subsidiary that was previously designated as an Unrestricted Subsidiary shall not be redesignated as a Restricted Subsidiary if a Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) exists immediately prior to such designation; and

(f) any Unrestricted Subsidiary that was previously designated as an Restricted Subsidiary shall not be redesignated as a Unrestricted Subsidiary if a Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) exists immediately prior to such designation.

9.10 Subsidiary Guarantees.

The Company will cause each Subsidiary of the Company (other than any Subsidiary which already is a Subsidiary Guarantor) that hereafter becomes a borrower or a guarantor under the Bank Facility, concurrently therewith to enter into and become a party to a Subsidiary Guarantee, and within three Business Days thereafter, to deliver to each holder of a Note the following:

(a) the Subsidiary Guarantee and the Security Documents (as provided in Section 9.15), or applicable joinders thereto;

(b) a certificate signed by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Operating Officer, the Chief Financial Officer, a Vice President or another authorized officer of such Subsidiary Guarantor making representations and warranties to the effect of those contained in Sections 5.1, 5.2, 5.6 and 5.7 but with respect to such Subsidiary Guarantor and its Subsidiary Guarantee and the Security Documents to which it is a party, and, if relevant under applicable Laws to the provision of the Subsidiary Guarantee, a certificate confirming the solvency of the Subsidiary Guarantor;

(c) such documents and evidence with respect to such Subsidiary Guarantor as the Required Holders may reasonably request in order to establish the existence and good standing of such Subsidiary Guarantor and the authorization of the transactions contemplated by the Subsidiary Guarantee and Security Documents to which such Subsidiary Guarantor is a party; and

(d) a favorable legal opinion of independent legal counsel satisfactory to the Required Holders to the effect that the Subsidiary Guarantee and Security Documents to which such Subsidiary Guarantor is a party have been duly authorized, executed and delivered and constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligations of such Subsidiary Guarantor enforceable in accordance with their terms, except as enforcement of such terms may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally and by general equitable principles.

If any such Subsidiary Guarantor subsequently ceases to be a borrower or a guarantor under the Bank Facility (other than as a result of the Bank Facility reaching its scheduled maturity date without renewal and provided that, on the date such Subsidiary Guarantor ceases to be a borrower or guarantor under the Bank Facility, the Liens encumbering assets of such Subsidiary Guarantor created by the Security Documents have been released and discharged in accordance with Section 9.15(g)), then the Company may require the holders of Notes to release such Subsidiary from its Subsidiary Guarantee and any Security Document to which it is a party upon giving 5 Business Days written notice thereof to the holders of Notes together with confirmation of the foregoing reasonably satisfactory to the holders of Notes, whereupon such Subsidiary shall cease to be a Subsidiary Guarantor hereunder and any Lien granted by it pursuant to the Security Documents shall be released and discharged (and the Company may take any additional steps and actions it deems necessary to discharge corresponding Lien registrations and filings), provided that at the time of such notice and the effective date of such release as provided below, and immediately after giving effect thereto, and to such Subsidiary ceasing to be a Subsidiary Guarantor, no Default or Event of Default (including as determined by a Current Financial Covenant Testing) exists or would exist, and the Company shall have provided an Officer's Certificate to such effect at the time it provides such notice, with the information (including detailed calculations) required in order to establish same. Upon compliance with the requirements of the preceding sentence, the Subsidiary Guarantee of such Subsidiary shall be deemed to be released and terminated, and any Lien granted by it pursuant to the Security Documents shall be deemed to be released and discharged, as at the expiry of such 5 Business Day period (unless sooner terminated by all the holders of Notes).

9.11 Subordination Agreements.

The Company will cause each Affiliate (a "Subordinating Person") that hereafter subordinates any obligations owed to such Subordinating Person by the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor in favor of any obligations owed by the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor under the Bank Facility, to concurrently therewith enter into a subordination agreement on the same terms in favor of the holders of the Notes, and within three Business Days thereafter, the Company shall deliver to each holder of a Note the following:

(a) such subordination agreement;

(b) if the Subordinating Person is a Subsidiary of the Company, a certificate signed by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Operating Officer, the Chief Financial Officer, a Vice President or another authorized officer of such Subsidiary making representations and warranties to the effect of those contained in Sections 5.1, 5.2, 5.6 and 5.7, but with respect to such Subordinating Person and its subordination agreement;

(c) if the Subordinating Person is a Subsidiary of the Company, such documents and evidence with respect to such Subordinating Person as the Required Holders may reasonably request in order to establish the existence and good standing of such Subordinating Person and the authorization of the transactions contemplated by its subordination agreement; and

(d) if the Subordinating Person is a Subsidiary of the Company, an opinion of independent counsel satisfactory to the Required Holders to the effect that such subordination agreement has been duly authorized, executed and delivered and constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of such Subordinating Person enforceable in accordance with its terms, except as enforcement of such terms may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally and by general equitable principles.

9.12 Matching Bank Facility Liens.

If at any time the Company or any Subsidiary provides a Lien to or for the benefit of the lenders under the Bank Facility, then the Company will (if it has provided such a Lien), and will cause each of its Subsidiaries that has provided such Lien to, concurrently grant to or for the benefit of the holders of Notes a similar first priority Lien (subject only to Liens permitted by each of the Bank Facility and Section 10.4, and ranking pari passu with the Liens provided to or for the benefit of the lenders under such Bank Facility), over the same assets, property and undertaking of the Company and each such Subsidiary as those encumbered in respect of the Bank Facility, in form and substance satisfactory to the holders of Notes, acting reasonably, with such security to be subject to the Intercreditor Agreement.

9.13 Partnership.

For so long as the Partnership is a Restricted Subsidiary, the Company will ensure that at all times the partners in the Partnership will consist only of the Company and one or more Restricted Subsidiaries.

9.14 Ownership of the Company and Restricted Subsidiaries.

The Company will ensure that at all times the Company and each Restricted Subsidiary, or their respective successors as permitted by Section 10.2, are directly or indirectly wholly-owned Subsidiaries of the Company, or are Joint Venture Development Entities.

9.15 Security Prior to Security Release Date.

(a) From and after May 22, 2015 until the Security Release Date, the Company will provide (or cause to be provided) to the Collateral Agent, for and on behalf of, inter alios, the holders of Notes, as continuing security for the Obligations, a debenture from the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors creating a Lien in favor of the Collateral Agent in respect of all their present and after-acquired property, assets and undertaking and a floating charge over all present and future owned real property (the “Security”).

(b) The Security shall be in form and substance satisfactory to the Requisite Secured Parties in their sole discretion. The Requisite Secured Parties, acting reasonably, may require that any Security Document be governed by the Laws of the jurisdiction in which the property in which a Lien is created pursuant to such Security Document is located. The Security Documents shall be registered by the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantors, as applicable, where necessary or desirable to record and perfect the Liens created thereby, as determined by the Requisite Secured Parties in their sole discretion, and if the Company or any Subsidiary Guarantor does not so register the Security Documents as requested, any holder of Notes may do the same (the cost of which will be borne by the Company).

(c) The Company will cause to be delivered to the Collateral Agent and each holder of Notes the results of all applicable searches in respect of the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors in the applicable jurisdictions as well as the opinions of solicitors for the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors regarding their corporate status, the due authorization, execution and delivery of the Security Documents provided by them, the creation of the Liens pursuant to the Security Documents and all registrations in respect of the Security Documents, and the validity and enforceability of such Security Documents; all such opinions to be in form and substance satisfactory to the Required Holders and their counsel.

(d) The Company will and will cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to execute any and all further documents, financing statements, agreements and instruments, and take all further action (including filing Personal Property Security Act (Alberta) and Land Titles Act (Alberta) and other financing statements, registering the Security at any land titles or land registry offices or under the Mines and Mineral Act (Alberta) or any similar registry in any other applicable jurisdiction, and filing any other notices, mortgages, deeds of trust and caveats (or the equivalent statements in any other jurisdiction)) that may from time to time be required under applicable Laws, or that the Collateral Agent or the Requisite Secured Parties may reasonably request, in order to effectuate the transactions contemplated by the Financing Agreements and in order to grant, preserve, protect and perfect the validity, enforceability and priority of the Liens created or intended to be created by the Security Documents. For the avoidance of doubt, the Requisite Secured Parties and the Collateral Agent shall have the right to require the Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor to amend or supplement any Security Documents or related registrations to the extent necessary to reflect any changes in applicable Laws (or the interpretation thereof) or any directives, rules or procedures related thereto, whether arising as a result of statutory amendments, court decisions or otherwise, and whether occurring prior to or subsequent to the date hereof.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither the Company nor any Subsidiary Guarantor shall be required (and neither the holders of Notes nor the Collateral Agent shall be entitled) to effect any fixed charge registrations against any real property (including for certainty, registering the Security at any land titles or land registry offices or under the Mines and Mineral Act (Alberta) or any similar registry in any other applicable jurisdiction unless an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing except as otherwise set forth in the Intercreditor Agreement). After an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, from time to time upon the request of the Collateral Agent or the Requisite Secured Parties, within ten Business Days of such request, the Company shall, at the Company's sole cost and expense, execute and deliver, and shall cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to execute and deliver, such additional or supplemental Security Documents as the Collateral Agent or the Requisite Secured Parties may reasonably request in order to ensure that all Collateral held by the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors is validly subjected to first fixed charge Liens in favor of the Collateral Agent for the benefit of the holders of Notes, subject only to Permitted Encumbrances, and in connection therewith shall provide to the Collateral Agent a land schedule in form satisfactory to the Collateral Agent and the Requisite Secured Parties detailing all Collateral then held by the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantor (which shall include legal descriptions, crown lease numbers and issue dates, reserve numbers, zone restrictions, names of freehold lessors, and the interest of the Company and each Subsidiary Guarantor therein before and after payout of working interests and all royalties and burdens). The Company will pay all reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the Collateral Agent or any holder in connection with the preparation, execution, delivery and registration of all documents, agreements, instruments and registrations necessary or advisable to implement the provisions of this Section 9.15(e).

(f) The Company and its Subsidiary Guarantors shall not be discharged from the Subsidiary Guarantee except in accordance with the last paragraph of Section 9.10 or by a written release signed by all holders of Notes and the Liens in respect of the Security shall not be discharged and released except (A) in accordance with Section 9.15(g) and the Intercreditor Agreement or (B) in connection with a Disposition of assets permitted by Section 10.11, to the extent, but only to the extent, that such Liens encumber assets subject to such Disposition.

(g) The Liens created or intended to be created by the Security Documents in accordance with this Section 9.15 shall be fully released and discharged (and the Company may take any additional steps and actions it deems necessary to discharge any corresponding Liens registrations and filings), and the Security Documents shall be terminated and be of no further force and effect, upon the date when both of the following are satisfied (the “Security Release Date”):

(i) a date on which the Notes and the other Outstanding Notes have been paid in full, in cash; and

(ii) a date on which no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing on such date and the Collateral subject to the Intercreditor Agreement is concurrently released by the lenders under the Bank Facility and the noteholders under each Other Note Agreement and the Intercreditor Agreement is concurrently terminated.

(h) Nothing contained herein or in the Security Documents now held or hereafter acquired by the holders, nor any act or omission of the Collateral Agent or the holders with respect to any such Security Documents, will in any way prejudice or affect the rights, remedies or powers of the holders with respect to any other Financing Agreement at any time held by them.

9.16 Material Adverse Claims.

The Company will, and will cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to, do all things necessary to defend and protect their property from all material adverse claims, and to maintain their property free therefrom, except for Permitted Encumbrances, where the failure to do so (a) in the opinion of the Required Holders and/or Collateral Agent, acting reasonably, threatens the actual or intended priority or validity of the Security Documents and the Liens created therein, as provided herein, in the Security Documents and in the Intercreditor Agreement, or (b) has had or would reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

9.17 Protection of Security.

The Company will, and will cause each Subsidiary Guarantor to, do all things reasonably requested by the Required Holders or the Collateral Agent to protect and maintain the validity and enforceability of the Security Documents and the first-ranking priority thereof, as contemplated herein and in the Intercreditor Agreement, in relation to other Persons.

9.18 [Reserved].

9.19 Hedging Plan.

The Company will comply with the Hedging Plan, as such plan may be amended from time to time with the approval of the Company’s board of directors (whether by amendment of such plan or the hedging policy adopted by the Company’s board of directors) and in a manner consistent with prudent management of risk related to volatility in prices of Petroleum Substances.

9.20 Most Favored Lender.

Thereafter, upon the request of the Required Holders, the Required Holders and the Company shall enter into an amendment to this Agreement evidencing the incorporation of such additional or more restrictive covenants or events of default, it being agreed that any failure to make such request or to enter into any such amendment shall in no way qualify or limit the incorporation by reference described in clause (ii) of the immediately preceding sentence.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, provisions of the Bank Facility (or any document in respect thereof) that impose a limit on the amount of Indebtedness that may be incurred under this Agreement, shall not be subject to the requirements of the first paragraph of this Section 9.20.

If, prior to a Consensual Transaction, there is any increase in the margin applicable to any one or more loans outstanding under the Bank Facility above the margin in effect on the Effective Date or any fee or other compensation is paid or payable to the Lenders in connection with (x) an extension of the Revolving Period (as defined in the Bank Facility as in effect on the Effective Date) or (y) deferring a redetermination of the Borrowing Base (as defined in the Bank Facility as in effect on the Effective Date) or refraining from exercising a right to redetermine the Borrowing Base, then (a) in the case of an increase in such margin, the interest rate on the Notes shall increase by the same number of Basis Points as such margin has increased for the same period that such increase in the margin shall exist, and (b) in the case of any fee or other compensation, the equivalent of such fee or other compensation shall be given to the holders of Notes promptly, and in any event not more than five (5) Business Days after such consideration is given to the Lenders; provided, however, that fees payable to the Lenders under the Seventh Amending Agreement to the Bank Facility shall not be subject to the requirements of this Section 9.20.

12. REMEDIES ON DEFAULT, ETC.

12.1 Acceleration.

(a) If an Event of Default with respect to the Company described in Sections 11(g), 11(h) or 11(i) (other than an Event of Default described in clause (i) of Section 11(g) or described in clause (vi) of Section 11(g) by virtue of the fact that such clause encompasses clause (i) of Section 11(g)) has occurred, all the Notes then outstanding shall automatically become immediately due and payable.

(b) If any other Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Required Holders may at any time at their option, by notice or notices to the Company, declare all the Notes then outstanding to be immediately due and payable.

(c) If any Event of Default described in Section 11(a) or 11(b) has occurred and is continuing, any holder or holders of Notes at the time outstanding affected by such Event of Default may at any time, at its or their option, by notice or notices to the Company, declare all the Notes held by it or them to be immediately due and payable.

Upon any Notes becoming due and payable under this Section 12.1, whether automatically or by declaration, such Notes will forthwith mature and the entire unpaid principal amount of such Notes, plus (x) all accrued and unpaid interest thereon (including, without limitation, interest accrued thereon at the applicable rate specified in the Notes during an Event of Default) and (y) the Make-Whole Amount or the Protective Claim Amount, as applicable (as specified in the next succeeding sentence of this paragraph), determined in respect of such principal amount (to the full extent permitted by applicable Laws), shall all be immediately due and payable, in each and every case without presentment, demand, protest or further notice, all of which are hereby waived. The Company acknowledges, and the parties hereto agree, that (i) the Make-Whole Amount shall be payable if the Notes are payable pursuant to this Section 12.1 in any circumstance where a Consensual Transaction has occurred and (ii) the Protective Claim Amount shall be payable if the Notes are payable pursuant to this Section 12.1 prior to the occurrence of a Consensual Transaction. The Company acknowledges, and the parties hereto agree, that each holder of a Note has the right to maintain its investment in the Notes free from repayment by the Company (except as herein specifically provided for) and that the provision for payment of a Make-Whole Amount or Protective Claim Amount, as the case may be, by the Company in the event that the Notes are repaid as provided in the preceding sentence is intended to provide compensation for the deprivation of such right under such circumstances.

“Crystallized Make-Whole Amount” means $[REDACTED] in the aggregate for all Series EE Notes and, in respect of any Series EE Note, means a ratable share of such amount based on the principal amount of such Series EE Note as a percentage of the aggregate principal amount of all Series EE Notes, in each case at the time the Crystallized Make-Whole Amount is payable.

“Protective Claim Amount” means, in respect of any Series EE Note, the sum of (a) the Crystallized Make-Whole Amount in respect of such Series EE Note plus (b) interest at 2% per annum on such Crystallized Make-Whole Amount and on the principal amount of such Series EE Note accrued during the period from and including March 13, 2020 to but excluding the date of payment in full of such Protective Claim Amount and principal.

12.2 Other Remedies.

If any Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, and irrespective of whether any Notes have become or have been declared immediately due and payable under Section 12.1, the holder of any Note at the time outstanding may proceed to protect and enforce the rights of such holder by an action at law, suit in equity or other appropriate proceeding, whether for the specific performance of any agreement contained herein or in any Note, or for an injunction against a violation of any of the terms hereof or thereof, or in aid of the exercise of any power granted hereby or thereby or by law or otherwise.

12.3 Rescission.

At any time after any Notes have been declared due and payable pursuant to Section 12.1(b) or 12.1(c), the Required Holders, by written notice to the Company, may rescind and annul any such declaration and its consequences if (a) the Company has paid all overdue interest on the Notes, all principal of and Make-Whole Amount, if any, on any Notes that are due and payable and are unpaid other than by reason of such declaration, and all interest on such overdue principal and Make-Whole Amount, if any, and (to the extent permitted by applicable Laws) any overdue interest in respect of the Notes, at the applicable rate specified in the Notes during an Event of Default, (b) neither the Company nor any other Person shall have paid any amounts that have become due solely by reason of such declaration, (c) all Events of Default and Defaults, other than non-payment of amounts that have become due solely by reason of such declaration, have been cured or have been waived pursuant to Section 18, and (d) no judgment or decree has been entered for the payment of any monies due pursuant hereto or to the Notes. No rescission and annulment under this Section 12.3 will extend to or affect any subsequent Event of Default or Default or impair any right consequent thereon.

12.4 No Waivers or Election of Remedies, Expenses, Etc.

No course of dealing and no delay on the part of any holder of any Note in exercising any right, power or remedy shall operate as a waiver thereof or otherwise prejudice such holder's rights, powers or remedies. No right, power or remedy conferred by this Agreement or by any Note upon any holder thereof shall be exclusive of any other right, power or remedy referred to herein or therein or now or hereafter available at law, in equity, by statute or otherwise. Without limiting the obligations of the Company under Section 16, the Company will pay to the holder of each Note on demand such further amount as shall be sufficient to cover all costs and expenses of such holder incurred in any enforcement or collection under this Section 12, including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees, expenses and disbursements.

13. TAX INDEMNIFICATION.

All payments whatsoever under the Financing Agreements will be made by the Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors free and clear of, and without liability for withholding or deduction for or on account of, any present or future Taxes of whatever nature imposed or levied by or on behalf of any jurisdiction (or any political subdivision or taxing authority of or in such jurisdiction) (hereinafter a "Taxing Jurisdiction"), unless the withholding or deduction of such Tax is compelled by law.

If any deduction or withholding for any Tax of a Taxing Jurisdiction shall at any time be required in respect of any amounts to be paid by the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantors under the Financing Agreements, the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantors, as applicable, will pay to the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction the full amount required to be withheld, deducted or otherwise paid before penalties attach thereto or interest accrues thereon and pay to each holder of a Note such additional amounts as may be necessary in order that the net amounts paid to such holder pursuant to the terms of the Financing Agreements after such deduction, withholding or payment (including, without limitation, any required deduction or withholding of Tax on or with respect to such additional amount), shall be not less than the amounts then due and payable to such holder under the terms of the Financing Agreements before the assessment of such Tax, provided that no payment of any additional amounts shall be required to be made for or on account of:

(a) any Tax that would not have been imposed but for the existence of any present or former connection between such holder (or a fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member of, shareholder of, or possessor of a power over, such holder, if such holder is an estate, trust, partnership or corporation or any Person other than the holder to whom the Notes or any amount payable thereon is attributable for the purposes of such Tax) and the Taxing Jurisdiction, other than the mere holding of the relevant Note or the receipt of payments thereunder or in respect thereof, including, without limitation, such holder (or such other Person described in the above parenthetical) being or having been a citizen or resident thereof, or being or having been present or engaged in trade or business therein or having or having had an establishment, office, fixed base or branch therein, provided that this exclusion shall not apply with respect to a Tax that would not have been imposed but for the Company or the Subsidiary Guarantor, after the date of the Original Note Agreement, opening an office in, moving an office to, reincorporating in, or changing the Taxing Jurisdiction from or through which payments on account of the Financing Agreements are made to, the Taxing Jurisdiction imposing the relevant Tax;

(b) any Tax that would not have been imposed but for the delay or failure by such holder (following a written request by the Company) in the filing with the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction of Forms (as defined below) that are required to be filed by such holder to avoid or reduce such Taxes (including for such purpose any refilings or renewals of filings that may from time to time be required by the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction), provided that the filing of such Forms would not (in such holder's reasonable judgment) impose any unreasonable burden (in time, resources or otherwise) on such holder or result in any confidential or proprietary income tax return information being revealed, either directly or indirectly, to any Person and such delay or failure could have been lawfully avoided by such holder, and provided further that such holder shall be deemed to have satisfied the requirements of this clause (b) upon the good faith completion and submission of such Forms (including refilings or renewals of filings) as may be specified in a written request of the Company no later than 60 days after receipt by such holder of such written request (accompanied by copies of such Forms and related instructions, if any, all in the English language or with an English translation thereof);

(c) any amount in excess of the amount of tax that would be payable if the holder was a resident of the United States of America for the purpose of the Canada-U.S. Income Tax Convention (1980), as amended;

(d) any Tax that would not have been imposed but for the holder not dealing at arm's length with the Company for the purposes of the Tax Act; or

(e) any combination of clauses (a), (b), (c) or (d) above.

If as a result of any payment by the Company or a Subsidiary Guarantor under the Financing Agreements, whether in respect of principal, Make-Whole Amounts (if any), Protective Claim Amount, interest, interest on overdue interest, fees or other payment obligations, any holder of a Note is required to pay tax under Part XIII of the Tax Act, then the Company or applicable Subsidiary Guarantor will, upon demand by such holder of any Note, indemnify the holder for the payment of any such amount, together with any interest, penalties and expenses in connection therewith, and for any Taxes on such indemnity payment provided that no indemnification payment shall be required to be made in respect of a Tax described in clauses (a), (b), (c), (d) or (e) of the previous paragraph. All amounts payable under this paragraph shall be payable by the Company or applicable Subsidiary Guarantor on demand, shall, if paid in respect of interest, be a payment of additional interest, and shall bear interest at the Default Rate, calculated from the date demanded by such holder to the date paid by the Company or applicable Subsidiary Guarantor.

By acceptance of any Note, the holder of such Note agrees, subject to the limitations of clause (b) above, that it will from time to time with reasonable promptness (x) duly complete and deliver to or as reasonably directed by the Company all such forms, certificates, documents and returns provided to such holder by the Company (collectively, together with instructions for completing the same, "Forms") required to be filed by or on behalf of such holder in order to avoid or reduce any such Tax pursuant to the provisions of an applicable statute, regulation or administrative practice of the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction or of an applicable tax treaty between the United States and such Taxing Jurisdiction, and (y) provide the Company with such information with respect to such holder as the Company may reasonably request in order to complete any such Forms, provided that nothing in this Section 13 shall require any holder to provide information with respect to any such Form or otherwise if in the opinion of such holder such Form or disclosure of information would involve the disclosure of tax return or other information that is confidential or proprietary to such holder, and provided further that each such holder shall be deemed to have complied with its obligation under this paragraph with respect to any Form if such Form shall have been duly completed and delivered by such holder to the Company or mailed to the appropriate taxing authority, whichever is applicable, within 60 days following a written request of the Company (which request shall be accompanied by copies of such Form and English translations of any such Form not in the English language) and, in the case of a transfer of any Note, at least 90 days prior to the relevant interest payment date.

If any payment is made by the Company to or for the account of the holder of any Note after deduction for or on account of any Taxes, and increased payments are made by the Company pursuant to this Section 13, then, if such holder at its sole discretion determines that it has received or been granted a refund of such Taxes, such holder shall, to the extent that it can do so without prejudice to the retention of the amount of such refund, reimburse to the Company such amount as such holder shall, in its sole discretion, determine to be attributable to the relevant Taxes or deduction or withholding. Nothing herein contained shall interfere with the right of the holder of any Note to arrange its tax affairs in whatever manner it thinks fit and, in particular, no holder of any Note shall be under any obligation to claim relief from its corporate profits or similar tax liability in respect of such Tax in priority to any other claims, reliefs, credits or deductions available to it or (other than as set forth in clause (b) above) oblige any holder of any Note to disclose any information relating to its tax affairs or any computations in respect thereof.

The Company will furnish the holders of Notes with the original tax receipt issued to the Company for all amounts paid as Tax in respect of any amount paid under a Financing Agreement within the time period specified under the relevant Law (or if such original tax receipt is not available or must legally be kept in the possession of the Company, a duly certified copy of the original tax receipt or any other reasonably satisfactory evidence of payment), together with such other documentary evidence with respect to such payments as may be reasonably requested from time to time by any holder of a Note.

If the Company is required by any applicable Laws, as modified by the practice of the taxation or other authority of any relevant Taxing Jurisdiction, to make any deduction or withholding of any Tax in respect of which the Company would be required to pay any additional amount under this Section 13, but for any reason does not make such deduction or withholding with the result that a liability in respect of such Tax is assessed directly against the holder of any Note, and such holder pays such liability, then the Company will promptly reimburse such holder for such payment (including any related interest or penalties to the extent such interest or penalties arise by virtue of a default or delay by the Company) upon demand by such holder accompanied by an official receipt (or a duly certified copy thereof) issued by the taxation or other authority of the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction.

If the Company makes payment to or for the account of any holder of a Note and such holder is entitled to a refund of the Tax to which such payment is attributable upon the making of a filing (other than a Form described above), then such holder shall, as soon as practicable after receiving written request from the Company (which shall specify in reasonable detail and supply the refund forms to be filed) use reasonable efforts to complete and deliver such refund forms to or as directed by the Company, subject, however, to the same limitations with respect to Forms as are set forth above.

The obligations of the Company under this Section 13 shall survive the payment or transfer of any Note and the provisions of this Section 13 shall also apply to successive transferees of the Notes.

14. REGISTRATION; EXCHANGE; SUBSTITUTION OF NOTES.

14.1 Registration of Notes.

The Company shall keep at its principal executive office a register for the registration and registration of transfers of Notes. The name and address of each holder of one or more Notes, each transfer thereof and the name and address of each transferee of one or more Notes shall be registered in such register. If any holder of one or more Notes is a nominee, then

(a) the name and address of the beneficial owner of such Note or Notes shall also be registered in such register as an owner and holder thereof and (b) at any such beneficial owner's option, either such beneficial owner or its nominee may execute any amendment, waiver or consent pursuant to this Agreement. Prior to due presentment for registration of transfer, the Person in whose name any Note shall be registered shall be deemed and treated as the owner and holder thereof for all purposes hereof, and the Company shall not be affected by any notice or knowledge to the contrary. The Company shall give to any holder of a Note that is an Institutional Investor promptly upon request therefor, a complete and correct copy of the names and addresses of all registered holders of Notes.

14.2 Transfer and Exchange of Notes.

Upon surrender of any Note to the Company at the address and to the attention of the designated officer (all as specified in Section 19) for registration of transfer or exchange (and in the case of a surrender for registration of transfer accompanied by a written instrument of transfer duly executed by the registered holder of such Note or such holder's attorney duly authorized in writing and accompanied by the relevant name, address and other details for notices of each transferee of such Note or part thereof) within ten Business Days thereafter the Company shall execute and deliver, at the Company's expense (except as provided below), one or more new Notes (as requested by the holder thereof) in exchange therefor, in an aggregate principal amount equal to the unpaid principal amount of the surrendered Note of the same series. Each such new Note shall be payable to such Person as such holder may request and shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit 1EE. Each such new Note shall be dated and bear interest from the date to which interest shall have been paid on the surrendered Note or dated the date of the surrendered Note if no interest shall have been paid thereon. The Company may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any stamp tax or governmental charge imposed in respect of any such transfer of Notes. Notes shall not be transferred in denominations of less than U.S.$250,000 provided that (i) a Note originally issued in an amount less than U.S.$250,000 may be transferred in such original amount, and (ii) if necessary to enable the registration of transfer by a holder of its entire holding of Notes, one Note may be in a denomination of less than U.S.$250,000. Any transferee, by its acceptance of a Note registered in its name (or the name of its nominee), shall be deemed to have made the representation set forth in Section 6.2.

14.3 Replacement of Notes.

Upon receipt by the Company at the address and to the attention of the designated officer (all as specified in Section 19(c)) of evidence reasonably satisfactory to it of the ownership of and the loss, theft, destruction or mutilation of any Note (which evidence shall be, in the case of an Institutional Investor, notice from such Institutional Investor of such ownership and such loss, theft, destruction or mutilation), and

(a) in the case of loss, theft or destruction, of indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it (provided that if the holder of such Note is, or is a nominee for, an original Purchaser or another holder of a Note with a minimum net worth of at least Cdn.$50,000,000 (or its equivalent in the relevant currency) or a Qualified Institutional Buyer, such Person's own unsecured agreement of indemnity shall be deemed to be satisfactory), or

(b) in the case of mutilation, upon surrender and cancellation thereof, within ten Business Days thereafter the Company at its own expense shall execute and deliver, in lieu thereof, a new Note of the same series, dated and bearing interest from the date to which interest shall have been paid on such lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated Note or dated the date of such lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated Note if no interest shall have been paid thereon.

15. PAYMENTS ON NOTES.

15.1 Place of Payment.

Subject to Section 15.2, payments of principal, Make-Whole Amount, if any, Protective Claim Amount, and interest becoming due and payable on the Notes shall be made in Calgary, Alberta at the principal office of the Company. The Company may at any time, by notice to each holder of a Note, change the place of payment of the Notes so long as such place of payment shall be either (i) the principal office of the Company in the United States of America or (ii) the principal office of a bank or trust company in the United States of America.

15.2 Home Office Payment.

So long as any Purchaser or its nominee shall be the holder of any Note, and notwithstanding anything contained in Section 15.1 or in such Note to the contrary, the Company will pay all sums becoming due on such Note for principal, Make-Whole Amount, if any, Protective Claim Amount and interest by the method and at the address specified for such purpose below such Purchaser's name in Schedule A, or by such other method or at such other address as such Purchaser shall have from time to time specified to the Company in writing for such purpose, plus any wiring fees applicable to wire transfers of funds, without the presentation or surrender of such Note or the making of any notation thereon, except that upon written request of the Company made concurrently with or reasonably promptly after payment or prepayment in full of any Note, such Purchaser shall surrender such Note for cancellation, reasonably promptly after any such request, to the Company at its principal executive office or at the place of payment most recently designated by the Company pursuant to Section 15.1. Prior to any sale or other disposition of any Note held by a Purchaser or its nominee, such Purchaser will, at its election, either endorse thereon the amount of principal paid thereon and the last date to which interest has been paid thereon or surrender such Note to the Company in exchange for a new Note or Notes pursuant to Section 14.2. The Company will afford the benefits of this Section 15.2 to any Institutional Investor that is the direct or indirect transferee of any Note purchased by a Purchaser under this Agreement and that has made the same agreement relating to such Note as the Purchasers have made in this Section 15.2.

16. EXPENSES, ETC.

16.1 Transaction Expenses.

Whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby are consummated, the Company will pay all costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees of a special counsel and, if reasonably required by the Required Holders, local or other counsel) incurred by the Purchasers and each other holder of a Note in connection with such transactions and in connection with any amendments, waivers or consents under or in respect of the Financing Agreements

(whether or not such amendment, waiver or consent becomes effective), including, without limitation: (a) review of any events or transactions contemplated by Sections 7.1(l), 7.1(m), 7.1(n), 7.1(p), 9.9, 9.10, 9.11, 9.12, 10.2, 10.11 and 23, (b) the costs and expenses incurred in enforcing or defending (or determining whether or how to enforce or defend) any rights under the Financing Agreements or in responding to any subpoena or other legal process or informal investigative demand issued in connection with the Financing Agreements, or by reason of being a holder of any Note, (c) the costs and expenses, including financial advisors' fees, incurred in connection with the insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary or in connection with any work-out or restructuring of the transactions contemplated by the Financing Agreements and (d) the reasonable costs and expenses incurred in connection with the initial filing of this Agreement and all related documents and financial information with the SVO. The Company will pay, and will save each Purchaser and each other holder of a Note harmless from, all claims in respect of any fees, costs or expenses, if any, of brokers and finders (other than those, if any, retained by a Purchaser or other holder in connection with its purchase of the Notes).

16.2 Certain Taxes.

The Company agrees to pay all stamp, documentary or similar taxes or fees which may be payable in respect of the execution and delivery or the enforcement of the Financing Agreements or the execution and delivery (but not the transfer) or the enforcement of any of the Notes in the United States of America or Canada or of any amendment of, or waiver or consent under or with respect to, the Financing Agreements, and to pay any value added tax due and payable in respect of reimbursement of costs and expenses by the Company pursuant to this Section 16, and will save each holder of a Note to the extent permitted by applicable Laws harmless against any loss or liability resulting from nonpayment or delay in payment of any such tax or fee required to be paid by the Company hereunder.

16.3 Survival.

The obligations of the Company under this Section 16 will survive the payment or transfer of any Note, the enforcement, amendment or waiver of any provision of the Financing Agreements, and the termination of this Agreement.

17. SURVIVAL OF REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES; ENTIRE AGREEMENT.

All representations and warranties contained herein shall survive the execution and delivery of the Financing Agreements, the purchase or transfer by any Purchaser of any Note or portion thereof or interest therein and the payment of any Note, and may be relied upon by any subsequent holder of a Note, regardless of any investigation made at any time by or on behalf of such Purchaser or any other holder of a Note. All statements contained in any certificate or other instrument delivered by or on behalf of the Company or any Subsidiary pursuant to the Financing Agreements shall be deemed representations and warranties of the Company under this Agreement. Subject to the preceding sentence, the Financing Agreements embody the entire agreement and understanding between each Purchaser and the Company and supersede all prior agreements and understandings relating to the subject matter hereof.

18. AMENDMENT AND WAIVER.

18.1 Requirements.

This Agreement, the Notes and the other Financing Agreements may be amended, and the observance of any term hereof or of the Notes may be waived (either retroactively or prospectively), with (and only with) the written consent of the Company and the Required Holders, except that (a) no amendment or waiver of any of the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 or 22, or any defined term (as it is used therein), will be effective as to any Purchaser unless consented to by such Purchaser in writing, and (b) no such amendment or waiver may, without the written consent of the holder of each Note at the time outstanding affected thereby, (i) subject to the provisions of Section 12 relating to acceleration or rescission, change the amount or time of any prepayment or payment of principal of, or reduce the rate or change the time of payment or method of computation of interest or of the applicable Make-Whole Amount or Protective Claim Amount on, the Notes, (ii) change the percentage of the principal amount of the Notes the holders of which are required to consent to any such amendment or waiver, (iii) amend Section 8, 11(a), 11(b), 12, 13, 18, 21 or 23.10, or (iv) amend any provision of the Subordination Agreement, a Subsidiary Guarantee or any Lien granted to the holders of Notes pursuant to Section 9.12 or otherwise.

18.2 Solicitation of Holders of Notes.

(a) Solicitation. The Company will provide each holder of the Notes (irrespective of the amount of Notes then owned by it) with sufficient information, sufficiently far in advance of the date a decision is required, to enable such holder to make an informed and considered decision with respect to any proposed amendment, waiver or consent in respect of any of the provisions hereof or of the Notes. The Company will deliver executed or true and correct copies of each amendment, waiver or consent effected pursuant to the provisions of this Section 18 to each holder of outstanding Notes promptly following the date on which it is executed and delivered by, or receives the consent or approval of, the requisite holders of Notes.

(b) Payment. The Company will not directly or indirectly pay or cause to be paid any remuneration, whether by way of supplemental or additional interest, fee or otherwise, or grant any security or provide other credit support, to any holder of Notes as consideration for or as an inducement to the entering into by any holder of Notes of any waiver or amendment of any of the terms and provisions hereof unless such remuneration is concurrently paid, or security is concurrently granted or other credit support concurrently provided, on the same terms, ratably to each holder of Notes then outstanding even if such holder did not consent to such waiver or amendment.

18.3 Binding Effect, Etc.

Any amendment or waiver consented to as provided in this Section 18 applies equally to all holders of Notes and is binding upon them and upon each future holder of any Note and upon the Company without regard to whether such Note has been marked to indicate such amendment or waiver. No such amendment or waiver will extend to or affect any obligation, covenant, agreement, Default or Event of Default not expressly amended or waived or impair any right consequent thereon. No course of dealing between the Company and the holder of any Note nor any delay in exercising any rights hereunder or under any Note shall operate as a waiver of any rights of any holder of such Note. As used herein, the term “this Agreement” and references thereto shall mean this Agreement as it may from time to time be amended or supplemented.

18.4 Notes Held by Company, Etc.

Solely for the purpose of determining whether the holders of the requisite percentage of the aggregate principal amount of Notes then outstanding approved or consented to any amendment, waiver or consent to be given under this Agreement, the Notes or any other Financing Agreements, or have directed the taking of any action provided herein or therein to be taken upon the direction of the holders of a specified percentage of the aggregate principal amount of Notes then outstanding, Notes directly or indirectly owned by the Company or any of its Affiliates shall be deemed not to be outstanding.

19. NOTICES; ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

Except to the extent expressly provided otherwise in Sections 7.1(a) and 7.1(c), all notices and communications provided for hereunder shall be in writing and sent (a) by telecopy if the sender on the same day sends a confirming copy of such notice by a recognized international commercial delivery service (charges prepaid), (b) by a recognized international commercial delivery service (with charges prepaid), or (c) with respect to notices to a Purchaser or holder, unless such Purchaser or holders otherwise notifies the Company, by e-mail to an e-mail address provided by such Purchaser or holder to the Company from time to time. Any such notice must be sent:

(a) if to a Purchaser or its nominee, to such Purchaser or nominee at the address specified for such communications in Schedule A, or at such other address as such Purchaser or nominee shall have specified to the Company in writing,

(b) if to any other holder of any Note, to such holder at such address as such other holder shall have specified to the Company in writing,
or

(c) if to the Company, to the Company at its address set forth at the beginning hereof to the attention of the Chief Financial Officer, or at such other address as the Company shall have specified to the holder of each Note in writing.

Notices under this Section 19 will be deemed given only when actually received.

Each document, instrument, financial statement, report, notice or other communication delivered in connection with this Agreement shall be in English.

The Purchaser acknowledges and confirms that it has requested that all documents evidencing or relating in any way to the sale of the Notes be drawn up in the English language only.

20. REPRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS.

This Agreement and all documents relating thereto, including, without limitation, (a) consents, waivers and modifications that may hereafter be executed, (b) documents received by any Purchaser at the Closing (except the Notes themselves), and (c) financial statements, certificates and other information previously or hereafter furnished to any Purchaser, may be reproduced by such Purchaser by any photographic, photostatic, electronic, digital or other similar process and such Purchaser may destroy any original document so reproduced. The Company agrees and stipulates that, to the extent permitted by applicable Laws, any such reproduction shall be admissible in evidence as the original itself in any judicial or administrative proceeding (whether or not the original is in existence and whether or not such reproduction was made by such Purchaser in the regular course of business) and any enlargement, facsimile or further reproduction of such reproduction shall likewise be admissible in evidence. This Section 20 shall not prohibit the Company or any other holder of Notes from contesting any such reproduction to the same extent that it could contest the original, or from introducing evidence to demonstrate the inaccuracy of any such reproduction.

21. CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION.

For the purposes of this Section 21, “Confidential Information” means all information delivered to any Purchaser by or on behalf of the Company or any Subsidiary in connection with the transactions contemplated by or otherwise pursuant to this Agreement that is proprietary in nature and that was clearly marked or labeled or otherwise adequately identified when received by such Purchaser as being confidential information of the Company or such Subsidiary, provided that such term does not include information that (a) was publicly known or otherwise known to such Purchaser prior to the time of such disclosure, (b) subsequently becomes publicly known through no act or omission by such Purchaser or any person acting on such Purchaser’s behalf, (c) otherwise becomes known to such Purchaser other than through disclosure by the Company or any Subsidiary or (d) constitutes financial statements delivered to such Purchaser under Section 7.1 that are otherwise publicly available. Each Purchaser will maintain the confidentiality of such Confidential Information in accordance with procedures adopted by such Purchaser in good faith to protect confidential information of third parties delivered to such Purchaser, provided that such Purchaser may deliver or disclose Confidential Information to (i) its directors, trustees, officers, employees, agents, attorneys, auditors and affiliates (to the extent such disclosure reasonably relates to the administration of the investment represented by its Notes), (ii) its financial advisors and other professional advisors who agree to hold confidential the Confidential Information substantially in accordance with the terms of this Section 21, (iii) any other holder of any Note, (iv) any Institutional Investor to which it sells or offers to sell such Note or any part thereof or any participation therein (if such Person has agreed in writing prior to its receipt of such Confidential Information to be bound by the provisions of this Section 21), (v) any Person from which it offers to purchase any security of the Company (if such Person has agreed in writing prior to its receipt of such Confidential Information to be bound by the provisions of this Section 21), (vi) any federal or state regulatory authority having jurisdiction over such Purchaser, (vii) any organization or any nationally recognized rating agency that requires access to information about such Purchaser’s investment portfolio (including the NAIC or the SVO or, in each case, any similar organization), or (viii) any other Person to which such delivery or disclosure may be necessary or appropriate (w) to effect compliance with any law, rule, regulation or order applicable to such Purchaser, (x) in response to any subpoena or other legal process, (y) in connection with any litigation to which such Purchaser is a party or (z) if an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, to the extent such Purchaser may reasonably determine such delivery and disclosure to be necessary or appropriate in the enforcement or for the protection of the rights and remedies under such Purchaser's Notes and this Agreement. Each holder of a Note, by its acceptance of a Note, will be deemed to have agreed to be bound by and to be entitled to the benefits of this Section 21 as though it were a party to this Agreement. On reasonable request by the Company in connection with the delivery to any holder of a Note of information required to be delivered to such holder under this Agreement or requested by such holder (other than a holder that is a party to this Agreement or its nominee), such holder will enter into an agreement with the Company embodying the provisions of this Section 21.

In the event that as a condition to receiving access to information relating to the Company or its Subsidiaries in connection with the transactions contemplated by or otherwise pursuant to this Agreement, any holder of a Note is required to agree to a confidentiality undertaking (whether through IntraLinks, another secure website, a secure virtual workspace or otherwise) which is different from this Section 21, this Section 21 shall not be amended thereby and, as between such holder and the Company, this Section 21 shall supersede any such other confidentiality undertaking.

22. SUBSTITUTION OF PURCHASER.

Each Purchaser shall have the right to substitute any one of its Affiliates as the purchaser of the Notes that it has agreed to purchase hereunder, by written notice to the Company, which notice shall be signed by both such Purchaser and such Affiliate, shall contain such Affiliate's agreement to be bound by this Agreement and shall contain a confirmation by such Affiliate of the accuracy with respect to it of the representations set forth in Section 6. Upon receipt of such notice, any reference to such Purchaser in this Agreement (other than in this Section 22), shall be deemed to refer to such Affiliate in lieu of such original Purchaser. In the event that such Affiliate is so substituted as a Purchaser hereunder and such Affiliate thereafter transfers to such original Purchaser all of the Notes then held by such Affiliate, upon receipt by the Company of notice of such transfer, any reference to such Affiliate as a "Purchaser" in this Agreement (other than in this Section 22), shall no longer be deemed to refer to such Affiliate, but shall refer to such original Purchaser, and such original Purchaser shall again have all the rights of an original holder of the Notes under this Agreement.

23. MISCELLANEOUS.

23.1 Successors and Assigns.

All covenants and other agreements contained in this Agreement by or on behalf of any of the parties hereto bind and inure to the benefit of their respective successors and assigns (including, without limitation, any subsequent holder of a Note) whether so expressed or not, except that, subject to Section 10.2, the Company may not assign or otherwise transfer any of its rights or obligations hereunder or under the Notes without the prior written consent of each holder. Nothing in this Agreement, expressed or implied, shall be construed to confer upon any Person (other than the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns permitted hereby) any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or by reason of this Agreement.

23.2 Payments Due on Non-Business Days.

Anything in this Agreement or the Notes to the contrary notwithstanding (but without limiting the requirement in Section 8.5 that notice of any optional prepayment specify a Business Day as the date fixed for such prepayment), any payment of principal of or Make-Whole Amount, or interest on any Note that is due on a date other than a Business Day shall be made on the next succeeding Business Day without including the additional days elapsed in the computation of the interest payable on such next succeeding Business Day; provided that if the maturity date of any Note is a date other than a Business Day, the payment otherwise due on such maturity date shall be made on the next succeeding Business Day and shall include the additional days elapsed in the computation of interest payable on such next succeeding Business Day.

23.3 Accounting Terms.

All accounting terms used herein which are not expressly defined in this Agreement have the meanings respectively given to them in accordance with GAAP. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, all computations made pursuant to this Agreement shall be made in accordance with GAAP, and all financial statements shall be prepared in accordance with GAAP. If GAAP is changed such that shareholders' equity of the Company as shown on the consolidated balance sheet of the Company as at the date hereof is recharacterized as a non-equity item, then Consolidated Shareholders' Equity will be determined on the basis of GAAP as in effect immediately prior to such recharacterization and, for certainty, such shareholders' equity as so recharacterized shall not be included as part of Consolidated Total Debt. In addition, if GAAP is changed to reclassify operating leases to capital leases subsequent to the date of the Original Note Agreement, then the accounting treatment of all such leases will be determined based on GAAP in effect immediately prior to such reclassification.

For purposes of determining compliance with the financial covenants contained in this Agreement, any election by the Company to measure an item of Debt using fair value (as permitted by Accounting Standard Codification Topic No. 825-10-25 – Fair Value Option, International Accounting Standard 39, or any similar accounting standard) shall be disregarded and such determination shall be made as if such election had not been made.

23.4 Changes in GAAP.

(a) If the Company or the Required Holders determine at any time that any amount required to be determined hereunder would be materially different if such amount were determined in accordance with:

(i) GAAP applied by the Company in respect of its financial statements on the date hereof (“Old GAAP”), rather than

(ii) GAAP subsequently in effect in Canada and applied by the Company in respect of its financial statements and utilized for purposes of determining such amount, then written notice of such determination shall be delivered by the Company to the holders, in the case of a determination by the Company, or by the Required Holders to the Company and the other holders, in the case of a determination by the Required Holders.

(b) If the Company adopts a change in an accounting policy in the preparation of its financial statements in order to conform to accounting recommendations, guidelines, or similar pronouncements, or legislative requirements, and such change could reasonably be expected to adversely affect (i) the rights of, or the protections afforded to, the holders hereunder or (ii) the position of either the Company or of the holders hereunder, the Company shall so notify the holders, describing the nature of the change and its effect on the current and immediately prior year's financial statements in accordance with Old GAAP and in detail sufficient for the holders to make the determination required of them in the following sentence. If either the Company or the Required Holders determine at any time that such change in accounting policy results in an adverse change either (A) in the rights of, or protections afforded to, the holders intended to be derived, or provided for, hereunder or (B) in the position of either the Company or of the holders hereunder, written notice of such determination shall be delivered by the Company to the holders, in the case of a determination by the Company, or by the Required Holders to the Company and the other holders, in the case of a determination by the Required Holders.

(c) The written notice to be provided pursuant to Section 23.4(a) or Section 23.4(b) by the Company or the holders (as the case may be) shall include a proposal with respect to the change in Old GAAP or such change in accounting policy, as the case may be, on how to preserve and protect the intended rights of, or protections afforded to, the holders on the date hereof or the position of the Company or the holders (as the case may be) and thereafter the Company and the holders shall in good faith negotiate to execute and deliver an amendment or amendments to this Agreement in order to preserve and protect the intended rights of, or protections afforded to, the holders on the date hereof or the position of the Company or the holders (as the case may be); provided that, until this Agreement has been amended in accordance with the foregoing, then for all purposes hereof, the applicable changes from Old GAAP or in accounting (as the case may be) shall be disregarded hereunder and any amount required to be determined hereunder shall, nevertheless, continue to be determined under Old GAAP and the Company's prior accounting policy. For the purposes of this Section 23.4(c), the Company and the holders acknowledge that the amendment or amendments to this Agreement are to provide substantially the same rights and protections to the holders as is intended by this Agreement on the date hereof. Until the Company and the Required Holders mutually agree (in their respective sole discretions, without any obligation to so agree) on such amendment or amendments to the Agreement, the Company shall continue to determine amounts required under this Agreement in accordance with Old GAAP and, for all purposes hereof, the applicable changes from Old GAAP or in accounting (as the case may be) shall be disregarded hereunder and any amount required to be determined hereunder shall, nevertheless, continue to be determined under Old GAAP and the Company's prior accounting policy.

23.5 Severability.

Any provision of this Agreement that is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remaining provisions hereof, and any such prohibition or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall (to the full extent permitted by law) not invalidate or render unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction.

23.6 Construction, Etc.

Each covenant contained herein shall be construed (absent any express provision to the contrary) as being independent of each other covenant contained herein, so that compliance with any one covenant shall not (absent such an express contrary provision) be deemed to excuse compliance with any other covenant. Where any provision herein refers to action to be taken by any Person, or which such Person is prohibited from taking, such provision shall be applicable whether such action is taken directly or indirectly by such Person.

Defined terms herein shall apply equally to the singular and plural forms of the terms defined. Whenever the context may require, any pronoun shall include the corresponding masculine, feminine and neuter forms. The words “include,” “includes” and “including” shall be deemed to be followed by the phrase “without limitation.” The word “will” shall be construed to have the same meaning and effect as the word “shall.” Unless the context requires otherwise (a) any definition of or reference to any agreement, instrument or other document herein shall be construed as referring to such agreement, instrument or other document as from time to time amended, supplemented or otherwise modified (subject to any restrictions on such amendments, supplements or modifications set forth herein) and, for purposes of the Notes, shall also include any such notes issued in substitution therefor pursuant to Section 14, (b) subject to Section 23.1, any reference herein to any Person shall be construed to include such Person’s successors and assigns, (c) the words “herein,” “hereof” and “hereunder,” and words of similar import, shall be construed to refer to this Agreement in its entirety and not to any particular provision hereof, (d) all references herein to Sections and Schedules shall be construed to refer to Sections of, and Schedules to, this Agreement, and (e) any reference to any law or regulation herein shall, unless otherwise specified, refer to such law or regulation as amended, modified or supplemented from time to time.

23.7 Counterparts.

This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be an original but all of which together shall constitute one instrument. Each counterpart may consist of a number of copies hereof, each signed by less than all, but together signed by all, of the parties hereto.

23.8 Governing Law.

This Agreement shall be construed and enforced in accordance with, and the rights of the parties shall be governed by, the law of the Province of Alberta excluding choice of law principles of the law of such Province that would permit the application of the laws of a jurisdiction other than such Province.

23.9 Jurisdiction and Process; Waiver of Jury Trial.

(a) The Company irrevocably submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of Alberta over any suit, action or proceeding arising out of or relating to the Financing Agreements. To the fullest extent permitted by applicable Laws, the Company irrevocably waives and agrees not to assert, by way of motion, as a defense or otherwise, any claim that it is not subject to the jurisdiction of any such court, any objection that it may now or hereafter have to the laying of the venue of any such suit, action or proceeding brought in any such court and any claim that any such suit, action or proceeding brought in any such court has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

(b) The Company agrees, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable Laws, that a final judgment in any suit, action or proceeding of the nature referred to in Section 23.9(a) brought in any such court shall be conclusive and binding upon it subject to rights of appeal, as the case may be, and may be enforced in the courts of the Province of Alberta (or any other courts to the jurisdiction of which it or any of its assets is or may be subject) by a suit upon such judgment.

(c) Nothing in this Section 23.9 shall affect the right of any holder of a Note to serve process in any manner permitted by law, or limit any right that the holders of any of the Notes may have to bring proceedings against the Company in the courts of any appropriate jurisdiction or to enforce in any lawful manner a judgment obtained in one jurisdiction in any other jurisdiction.

(d) THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY WAIVE TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY ACTION BROUGHT ON OR WITH RESPECT TO THIS AGREEMENT, THE NOTES OR ANY OTHER DOCUMENT EXECUTED IN CONNECTION HERewith OR THEREWITH.

23.10 Obligation to Make Payment in Applicable Currency.

(a) Payment Currency. Principal, interest, Make-Whole Amount and Protective Claim Amount on the Series EE Notes shall be payable in U.S. dollars. Unless otherwise specified herein, all other amounts payable under this Agreement shall be payable in U.S. dollars.

(b) U.S. Dollars. Any payment on account of an amount that is payable under the Financing Agreements in U.S. dollars which is made to or for the account of any holder of Notes in any other currency, whether as a result of any judgment or order or the enforcement thereof or the realization of any security or the liquidation of the Company, shall constitute a discharge of the obligation of the Company under the Financing Agreements only to the extent of the amount of U.S. dollars which such holder purchases or could purchase in the foreign exchange markets in New York, New York, with the amount of such other currency in accordance with normal banking procedures at the rate of exchange prevailing on the Business Day following receipt of the payment first referred to above. If the amount of U.S. dollars so purchased or that could be purchased is less than the amount of U.S. dollars originally due to such holder, the Company agrees to the fullest extent permitted by law, to indemnify and save harmless such holder from and against all loss or damage arising out of or as a result of such deficiency. This indemnity shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, constitute an obligation separate and independent from the other obligations contained in the Financing Agreements, shall give rise to a separate and independent cause of action, shall apply irrespective of any indulgence granted by such holder from time to time and shall continue in full force and effect notwithstanding any judgment or order for a liquidated sum in respect of an amount due under the Financing Agreements or under any judgment or order.

23.11 Interest.

(a) In respect of any overdue amounts hereunder or under the Notes where no provision is made herein or therein for payment of interest thereon, the Company shall pay interest on such overdue amounts on demand, calculated from the date such unpaid amount is due until such unpaid amount is paid in full, at the Default Rate.

(b) In no event shall any interest or fee to be paid hereunder or under a Note exceed the maximum rate permitted by applicable Laws. In the event any such interest rate or fee exceeds such maximum rate, such rate shall be adjusted downward to the highest rate (expressed as a percentage per annum) or fee that the parties could validly have agreed to by contract on the date hereof under applicable Laws. It is further agreed that any excess actually received by a holder of a Note shall be credited against the principal of the Notes (or, if the principal shall have been or would thereby be paid in full, the remaining amount shall be credited or paid to the Company).

(c) All interest (including interest on overdue interest) payable by the Company hereunder and under the Notes shall accrue from day to day, computed as provided herein, and shall be payable after as well as before maturity, demand, default and judgment.

(d) Interest on the Notes shall be computed on the basis of a 360-day year of 12 30-day months. Solely for purposes of the Interest Act (Canada), the yearly rate of interest to which interest calculated for a period of less than one year on the basis of a year of 360 days consisting of 12 30-day periods is equivalent is such rate of interest multiplied by a fraction of which (i) the numerator is the product of (A) the actual number of days in the year commencing on the first day of such period, multiplied by (B) the sum of (y) the product of 30 multiplied by the number of complete months elapsed in such period and (z) the actual number of days elapsed in any incomplete month in such period; and (ii) the denominator is the product of (a) 360 multiplied by (b) the actual number of days in such period.

(e) The theory of “deemed reinvestment” shall not apply to the computation of interest and no allowance, reduction or deduction shall be made for the deemed reinvestment of interest in respect of any payments. Calculation of interest shall be made using the nominal rate method, and not the effective rate method, of calculation.

(f) To the extent permitted by law, Section 6 of the Judgment Interest Act (Alberta) is hereby waived and shall not apply to this Agreement or the Notes.

(g) The interest payment due on the day prior to the maturity date of each Note shall include one additional days’ interest, calculated as if such interest due date was such final maturity date.

23.12 Changes to LMR.

If (a) as a result of any change in any applicable Laws, rule, policy, regulation, order or directive, any applicable Energy Regulator ceases to use a liability management (or equivalent) rating as a means of determining whether a corporation is in compliance with such regulator's abandonment and reclamation policies, regulations and directives in any one or more Material Jurisdiction, (b) the method of calculation of any LMR changes in any material manner in any Material Jurisdiction, or (c) if the threshold for which (i) license transfers of regulated properties shall be permitted under an Energy Regulator's licensee liability regime in any Material Jurisdiction changes in any material respect or (ii) any security deposits will be required to be provided to the applicable Energy Regulator changes in any material respect, then, in any such case, the Company and the Required Holders shall enter into good faith discussions with a view to determining a comparable rating system or threshold, as applicable, to replace the concept of LMR as set forth herein that is, at such time, broadly accepted as the prevailing market practice for such regulation in the applicable Material Jurisdiction, with the intent of having the respective positions of the holders of Notes and the Company after such change conform as nearly as possible to their respective positions immediately prior to such change; provided that, until any such agreement is reached, the LMR shall continue to be calculated as if no such change had occurred. Upon the Company and the Required Holders agreeing on such methodology for determining LMR and the thresholds set forth herein, the Company and the holders of Notes shall enter into documentation to amend the provisions hereof to refer to such rate and make all other adjustments incidental thereto. The Company and the holders of Notes agree that such amendment shall require the consent of each of the holders of Notes notwithstanding anything to the contrary set out herein.

Subject to the mandatory participation requirements imposed on Participants, any Participant may elect to receive all or a part of the Participant's Annual Fixed Remuneration and all or a part of the Participant's Other Remuneration in the form of Deferred Share Units.

The Participant's Annual Fixed Remuneration required and (where applicable) elected to be received in the form of Deferred Share Units plus the Participant's Other Remuneration elected to be received in the form of Deferred Share Units (if any) is collectively referred to as the "Participant's Deferred Remuneration".

2.6 Dividend Equivalents

When dividends are paid on Common Shares, additional Deferred Share Units shall be credited to the Participant's Deferred Share Unit Account as of the dividend payment date. The number of additional Deferred Share Units (including fractional Deferred Share Units) ("Dividend Equivalents") to be credited to the Participant's Deferred Share Unit Account shall be determined by dividing (y) the aggregate dollar amount of the dividends notionally payable in respect of such number of Common Shares as is equal to the number of Deferred Share Units credited to the Participant's Deferred Share Unit Account on the dividend payment date, by (z) the Fair Market Value per Common Share as of the dividend payment date.

2.7 Account Statements

Information pertaining to the Deferred Share Units in Participants' Deferred Share Unit Accounts will be made available to Participants at least annually in such manner as the Committee may determine and shall include such matters as the Committee may determine from time to time or as otherwise may be required by law.

2.8 Vesting

Deferred Share Units, including any Dividend Equivalents, shall vest immediately upon being credited to the Participant's Deferred Share Unit Account.

2.9 Redemption of Deferred Share Units

- (a) Termination/Separation of Service. Following a Participant's retirement from all positions with any Obsidian Energy Entity, or where a Participant has except as a result of death, otherwise ceased to hold any positions with any Obsidian Energy Entity, all Deferred Share Units and Dividend Equivalents (including any fractional Deferred Share Units) credited to the Participant's Deferred Share Unit Account will be redeemed by the Corporation as of the maturity date provided in this subsection 2.9(a) (the "Maturity Date").

Notwithstanding the foregoing, for directors who are US taxpayers or where any of the Participant's Deferred Share Units and/or Dividend Equivalents are subject to Section 409A of the Code, the Maturity Date shall be the day that is the Termination Date.

For directors who are not US taxpayers and where none of the Participant's Deferred Share Units and/or Dividend Equivalents are subject to Section 409A of the Code, the Maturity Date shall be December 1st of the calendar year immediately following the year in which the Termination Date falls, unless subsequent to the Termination Date the director files a notice of Maturity Date acceleration election with the Corporate Secretary of the Corporation (in substantially the form attached as Schedule "B") electing an accelerated Maturity Date, which election shall be irrevocable. No Maturity Date elected by a director shall be later than December 1st of the calendar year immediately following the year in which the Termination Date falls. No Maturity Date elected may precede the date of the election. A director is not entitled to receive any amount prior to his or her Maturity Date.

Within 10 calendar days following the Maturity Date, the Corporation shall make a lump sum cash payment, net of any applicable withholdings, to the Participant equal to the number of Deferred Share Units and Dividend Equivalents (including fractional Deferred Share Units) credited to the Participant's Deferred Share Unit Account as of the Termination Date multiplied by the Fair Market Value per Common Share determined as at the Maturity Date.

- (b) Death of Participant. If a Participant dies while in office or after ceasing to hold all positions with any Obsidian Energy Entity but before the Maturity Date, the Corporation shall, within 90 days of the Participant's death, make a lump sum cash payment to the Participant's legal representative; provided that in the case of payments made with respect to any Deferred Share Units and/or Dividend Equivalents that are subject to Section 409A of the Code, the legal representative or recipient of the amount shall have no ability to influence the taxable year in which payment is made. The lump sum cash payment shall be an amount equal to the number of Deferred Share Units and Dividend Equivalents (including fractional Deferred Share Units) credited to the Participant's Deferred Share Unit Account as of the date of the Participant's death multiplied by the Fair Market Value per Common Share determined as at the date of death, net of any applicable withholdings.
- (c) Effect of Redemption of Deferred Share Units. A Participant shall have no further rights respecting any Deferred Share Unit or Dividend Equivalent that has been redeemed, and upon redemption such Deferred Share Units and Dividend Equivalents shall be deemed to be cancelled.

Section 3. General

3.1 Capital Transaction Adjustments

In the event of any share dividend, share split, share consolidation, business combination, recapitalization, merger, spin-off or other distribution, other than normal cash dividends, of the Corporation's assets to shareholders, or any other change in the capital of the Corporation affecting Common Shares (each a "Capital Transaction"), the Committee will make such proportionate adjustments, if any, as the Committee in its discretion may deem appropriate to reflect such change, with respect to: (i) the number or kind of shares or other securities on which the Deferred Share Units are based; and (ii) the number of Deferred Share Units. The intent is to ensure that the value of Deferred Share Units held before such a Capital Transaction is equal to the value after such a Capital Transaction.

3.2 Non-Exclusivity

Nothing contained herein will prevent the Board from adopting other or additional compensation arrangements for the benefit of any Participant, subject to any required regulatory or shareholder approval.

3.3 Unfunded Plan

To the extent any individual holds any rights under the Plan, such rights shall be no greater than the rights of an unsecured general creditor of the Corporation, unless otherwise determined by the Committee.

3.4 Successors and Assigns

The Plan shall be binding on all successors and assigns of the Corporation and a Participant, including without limitation, the legal representative of a Participant, or any receiver or trustee in bankruptcy or representative of the Corporation's or Participant's creditors.

3.5 Transferability of Awards

Rights respecting Deferred Share Units shall not be transferable or assignable other than by will or the laws of descent and distribution.

3.6 Amendment and Termination

- (a) The Committee may amend, suspend or terminate this Plan or any portion thereof at any time in accordance with applicable legislation, and subject to any required regulatory or shareholder approval. No amendment, suspension or termination may materially adversely affect any Deferred Share Units, or any rights pursuant thereto, granted previously to any Participant without the consent of that Participant. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any amendment of the Plan shall ensure that the Plan is continuously excluded from the salary deferral arrangement rules under the Income Tax Act (Canada) or any successor rules, and comply with any guidance issued under Code section 409A as applicable to Participants who are taxpayers of the United States of America.
- (b) If this Plan is terminated, the provisions of this Plan and any administrative guidelines and other rules adopted by the Committee and in force at the time of termination of this Plan, will continue in effect as long as a Deferred Share Unit or any rights pursuant thereto remain outstanding. However, notwithstanding the termination of the Plan, the Committee may make any amendments to the Plan or the Deferred Share Units it would be entitled to make if the Plan were still in effect.
- (c) With the consent of the Participant affected thereby, the Committee may amend or modify any outstanding Deferred Share Unit in any manner to the extent that the Committee would have had the authority to initially grant the award as so modified or amended, provided that any such amendment complies with any guidance issued under Code section 409A as applicable to Participants who are taxpayers of the United States of America.

3.7 No Special Rights

Nothing contained in the Plan or in any Deferred Share Units will confer upon any Participant any right to the continuation of the Participant's position with an Obsidian Energy Entity or interfere in any way with the right of the shareholders of any Obsidian Energy Entity at any time to terminate that position or to increase or decrease the compensation of the Participant. Deferred Share Units shall not be considered Common Shares nor shall they entitle any Participant to exercise voting rights or any other rights attaching to the ownership of Common Shares, nor shall any Participant be considered the owner of Common Shares.

3.8 Tax Consequences

The Corporation shall have the power and the right to deduct or withhold, or require (as a condition of redemption) a Participant to remit to the Corporation, the required amount to satisfy, in whole or in part, federal, provincial, state and local taxes, domestic or foreign, required by law or regulation to be withheld with respect to any taxable event arising as a result of this Plan, including the credit or redemption of Deferred Share Units granted under this Plan. With respect to required withholding, the Corporation shall have the irrevocable right to (and the Participant consents to) the Corporation setting off any amounts required to be withheld, in whole or in part, against amounts otherwise owing by the Corporation to such Participant (whether arising pursuant to the Participant's relationship as a director of the Corporation or as a result of the Participant providing services on an ongoing basis to the Corporation or otherwise), or may make such other arrangements as are satisfactory to the Participant and the Corporation. Any reference in this Plan to a payment of cash is expressly subject to this Section 3.8.

Participants (or their beneficiaries) shall be responsible for all taxes with respect to any Deferred Share Units outstanding under this Plan, whether arising as a result of the credit or redemption of Deferred Share Units or otherwise. The Corporation and the Committee make no guarantees to any person regarding the tax treatment of a Deferred Share Unit or payments made under this Plan and none of the Corporation or any of its directors, officers, employees or representatives shall have any liability to a Participant with respect thereto.

3.9 No Liability

The Corporation shall not be liable to any Participant for any loss resulting from a decline in the market value of any Common Shares.

3.10 Section 409A

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, this Section 3.10 shall only apply to the extent that this Plan is subject to Section 409A of the Code and is not exempted from such requirements. To the extent that the terms of this Plan would subject the Participant to gross income inclusion, penalties, interest, or additional tax pursuant to Section 409A of the Code, those terms are automatically stricken and reformed either to be exempt from, or to comply with, Section 409A of the Code and the Internal Revenue Service and Treasury Department regulations issued thereunder. The Participant (or the Participant's legal representative, as the case may be) shall have no right to dictate the taxable year in which any payment hereunder that is subject to Section 409A of the Code should be paid. Notwithstanding any provision of this Plan to the contrary, only to the extent that this Plan is subject to the requirements of Section 409A of the Code and is not exempted from such requirements, if at the time of the Participant's separation from service with the Corporation, he or she is a "specified employee" as defined in Section 409A of the Code, no payment or benefit that results from his or her separation from service shall be provided until the date which is six months after the date of his or her separation from service (or, if earlier, his or her date of death). Payments to which the Participant would otherwise be entitled during the six-month period described above shall be accumulated and paid in a lump sum on the first day of the seventh month after the date of his or her separation from service.

3.11 Effective Date

This Plan became effective on January 1, 2011, except that amendments to this Plan made effective as of January 1, 2012 are effective as of such date, amendments to this Plan made effective as of January 1, 2013 are effective as of such date, and amendments to this Plan made effective as of November 1, 2016 are effective as of such date.

This Letter of Transmittal is for use by holders (“Shareholders”) of common shares (the “Shares”) of Bonterra Energy Corp. (the “Company”) in connection with the offer (the “Offer”) made by Obsidian Energy Ltd. (the “Offeror”) to Shareholders set forth in the Offer to Purchase and accompanying Take-Over Bid Circular (together, the “Offer and Circular”) dated September 21, 2020.

Shareholders are referred to the Offer and Circular that accompanies this Letter of Transmittal. The terms and conditions of the Offer are incorporated by reference in this Letter of Transmittal. Capitalized terms that are used but not otherwise defined in this Letter of Transmittal and that are defined in the Offer and Circular shall have the meanings given to them in the Offer and Circular.

In order for registered Shareholders (meaning Shareholders that have a physical certificate representing Shares registered in his, her or its name) to receive the Offer Consideration (as defined below) for their Shares, they are required to deposit the certificates representing the Shares held by them with Kingsdale Advisors, the depository for the Offer (the “Depository”). This Letter of Transmittal, properly completed and duly executed, together with all other required documents, must accompany all certificates for Shares, deposited pursuant to the Offer.

This Letter of Transmittal is for use by registered Shareholders of the Company only and is not to be used by non-registered Shareholders. Most Shareholders are non-registered Shareholders because the Shares they beneficially own are not registered in their names but are instead registered in the name of an intermediary, such as a broker, investment dealer, bank, trust company or other intermediary (an “Intermediary”), or in the name of a depository such as CDS Clearing and Depository Services Inc. (“CDS”) in which the Intermediary, through which the Shareholders own Shares, is a participant. If you are a non-registered Shareholder, you should contact your Intermediary if you have questions regarding this process and carefully follow the instructions from the Intermediary that holds Shares on your behalf in order to deposit your Shares. You should not complete this Letter of Transmittal unless specifically instructed to do so by your Intermediary.

Shareholders may also accept the Offer by following the procedures for a book-entry transfer established by CDS, provided that a Book-Entry Confirmation through CDSX is received by the Depositary at its office in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, at or prior to the Expiry Time. The Depositary has established an account at CDS for the purpose of the Offer. Any financial institution that is a participant in CDS may cause CDS to make a book-entry transfer of a Shareholder's Shares into the Depositary's account in accordance with CDS's procedures for such transfer. Delivery of Shares to the Depositary by means of a book-entry transfer will constitute a valid tender under the Offer provided that a Book-Entry Confirmation through CDSX is received by the Depositary at its office in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, at or prior to the Expiry Time.

Shareholders, through their respective CDS participants, who use CDSX to accept the Offer through a book-entry transfer of their holdings into the Depositary's account with CDS at or prior to the Expiry Time shall be deemed to have completed and submitted a Letter of Transmittal and to be bound by the terms thereof, and therefore the Book-Entry Confirmation received by the Depositary is considered a valid tender in accordance with the terms of the Offer.

If a Shareholder wishes to deposit Shares pursuant to the Offer and the certificate(s) representing the Shares are not immediately available or the Shareholder is not able to deliver the certificate(s) and all other required documents to the Depositary at or prior to the Expiry Time, those Shares may nevertheless be deposited under the Offer pursuant to the procedure for guaranteed delivery, provided that all of the conditions set forth in Section 4 of the Offer, "Conditions of the Offer", are met. See Section 3 of the Offer, "Manner of Acceptance", and Instruction 2, "Procedures for Guaranteed Delivery".

The Offer is open for acceptance until 5:00 p.m. (Mountain Standard Time) on January 4, 2021 or such later or earlier time or times and date or dates to which the Offer may be extended or accelerated by the Offeror, from time to time, unless the Offer is withdrawn by the Offeror.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Use of Letter of Transmittal

- (a) To receive the Offer Consideration, this Letter of Transmittal with all portions validly completed, together with accompanying certificate(s), if applicable, representing the Shares deposited, must be received by the Depositary by 5:00 p.m. (Mountain Standard Time) on January 4, 2021, unless the Offer is extended, accelerated or withdrawn by the Offeror or unless the Shares are delivered under the Offer pursuant to the procedure for guaranteed delivery set out in Instruction 2, "Procedure for Guaranteed Delivery".
- (b) The method used to deliver this Letter of Transmittal and any accompanying certificate(s), if applicable, representing Shares is at the option and risk of the holder surrendering them. Delivery will be deemed effective only when such documents are actually received. The Offeror recommends that the necessary documentation, including certificate(s) for Shares, be delivered by registered mail to the Depositary, that a receipt with tracking be obtained and that the delivery be properly insured. Non-registered Shareholders whose Shares are registered in the name of an Intermediary or CDS should contact that Intermediary for assistance in depositing those Shares. Delivery to an office other than to the specified office of the Depositary does not constitute delivery for the purposes of the Offer.

2. Procedures for Guaranteed Delivery

If a registered Shareholder wishes to accept the Offer and either: (a) the certificate(s) representing such Shareholder's Shares are not immediately available; or (b) such Shareholder is unable to deliver the certificate(s), the Letter of Transmittal and all other required documents (if any) to the Depositary by the Expiry Time, those Shares may nevertheless be tendered to the Offer provided that all of the following conditions are met:

- (a) such tender is made only at the principal office of the Depositary in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, by or through an Eligible Institution;
- (b) a Notice of Guaranteed Delivery, in the form accompanying the Offer and Circular (printed on BLUE paper) (or a manually signed facsimile thereof), properly completed and executed, including a guarantee to deliver by an Eligible Institution in the form set out in the Notice of Guaranteed Delivery, is received by the Depositary at its principal office in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, at or before the Expiry Time; and
- (c) the certificate(s) representing the Deposited Shares, in proper form for transfer, together with a properly completed and executed Letter of Transmittal (or a manually signed facsimile thereof) with signatures guaranteed if so required in accordance with the Letter of Transmittal and all other documents required by such Letter of Transmittal, or, in the case of a book-entry transfer, a Book-Entry Confirmation with respect to such Deposited Shares, and all other documents required by the terms of the Offer and the Letter of Transmittal, are received at the Toronto, Ontario, Canada, office of the Depositary by 5:00 p.m. (Mountain Standard Time) on or before the second trading day on the TSX after the Expiry Time.

The Notice of Guaranteed Delivery must be delivered by registered mail or transmitted by facsimile or mailed to the Depositary only at its principal office in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, and must include a signature guaranteed by an Eligible Institution in the form set forth in the Notice of Guaranteed Delivery. Delivery of the Notice of Guaranteed Delivery and the Letter of Transmittal and accompanying certificate(s) and other required documents to any office other than the Toronto, Ontario, Canada, office of the Depositary does not constitute delivery for the purpose of satisfying the guaranteed delivery.

For the purpose of this Instruction 2 and Instruction 4, "Guarantee of Signatures", "Eligible Institution" means a Canadian Schedule I chartered bank, a member of the Securities Transfer Agent Medallion Program (STAMP), a member of the Stock Exchange Medallion Program (SEMP) or a member of the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. Medallion Signature Program (MSP). Members of these programs are usually members of a recognized stock exchange in Canada or the United States, members of the Investment Industry Regulatory Organization of Canada, members of the National Association of Securities Dealers or banks or trust companies in the United States.

3. Signatures

This Letter of Transmittal must be completed, dated and signed by the Shareholder or by such Shareholder's duly authorized representative (in accordance with Instruction 5, "Fiduciaries, Representatives and Authorizations").

- (a) If this Letter of Transmittal is signed by the registered holder(s) of the Deposited Shares represented by the accompanying certificate(s), such signature(s) on this Letter of Transmittal must correspond with the name(s) as registered or as written on the face of such certificate(s), as applicable, without any change whatsoever, and the certificate(s) need not be endorsed. If such deposited certificate(s) are owned of record by two or more joint holders, all such holders must sign this Letter of Transmittal.
- (b) If this Letter of Transmittal is signed by a person other than the registered holder(s) of the Deposited Shares represented by the accompanying certificate(s):
 - (i) such deposited certificate(s) must be endorsed or be accompanied by appropriate share transfer power(s) of attorney properly completed by the registered holder(s); and
 - (ii) the signature(s) on such endorsement or power(s) of attorney must correspond exactly to the name(s) of the registered holder(s) as registered or as appearing on the certificate(s) and must be guaranteed as noted in Instruction 4, "Guarantee of Signatures".
- (c) If any of the Deposited Shares are registered in different names on several certificates, it will be necessary to complete, sign and submit as many separate Letters of Transmittal as there are different registrations of such Deposited Shares.

4. Guarantee of Signatures

Except as provided below, no signature guarantee is required on this Letter of Transmittal if this Letter of Transmittal is signed by the registered holder(s) of Shares surrendered herewith. If this Letter of Transmittal is signed by a person other than the registered holder(s) of the Shares or if payment is to be sent to a person other than the registered holder(s) of the Shares, such signature must be guaranteed by an Eligible Institution (as defined above), or in some other manner satisfactory to the Depository (except that no guarantee is required if the Shares are deposited for the account of an Eligible Institution and the signature is that of an Eligible Institution), as per Step 1.

5. Fiduciaries, Representatives and Authorizations

Where this Letter of Transmittal or any share transfer power(s) of attorney is executed by a person as an executor, administrator, trustee or guardian, or on behalf of a corporation, partnership or association or is executed by any other person acting in a representative capacity, such person should so indicate when signing and this Letter of Transmittal must be accompanied by satisfactory evidence of authority to act. Either the Offeror or the Depository, at their discretion, may require additional evidence of such authority or additional documentation.

6. Partial Deposits

If less than the total number of Shares evidenced by any certificate submitted is to be deposited, fill in the number of Shares to be deposited in the appropriate space on this Letter of Transmittal. In such case, new certificate(s) for the number of Shares not deposited will be sent to the registered holder, unless otherwise provided by the Shareholder, as soon as practicable following the Expiry Time or the termination or withdrawal of the Offer. See Section 7 of the Offer, "Return of Deposited Shares". The total number of Shares evidenced by all certificates delivered will be deemed to have been deposited unless otherwise indicated.

7. Payment and Delivery Instructions

In all cases, Box “A” of Step 3 should be completed. If this box is not completed, the consideration for the Deposited Shares (or the certificate(s) in respect of the Deposited Shares if the Offer is not completed) will be mailed to the address as it appears on the Company’s register of Shareholders.

8. Miscellaneous

- (a) If the space on this Letter of Transmittal is insufficient to list all certificates, additional certificate numbers, and numbers of Shares may be included on a separate signed list affixed to this Letter of Transmittal.
- (b) If Shares are registered in different forms (e.g. “John Doe” and “J. Doe”), a separate Letter of Transmittal should be signed for each different registration.
- (c) No alternative, conditional or contingent deposits of Shares will be accepted.
- (d) Additional copies of the Offer and Circular, of this Letter of Transmittal and of the Notice of Guaranteed Delivery may be obtained from the Depositary at the office specified on the back page of this Letter of Transmittal. This Letter of Transmittal is also available under the Company’s profile on SEDAR at www.sedar.com, in the United States on EDGAR at www.sec.gov and on the Offeror’s website at www.obsidianenergy.com.
- (e) It is strongly recommended that prior to completing this Letter of Transmittal the undersigned read the accompanying Offer and Circular and discuss any questions with his, her or its tax advisor.
- (f) The Offeror reserves the right, if it so elects in its absolute discretion, to instruct the Depositary to waive any defect or irregularity contained in any Letter of Transmittal received by it, or to accept any Letter of Transmittal received following the Expiry Time.
- (g) This Letter of Transmittal will be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the Province of Ontario and the federal laws of Canada applicable therein.

9. Destroyed, Lost or Stolen Certificates

Where a certificate representing Shares has been destroyed, lost or stolen, the registered holder of that certificate should immediately contact the Depositary at 1-888-564-7333 (Toll Free in North America) or at 1-416-867-2272 (Collect Outside of North America), or by e-mail at contactus@kingsdaleadvisors.com, or using the further contact information set forth on the back cover of this Letter of Transmittal.

The Depositary will coordinate with the Company’s transfer agent and will advise you of the steps that you must take to obtain a replacement certificate for your Shares. A replacement certificate will be issued by the Company’s transfer agent upon the Shareholder satisfying the requirements of the transfer agent and the Company relating to replacement certificate(s). Such requirements may include the requirement to provide an affidavit (which will include a bonding requirement) and the requirement to indemnify the Company and the Offeror against any claim that may be made against the Company or the Offeror with respect to such lost, stolen or destroyed certificate. In order for registered Shareholders to receive the Offer Consideration for their Shares, they are required to deposit the replacement certificates with the Depositary prior to the Expiry Time. As such, registered Shareholders are urged to contact the Depositary as soon as possible and to allow for sufficient time for the Company’s transfer agent to process the replacement.

10. Assistance

The Depositary or your broker or other financial advisor can assist you in completing this Letter of Transmittal (see back page of this Letter of Transmittal for the Depositary’s address and telephone numbers). Shareholders whose Shares are registered in the name of an Intermediary should contact such Intermediary if they wish to accept the Offer.

This Notice of Guaranteed Delivery is for use by registered holders of certificates for Shares. Medallion Signature Program (MSP). Members of these programs are usually participating organizations in a recognized stock exchange in Canada or the United States, members of the Investment Industry Regulatory Organization of Canada, members of the National Association of Securities Dealers or banks and trust companies in the United States.

The undersigned understands and acknowledges that payment for Shares deposited and taken up by the Offeror will be made only after timely receipt by the Depositary of: (i) certificates representing such Shares (or a Book-Entry Confirmation); (ii) a Letter of Transmittal or a facsimile thereof, properly completed and duly executed, with any signatures guaranteed, if so required (or, in the case of a book-entry transfer, a Book-Entry Confirmation); and (iii) all other documents required by the Letter of Transmittal at or prior to 5:00 p.m. (Mountain Standard Time) on the second trading day on the TSX after the Expiry Time.

The undersigned also understands and acknowledges that under no circumstances will any amount be paid by the Offeror or by the Depositary by reason of any delay in taking up and paying for any Shares or in providing the Offer Consideration on account of any Shares deposited under the Offer and accepted for take up and payment pursuant to the Offer.

Dear Bonterra Energy Shareholder,

On behalf of the board of directors of Obsidian Energy Ltd. ("Obsidian Energy"), I recommend you review and accept our compelling share offer (the "Offer") to acquire all of the issued and outstanding shares of Bonterra Energy Corp. ("Bonterra"). Our Offer is two common shares of Obsidian Energy for each Bonterra common share tendered. Additional details regarding the Offer are included in the accompanying offer to purchase and take-over bid circular (the "Offer and Circular").

Our Offer is open for acceptance until 5 p.m. Mountain Standard Time (7 p.m. Eastern Standard Time) on Monday, January 4, 2021. Please carefully consider this Offer and read the enclosed Offer and Circular, which contains important information regarding Obsidian Energy and the terms and conditions of the Offer.

Obsidian Energy believes that the Offer represents a unique and compelling opportunity for Bonterra shareholders to be a significant part of a larger, well-positioned Cardium leader, with a far superior future than they could achieve on a stand-alone basis. By combining our companies, Bonterra shareholders can benefit from being part of a stronger, Cardium-focused company, with a lower cost structure and improved capital efficiency, generating substantially more free cash flow than either company could alone. With increased cash flow available to accelerate debt repayment, the combined entity could achieve an improved financial position and create a clear path to significant share price appreciation. Obsidian Energy believes that it is in the best interests of Bonterra shareholders to accept our Offer. The benefits of this transaction for Bonterra shareholders include:

- Creates the Cardium Champion with enhanced scale and capital markets relevance
- Accretive across all equity metrics resulting in the potential for significant per share value appreciation to the benefit of both Bonterra and Obsidian Energy shareholders
- Up to C$100 million expected in identified financial, operational and other synergies over the first three years resulting in significantly improved free cash flow
- The re-introduction of a monthly dividend payment after an appropriate level of debt repayment
- Retain significant upside to higher commodity prices through continued participation with a 48% pro forma ownership in a stronger combined company
- An outcome far superior to what Bonterra can achieve on a stand-alone basis

While we remain hopeful that the Bonterra board of directors will engage with us, we have determined that the best way to realize the substantial benefits of this transaction is to take our Offer directly to you, to allow you to decide the future of your investment.

TO CREATE THE CARDIUM CHAMPION: TENDER YOUR SHARES TODAY

Details on how to accept the Offer are contained in the Offer and Circular and accompanying documents. Bonterra shareholders with any questions or who require assistance in depositing Bonterra shares to the Offer should contact our information agent and depositary for the Offer, Kingsdale Advisors, by telephone at 1-888-564-7333 (North American Toll Free Number) or 1-416-867-2272 (outside North America), or by e-mail at contactus@kingsdaleshareholder.com.

We hope you will accept our compelling Offer and join us as a shareholder in a stronger, combined Canadian energy company.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Loukas
Interim President and Chief Executive Officer
Obsidian Energy Ltd.
